TECUMSEH HERALD

LENAWEE COUNTY'S LARGEST WEEKLY

VOL. 109 — ONE HUNDRED TENTH YEAR — NUMBER 38 TECUMSEH,, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1960 12 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

"This was the coolest Fourth of July I can remember," mused John Cameron, one of our town's local druggists,

And so it was.

Folks flocked to the area lakes, but when they arrived, out came sweaters and jackets.

Campers jammed the state park at Wamplers, many coming as early as last Thursday night, to insure getting space. One might wonder where they all came from.

The Fourth I'll never forget was just last year.

The Herald, in our issue a few days before the holiday did a feature on golf, mainly about a tournament slated for July 4.

I though a cute headline would be, "Fireworks on the Fourth."

In the copy, I wrote that there would be fireworks on the Fourth at Tecumseh Country Club, meaning "fireworks" to describe competition on the course.

But it confused a lot of people, who actually thought there was going to be a display of real, live sky rockets and giant crackers.

Cars lined the road near the club at dusk, as hundreds awaited the show.

Golf pro Leo Bishop went out to explain that "really there aren't going to be fireworks."

One fellow was so miffed he wanted to take a swing at Leo.

Get out your flag Monday morning (election day) and be sure to vote. The polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. at Tecumseh High School.

When you want to learn about the fine art of square dancing, ask Bonnie Mattis of Sand Creek.

Bonnie, whose formal name is Mrs. Raymond Mattis, has devoted years to this healthful recreation.

She spends many an hour instructing folks, is regarded as a top-flight caller.

When the local merchants, who make up the Moonlight Sale committee, came up with the idea for an exhibition of square dancing, they called in Bonnie.

She said she'd be delighted to help out and has put together a fun-packed program.

Just so that you'll learn a little about this sort of thing (as I did), let me make a couple of points.

There are several types of callers — singing callers, pattern callers and hash callers.

It can be Early American dancing, folk dancing, or western.

Bonnie knows every square dancer for miles around and it might surprise you that they have a variety of clubs, many of which meet regularly the year around.

Pre-Primary Gathering Is Set for GOPs

A pre-primary gathering for area Republicans will be held in Don's Grill on Friday, July 22 from 7:30 to 9 a.m.

State Legislative, county and local officials will be on hand to meet the public.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served and everyone is welcome to attend.

A countywide "Meet Your Candidates Night" after the Primary Election is slated for sometime in August. Paul Bagwell, Republican candidate for governor, as well as state, county and local officials will be in Tecumseh to meet the voters.

These two functions were planned when a group of interested, local Republicans met recently with Charles Trickey, area chairman for the six northeast townships of Lenawee County.

The meeting covered consolidation of plans for the coming campaign.

The resignation of Mrs. Charles Howe as Treasurer was accepted by the group and Journey Stoner was appointed to replace her.

Karl Schneider was appointed finance director for the ensuing year and Cornelia Walker was named secretary.

Mrs. Trickey served coffee and doughnuts at the conclusion of the meeting.

Square Dancers Hold Outdoor Show in City

A two-hour exhibition by top square dancers of southeastern Michigan and northern Ohio will highlight next week's Moonlight Sale in Tecumseh.

BONNIE MATTIS

Being staged Friday, July 15, this is the second annual late-evening event sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce's retail division.

The square dance show has been organized by Bonnie Mattis, one of Lenawee County's best known callers and teachers of square dancing.

There'll be displays of intricate maneuvers by children as young as six-year-old, as well as by adults.

A five-piece, country-style musical group will provide lively tunes for the dancers.

In addition to Mrs. Mattis, two other well-known callers, Merrill Bales of Adrian and Joe Karll of Hudson, will be taking part.

Among groups sending dancers, all of whom will wear colorful costumes, are the Dance-a-Lots, the Whirl-a-Ways, the Palmyra Square Dance Club, the Maple City Square Dance Club and the Delta (O.) Club.

The show is going to be staged on N. Ottawa St., next to Marv's Market. Temporary bleachers will be placed in front of Gregory's Barber Shop.

One hour of it will be aired over WABJ.

The program starts at 7 p.m. and lasts until 9. There will also be more about 10 p.m.

All stores will be closed from 6 p.m. until 9, when they'll reopen and be doing business until midnight.

The Strand Theatre will run a special science-fiction-horror film that evening, starting at 12.

Retailers are busy now getting their sale items ready for the Moonlight event, remembering the tremendous success of the event last year when nearly 4,000 people jammed downtown Tecumseh.

Potluck At Evans

Mrs. Robert Martin of Evans Lake will entertain members of the Young Mothers Club and their husbands for a potluck supper Wednesday, July 13, at 6:30 p.m.

Two-Mill School Tax Issue Will Be Decided on Monday

THEY'LL DANCE HERE— Among the many talented square dancers who will be staging a free two-hour show in downtown Tecumseh next week are Mrs. Evelyn Smith and Tracey Neal of Adrian. Five area clubs are sending dance teams.

Voters To Name Four Candidates to School Board

By JULIA BOYCE

A large turnout is expected for the annual school election to be held Monday in the agricultural lab at Tecumseh High School.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Thirteen candidates, more than have run in many years, are seeking four board positions.

Those running for three-year terms are:

Evelyn Bowen
Curtis Brown
Ralph Comfort
Opal Dickinson
Richard Dustin
Arthur Eaton
Merle Hoag
Richard Platt
Jude Stone

Those seeking the four-year terms are:

Lester Handy
Dwight Hodges
Aden Mead
Allen Russell

☆

A GREAT DEAL of interest has been shown in the proposed two-mill increase.

Voters will be asked to increase their taxes "by two-tenths of one per cent (0.2%) (2 mills) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in the School District for a period of five years, from 1960 to 1964, both inclusive, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating expenses."

The board feels this increase is necessary because the district will be carrying a debt of $83,000 as they enter the 1960-61 school year.

With this increased millage, the debt would soon be erased, boardmen state, and the money then be used to increase the capacity of the junior high, which will soon have 600 students.

Because of recent changes in the equalized evaluation, the rural taxpayers will be the hardest hit if the two mill levy passes.

The board has considered trimming various "extras" from the program, but feels they are vital if the Tecumseh District is to retain its rating as one of the finest schools in the state.

☆

A SALARY schedule for the board members will also be voted upon:

President and Trustees $75.
Secretary ---------- $175.
Treasurer ---------- $375.

This is a slight increase over the previous rate of $5 per board meeting ($60 per year).

To be eligible for Monday's election, a person must be a registered voter in the city or township and a resident of the School District at least 30 days.

Only property owners may vote for the salary increase.

Board Hopefuls

Pictures and statements of the five candidates for school board positions, making up The Herald series, appear on page three.

R. D. Moore was closest on number six.

This Sunday a number of local golfers will play in an interclub match at Toledo.

Candy Sale Will Help Build, Not Buy Bats, Balls

Proceeds of the mint candy sale, the Cub League boys are now conducting, will be put into a building fund for a new playing field.

The money is not for balls and bats as reported to The Herald last week.

All playing equipment has been furnished by the Tecumseh recreation department.

The candy sale will close Wednesday, July 13. Anyone wanting any mints before the close of the sale, contact any Cub League manager, Stu Costigan or Russ Hyatt.

Chorus Members Plan To Sing With Toledo Choir

They are Brenda Hall, Betty Bishop, Janet Graham, Allen Hiser, Dan Harvey, Mike Rohrer, and Helen Miller.

Firemen Answer Grass Fire Call

The Tecumseh fire department extinguished a grass blaze on W. Patterson St. Monday morning. There was no damage.

Tuesday at 11:55 a.m., the department answered an alarm at the Keith Spencer home on Orchard Lane. A fire which apparently started in a davenport was extinguished.

Damage by fire was confined to the davenport, but the house suffered severe smoke damage.

Train Kills Man, 27

A 27-year-old Tecumseh Products employee was killed when his car skidded in front of a DT&I freight train Wednesday morning at 2:15.

Dead was Joseph Petrovish, 318½ W. Kilbuck St.

His 1958 Chevrolet, completely demolished by the crash, skidded 122 feet before striking the train.

L. R. Harris of Flat Rock, engineer of the freight, said he and two other trainmen saw the car coming north on Occidental Hwy.

Harris, who said the train was going 20 miles an hour, applied his emergency brakes, but was unable to stop before reaching the crossing.

Petrovish worked on first-shift inspection at the Products. He was a veteran of the Korean war, serving as an army private first class.

His body was taken by Collins-Corkery ambulance to the Valentine and McNeil Funeral Home in Petersburg, where services will be held Friday at 2 p.m.

Petrovish was divorced and is survived by a three-year-old daughter, Cythia Ethel, who lives in California.

Other survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petrovish, Sr. of Petersburg; two brothers, William of Manitou Beach and Jim at Petersburg; three sisters, Mrs. Richard Bird, Mrs. Charles Brancheau and Barbara, all of Petersburg.

Painter Touches 7,200 Volt Line — and Lives

Allen French, local painter, was working on the roof of the Tecumseh Products Co. Wednesday morning when he accidentally walked into a wire carrying 7,200 volts of electricity.

The accident happened about 9 a.m. when Mr. French raised up and struck his forehead against the wire.

The rubber soles of his shoes were burned off.

At 11:30 a.m. his condition was reported good.

63 Flags Make Up 'Avenue'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Scouts of Troop 4 Put Bunting in Place

If you drove through Tecumseh this holiday weekend, you saw an "Avenue of Flags" — 63 new 50-star flags flying in the downtown district.

Local service clubs sponsored a flag sale throughout the city, selling over 600.

Profits from this sale were used to purchase flags which were donated to the retail division of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce for use in the downtown area.

An agreement was made with Troop 4 of the Boy Scouts for the care of these flags.

The boys will put up the flags on the eight designated holidays, take them down, and store the buntings. They will also be responsible for protecting them from dust and moths

For this service, merchants will pay the Scouts $4.50 per flag. This money will be used for their camping program, equipment, etc.

Pitcher Smacks Two-Run Triple To Help Cause

Minor League teams played two games Monday of last week.

In the opener the Bears whipped the Pirates, 6 to 1.

Bill Schultze, the winning pitcher, allowed only three hits. He also was a helping factor at the plate when he smacked a two-run triple.

The finale of the day saw the Tigers edge the Yankees, 3-2.

In the Pony League, Britton slaughtered the VFW, 26-1.

Good power by Britton batters accounted for this monstrous score.

In the second game, the Eagles outslugged Clinton, 12-10. Gary Peterson was the winning pitcher for the Eagles.

Joe Hanna and Charles Osburn each had two hits for the winners.

There were two games in the Babe Ruth League. Tecumseh mangled Willow Run, 12-5, with Greg Allen as the winning hurler. Willow Run sent three pitchers to the mound with little success.

In the other contest, Pinckney edged Tecumseh, 5-4. Errors by Tecumseh aided the Pinckney victory.

Jaycees Win Two More

Hard-hitting Jim Green continues to power the Jaycee attack in Cub League play.

The Jaycees won both of their games last week and Jim played important roles in each.

Green punched out three hits in three trips to the plate as the Jaycees won a thriller from Exchange, 1-0.

Both teams went scoreless for six frames. Jim led off the seventh with a single, advanced to third on a sacrifice and passed ball.

Mac Meyers came through in the clutch, driving Jim over the plate with the winning marker.

Dean Hebb was the Jaycee pitcher, striking out 12. Randy Work was charged with the defeat, although permitting just four hits and fanning eight.

When the Jaycees nipped Kiwanis, 6-3, Green pounded out a double and single to lead his club. Tim Heflin of Kiwanis had two singles.

Sheldon Peas, with five strike outs, was the winning Jaycee hurler.

Kirk Lucas, pitcher for Hodges Drug Store, set a record — 14 strike outs—but saw his team lose to the Union, 7-4.

Kirk's mark erased Heflin's strikeout total of 13.

Fred Schwede was the Union pegger, setting down eight on strikes. Fred had a double at the plate and teammate Wayne Brooks polled out a pair of two-baggers to lead the stickers.

Bill Bartenslager led Hodges with two doubles.

Rotary won a close one from Kiwanis, 2-1, in a game played during a steady rain.

Each team had two hits, Jim Davis getting both of Rotary's Gordon Gibson doubled and Robert Donahoe singled for the Kiwanis blows.

Randy Dotson was Rotary's chucker, besting Gordon Gibson. Each fanned eight.

VOICE of THE HERALD

It Was Too Bad

It's a shame that more folks didn't attend last week's town hall meeting on schools at the Union Hall.

Those who came—about 100—learned about the two-mill tax proposal and something of state equalized evaluation, on which school taxes are based.

They saw 12 of the 13 candidates for positions of the board and heard several of them speak out on the current issues.

It impressed us that we have a good slate of hopefuls for the four openings. Several disagree with present board thinking (and that of this newspaper) regarding the need for the added two mills for operation. We admire them for their willingness to get up before a crowd and explain why they feel as they do.

We also were pleased with those who do go along with the increased millage — and said so.

Who do we feel should be elected?

That's a question which will have to go unanswered. There are just too many qualified folks in these races. At least eight would make excellent boardmen and the others, we're sure, would do honest, industrious jobs.

As to the candidates, we're afraid you'll have to make up your own mind. For help, we refer you to our current series about each candidate, which concludes in this issue and started two weeks ago. In case you misplaced the past weeks' Heralds, please feel free to drop into the office and check our file copies.

Our best advice on this point is to be sure you vote Monday and that you remind friends and neighbors to do the same.

As for Two Mills

As for the proposed two-mill school levy, which will be decided upon Monday, we do have a definite suggestion:

Vote YES.

As this paper has noted in the past few weeks, Tecumseh has an excellent school system. This covers the entire district, facilities and teachers for all 3,426 students.

Building the district over the past five years to what it is today and keeping it that way has created a financial bind. The district is $53,000 in the red—and there's no way to erase this deficit without added taxes.

Besides that, the lone old-time building we have, Central Junior High, will need renovation within two years. At present, the estimate for this work is about $50,000.

With the additional two mills, which would be in force for five years, the past debt would be eliminated and the necessary cash for the Central project would by then be accumulated.

It will take $1,029,000 to operate the district next year. There are hundreds of items which must be taken into account and we feel the board of education, guided by Supt. James McDowell, has done an excellent job in running our system.

Boardmen have concluded that two mills is the only answer to the present problem.

The Herald made a thorough study of the situation and its publishers came up with the same answer.

We know this increase of two mills is going to hit hard the folks in rural areas in the townships because tax valuations have shown an increase of 13.6% since May as a result of action by the State Tax Commission.

But the money is still needed and the two-mill levy is the only way.

Your vote should be YES.

The Hows & Whys of Moth Repellents

By ROYAL WELCH

Let us be blunt, please.

FEW MOTH REPELLENTS INDEED ARE 100% EFFECTIVE FOREVER UNLESS THEY WERE INCORPORATED INTO THE FIBERS OF THE FABRIC DURING MANUFACTURE. And by that we mean manufacture of the fibers themselves. Not just the woven fabric.

The reason is that very few moth repellents, if any, can ever cover or penetrate every fiber in the fabric of a garment.

Another reason that moth repellents are not always absolutely effective is that not all moth repellent solutions are equally as good. Even a good cleaner may "moth proof" a garment in all good faith. But if the solution is not the best, the protection you get is your own illusory peace of mind.

Still another reason why moth repellents sometimes fail to do a job is that stuff wears off after a time. You can't expect to "moth proof" a garment this week, and have it remain effective forever. The "moth proofing" must be renewed from time to time for maximum effectiveness.

That is why damage sometimes occurs on garments which have been "moth proofed."

For good cleaning and as good "moth proofing" as can be had BRING IT TO Welch Cleaners

Court Ruling Makes Necessary Ballot on Salary

A recent ruling by the state Supreme Court that board of education members may not be paid by the day or meeting has made it necessary for the Tecumseh district to place board salaries for the future on the coming ballot.

Several years ago at an annual election, board salaries were set at $5 per meeting for board members, $100 additional for the secretary, and $300 additional for the treasurer.

Since in a normal year the board meets from 12 to 18 times, the board resolved to ask the electors to approve the following pay schedule, which approximates the average salaries for the last several years:

President and trustees $75 per year.

Secretary $175

Treasurer $375.

Thus, the pay by meeting will be eliminated and an annual salary will be paid, if approved by the electors.

School electors voting on this proposition must be property owners as well as registered voters and receive this ballot only if signing application as a property owner at the polls.

When eight Tecumseh lads attend the National Scout Jamboree this month in Colorado, one will travel with full press credentials.

He's Russell Blanden, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Blanden, who'll serve as a special Herald writer.

Russell was armed with a press card and letter of intent Monday as he turned in his first piece, which appears in this issue.

He'll get another one out by mail from Colorado during the Jamboree and then work up a full roundup when he returns.

We're looking forward to Russell's stories about the Jamboree, regarded as the biggest thing to happen in Scouting.

Anything to make your skin crawl—that's the modern science fiction-horror movie idea.

To see one of these around midnight should be really hideous.

"So it will," chuckles Walt Nichols, manager of the Strand Theatre, who is doing just this.

Walt's film will cap Friday's Moonlight Sale.

Starting at 11:30 and showing until 1:10 a.m., "The Mysterians" is a Japanese film which tells about the invasion of earth by some weird fellows, riding flying saucers.

If you have a sturdy constitution, be at the Strand at 11:30 Friday night.

☆

One of the Riordans has turned renegade.

Daughter, Carol, going into fourth grade, is all-out for Jack Kennedy, in his bid to win the presidency.

While mom and dad carefully explain the virtues of keeping the administration Republican, she stands as solid as Gibraltar for Jack.

The other night Cherie and I discussed who Nixon's running mate might be and finally settled on John Cabot Lodge.

"Sounds like a good pair, Nixon and Lodge against Kennedy," I concluded.

"That's not fair," cut in Carol adding in a growl, "Two against one!"

If anyone has a Kennedy button, I know who would wear it proudly.

Hobbies are wonderful. Most of our readers will probably agree.

The Herald is going to start a series of articles on some unusual ones, beginning this week.

There's an interesting twist to our first one.

It's about a gentleman who operates the Ridgeway Central Railroad — bet you didn't even know Ridgeway had its own line.

Last summer, Paul Surratt took some pictures for us at the home of Julian Strong in Ridgeway. We had heard Mr. Strong made a telescope, which was going to appear on a Detroit television show, so dispatched Paul for the pix.

Paul got them and discovered that Mr. Strong had a fabulous miniature railroad and also took some shots of it.

We ran the telescope story first and planned to do the railroad feature a few weeks later.

Two-Mill School Levy Fails

Voters crushed the proposed two-mill school tax levy, 917-354, Monday in a record-breaking turnout.

All told, 1,305 jammed the Tecumseh High School vocational agriculture lab from 7 a.m. until nearly 9 p.m. The number casting ballots topped the previous high of 1,100 in 1957 when voters OKed a $1,900,000 bond issue for new buildings.

As well as turning down the proposed additional two-mill operating levy, citizens also eliminated salaries for school boardmen by not approving the proposed yearly pay plan by a 599-593 margin.

Boardmen had been receiving $5 per meeting, with the secretary getting an extra $300 and the treasurer an additional $100. The state Surpreme Court ruled last year that this plan was illegal. A yearly pay schedule was the alternative.

Technically, the board members now are working without compensation.

The vote was a rugged experience for election workers Mrs. Ruth LaPrad, Mrs. Duane Service, Mrs. Charles O'Neill, Mrs. Al Helzerman, Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. Kenneth Hinkleman and Mrs. Oscar Bryan.

Except for Mrs. Hinkleman, they all began their day at 6:30 a.m. and weren't finished until nearly 3 o'clock Tuesday morning.

"From noon on," said one, "there was a line all the time." From about 5 p.m., waiting voters wound through corridors of the school for nearly 500 feet. Waiting period was up to two hours.

The board held its regular session Monday night, but didn't stay until all ballots were counted. It meets again, with the two new members, Wednesday evening to make the count official and ponder the future.

PHOTOS BY HERALD

JAMMED POLLS—These three voting booths for Monday's school election proved vastly inadequate. Some residents stood in line as long as two hours to get their chance to cast ballots. Many grew tired of waiting and left without voting. The old system will surely have to be discarded in future elections with more booths at several locals.

He Cheated Death

Like the boy who survived a fall over Niagara Falls, Allen French of 112 W. Patterson St., pulled off a 100 million-to-one shot.

Al accidentally touched a 7,200-volt power line last Wednesday and survived.

A painter for Tecumseh Products Co., he has three burns to show for the harrowing experience and expects to be released from Herrick Memorial Hospital this week.

Mr. French was applying a rust-preventative to the metal roof of a second story walkway connecting two Products buildings. With him was his helper, Jerry Fox, 318 W. Kilbuck St.

It was 9 a.m., when Al turned to Jerry and said, "It's time for a break."

The pair had been working on hands and knees.

Not realizing a high tension line was directly over his head, Mr. French stood up, touching it with his head.

That was the last thing he remembers until he regained consciousness in the hospital while being given oxygen.

"Jerry says I spun like a top," Al said from his bed Monday. "He held me on the roof until help came."

French has a burn on the top of his head and one on each heel, where the current shorted itself from his body through the nails in the heels of his shoes.

As in the Niagara Falls incident, this was nothing short of a miracle—living through a 7,200-volt jolt.

Allen has been painting for the Products since 1952, first on a contract basis and during the past two years as an employee.

Mr. Comfort received 407 to Mr. Eaton's 406.

Hodges and Mead, who were re-elected to four-year terms, were not followed as closely by their opponents.

The final count for the four-year terms was

Dwight Hodges	799

THE THREE-YEAR term candidates defeated their opponents by the following margins:

Richard Dustin	464
Ralph Comfort	407
Arthur Eaton	406
June Stone	305

The board met Wednesday to canvas the votes and to reorganize for the coming school year.

Local Couple To Go To Africa As Missionaries

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Janousek will begin their study to become missionaries to Africa in September.

Mrs. Janousek will resign her nursing duties at Dr. Richard Dustin's office the latter part of August and take their two little girls, Deborah and Susan, to Evanston, Ill. to enroll for the fall term.

Mr. Janousek will remain in Tecumseh until his work with the sheriff's lake patrol is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Janousek will study at Garret Bible Institute and at the Northwestern University.

Kiwanis Working With Conservation Club On Project

At their meeting last week, the Kiwanis unanimously voted to develop a portion of Evans Creek around the Maumee St. bridge in cooperation with the Tecumseh Conservation Club.

Hugh Donahue, representing the club, spoke to the members about the project.

A survey, being conducted by the Michigan State Dept. of Conservation, will guide the total expansion of the creek into an active fish stream. The Dept. of Conservation will make available the fish for the project.

He also suggested development of the creek banks with park facilities.

His proposals were met with enthusiasm by the members, who toured the area following the meeting.

Three Movies This Weekend At Devils Lake Drive-In

Three movies will be shown at the Devils Lake Drive-In Church this weekend, July 16 and 17.

Saturday at 8:30 two movies, "Invitation to the Wedding" and "Marriage" will be shown. The first is the story of a wedding that almost got off on the wrong foot. The second feature is one made by the Billy Graham team.

"The Flickering Flame," a stirring story of a man whose only son is killed in an airplane accident sending him to the depths of despair and disillusionment in life, will be shown the following evening at 9:30.

The Drive-In is located about 3 miles east of 127 and 3 miles south of highway 223. There will be no admission charge.

Public Can Partake in Square Dancing at Moonlight Sale

It will be "a night to remember."

That's this Friday, the evening of Tecumseh's second annual Moonlight Sale.

Things get underway at 7 p.m. when top-flight square dancers from southeastern Michigan and northern Ohio begin a two-hour outdoor show.

Bonnie Mattis is going to serve as mistress of ceremonies and one hour of the event will be broadcast over WABJ.

Grandstands will be set up in front of Gregory's Barber Shop and the dancing will take place on Ottawa St. just north of Chicago Blvd.

A five-piece group will provide music for the dancers. Included are three of Michigan's top fiddle players: Alex Rise of Dundee, and Charles Flannery and Virgil Chawlcraft of Jackson.

Five clubs will participate in the show. Dressed in their colorful costumes will be the Shirts and Skirts, the Maple Square Dance Club, the Palmyra Square Dance Club, the Whirl-a-ways, and the Dance-a-Lots.

Not only will local folks have a chance to see these

SHE TEACHES—Mrs. Merrill Bales, wife of the well-known caller, helps teach youngsters the art of couple dancing. Here are two of her pupils, Judy Zimmerman and Larry Kussmaul, who will be among younger folks in the exhibition.

Lot To Be Improved

Additional legal steps were taken for the sale of revenue bonds for parking lot improvements at last week's council meeting.

The legal firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone of Detroit was retained. The city also was told that an estimate of anticipated revenue from the parking lot meters was necessary before bonds could be sold.

Council approved a resolution to borrow $19,000 for the purchase of the house and property just west of city hall. Present plan for the area is an expanded parking lot for the city hall.

In other action:

The resignation of William Frownfelder from the Planning Commission was accepted.

Final reading of the weed ordinance was approved.

A survey for improving Evans Creek as a fishing stream was discussed.

Sells Agency

T. J. Wagner, 411 E. Chicago Blvd., has sold his Ford agency in Morenci to Vern Scott of that community.

Mr. Wagner, who is seeking the registrar of deeds position in Lenawee County, continues to own used lots in Tecumseh and Adrian.

Board Extends Report Program

The school board at their meeting Monday evening voted to extend the California Achievement Test program through the fourth grade.

The program, in operation in the first three grades this year, reports the child's progress in terms of growth by year and month.

The program, which substitutes a growth index for actual grades, has been under discussion by parents and teachers in the area.

Extension Club Plans Outing

Members of the Busy Raisin Extension Club will meet Thursday, July 14, at the home of Mrs. Merlin Young at 11 a.m.

They will lunch at the Country Kitchen and later tour Siena Heights College.

Management Changes at Club

George French, former Tecumseh businessman, assumed management of the Tecumseh Country Club, effective Monday.

He succeeds John Jeffrey, who had resigned.

Kitchen and dining room staffs have been expanded for better service for the members.

Sunshine Circle Enjoys Picnic

BRITTON — Twelve members of the Sunshine Circle, two guests and twelve children enjoyed the picnic at Wamplers Lake last Thursday afternoon.

A card was signed by everyone to be sent to Mrs. Fay Wiggins who has been a patient in Herrick Memorial Hospital for some time.

There will be no meeting in August.

dancers, but they can also join in the fun. Clarence Heimerdinger, Jr., Clinton dairy farmer, will call for the public dance.

The local merchants will open their doors at 9 p.m. with special Moonlight Sale specials, staying open until midnight. Reminded of last year's successful sale, they say they have many good offers for their customers.

To top off the evening, the Strand Theater is featuring a special science-fiction-horror movie which will begin at 11:30 p.m.

The special evening event is sponsored by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Kiwanis will have a booth in front of Nash's on E. Chicago Blvd. They will sell hot dogs, cotton candy, and soft drinks.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"Believe me, my young friend, (said the water rat solemnly) there is nothing — absolutely nothing — half so much worth doing as simply messing about in boats.

Simply messing — nothing sems really to matter, that's the charm of it.

Whether you get away, or whether you don't; whether you arrive at your destination or whether you reach somewhere else, or whether you never get anywhere at all, you're always busy, and you never do anything in particular."

from The Wind in the Willows.

This bit appeals to me since it describes so perfectly what I like to do for relaxation in the summer time.

There are those like my ever-loving husband who work, yes really work, at the business of fishing and thrive on it.

Then there are those who stay in the water until they become completely and thoroughly saturated with it.

To me, nothing gets the tenseness out of my physiology like just drifting about the lake in an old boat hoping to surprise a bittern, more commonly called a stake driver, or maybe a mama Grebe with her babies.

Many Tecumseh residents must enjoy life at the lakes because there are whole armies of local folks who spend their summers in cottages on Sand, Wamplers, Round, Devils Lakes.

√

Ted Murray arrived July 5 at the Willow Run Airport to spend the remainder of the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown, Sr. at Wolf Lake.

√

The annual picnic of the Schneider Bros. garage employees and their families was held Saturday at the Schneider cottage at Sand Lake with 46 in attendance. Dinner and water sports were enjoyed during the afternoon.

√

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. D. Marsh returned Sunday from a 3500 mile tour of the New England States. Dr. Marsh said weather was reasonable and they were able to take many pictures. They were away nearly three weeks.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Twyford of Mather, Pa. have been spending ten days with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Jones. The four spent several days in the thumb area while they were here.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Mikesell and Roger have returned from a trip to Iowa this past week.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton and son, Tommy, and Dorothy Work spent the weekend in Toronto, Canada at the home of Mrs. Hamilton's brother, Samuel Hanna. They also visited another brother, Wm. H. Hanna, and viewed a three hour long parade of the Orange-men who were celebrating their centennial. Orange-men were present from Belfast, Ireland, Scotland, Australia and the states of Michigan and Pennsylvania.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Falke and son, Dan, of 1004 W. Pottawatamie St. spent most of the last week of June in Sumner, Ill. visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lathrop. On their return they received a call from Sidney, O. that Frank Falke, Jay Falke's father, was in critical condition. They went to Sydney where Mr. Falke passed away July 3. Funeral services were Wednesday.

Mrs. Otto Baaske is recovering from eye surgery which she underwent Wednesday at Bixby Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waldron of Brighten, Mich. have been spending this week with his sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Van Valkenburg and Mr. and Mrs. Herburt Munger.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nash and sons, Fred Jr. and James, and daughters, Doris and Marilyn Tuttle, and James Dahlke visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith at Burr Oak, Mich. on uly 4. Enroute home they visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bernstein.

Fred Nash, Jr. returned to Richmond, Mich. Monday after a three week visit with his parents and sister, Doris. On Thursday he and his sister, Marilyn Tuttle, drove to Ft. Knox, Ky. to attend graduation ceremonies of Pvt. Morris Tuttle following basic training.

The Tuttles will visit here and in North Adams before being transferred to Fort Gordon, Ga.

James Nash, employed as a brakeman on the NYCRR out of Fort Wayne this summer, was also a weekend guest. Gordon and Janet Bernstein of Jackson joined the rest of the family Sunday when their parents wedding anniversary was celebrated.

Doris Nash is visiting her grandparents, the Arthur Smiths, in Burr Oak this week and will be accompanied home Friday evening after the Morris Tuttles and the Gordon Bernsteins visited there. Mrs. Smith is recovering from a severely sprained ankle she received in a recent fall.

√

Mrs. Grace Peck returned to her home in Nitro, W. Va. Monday after several days visit here with her son, Warren Peck, and family. Bonnie Bleau, niece of the Pecks, has been a guest here since July 4.

√

Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy and four children are visiting here for two weeks before going to Indiana to make their home. Mr. Murphy has completed a barbering course in Bradenton, Fla.

√

Rita Crosby and Anne Rebottarro are spending the summer months at Camp Lenore near Hinsdale, Mass. Rita is a counselor and Anne works in the office.

LONG & SHORT

Before we could get the details, Mr. Strong was back at his teaching post in Melvindale and we shelved the idea, but kept the picture.

Our No. 1 gal reporter, Dorothy Grigg, got busy last week on the railroad bit and came up with a swell story. It appears on the first page of the second section.

Now Dorothy figures that one good hobby story deserved another and is busy on a series.

We're wondering if you have some suggestions? If so, give Dorothy a call.

Along these lines, Jesse Stuyter has been toying with an idea which should work — a hobby show.

Jesse would like to see displays of various hobbies in Tecumseh stores. We mentioned this once before and she had a number of folks contact her.

The thought is still active and we'd love to see it materialize. Give Jesse a buzz if you're interested.

Plans are being made for a September 2 wedding for Janice Arlene Passage and James Bowser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bowser of E. Monroe Road, Tecumseh. Miss Passage is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Passage of Grant, Michigan. Mr. Bowser is a mathematics teacher in Grant Public Schools and a coach in the athletic program. He is a graduate of Albion College where he was a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. The bride-elect is a graduate of Grant High School and is employed at the Michigan Mutual Insurance Company in Grand Rapids.

He had been a patient there for seven months.

Born in Tecumseh June 20, 1878, the son of Charles and Jennie Everett, he never married.

He was a member of the Chief Aerie No. 1563 Eagles Lodge of Tecumseh.

There are no immediate survivors.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in Brookside cemetery.

● GEORGE N. WITHROW

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Green-Dunn Funeral Home for George N. Withrow, 75, who died Monday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for the past month.

Mr. Withrow was born Nov. 12, 1884, in Wooster, O., the son of Samuel and Mary Withrow.

He married Mable Hossler at Canton, March 5, 1910.

McDowell Reports On School Growth

A summary of the past school year was presented in the annual report of Superintendent of Schools, James McDowell.

He stated that the school enrollment for the '59-60 school year was 2,903. This included an increase of 128 pupils over the previous fall.

A staff of 160 served the students, including 56 elementary and 44 secondary teachers.

"Even in a year in which illness was unusually high, we have an enviable and outstanding record of attendance for 1959-60 — 92.9% in the elementary schools and 93.4% in the secondary grades," Mr. McDowell states.

The 1960 census showed an increase of 2.6% over last year. There are 5,005 children currently on the census.

Approximately 63% live in the city and the remaining 37% in the surrounding rural areas.

The board of education has completed payment on the balance of the 1952 Ridgeway bond debt and has made their yearly payment of the 1957 bond debt.

A ten-month school term will be offered for the first time this fall. The board feels "that a comprehensive educational program suited to the changing complex society of today cannot be accomplished in our present 9½-month school year," said Mr. McDowell.

Ten additional school days will increase the total number from 184 to 194.

Supt. McDowell feels that many progressive steps have been made this year in better meeting the educational needs of the students.

What's Cookin'

SUKI YAKI

Mrs. L. B. Milheim, 7488 Billmyer Rd., shares with Herald readers a Japanese recipe for Suki Yaki, which she obtained from her sister, who is married to a Hawaiian.

Mrs. Milheim says, "I like this recipe when I have company in summer as it can be all prepared hours before and takes only a few minutes to get on the table.

"That way your guests and you are free to visit, go swimimng or as with us—play golf."

Company is enjoyed often at the Milheim residence. All relatives on both sides of the family and many friends are from out-of-state, therefore they come for weekends and whole weeks at a time.

Mrs. Milheim is always busy as bookkeeper for the Tecumseh Floor Covering business which her husband operates, as well as caring for an eight-room home, an acre of lawn, flowers and garden.

The Milheims are members of the Country Club and enjoy golf and bridge there often.

Their son, Lendall Kieth, 12-years-old, is also a golf enthusiast and takes lessons each week.

He goes to Camp Maniton Lin for two weeks the last of July every year.

☆

MRS. MILHEIM'S sister uses a special charcoal burner and dish sent to her from Japan to prepare the Suki Yaki right at the table before the guests.

An electric skillet could serve —almost as well.

Mrs. Milheim says that Suki Yaki is especially attractive to serve for guests because it takes very few dishes.

Here is the recipe:

1 lb. swiss steak 3" thick, freeze While still frozen, slice very thin, cross grain.
6 stalks celery cut ½" long
2 bunches green onions cut ½" long
1 can bamboo shoots
1 medium onion sliced
½ lb. or pkg. fresh spinach (do not cut up)
1 box mushrooms (sliced)

SAUCE

1 beef bouillon cube dissolved in ½ cup hot water
1 T sugar
½ cup soy sauce

Put meat in pan, stir and cook until no longer bloody. Add vegetables, cover and cook about 3 to 5 minutes, until vegetables wilt a little. Add sauce and mushrooms. Simmer five minutes. Serve on rice or chow mein noodles.

Mrs. Milheim often serves a cabbage pineapple salad, jello salad or fruit and cottage cheese salad which can be prepared in advance.

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED
. . . ATTEND CHURCH !

What is it about fishing that appeals to so many men? Is it the tang of the out-of-doors, the salt spray, the play of the reel — or is it a part of that age-old challenge of pitting oneself against the forces of nature?

Probably, it is mostly the challenge, for man is forever excited by a dare. Yet, while life is full of challenges, all of them are not fun. When it comes to meeting the greater tests successfully, you need a lot more than a fishing pole. Then it is that Faith comes into its own; then it is that the teachings of the Church are put into practise.

Don't walk by your church next Sunday — walk into it. Equip yourself for your own spiritual future now.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

$30,800 Curb-and-Gutter Program in Tecumseh Is Nearing Completion

READY MIX CONCRETE IS POURED FROM THE KUHLMAN TRUCKS INTO THE FORMS

Next Comes North Union Pavement

Tecumseh's $30,800 curb-and gutter program is rapidly nearing competion.

A total of 16,000 feet is being poured by contractor Bill Kloote.

Streets affected are:

Herrick Park Dr., one block east from Evans St.

N. VanBuren St., from Logan one block north.

Seneca St., one block from Wenonah to Nokomis.

N. Union, (two blocks from Shawnee to Evans Creek)

W. Logan St., two blocks from Union to Democrat St.

W. Pottawatamie St., one block from Maple to Park St.

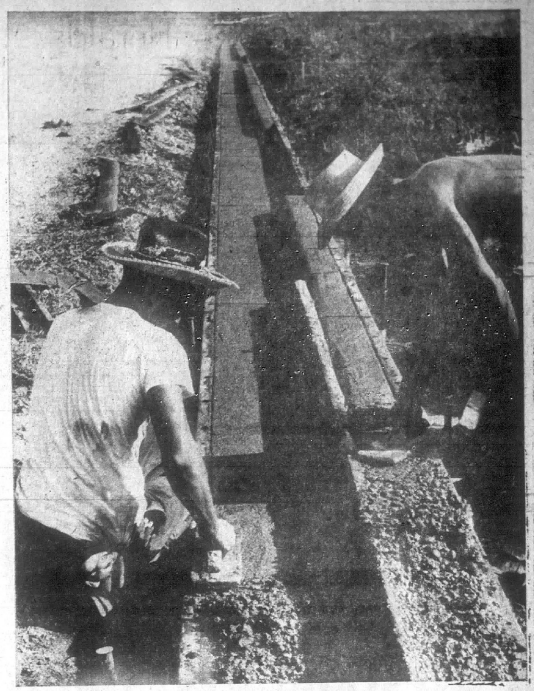
S. Union, one block (5,000 feet) from Patterson to Russell Rd.

N. Wyandotte, one block from Logan to Shawnee St.

The city will shortly attack the bituminous paving job on N. Union St., preparing the base first and then doing the actual paving in August.

This will be a permanent-type roadway, lasting for at least 10 years.

Of the total cost, the city pays 40% and the Property owners the balance, at $2.00 per foot of frontage. This bill can be paid over 3 years.



After the concrete has been poured from the trucks, these experts move along the forms, leveling the mixture to make a smooth, finished product. They also form the driveway entrances. This project is being completed on Seneca St. in the northwest section of Tecumseh. The workers are also laying curb and gutter in several other seetions of the city.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITORS:

Enclosed is my check for the next year's subscription to The Herald.

Anything that I may say beyond that is probably superfluous, but I would like to say that both my wife and I enjoy each issue, my wife having been a native of the city and I having been a member of the school system at one time.

I am sure that without the excellent reporting that you do, we would be completely overcome on our annual visits to Tecumseh to see the progress that has been made.

Over the 10-year period since we left there Tecumseh has really gone places, and I am sure you are proud to have had a part in its progress.

Very truly yours,
Darwin C. Smith

Visit Precedes European Assignment

Major James B. Clark, his wife and five of their children left last Wednesday to go to New York to board a ship July 12 for Madrid, Spain.

Enroute they visited their oldest son who is stationed with the coast guard at Cape May, New Jersey.

The Clark family came from Springfield, Mass. to visit his mother, Mrs. Leland Cheever, and other relatives for a week before leaving for Europe. The major will be stationed there for the next three years.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower

Mrs. Jim Tressler and Mrs. Bert Folk were co-hostesses for a pots and pans shower honoring Mary Jo Tressler, bride-elect.

About 10 relatives played games at the Tressler home on W. Brown St. presenting the prizes to the honored guest after they were awarded.

A red and white decorated cake was served from a table centered with an umbrella and peach tinted roses in an arrangement which enhanced the pale green and white color scheme.

The marriage of Miss Tressler and Patrick Fero will be an event of August 6.

SHOULD THE WIND BE FAIR by Garland Roark—A thrilling tale of romance and adventure set in the exciting days of the blockade runners during the Civil War.

THE DEATH-MAKERS by Glen Sire — A novel about war as it rapidly is — bitter and brutal. The action takes place in the last days of World War II. Germany is in ruins; an American armored column is driving deep into Bavaria, moving at top speed; the end of the war in Europe is in sight. The spearhead of the American column is commanded by Captain Brandon, who wants desperately to live through the next few days of fighting and get home to his wife and children. Pitted against the captain is a German lieutenant, cynical, bitter and experienced.

THAT FAR PARADISE by Gene Markey — In the year 1794, with the new American nation almost at the point of collapse from internal and foreign pressure, General Kensal undertook to transplant his whole family from the cherished security of the beloved Virginia plantation to the menacing wilderness of Kentucky. The decision was his own, and it was bitterly opposed by his wife and only reluctantly accepted by his children.

THEY WENT THATAWAY by Dee Brown — A humorous spoof about the Super Intelligence Service, the F.B.I. and the lurking dangers and strange snares awaiting professor Philip Faraday.

NATALIA by Anne Miller Downes — A story of love and pioneer adventure in a magnificent, untamed land — Alaska in the year of the great Alaska Purchase.

KISS KISS by Doald Dahl — Eleven new stories blending an antic sense of imagination; an eye for the anecdotal predicament with a twist at the end; a savage humor; and an economical precise writing style.

OVER COFFEE AND CHOCOLATE-COVERED DONUTS — Congressman Alvin Bentley was in Tecumseh Tuesday afternoon, campaigning for his nomination for U.S. Senator on the Republican ticket. Bentley, an eight-year member of the House Foreign Affairs committee, spoke with local citizens at Don's Grill. He showed special interest in the African situation. At a noon meeting in Hudson, the Congressman said that "the Congolese don't understand that their newly won freedom does not give them the right to turn on the white man. Their political freedom came to fast and too soon causing them to revolt openly against their former leaders." Talking with Mr. Bentley above is Royal Welch, State House of Representatives candidate from Lenawee County.

This Fellow Runs Ridgeway Central Railroad

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Many people have model railroading as their hobby.

But Julian Strong of Ridgeway has a unique railroad.

He has built by hand every bit of track, all three engines and a tender, and the many auxiliary units that make up his Ridgeway Central line.

He became interested in trains through his father, who was a telegraph operator and station agent.

Mr. Strong started making his first train at the age of 15.

He has started a small museum of railroad relics, including pictures, gloves and caps of engineers. Much of this collection comes from retired operators in this area.

Mr. Strong has the train schedule board that was used in the depot at Holloway, as well as the last ticket that was issued there.

This writer, with two young sons, visited the Strong residence last week.

Donning his engineer's cap, Mr. Strong seated his guests and then placed himself at the control's, proceeding to manuever his three miniature engines, plus a little switch engine in runs closely resembling those of real railroads.

A 16-pound locomotive hauled a train of several cars with a lighted caboose around the track. When the warning light on the tiny Ridgeway depot signaled that a message was waiting, the little engineer stuck out his arm and capably brought the order back to Mr. Strong.

The message, about one-fourth inch long, was made of real order paper.

A mail car with a crane for catching the sacks are now extinct in everyday practice, but Mr. Strong is especially proud of his mail dispatch.

As the engine rushes along the miniature roadbed, one is wide-eyed to see the tiny little bags thrown out, and another one picked up by the trainman.

☆

MR. STRONG is more interested in the steam-type locomotives, but to bring his outfit up to date, he built a diesel engine, authentic even to a honking whistle.

To this writer, it was quite exciting to hear the little train send forth a moaning sound so similar to that of the large diesel and so definitely different from those on the other engines.

Mr. Strong switched the trains from track to track and manuevered the turn table without moving from his seat, located at one end of the 30-foot layout.

Every detail of the miniature railway line is in operating condition. The little water tank holds water and the spout can be swung about to fill the tank of the trains.

The red caboose also has a miniature water tank for the lavatory, a tiny stove and the smallest possible calendar. The languid girl above the numerals is a photograph of a calendar which once hung in the Wabash depot.

On the green bench in the shade of the water tower inconspicuously sits an old tramp, truly a character of the past.

☆

MR. STRONG said he has met many interesting people who share his miniature railroad hobby, but he has not joined any club. His models are all hand made and those of most hobbyists are made from kits. Most models can be run on other tracks, but his run only on their own beautifully constructed, gleaming rails.

A biology teacher in Melvindale High School, he has built a telescope, classified as a Reflecting Newtonian type, on an English yoke mount. The scope is extremely valuable.

Mrs. Strong is also a teacher in Melvindale and the couple spend their summers here in their lovely brick home in Ridgeway.

STRONG AT THE SWITCH—Julian Strong of Ridgeway is pictured with the miniature locomotive which pulls the trains on his model railroad. This Ridgeway Central engine is a Bershire type and weighs about 16 pounds. It is 34 inches long and runs on tracks 2¼ inches wide. It was all built by hand except the wheels, which came from scrap parts. It takes about 10 months for Mr. Strong to build a steam locomotive like this one, which he started in 1944.

Mungers Host VanValkenburg's 44th Reunion

Seventy-five attended the 44th VanValkenburg reunion recently held at the Sand Lake cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Munger.

Zoe Anne Van Valkenburg Phillips of Louisiana came from the farthest part of the country.

Ronald Van Valkenburg presided as new officers were elected for coming year:

President—Cecil Van Valkenburg of Belleville

Vice President — Mrs. Lois Johnson of Saline,

Secretary-Treasurer — Mrs. Percy Van Valkenburg

It was reported that there have been six births, two deaths and one marriage in the past year.

Swimming, boating, playing quoits, visiting and viewing old pictures of the group filled the afternoon.

The Mungers will be hosts for the same group next year on July 4.

Violations And Meters Yield $795.60 in May

Tecumseh policemen collected a total of $795.60 during May.

Of this, $497.50 came from parking meters and $32.50 came from meter violations. The balance, $265.60, was for traffic violations.

In May, local police had 19 accident reports, checked 125 complaints and issued 57 traffic summonses.

There were 119 meter violations, three liquor inspections and 24 arrests. A dozen double-parking violations were reported.

Bad Check Passers

"As the summer season is now in progress so are the active bad check passers," says Sgt. Carl M. Anderson

He suggests that businessmen be alert and know their endorsers. If they have any doubts, they should not be hesitant about calling police.

He says that when notified early enough the police departments can work on a check case more successfully and with greater chance of apprehending the bad check passer.

2 Local Residents To Be In Clark Lake Production

Two local residents of Tecumseh will be in the Clark Lake Players' production of "Only An Orphan Girl" which opens at the Clark Lake Playhouse Thursday, July 14 and continues July 15 and 16. The play will be repeated three more times—July 21, 22, and 23.

Duane Furbush will play the part of the villain, and Mrs. Robert Murray plays his accomplice.

The play pokes fun at the acting styles of the 1890's and is a "soul-stirring drama of human trials and tribulations."

The audience can hiss the villain and cheer the hero, Mike Cantine of Jackson.

Hidden under a wig of long blond curls will be Penny Potenz, the orphan girl, Nellie. The farm couple who adopted her are Ma and Swem Perkins, played by Erna Liebman and Don Finlay.

Widow Appleby and her "little ray of sunshine," Lucy, manage to keep things confused. Aline Hetherwick and Jean Dotterweich are cast in the respective roles.

No show of the Gay '90's would be complete without songs, dances and skits reminiscent of that era, and "Only An Orphan Girl" is no exception.

The play is directed by William J. McAnallen and designed by Bob Waldo.

Curtain time is 8:30 sharp and reservation's are necessary. Call LAkeside 9-9141 from 4 to 8 p.m. daily, except Sunday.

High Bridge Score At Country Club

Hostesses at the Ladies Country Club bridge luncheon Wednesday, July 20, will be Mrs. Ned Rosacrans and Mrs. Frank Purcell.

Mrs. Leland Hubbard won the high bridge score July 6 and Mrs. Ed Boss won second high.

Gabardine's Pitfalls

By ROYAL WELCH

Ordinarily, most fabrics used for suiting and similar purposes are dyed before weaving. Gabardines, however, are dyed as one piece after the cloth has been made. And the particular shade or color achieved is the result of the simultaneous application of two or three dyes together. Since oftentimes one of these dyes will be more fugitive than its companions, cleaning may cause a loss of color or "bleeding".

The situation is further complicated by the fact that gabardine may be made from wool, cotton, rayon or a mixture of fibers.

So let us give you some hints on how to keep them looking right.

1. Never spot gabardines at home with anything under any circumstance whatever. This may liberate dyes.
2. Be especially careful to avoid staining with acid or alcoholic beverages.
3. Clean often. Never use soap and water.

And reconcile yourself to an eventual shine on the surfaces exposed to much rubbing. Meantime, whatever the fabric or the garment, you'll always get the best cleaning job when you CALL OR BRING IT TO Welch Cleaners.

HDA Sign Means Approved Spot For Vacationers

While vacationing in Michigan's water wonderland, stop at the sign of the HDA.

This is the advice of your county and state health departments which reminds you that HDA means" Health Department Approved" and assures the vacationer that the resort, motel or other vacationing stop is safe.

Where the green and orange HDA sign is displayed, it means the tourist or vacationer can count on:

1. A safe water supply.
2. Adequate disposal of sewage, garbage and refuse.
3. Protection from common hazards.
4. Clean, ventilated, screened buildings.
5. Good food handling, if food is served.

If there are swimming facilities, they also are inspected and approved.

This summer, about 2,000 of Michigan's eligible resorts will display the HDA SIGN. It is 22 in. wide and 15 in. high with the HDA letters reflected so they can be spotted at night.

Resort owners can qualify to display the sign this season by applying to their local health department for details and by satisfying the requirement standards.

Mr. and Mrs. Darroll Bibbons of Brooklyn were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Whelan and family.

Clinton Engines Names President

Donald C. Suhr was elected president and chief operating officer of Clinton Engines Corp. The announcement was made by David B. Charnay, board chairman and chief executive officer, following the company's annual stockholder meeting.

Clinton is one of the largest manufacturers of small gasoline engines used on lawn and garden equipment, karts, chain saws, outboard motors, and a number of other home, farm and industrial uses. It has plants in Clinton and in Maquokets, Iowa.

Mr. Suhr joined Clinton on May 18 as executive vice-president of operations.

Prior to this he had been president, treasurer and a director of Hurd Lock and Manufacturing, and president and a director of Keystone Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary.

Mr. Suhr is a graduate of Illinois Institute of Technology and has done graduate work in engineering at Detroit Institute of Technology and the University of Detroit.

Harvest-Time Tips For Greater Grain Production

You can't expect to get every kernel of small grain out of the field with today's harvesting equipment.

But you can expect to get all but about 1 to 1½ per cent of your crop into the combine hopper if operating conditions are favorable.

With weedy or lodged crops, losses may average 4 to 5 per cent early in the season, and go considerably higher late in the season, says John W. Comstock, county Extension Director.

Even though you've checked your harvester over carefully before starting to combine, it's still a good idea to check field losses occasionally during harvest, Comstock suggests.

For wheat, 18-20 kernels per square foot equals a loss of one bushel an acre; for oats, 10-12 kernels; soybeans, 4-5 kernels; barley, 13-15 kernels; and rye, 21-24 kernels.

If your field loss is higher than 1½ per cent of your crop under favorable harvesting conditions, your combine probably needs to be adjusted, Comstock says.

Check machine speed to see that the combine is operating at the recommended rpm. Look in the instruction manual to find the basic speed of the machine. Adjust the engine so that the basic speed is 3 to 5 per cent higher than normal when the combine is running empty.

Adjust the cylinder-concave spacing as wide as you can and still thresh the grain out of the heads. Straw badly broken by too close cylinder-concave setting tends to overload the cleaning shoe.

For complete information on combine adjustment and harvesting methods, ask your county agent for a copy of the revised regional bulletin, "Harvesting With Combines."

Jamboree Scouts All Packed To Go

By RUSSELL BLANDEN

Special Herald Writer

The big lumpy duffle bags have been carefully packed by eight Jamboree Scouts and their Scoutmaster from Tecumseh.

The bags have been filled to capacity with sleeping bags, blankets, ground cloths, air mattress, first aid kits, folding camp stools, flashlights, ponchos, special Jamboree uniforms and necessary articles of clothing.

These duffle bags have been sent with the camping equipment and are on their way to Colorado Springs.

The scouts, however, do not leave until July 18, from the Union Station in Toledo at 8:00 a.m.

They will arrive in Chicago at 11:30 a.m. Here they change to the Santa Fe Railroad and leave Chicago at 1:30 p.m.

The next morning at 11:30 they will arrive in Colorado Springs.

Each troop will have a sixty passenger car for traveling. The Wolverine Council has one troop which will leave with nine other troops from the Toledo Area.

Most of the boys are taking patches, fancy neckerchiefs, and neckerchief slides, to "swap" with other scouts.

The campsite is located on the Reverse J Diamond Ranch. From here 55,000 scouts from the United States and 36 foreign nations will be able to see beautiful Pike's Peak.

Pocklington Reunion Plans

BRITTON—The 52nd reunion of the Pocklington family will be held Sunday, July 31, at 12:30 at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted LaBounty.

Community Foundation Reaches Goal — $12,000

Britton area citizens soon will be able to enjoy football and softball games under the lights.

The recently-formed Community Foundation has just completed a special drive to raise funds for the lights.

"We are happy to announce that we have reached our goal of $12,000 for a combination softball and football field for school and community use," said Charles Patterson, Foundation president.

The drive was conducted June 13 through June 25 to secure funds for the recreational lights. A house-to-house canvass was made throughout the Britton-Macon school district. It is hoped that the lights will be ready by fall.

As well as receiving donations from local citizens, the Foundation received money from interested citizens outside the community including a large gift from an anonymous donor.

"We wish to thank all the people who made a donation and especially those who gave of their time to help make this project a success," Mr. Patterson said.

This Foundation was incorporated in January to secure funds for school and community improvements as well as collect money for county, state, and national charities.

The American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Britton-Macon Camp Fire Girls, Wolverine Council Boy Scouts, Michigan United Fund, and the Britton-Macon Boy Scouts will receive benefits from the Foundation.

The officers of the Community Foundation besides Mr. Patterson are Vice-President Mrs. Glenn Gripton, Secretary Russell Spaulding and Treasurer Ronald Cheever.

Trustees of the Foundation are Mrs. Harley Hummel, Richard Linn, Mrs. Harold Osterhout, Elwood Palmer, Mike Papp and Bob Wallace.

Small Election Response

BRITTON — Ned Brown was re-elected by a large majority to the board of education for a three-year term and Michael Papp and Mrs. Ronald Cheever were selected to serve four-year terms.

Only 248 votes were cast at the annual school board election held Monday at the Britton-Macon School.

Of this total, five of the three-year ballots were spoiled by persons voting for two of the candidates instead of one.

Total votes received by the candidate for the three-year term were:

Ned Brown—141
Douglas Fairbanks—67
Henry Mastie—35

Four-year term candidates received the following:

Michael Papp—157
Mrs. Ronald Cheever—142.
Gustav Tiede—112
Mrs. Harold Osterhout—62

After the votes were counted, a short meeting was held by the board, which was open to the public. Only 12 persons attended besides the board members.

The board elected their officers for the '60-61 year.

Douglas Palmer, President, Harold Rohrback, Secretary and Leland Bush, Treasurer.

The new members will be installed into office at the school board meeting to be held in the school Thursday, July 14 at 8 p.m.

DOWNTOWN TECUMSEH

Over 500 Enjoy City Summer Recreation

By DUNCAN LECTKA

Recreation in Tecumseh is growing fast!

A quick check of recreational activities last week revealed that we are getting too big for what were once very adequate facilities.

A year ago at this time one baseball diamond, one softball diamond and the Cub League diamond were sufficient to take care of the handful of teams participating in the recreation program.

These same diamonds were used last week by no less than 406 persons on 28 softball or baseball teams.

The number of games varies from week to week, but recently there has been an average of 20 on the three fields.

The ages of these participants range from 6 through middle age. They are not confined to males alone but include four girls teams as well.

☆

THE PEE WEE LEAGUE is the youngest with ages from 7 to 9 and is made up of four teams totaling 65 boys. They play twice weekly in the afternoon and are guided by boys working in the recreation program.

The next age group, 10 to 12 years, participates in the Minor or Cub League.

The Minors is a league made up of five teams each with a roster of 13 to 15 boys. They play in the afternoon two days a week and are handled by high school boys. There are 75 boys in the league.

The Cub League consists of six teams which play five evenings a week. Fifteen boys make up the roster of each team for a total of 90. They are coached by adults.

From the Cub League boys graduate to a newly formed Pony League. Three teams from Tecumseh make up a part of a six-team league. Seventeen boys constitute each team and they play their games in Tecumseh, Britton, Clinton and Deerfield. The teams are coached by adults. 51 boys from Tecumseh play in the league.

This year for the first time Tecumseh is represented in the Huron Valley Babe Ruth League playing games in Tecumseh, Saline, Willow Run, Clinton and Pinkney. Two local teams make up part of the American and National divisions of the league and consist of 15 players each. They play their games twice a week in the evening and are coached by adults.

☆

FOUR GIRLS TEAMS are playing softball this summer with the senior team participating in a newly formed league with Deerfield, Hudson and Adrian Training School.

The junior girls have a three-team league in the city and play twice a week in the afternoon. All these teams are under the direction of Carol Kapnick. A total of 48 girls are currently participating.

Blooper Ball is being offered to men "over 30" and July 7 saw the start of league play with four teams participating. These games are held every Thursday evening on the softball field. Fifty to 60 men have shown great interest in this new sport. Many more are expected before the close of the season.

In addition to the organized teams mentioned here, baseball and softball are being played by other groups in town not under the direction of the Recreation Department. American Legion baseball, Church League softball, and a men's softball team use the city facilities two or three times wekely.

MINOR LEAGUE BATTER, MARVIN KORTH, TAKES MIGHTY CUT. LOU CATERINA CATCHES

☆

BASEBALL AND SOFTBALL, though a great part of the program, are just a part of the activities.

Four Tot Lots, directed by high school girls, offer supervised play for over 75 children five days a week.

Tennis has taken on a new interest this summer and the courts are in constant use. Two tournaments are under way at this time.

Swimming under the direction of Carl Hale, though not directly a part of the city program as such, maintains a summer average of 172 swimmers, daily.

The pool's biggest day of the year saw 374 children climb in and out of the water.

The daily average for July increased to 225 persons of all ages.

The Recreation Program offers activities to over 500 persons each day.

The cost of such a program, including equipment, maintenance and salaries, is $4,400.

The money comes jointly from the Community Fund and the city recreation fund.

Ann Arbor '9' Dumps Tecumseh from Tournament

Ann Arbor's junior American Legion baseball team pulled the rug from under Tecumseh in last weekend's district tournament at Jackson.

Ann Arbor crushed Tecumseh Saturday morning, 13-1, in the opening round of the two-defeat-and-out tourney.

That afternoon, the locals came to life, crushing Morenci, 18-5.

But Sunday, it was all over as Ann Arbor again crossed bats with the Indians, winning easily, 7-0.

That ended the first half season for the Legion nine, which starts the second Saturday against Milan.

In the win over Morenci, Dennis Harrison was the hurler. Tom Bodell had three hits in four trips to bat. Dave Fox chipped in a home run and single in three trips.

In the first Ann Arbor tilt, Chuck Komon got the lone Tecumseh hit.

Against the same club the next time around, the Indians got five blows, two by Larry Taylor in as many times at bat.

New Unusual Milking Parlor

A new picture-window milking parlor on the Tecumseh Chief Farm, owned by William Hotrum, Shawnee Street, is attracting hundreds of visitors.

The first of its kind in operation in Michigan, it is located at the intersection of Holloway Road and Rogers Highway, approximately six miles southeast of Tecumseh.

A revolutionary system of cow milking, it was put in operation June 28. A high degree of visibility is achieved throughout. A series of windows runs along the entire front of the milking parlor and adjoining room where the milk is stored. These windows afford natural light plus solar heat in winter.

The milking parlor displays tiled walls and four stalls where four Holstein cows are milked at a time. Forty-four cows are being milked at present but the milking herd will be expanded to about 80 animals.

The milk is visible for operator Robert Marks and for visitors as is come from the cow to a transparent milking machine. From there it can be watched going through a glass line overhead into a large tank in the next room where it is cooled and stored.

After each milking, Marks, or his son, Dean, cleans the equipment by pushing a button on their "Electrobrain", an automatic washer which completely sanitizes and cleans and then shuts off.

The milking and cleaning system, installed by Alton Mathis of Ida, takes a great deal of the work out of dairying and helps provide an attractive, sanitary place to produce milk.

African Movie Being Shown

A movie of special interest is being shown at the Tecumseh Friends Church Wednesday, July 20 at 7:30.

The showing of "Africa On The Bridge", a World Wide production of Billy Graham's historic 17,000 mile trip through Africa, is being sponsored by several area churches.

This picture is especially pertinent in view of the turbulent conditions in Africa today.

Photographed in authentic sound and natural color in 17 principal African cities, the film captures the spirit of Africa in this crucial period in history.

On his tour there, Billy Graham was given an unprecedented welcome by the Africans. A total of 500,000 attended his outdoor mass meetings.

"Africa On the Bridge" depicts the continent in its transition period between ancient tribalism and independence from colonial rule. The movie shows both scenes of primitive village life and modern industrial living.

The movie gives a special tribute to the missionaries, whose years of faithful labors were in a large measure responsible for the spiritual harvest experienced by the evangelist, Mr. Graham.

Robert Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Marsh, is home from Las Vegas where he is stationed with the Marine Corps. He will return about August 1.

Minneapolis Site For National Repertory Theater

The opportunity for the National Repertory Theater to locate in this area was lost when Tyrone Guthrie, the great Shakespearean director, made his final decision recently in favor of the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.

There he received a $400,000 foundation grant plus an individual donation of $500,000 with which to launch, two years from now, a theater in this country similar to the now famous one in Stratford, Ontario.

Universities in Southeastern Michigan with a possible location in Ann Arbor or Tecumseh were under consideration.

However, this area already abounds in good theater offerings, which was perhaps a factor in deciding to locate this venture in a part of the country not so richly blessed.

In addition to the local university presentations at Ann Arbor and Wayne, there is Ann Arbor's annual Spring Series of imported plays.

Summer theater offerings this year are rich and varied. These include a current theatre-in-the-round production on the T. U. campus and a showboat revival on the Ohio River by Indiana U. students.

Of great local interest are the Clark Lake Players in which some of our members are playing both leading and supporting roles.

Toledo Zoo Theater offers a most interesting schedule of repertory plays. Performing in these is a score of 14 professional New York actors.

For those who might be lured into a long weekend vacation, Guthrie is again directing this summer in Stratford, Ontario.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Writing Is on the Wall

The voice rang clear:

"We refuse to pay more taxes for schools. You'll have to find some other solution."

Speaking were the people of the Tecumseh District. The secret ballot carried their message.

The school board and its superintendent were their target.

There was absolutely no question about the reaction of the voters to the proposed two-mill levy. They said, "NO," and they meant it.

This throws the problem back into the collective lap of the board.

This newspaper had spoken wholeheartily in favor of the issue and advised people to OK it. We feel the sting of defeat, but not so harshly that we can't bounce back and review the matter from a new angle.

Folks don't want a new tax—because they can't afford to pay more. This is particularly true in rural areas, where school taxes go up almost $4 a thousand next year EVEN WITHOUT THE PROPOSED LEVY. If it would have passed, the jump would have been in the neighborhood of $8 more per thousand property valuation.

The school board now has its work well defined. It must fine-tooth-comb the entire budget of $1,029,000 for next year, find out where it can be cut.

There is a $53,000 deficit to think about, which makes the situation even rougher.

But the writing is on the wall, bold and black. The board has no alternative, as far as we're concerned.

Citizens have said "NO" to more taxes at this time and they'll say "NO" in two months, six months and probably the next year.

This will be the long, hard road to travel, but businessmen, industries and households have been faced with the same problem from the Year One. It has been resolved before, it must be resolved now.

Another Era Is Ended

Another era in Tecumseh is ended.

Hayden Flour Mills has discontinued milling flour and now has turned its full attentions to manufacture of various feeds.

The Hayden firm will continue to buy wheat from area farmers, states Mrs. Perry Hayden.

The mill, opened in 1835 by Judge Stillman Blanchard, was originally located on Globe Pond, now the site of the Talon, Inc. building.

For $500, a group of three men purchased 80 acres of land along the Raisin River, from just below the Red Mill Pond to the La Plaisance Bay Turnpike (M-50).

The money panic of 1873 was the first storm to bear down on the new industry, which changed hands several times until 1858 when William Hayden purchased the property at a sheriff's sale.

It has been in the Hayden family ever since.

The original Globe Mills burned to the ground on March 25, 1898, was rebuilt the same year. In 1927, the machinery of the mill was moved to an uptown location at 315 S. Pearl St., where it is now.

Henry Ford acquired the vacated mill building on the Globe Pond in 1933 and the land on which it stood. The original wafer rights and hydro power plant, however, are retained by the Hayden Fuel and Supply Co. a corporation formed in 1935 and headed by Perry Satterthwaite.

☆

OVER THE past 102 years, during which Hayden manufactured flour, it has marketed several brands.

At the turn of the Century, "1900" was introduced and since then there has been Snow Kiss, White Gem and others.

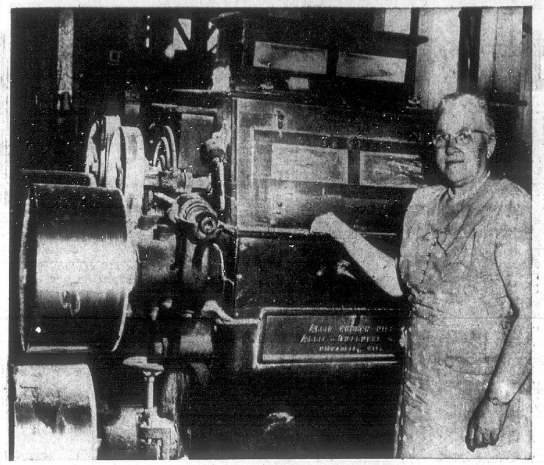
Hayden was a pioneer in the ready-mix field, introducing prepared biscuit and cake mixes in the 20's.

At present, flour-making machinery is being dismantled and sold, giving more warehouse room for storage of the various Hayden Feeds.

"During wheat harvest," Mrs. Hayden states, "the elevator will be open to receive wheat from 6 a.m. until all trucks are unloaded at night."

But this grain no longer will be rolled into Tecumseh-made flour, but moved on to the big manufacturers.

The competative picture and slim profit margin has dictated the end of flour milling here.



MRS. PERRY HAYDEN WITH FLOUR MAKING MACHINERY NOW READY FOR SHIPMENT.

Youthful Rider Takes Bad Spill Following Rodeo

Nancy Spence, six-year-old daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spence of Pennington Rd. was discharged from St. Joseph Hospital July 6.

The little horsewoman suffered internal bruises in an accident in the arena at her parents B bar J ranch following the rodeo presented there during the afternoon Sunday, July 3.

Miss Spence handled her horse most capably as she rode in the Grand Entry parade and led the Girl's Barrell Race during the performance.

Having ridden since she was two-years-old, her parents were not concerned when the youngster continued to ride and race with others in the arena following the show.

Another horse ridden by Diane Walden and Miss Spence' mount came together head-on, throwing both riders off.

The injured girl was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital and then transferred to St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

She is still under observation at her home.

Lose Licenses

Bessie I. Craig and Donald S. Craig of 503 Center Dr. have had their license suspended or revoked.

Two other Lenawee county drivers to lose their license were Richard Alan Henry and Frederick Evans Schmitz of Adrian.

Auxiliary Plans Coming Picnics

The VFW Auxiliary received several honors at the regular meeting held Wednesday evening.

A token to be attached to the staff of the American flag was presented to the group for having their colors in the Department Encampment parade at Saginaw in June.

Two gold stars were awarded the auxiliary for having reports and books in when due, and a blue ribbon for the banner flag for a 10 per cent membership.

Mrs. John Sisson was installed as patriotic instructor and Mrs. Robert Mitchell as guard by Past President Mrs. Frank Daehne.

It is requested that members have jams and jellies for the National Home at Eaton Rapids at the residence of Mrs. Warren Filter, 311 W. Logan St., as soon as possible.

Mrs. Harold Meade or Mrs. Lloyd Stites would like sealed bids from members for the seven pair of used drapes from the meeting hall by July 15.

☆

The annual picnic will be held July 20 at the Vineyard Lake cottage of Mrs. Burt Warren. Those wishing transportation may call Mrs. Stites or Mrs. Meade or meet at the Post Home at 6 p.m.

Each member is to bring her own sandwiches, a dish to pass, drink and table service. Also members are urged by Mrs. Stites to bring another member with them.

Final plans were completed for the joint post and auxiliary picnic to be held July 31 at 11:30 a.m. at Vineyard Lake.

For this outing members are to furnish their own meat sandwiches, hot dogs or hamburgers (grills will be furnished), a dish to pass and table service. Beverages and ice cream will be furnished. Games have been planned.

Reports of the Department Encampment were given by delegate Mrs. Richard Eisenminger and President Mrs. Harold Meade.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Daehne and Mrs. Lee Phibbs.

Jack Trudeau Attends Institute at Arizona State

Jack L. Trudeau, 800 S. Occidental Rd., has received a grant to attend the Summer Institute for senior and junior high school teachers of chemistry and physics now in progress at Arizona State University in Tempe.

The institute, which began June 27, will continue for eight weeks, to August 20. It is sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

With the objective of refreshing, reviewing and bringing up to date the participants' training in physics and chemistry and providing them with sufficient background and knowledge to integrate the two fields in their teaching, all are enrolled in history of the physical sciences.

Some participants are doing additional work in chemistry, others in physics.

Each will receive six semester hours of credit upon completion of the program.

Trudeau, who teaches chemistry at Tecumseh High School, is among 59 teachers participating in the institute, directed by Dr. Alan T. Wager, chairman of ASU's department of physics.

Mother Advisor Honored At Picnic By Rainbow Girls

A Founder's Day picnic was held by the Rainbow Girls at the Round Lake cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Kenton Hunt July 6. Water sports were the main entertainment.

Mothers of the members played cards on the lawn during the afternoon.

A co-operative supper was served featuring a decorated cake made by Mrs. Harry Beland honoring Mrs. James H. Baker, mother advisor of the Adrian Assembly.

"Happy Birthday, Mother Baker" was written on the icing of the cake and Mrs. Baker received a lovely handbag, a gift of the Assembly.

Sandra Carl of Traverse City, grand drill leader of the grand assembly, was a guest.

Lucinda Miller was among the Rainbow Girls initiated into the Adrian Assembly June 27 following a co-operative dinner at the Masonic Temple there.

Nancy Beland, worthy advisor, announced that a picnic will be held August 4 at the home of Robert J. Baker, son of the mother advisor.

After this outing, the Assembly will recess until Sept. 13.

Lanning Wolverine 4-H Club Plans Family Supper

A family night supper at 6:30 p.m. will be held July 23 for members of the Lanning Wolverine 4-H Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Feight.

Plans for the get-together were completed at the group meeting Thursday evening at the Feight residence.

Each family is to furnish hamburger buns for themselves, a dish to pass and their own table service.

Mounted insects projects by each member will be on display.

H. B. Willmott of Russell Road will show pictures of his trip to Trinidad and Tobago.

Eight members attended the meeting Thursday evening with their leader, Mr. Feight, and their parent leader, Lloyd Stites.

During the business session a letter from Gary Seevers, county 4-H agent, was read informing the group of a talent show to be held at the new high school cafeteria in Adrian.

Any club member who wish to participate are asked to contact Mrs. Feight by July 20.

Refreshments were served by Jimmie and LaVern Stites.

Friday Night's Moonlight Sale Draws Huge Crowd

"It was the biggest ever," said Don Murphy, Chamber of Commerce Secretary. "I think the merchants were very well satisfied."

Nothing but praise has been offered for Tecumseh's Moonlight Sale Friday night. Crowds jammed the downtown area for the annual event sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

It was hard to estimate the size of the crowd because they were watching the square dancing as well as shopping in the stores, but everyone agreed it was bigger than last year. The turnout then was nearly 4,000.

After the two-hour square dance show, the merchants opened their doors and were kept busy throughout the evening.

Skip O'Neill of Baldwin's Hardware commented that customers were knocking on the doors at 8:50 p.m. "so we opened up and let them in. They have been here ever since." This was at 10:30 p.m. Incidently, within 15 minutes, he sold three pieces of Samsonite.

At Allison's Clothing Store, the clerk said, "this is the first time we have been able to see the door." It was then 11:25 p.m.

Mr. Day, manager of Woolworth's, replied "Response is excellent. It's beginning to slow down just a smidgen. The first hour we were so crowded you couldn't walk."

☆

AND WHAT about the customers?

Mrs. Orville Laidlaw said, "It seems like the old Wednesday nights when we used to have street shows."

Mrs. Glenn Davis of Murray Drive, with packages under her arm, commented, "I'm just getting started. I've only been to two stores."

"My wife sure enjoys them," said Hubert Lavender of Tecumseh.

The teenagers were there too. "A real nice turnout," replied John Perry

"It's a neat idea, but I wish there was more display space," Sylvia Klught said.

☆

WE ALSO INTERVIEWED many people from surrounding communities.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hughes of Adrian said they liked to see the people, and added Mrs. Hughes, "I didn't think I'd see so many I knew."

"We think it's nice," commented Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hayford of Britton. "You can leave your children home and don't have to worry about them getting into things," Mrs. Hayford said.

Fred Herman of Adrian replied, "It's the greatest thing that ever happened to this town. It really gets the people out. It's very unique."

Mrs. Max Munger of Clinton, resting in one of the chairs along the sidewalk, said, "It's tiresome, but enjoyable. Are they going to have more?" Mr. Munger added that he had never seen so many in the stores before.

☆

And we also got a word from the square dancers. Mr. and Mrs. Don Eicher of Delta O., tired from an evening of dancing, said, "We had a grand time and there was a tremendous crowd. We're going back to talk Delta into having one too."

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

This column is written in great haste.

It's Friday afternoon and in just about an hour, the Riordans are due to take off on vacation.

The whole family has been looking forward and planning for this the past two months.

There were dozens of details to be cared for and for my share of the chores, I figured the scheduling was perfect.

For instance, this opus. It was to have been written in leisure, first thing this morning — but the kids needed new sneakers and that took a goodly chunk out of my precious schedule.

Mom was wrestling with last-minute washing, ironing and packing, not to mention chipping frost from the freezer compartment of the refrigerator. (This is the model that never has to be defrosted.)

By the time this gets into print, we should be in the midst of a happy time at the tip of northern Michigan with all the pesky final preparation just a memory, maybe even a humorous one.

In my wallet is a letter from Republican National Headquarters, informing me that there is a press pass for me at the Conrad Hilton Hotel for the coming national convention in Chicago.

Rollo Conlin of Tipton, a member of the state Legislature, helped make arrangements.

It has long been one of my fondest ambitions to attend a presidential-nominating affair of either party.

I realize the GOP gathering will probably be pretty tame — unless Rocky gets into the swim — as compared to the Democratic convo in Los Angeles.

But my particular goal is taking natural-light pictures of the excitement.

You probably noted, in watching the Democratic affair on TV, how the powerful flood lights beam into the speakers rostrum. From the side, this makes for dramatic lighting effects.

There are numerous other possibilities to picture — if a fellow with a camera happens to be at the right place at the right time.

Incidentally, have you any idea how many newspaper, magazine, television and radio folks covered the session in Los Angeles? More than 5,000. Chicago will probably be about the same, so when it is said, "An army of news folks," that's exactly what is meant.

Filling in at my desk during these two weeks and then again for two weeks while Jim is gone in August will be Julia Boyce, a junior at Ohio Weslyan University.

Julia was valedictorian — No. 1 in her class at Tecumseh High School — and is doing honor work in college.

She dropped in a few days here and there earlier in the summer for "classes" in weekly journalism and is now quite capable in preparing stories, writing headlines and ordering the printers around.

So if you have any complaints, just call and ask for Julia.

See you next week from Douglas Lake.

Grange Hosts

Host committee for the Tecumseh Grange meeting July 28 will be Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swanston, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bigelow and Ruth Kuder.

15-Year-Old Boy In Critical Condition Following Accident

Howard Hunt, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt, was critically injured Tuesday afternoon when he fell out of a trunk of a car driven by his sister.

He was rushed immediately to University Hospital, Ann Arbor, after an examination here at Herrick Hospital showed a skull fracture and other possible injuries.

The accident occurred less than a half-mile from his farm home on Murphy Hwy., about two miles northeast of Tecumseh.

He had loaded several sacks of feed into the car's trunk, then hopped onto the feed, squeezing himself between the feed and the trunk lid.

Roberta, his sister, not knowing that he was perched on the feed, left the farm for Tecumseh. A few hundred feet south of the Elmer Spreeman farm, he tumbled out while the car was traveling an estimated speed of 35 or 40 miles per hour.

Unable to lift him into the car, Roberta summoned Mrs. Spreeman for help.

He was semi-conscious on admittance to the hospital here and still had not regained consciousness at Ann Arbor.

His condition Wednesday morning was described as critical and an operation is likely if his condition drops even lower.

DRY AND STICKY — Among the crowd at Friday night's Moonlight Sale was Jack Edwards, who had just been at the Kiwanis booth for a cotton candy treat. The Kiwanis members were kept busy all evening selling soft drinks, hot dogs, and the cotton candy.

Praises FACT Committee

The Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation has set July 26 as the date to take definite action on FACT recommendations.

At its meeting July 12, the board commended the FACT committee for its excellent work and final report.

A letter sent to Dr. Robert Laidlaw, chairman of the FACT committee, stated that "the Board of Trustees of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation is unanimous in its praise and gratitude to you and your committee for your very outstanding work as FACT."

The board accepted with regret the resignation of the Rev. James Nixon. His unexpired term will be filled shortly.

Other action at the meeting included a review of agency budget requests. Agency representatives are being invited to the July 26 meeting for further consideration.

Guests were present from the Michigan and Lenawee County United Funds.

Colonel Wins Fourth Place

Colonel, a light buff cocker, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Hoffman of 515 Chicago Blvd. placed fourth in the ladies handling stake at the Michigan field trails Sunday at Highland Recreation Area.

Mr. Hoffman's wife, Marda, handled the 11-month-old dog as he won the fourth-place lavendar ribbon.

Products Closes For Two Weeks

The Tecumseh Products plant will again close shop for summer vacations, announced H. L. Spencer, Executive Vice President.

The date for the annual shutdown is August 8-22.

Vacation checks for employees will be issued Wednesday, Aug. 3. Those employees laid off, entitled to vacation checks, may secure them at the employees office from 1-5 p.m. Regular employees will receive theirs by regular factory distribution.

City Dump Changes Are Recommended

New plans for control of the city dump were advanced Monday night when a committee report was submitted to Council.

The committee's proposals are:

Free admisison to the dump for trash only to the residents of Tecumseh.

Prohibit dumping of all garbage at the dump.

Enforcement of garbage regulation by making it a misdemeanor, thereby setting up fines for those caught dumping garbage.

Contracting garbage pickup service with the contractor operating his own sanitary landfill outside the city.

A meeting to discuss operating the dump and for studying the committee's report will be held next Monday evening at city hall.

The committee of city manager Ed Nelson, city engineer Cal Zorn, councilman Royal Welch and George McCombs, and Merle Hoag, local businessman, rejected a previous possibility of the city entering the garbage pickup service as too costly.

☆

In other action, Council:

Approved a petition for water main on Shady Lane, between Murray Dr. and Orchard Lane, and scheduled a public hearing for August 1.

Approved a change from Class A to B zoning of approximately 11 acres along Munger Rd.

Authorized the city manager to advertise for bids for a used two-ton truck to be used as a dump truck.

Re-elect Board Officers

The Tecumseh school board met last Wednesday evening to canvass the votes and to elect officers for the coming year.

Re-elected to their positions were Jens Touborg, president, Aden Mead, vice president, Dr. Ralph Helzerman, secretary and Dwight Hodges, treasurer.

Trustees serving on the board are Virgil Tucker, Ralph Comfort, and Dr. Richard Dustin.

These seven members are now serving on the board as a result of the election last Monday.

Mr. Mead and Mr. Hodges were re-elected to the board at that time. Mr. Dustin and Mr. Comfort are new members.

Monday Club To Entertain

The Tecumseh Monday Club will hold a breakfast Wednesday, July 27, at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Clifford Knudson on Wyandotte St.

Members and friends are all invited. Macon, Clinton and Britton Clubs will also be guests.

Mrs. Paul Hadsell, Mrs. C. B. Brock and Mrs. R. G. Dillingham are making arrangements for the occasion.

Garden Clubs Met At Devils Lake

The Wilbur Rumpf cottage at Devil's Lake was the scene of a combined picnic of the Tecumseh Garden Club and the Little Garden Club Friday afternoon.

Twenty seven members and three guests attended. A short business session followed the dinner.

Mrs. Carlos Jones, Mrs. Hugh Walters and Mrs. Thomas O'Hara were assisting hostesses.

Vandals Smash Windows At Patterson School

Three vandals went on a glass-breaking spree this past weekend.

R. T. Gillam, principal, discovered several smashed windows at the Patterson Elementary School Monday morning.

The windows were located on the west and north sides of the school building and obviously had been broken by a barrage of stones.

James McDowell, superintendent, said four door window had been broken by the boys. He counted 50 stone-marks on just one door.

Also broken were eight classroom windows. Mr. Gillam said these contained large egg-sized holes where the stones had gone through the glass. The stones lay inside the building.

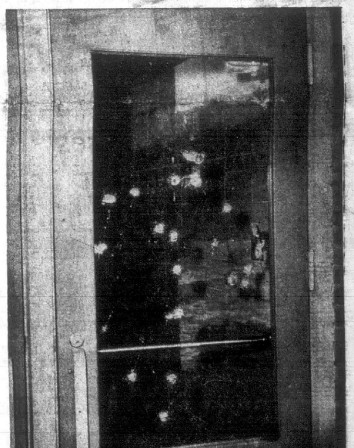
Supt. McDowell said the damage could only have been caused by a constant bombardment by the boys.

All windows were of safety-plate glass.

The school is covered against vandalism, but it does not include broken windows.

Mr. McDowell estimates the damage at nearly $750.

Police chief, George Kilbourn, said that this should be a warning to all children: "Be careful that you don't throw stones. Your parents are liable for the damage."



STONE BATTERED — Three boys created this sight at the Patterson School this weekend. They broke several windows at the school with small stones. Damage is estimated at nearly $750.

Maynard Found Guilty By Court

Trial was held Wednesday at city hall for Lowell Maynard who was charged with drunk driving.

Justice Ernie Oliver presided and the jury was made up of Mrs. James Barton, Mrs. Duane Service, Lester Handy, Charles Osburn, foreman, and Sherman Cole. Mrs. Perry Hayden was called but excused.

The defendant was represented by the firm of Baker, Hammond and Baker and the city was represented by James Beardsley.

Maynard was found guilty and fined $100 and 20 days in the county jail with $58.90 costs or an additional 20 days.

He posted bond for $500 and appealed to the circuit court.

Girl Scouts Exceed Goal For Funds

The Irish Hills Girl Scout Council is now financially secure.

Joseph Fortunato, campaign fund chairman, recently presented a check for $20,111.42 to the council from Lenawee and Hillsdale counties for their share of the operating funds.

This check exceeds the goal of $20,000 set for the two counties.

The new Irish Hills Girl Scout Council includes Lenawee, Hillsdale and Jackson counties. The Jackson county share for total operating budget will be provided by the Jackson County Community Chest.

The council will provide a unified scouting program for the 3,849 girls now registered in the Girl Scouts in the three counties and for a potential 1,000 new members the first year.

The new council, in operation since July 1, will give the girls a variety of facilities and opportunities which could not be realized under the lone troop organization, including the established camping site at Camp O' the Hills at Wamplers Lake.

Go-Kart Is Fun

Ivan (Buck) Maynard of 211 E. Pottawatamie St. has always been interested in autos or anything that runs on wheels. This prompted him to build the little vehicle with a Go-Kart chassis now known as Randy's Hot Rod.

Randy, four-year-old son of Buck and his wife, Lileen, follows in his dad's footsteps. He loves to ride in the hot rod and if the motor isn't working, that's all right — Dad can push.

The Maynards have another son, Jeffie, who is four mos. old, but Buck doesn't confine his affection just to his own youngsters. He built the miniature house trailer shown in accompanying photos for the neighborhood passengers.

Buck never steps out his back door but to find several children waiting for a ride.

☆

AT FIRST he built just a flat wagon on wheels but soon the idea for the house trailer materialized.

After wearing out two sets of wheels, he finally purchased heavy duty ones from Meyers Aircraft where he bought the chassis and also the sheet metal aircraft tubing used in constructing the little car.

The engine is a two-cycle two horse one made by Power Products and purchased from Meyers.

Buck has it geared to four miles an hour so that there is little danger for the children. Although the auto is licensed and titled, he never allows them to take it on the street without him.

It took about a year for him to construct the hot rod complete with horn, lights and brakes.

The cost of the outfit was about $250 but Buck says it is well worth it.

He used about three gallons of gas on July 4 giving the youngsters rides.

☆

The trailer is constructed of masonite from Moore's Lumber Co. and Buck plans to install a chimney, doors, windows and wall-to-wall carpeting besides seats in both ends and on the sides.

This plan including a sign reading "We heat any size house," has to wait until the children let him have the time to work.

When he comes home from his job as driver for Beach's Bulk Oil, they are waiting.

Has Arrived In Southern Hemisphere

Dennis Bryan arrived in Bogota, Columbia, July 1 with the Michigan chorale after an enjoyable trip by plane.

They left for Lima, Peru, July 8 after a full schedule of eight concerts in six days.

July fourth the group was invited to a reception at the American Embassy residence by Ambassador Demster and Mrs. McIntosh.

They gave a 45-minute concert, arranged by CARE (a shelter for abandoned children) July 7 and later in the day they gave a concert at Salt Cathedral.

Mrs. Fred Bryan, Dennis's mother, said he was much impressed by the cathedral.

Litterbugs Cost State $365,000

The Michigan State Highway Department spends $1,000 a day to clean up after litterbugs, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said recently.

The Highway Commissioner said Michigan's new freeway system will attract thousands of persons who will visit Michigan for the first time.

"While they are here, many of these visitors will decide whether or not to come back the next year," Mackie said. "And their decisions, I am sure, will be greatly influenced by whether or not our highways and roadside parks are well-kept."

Mackie said the $365,000 spent to remove litter from highways and roadside parks would, with federal aid, finance construction of six miles of freeway.

"I would like to appeal to all citizens to cooperate by refraining from throwing anything out of their car windows as they drive along Michigan's highways," he said. "It will make our job easier and make Michigan more attractive."

Death of Friend Saddens Police

The Tecumseh Police Department are mourning the loss of a little friend, a fox squirrel, who met his death recently on the highway in front of the police post.

This little fellow was so tame that he would come in the door of the station to a chair to accept a choice nut or tidbit from the officers.

The Herald had hoped to get a picture of this frequent visitor sometime this summer, but alas, it is too late.

"All is not lost, however," states officer Sheldon Chase. "There is another young squirrel beginning to call on us, coming to the steps to look for a nut or two."

The Herald may still be able to snap a picture.

"Can Can" at the newly remodeled Madison Theatre in Detroit provided an evening of colorful entertainment for this columnist, her husband, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop Monday.

The lighting on the beautiful velvets, satins and cottons of the bountiful supply of lovely ladies as well as the scarlet robes of the judges in the court room scenes was superb.

The gay music transported the audience to the streets of Paris in the opening scene. Much of the action took place in the supper club where the performance of the dance, "Can Can", was constantly interrupted by the arrival of the police.

Certainly not recommended for for the younger set, Cole Porter's musical starring Frank Sinatra, Shirley McLaine, Maurice Chevalier and Louis Jourdon is an entertaining movie.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITORS:

All is not lost!

Tecumseh schools have long wanted to be "tops". Now is the greatest challenge to confront them.

Until now the thinking has been that the budget could not be cut. Now is the time for positive thinking. The budget can and must be cut. It is long past due. It is very apparent that the community is not "sold" on the "extra's" that are included in the curriculum.

We have competent men on the school board and if they would run school business, as they do their own, this climax would not have happened.

Tecumseh schools can now be an example of how a budget can be cut and still give us good basic education, which everyone wants.

When this is done, and not until then, I think the voters would be willing to pass a millage issue for a NEED not a DESIRE.

Sincerely,
Arthur J. Eaton

Collen Vershum Becomes Bride of Allen Hoag

Collen Ellen Vershum approached the altar in a gown of white silk organza over taffeta Saturday evening when she became the bride of Allen E. Hoag at the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church.

She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Vershum and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hoag of Blissfield.

The bride, now living at Ottawa Lake, was formerly a resident of Macon township.

Her floor length gown was enhanced with a satin sash with satin roses at the back waist. The elbow-length veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. Her pearl necklace and tear drop earrings were the gift of the groom.

The Rev. Kurt Koeplin performed the ceremony before the altar decorated with vases of white gladioli and yellow majestic daisies.

Mary Lou Perry attended the bride as maid of honor in a gown of white pique with a mint green organdy overskirt. The bodice featured empire lines and the skirt had a dropped waistline accented with white embroidered leaves above the bell shaped skirt.

Mrs. Robert Leidel, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Theodore Hueter were the bridesmaids in gowns identical to that of Miss Perry.

All the attendants wore daisy circlets in their hair and carried white imported bone fans with cascade arrangements of yellow and white daisies.

Sue Ann Uppell, niece of the bride, was the flower girl in a pale green organdy frock with puff sleeves, wide sash and bow.

She carried a nosegay of daisies outlined with white nylon leaves and strewed petals before her as she proceeded down the aisle.

Thomas Paulson of Toledo was best man and the guests were seated by Carl Hoag, brother of the groom, and Lewis Vershum, brother of the bride.

Rotary Continues Winning

Two games in the Cub League last week were close contests decided by only one run.

Tuesday's game was a battle for first place between Rotary and Jaycees. The Rotary boys won this one 3-2. Each team had only three hits. Randy Dotson struck out eight for the winning team while the losing pitcher, Dean Hebb, fanned 11. All the hits in the game were singles. Joe Barth, Fred Freeman and Randy Dotson each got one for the Rotary team. The Jaycee hits were collected by Ron Rentschler, Jim Green, and Eric Wilkins.

Kiwanis edged the Union team on Thursday, 4-3. Steve Ruhl and Fred Schwede got the only Union hits. The winners were led by Bob Donahoe who had two doubles and a single and by Tim Heflin who had a double and a single. Tim also struck out eight Union batters. Fred Schwede and Stan Lewis shared the mound chores for the losers.

In other games last week, the Kiwanis defeated the Exchange 6-1. Allan Vallad hit two singles and a double to lead the winning attack. Gordon Gibson and King Dunn were the winning battery. Gordon fanned 12 batters. His opponent, Randy Work, struck out five.

Friday's game saw the Rotary team continue winning as they defeated Exchange 6-3, even though they were only allowed two hits by Doug Wilcox. Doug's two-hit pitching and a double and a triple were not enough to gain a victory for his team. Scott Edwards won the game. Both pitchers struck out seven batters.

The scholarship was sponsored by the Tecumseh Garden Club and the Little Garden Club.

The object of the school is to present state-wide information on conservation of water, fish, soils, forestry, and wild life to teachers so that they can teach the material to their students when they return to their home communities.

Mr. Burns states that the course was very worth while and he hopes that his students benefit from it as much as he did.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

On the Right "Track"

Jeb Fisher, the local station-master, tells a story that happened last winter during one of our worst blizzards.

Seems there was a Center City salesman down at the depot waiting for the scheduled 8:02 train. Storm raging the way it was, small town, why, the poor chap pictured himself stranded for days. Suddenly a train emerged from the storm and croaked to a stop. It was the 8:02, right on time!

The happy salesman shook Jeb's hand and said: "Weather like this and your 8:02 is right on time. Here is my Thanks you, son," said Jeb, "but this is yesterday's 8:02."

From where I sit . . . things aren't always what they first appear to be. For example, there's the fellow whose first impression is that only iced tea is real refreshment, but not beer, which I prefer. Sure he's entitled to his opinion, but he's got to respect mine too. That's tolerance and that's something we've got to "train" ourselves to have more of.

Stamp Collection Displays History

Mrs. James M. Artman of 213 E. Pottawatamie is one of a number of stamp enthusiasts in the city.

She has been collecting for the past twenty years. "I never throw a stamp away", she said.

Her son started collecting years ago, and like any mother, she was interested in his hobby and thus started her own.

Spurred on by a nephew in Fort Wayne who is also a collector, Mrs. Artman now buys every first day cover that is made by the government.

With the covers, information about the stamp is sent to Mrs. Artman which she has offered to share with would-be collectors.

Previously she collected both foreign and United States stamps but has now confined her hobby to just those of this country.

She says one must be careful because there are so many bogus stamps.

A collector must always look for a well centered stamp that is evenly framed and, she says, it is well to buy a block of four so that you have the completed perforations.

Anyone who really goes into the hobby of collecting stamps is bound to absorb a great deal of the history of this country, says Mrs. Artman.

She readily recommends it, especially to young people.

Haitian Mission Field Visited By Rev. Pelly

The Rev. William A. Pelly, new pastor of the Presbyterian churches in Deerfield and Holloway, recently spent two weeks as a special missionary in Haiti, one of two nations on Caribbean island lying between Cuba and Puerto Rico.

He had been sent to Haiti by the Oriental Missionary Society to work at several mission stations. He was to convey evangelistic services among the natives and help other Christian missionaries in Haiti, about one-fourth the size of Ohio.

He received two months advance notice of the trip to Haiti and spent most of his spare time poring over his French books. He was able to converse in French with many of the inhabitants of the isle during the visit, but he needed a translator during his sermons.

☆

THE MISSION STATION at Port Margot, Haiti, is typical of the establishment in that area, said Rev. Pelly.

The mission staff included two missionaries, their wives, a doctor and his nurse, four native evangelists and two native pastors.

These men work through the jungle, founding and servicing churches as they "seek to win other natives to Jesus Christ."

"The task of these Haitian jungle missionaries is often quite difficult," he said. "Sometimes it may even be perilous." Witch craft and the cult of voodoo are still maintained many areas.

The headquarters of the Oriental Missionary Society in Haiti are located at Cape Haitien, the second largest city in the country. Their activities, in addition to the personal contact with the natives, include the operation of a large radio broadcasting station (4VEH).

The misison has homes and a training school for the native boys and girls. Boys attend classes one day and work the next.

One instructor held a fountain pen in his hand and told his class:

"This pen, before it can do effective and useful work, has to be prepared by being filled with ink. Likewise, in order to be effective and useful, you need to be prepared. Study and learn about the work you are to do."

Cub Scouts Enjoy Outing With Dads

About 60 cub scouts and their fathers from Pack 73 spent a weekend at the Tecumseh Conservation Grounds with the cubmaster, Gerald Creger.

All meals were cooked by the fathers on stoves donated by Protane Gas Co. A number of the tents used were loaned to them by Boy Scout Troop 73.

The fathers participated with the scouts in softball, horse shoe and volley ball, as well as treasure hikes.

Spraying of the grounds for mosquitos made the weekend outing more enjoyable.

Holloway Resident Honored At Picnic

Mr. O. M. Powell was honored Sunday with a family picnic celebrating his 69th birthday.

The event took place at his cabin in the woods.

In addition to Mrs. Powell, those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Raynor VanValkenburg and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Powell and family of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. John Powell and family of Wampler's Lake and Mr. and Mrs. William Osburn and family of Britton.

Adrian Federal President Seeks State Office

Harold H. Sherman, president of the Adrian Federal Savings & Loan Ass. has been nominated for president of the Michigan Savings & Loan League to succeed Fred C. Reynolds of Kalamazoo.

Election of the president and other officers for 1960-61 will take place at a three-day convention opening Monday, July 18, at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

Mr. Sherman is presently serving as first vice-president of the organization.

Nearly 400 delegates will attend the largest convention in the 73-year-old history of the state group.

Army Recruiting Office A Success

Fifteen Tecumseh area young men have been enlisted in the U.S. Army through the Tecumseh office since it opened in December.

Sgt. Ken Sechler, local Army recruiter, said this surpasses the total enrollment of 1958 and 1959 combined.

Last winter, Sgt. Sechler held office hours every Thursday afternoon from 1-4 p.m. in the basement of the city hall.

Sechler feels his success was greatly due to the Army's program of "Choice, Not Chance." Under this program, young men may choose the school and the training they desire for their three-year term.

Local boys enlisted through Sgt. Sechler are: Jay Andrews, Paul Scott, Richard Peters, Floyd Avery, Vern Sharp, Frederick Belleville, William Gasner, Terry Landin, David Withrow, David Linden, John Browne, Merle Meads, Laurence Shutes, Sheldon Nichols and Myron Bedore.

Health Survey Progressing

The crew of workers of the U. of M. Community Health Study is nearing completion of the medical histories and examinations.

To date, over 8,500 study-area residents have been contacted for their medical history interview. Of these, 90.6% have been interviewed and scheduled for examinations.

Approximately 7,254 charts have been returned to Ann Arbor and the reports completed.

The clinic so far has sent 6,789 electrocardiograms and 5,990 blood samples to Ann Arbor.

The monthly progress report, dated July 1, states that 729 persons were interviewed during June and either completed or scheduled their examinations.

Since the study began, many have moved into the area or changed residence. John Napier, working on the program, urges anyone who has not been contacted to notify the field office phone 1016.

Mr. Napier said he hopes to have soon a brief report summarizing the progress of study.

Why Silk Needs Extra Care

By ROYAL WELCH

Silk is one of the earliest fabrics made by man. Its fine delicate texture and glossy sheen has endeared the fabric to civilization. Early trading ships brought this beautiful material to Europe, along with tea and spices.

While there are substitutes that are almost as good, man hasn't yet perfected a substitute for the silk worm.

Now the finest silk is still a pure dye silk. It drapes well, has a good hand, and wears well. The raw silk is not quite so sheer, but compares well with the pure dye silk in hand, draping and wearing qualities.

Our modern civilization has gone the ancients one better and added sizing to some silks. Properly sized, this fabric has all the qualities of the pure dye silk and raw silk.

But our "weighted" silks present a problem, both to you as a buyer and to your drycleaner. Just the normal wear that you give the garment made of "weighted" silk tends to break down the body of the material. When drycleaned, more of the "weighting" is lost, and this garment can not give you the satisfaction of the pure dye silk or raw silk fabrics.

No matter what silk you buy (and we hope you buy the best), we will give it the best of care in drycleaning, and exercise special care to prevent stretching, water marks and burning.

In "our town"
■ Seems the neighborhood pharmacist has become quite a literary character, popping up in books, short stories, movies—even as narrator in a classic American play. Perhaps it's because we're characteristic of neighborhood businessmen. Since you stop in often, our store is a friendly meeting place. Matter of fact, many of you are old friends with whom we talk "family" as often as "shop." We're proud of this part we play in community life.

FAMILY PUTS 2,000 MILES A MONTH ON CORVAIR THINKS IT'S MARVELOUS
GAS MILEAGE "OUT OF THIS WORLD"
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvair has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting—"at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission . . . and we've had no trouble with our Corvair." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvair's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby sitter.

Through My Window

WESTWARD HO

I wish someone could explain our strange affinity for weather. Whenever we go on vacation, it happens. This year we had rain, thunder-storms, a blizzard, strong winds, hail and even a small earthquake, but it was still the best trip ever.

If all started Saturday, June 11. The plans were that as soon as Mom was out of work and all the last minute odds and ends taken care of, we would be off.

The waiting was hard but finally, about seven, the last bag was stowed away. We had only turned the corner when the little storm which had been threatening all afternoon let loose. The Duncans were really on vacation —it was raining.

This year's trip was to be entirely different and, except for the rain, the new experiences started right away. At the boulevard, instead of turning east, we headed the car west. Wow!

Elkhart, Indiana was our Saturday night stop and Sunday morning we awoke to a cold, dark, damp sky. It was the kind of a day cars seem to love and as we whisked over turn-pikes, express-ways and toll-roads, the car worked beautifully. It turned out to be a good day for riding.

Skirting Chicago we had a big thrill. Just after pulling into a service-area we heard this tremendously loud noise and looked up just as a huge TWA jet liner roared overhead. The airport was nearby, and before we could bring ourselves to move on, six jets had gone over and I lost count of the conventional airplanes. Quite a sight.

Illinois turned out to be as pretty as we had been told; Iowa came as a surprise. It was lovely. Rich, lush farm land and rolling hills. The eastern part of South Dakota was much the same.

When not marvelling at the fertility of the land or the enormous fields, we were fascinated with the bird-life. If not every post certainly every third one had a red-winged blackbird on it and upon almost every span of wire or power-line perched a pretty meadow lark. Swallows were most numerous over every little creek and stream and pheasants cackled at us from everywhere.

About this time we saw our first really Western birds. There were beautiful yellow-headed blackbirds, which are exactly what the name implies, shiny black birds with bright yellow heads, and the big black and white magpies that have such surprisingly long tails.

Also new to us were the dapper lark buntings. We saw many of these birds, the males most noticeable in the dressy spring clothing—all over black with showy white wing patches.

Next came the Bad Lands of South Dakota; in our mind's eye they had always been seen as, in the summer-time at least, hot arid waste-lands lying parched and barren under a scorching sun. Well, we saw the Bad-Lands this year and they were a big thrill, but, running true to form, we saw them in the rain.

Actually, rain is an understatement—a torrential down-pour, complete with thunder and lightning, is a truer description. It rained so hard that many times we had to park in a 'scenic overlook' and wait for it to let up a little so we could see to drive on. Still in all, it was most exciting to be there and the storm emphasized the hostile characters of the land.

Happily we had a sudden and surprisingly break in the weather. We had a little sunshine before leaving the Bad Lands. The storm pasesd over, or we drove out of it, and although the wind did not let up, the sun really did come out. What a sight—blue sky over-head, black rain clouds in the distance and sun shining on the multi-colored rocks. The weirdly eroded mountains can be beautiful no matter what the weather.

The next day, Thursday, was fortunately nice and clear. Mount Rushmore was the main sight on our schedule and how in a few words can such impressive grandeur be described? Statistics such as the pupil of Lincoln's eye is four feet across, his mouth twenty-two feet long are nearly incomprehensible. Our national monument should be seen by everyone.

By the way, discount reports that the four faces of Mt. Rushmore—Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and T. Roosevelt—will not have company. According to the ranger's report there is no more suitable stone left for further sculpturing. This is good, for the monument should stay as it is.

By a lovely, twisting and turning mountain road we drove through So. Dakota's Black Hills. Pretty little lakes, a quick glimpse of the wild buffalo and always the mountains made us wish we did not have to hurry on but our route still pointed west, so—

The Sun Is Wonderful, — But Don't Get Too Much . . .

Work or play in the sun can be healthful — we most always feel better for it. Vitamins from the sun's rays are beneficial, especially for children.

But those warm rays can be harmful too. Delicate skins require some protection, and burns require prompt medication. It is well to watch this carefully.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Maybe This Would Help

As we contemplate the current school money situation an idea pops in from a local citizen.

Could the school board make use of a citizens committee?

This has been tried and found extremely useful in other school districts.

A citizens group would not be formed to pressure or push the board, merely to serve as consultants and, if you will, live guinea pigs for opinion when the board prepares to go to the people for money.

We have heard all sorts of stories about why the two-mill levy was voted down last week.

One man phoned to say his vote was "No" because he did not favor the 10-months school. He said others voted the same way for the same reason.

His opinion was that if a survey would be taken on the subject, this would prove the major factor for the defeat. We can neither sustain nor reject this thinking.

However, the idea of a survey seems like a good one — and it ties in perfectly with a citizens committee, which could serve as the team making a public opinion check.

To our way of thinking, drawing in a large group of people, representing all geographic sections of the school district, for straight-forward answers to questions of the moment is an excellent guide post for future undertakings.

When a large industry begins manufacture of a new product, or goes into a new territory, one of the first things to be done is make exhaustive surveys and pilot sales checks. Before the item is placed on retail shelves, it is almost predetermined that it will sell. If the studies show poor potential, the product never gets on the market.

This procedure could be easily adapted to school operations, we think—scientific surveys of a carefully-selected cross section of residents before taking major action.

Creating a citizens committee is certainly well worth considering.

TAR

Trash — But No Garbage

Next Monday night Council will study and probably take action on a committee's report on the city dump.

This report was submitted to the city fathers this week and includes several proposals which we feel should be adopted.

Two recommendations are of special interest and, if adopted, would largely eliminate criticism and improve the local dump with the present admission charge.

Tecumsehites should welcome the committee's proposal that the dump be free for disposing of trash only. This would do away with the present admisison charge.

Another proposal, which may meet opposition from some sectors, is the prohibiting of dumping of garbage. This will force many residents to dispose of their garbage in another manner — garbage pickup service, incinerator, etc.

These two committee recommendations alone would help clean up the city dump, and still provide the usual city dumping services to the residents.

Very few cities allow indescriminate dumping of garbage as has been common here. Other cities' experiences show that they could not cope with it.

The two proposals mentioned here and other parts of the committee's report are worthwhile improvements for the city and its residents.

To Begin Work On Tipton Office

Tipton will join Tecumseh in November in a conversion to dial phones.

Ground was broken Monday morning for a new telephone office in Tipton.

The office will be located just south of M-50 on Tipton Hwy. It will be 26 by 24 feet and constructed of brick. There will be a knock-out rear wall for future expansion for the Tipton area.

The building will cost $12,000 and the dial equipment an additional $48,000.

Two hundred lines and 600 terminals will be put in operation through the Tipton office. All phones will have access to nation-wide dialing through the Adrian office.

The system will be ready for operation in November, the same time as the Tecumseh conversion.

Present at the ceremonies Monday were R. E. Kinsma, Eastern Division manager of the Bell Telephone Co.; E. G. Greene, Adrian district manager; R. J. Ellsworth and C. E. Hikes, building contractors; of Krieghoff Co., Adrian; and Herman Titley, Franklin Township Supervisor.

In charge was D. W. Clark, Tecumseh district manager.

LENAWEE COUNTY'S LARGEST WEEKLY

VOL. 109 — ONE HUNDRED TENTH YEAR — NUMBER 41 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JULY 28, 1960 14 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

PELLSTON — This northern Michigan village of 500 has been left with one claim to fame.

During the winter months it usually rates as the coldest spot in Michigan.

The mercury has dipped as low as 60 degrees below zero here. It's not unusual to have a 35-below reading. Apparently the fact that Pellston is situated between two ranges of hills draws in and holds frigid weather drifting in from Canada.

Not many years ago, this was a giant lumbering center and the area hummed with the logging trade.

The Pennsylvania railroad, which slices through Pellston, used to do a land-office passenger business, but this also is a thing of the past. Now, only an occasional freight whizzes by.

A major share of recent rail shipments has been steel, which will be used as reinforcement in the major expressway that will soon link southern Michigan to the northern-most tip of the state.

Sections of the road have been completed and in this immediate area clover-leaf interchanges are being scooped out of the sandy countryside.

We're at Douglas Lake three miles from Pellston, for two weeks of swimming, fishing, reading and loafing. This location is excellent for side trips and we've taken a couple.

Mackinaw City is just 17 miles and its restored Fort Michilimackinac is the high-point in a visit there.

Archaeologists have been at working for more than a year, unearthing original foundations of buildings within the fort. The British War Office has lent plans of structures used by the English military in the Eighteenth Century so that when buildings are re-constructed the finished products will be careful reproductions of the original.

The Fort has a fabulous history. It was built in 1715 by the French, as "coureurs de bois" and "voyageurs" of that nation flocked to northern Michigan to trade with the Indians.

From its walls, one has a panoramic view of the Straits. The Mackinac Bridge is just a stone's throw. It's easy to realize how strategic such a location was 200 years ago.

In 1761, when France surrendered its North American empire to Great Britain, the Red Coats moved into Michilimackinac.

Two years later, in an Indian uprising, the English soldiers were massacred when they were tricked by the redskins who staged a lacrosse game next to the Fort as the Englishmen watched casually.

The crafty Indians tossed the lacrosse ball near the wall and while pretending to retrive it, their squawes gave them tomahawks and they assaulted the English.

Frenchmen, including the old Fort commander who stayed behind when his troops left after the British took over escaped the massacre. When things settled down, the ex-commander took over once more until the British sent new troops a year later.

It was from Michilimackinac that Major Robert Rogers, on his own, sent an expedition to seek a Northwest Paggage to the Pacific. For this, the major was charged with treason and hauled off to Montreal. Rogers was acquitted, but never recovered from the scandal.

During the Revolutionary War, the British moved the Fort to Mackinac Island, because the English feared a mainland installation couldn't withstand an American attack.

So in 1781, Michilimackinac was abandoned.

The site was acquired in 1904 by the Mackinac Island State Park Commission. Its stockade was partially reconstructed in 1934. Complete and authentic restoration was begun in 1959 and should be complete in another year or two.

It's a strange sensation, standing in a lookout tower along the Fort's pointed-timber wall, scanning the broad horizon of the Straits, thinking back of the historical events which took place on this small portion of Michigan.

Sold Balloons

The Tecumseh Teen Club sale of balloons at the recent Moonlight sale raised $44.84 for the March of Dimes.

Vandals Damage Carts

Damages amounting to several hundred dollars were inflicted on four electric golf carts at the Tecumseh Country Club Monday night.

Harvey Wilson's cart sustained the most damage, estimated by Leo Bishop, pro, to run over $300 The cart probably will have to be returned to the factory.

Carts owned by Charles Branigan, R. H. Moore and Frank Rice also were included in the vandalism.

Bishop reports carts were run over the putting green and No. 1-2-3 and 10 greens. Marks on No. 1 indicated a race track was created by the vandals.

All carts were returned to the shed from which they were taken and two were plugged back into outlets for re-charging.

Most of the damages occurred by running the carts into each other.

About 200 range golf balls also were picked up during the spree.

New Store Opening Tomorrow

Friday marks the opening of another store in Tecumseh.

At 9:30 a.m. the door will open at the new Dean's Boys and Girls Center, located in the west half of the former Gambles store.

The children's clothing center, owned by Dean Keeler, will carry nationally known brands.

He is a veteran in the clothing business, having been associated with the J. C. Penny Co. for 12 years. He served in Hastings and Midland before becoming the floor manager in the Bay City store.

The Keelers are now living at 603 N. Union St. Dean and his wife, Alice have seven children.

Cubs Celebrate Golden Jubilee

The cub scouts of Pack 73 observed the Golden Jubilee of Scouting by holding an Olympic meet Saturday afternoon at the Tecumseh Recreation Field.

After participating in various contests the boys were served refreshments.

Scouts who received Jubilee patches from Cubmaster Gerald N. Creger were Greg Wise, Norman Creger, Brad Brees, Dean Gittings, Lee Milosh, Mark Wagner and Eddie Stormes.

Mrs. Harold Milosh and Don Brees also received patches.

Aquarama Cruise Is 3 Weeks Away

Only three weeks are left to purchase tickets at the Herald office for the Tecumseh Community Day Cruise.

August 18 is the day of the exciting trip aboard the S. S. Aquarama for a 13-hour cruise from Detroit to Cleveland and back.

This all-day cruise will be filled with entertainment, including dancing, deck games, theaterviewing, sunning, or just plain relaxing.

The multi-million dollar liner, a 520 by 72 foot fireproof vessel, allows you to view the scenic Lake Erie as well as enjoy elegant food at moderate prices and to spend the day participating in the recreation program planned and supervised by the cruise director and the hostesses.

The Aquarama is unusually attractive throughout.

The largest deck of the ship is the Upper Deck which runs the complete length of the ship. Found here are the main lobby and the main dancing floor. A novelty shop and souvenir counter, a cocktail lounge, a mainstage, and a sun deck are among the other spots on this deck.

Above the Upper Deck is the Club Deck, featuring a large lounge with a circular stairway that comes from the main deck. Also located here are the children's playroom, a sun deck, an area for deck games, a dance area, a TV room, and a soda and sandwich bar.

The Sport Deck contains a passenger observation lounge and a sports dancing deck.

At the very top of the ship is the Sun Deck with both covered and open areas for one to soak in the warm summer sunshine.

Escalators and elevators make it easier to move from one deck to another.

The ship leaves the Detroit dock at the foot of W. Grand Blvd. at 9:30 a.m. and returns to Detroit at 10:30 p.m.

Here is an additional treat — the beautiful evening scenes of the Great Lakes as you return to Detroit.

The tickets are $9.85 for adults, half fare for children between five and 11, and the younger ones may go free.

Parking areas are adjacent to the dock location in Detroit.

Study FACT Recommendations

The Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation began reviewing the recommendations of the FACT Committee at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Gordon Packer of Litchfield spoke to the group of the possible portable enclosure of the city's 80' by 40' swimming pool.

The covering he proposed would be supported by two pounds of air pressure through a blower system. The actual support would come from the air volume.

The enclosure is strong enough for a man to walk on top. It has been successfully tested and used in the armed services for several years. Its primary use is for swimming pools.

Enclosing the pool could provide year-around swimming for the community. The covering could be removed during the summer months.

Mr. Packer estimated the cost at over $12,000.

Before any definite action could be taken on the pool enclosure, the Foundation would have to consult with the city and the school board. Such a program would have to be under the joint supervision of the three groups.

The present swimming pool was built in 1955 at the cost of $90,000.

It is now open only three months of the year. Lessons are offered during the morning and free swimimng during the afternoon and evening.

By enclosing the present pool, lessons might be included in the school program, thus reducing the great demand for them during the summer months.

☆

FACT is a citizen's committee appointed to collect information concerning various civic projects. Nearly $85,000 is now on hand to be used for such uses.

Dr. Robert Laidlaw is serving as chairman of the committee.

They recently sent questionnaires throughout the city to discover what the people would like. They received 1,980 replies from interested citizens.

Subjects under proposal are building a Civic Center-Auditorium, enlarging or replacing the library, improving the swimming facilities, enlarging the recreation program, improving the Teen Club facilities, developing park facilities and building an ice rink.

☆

IN OTHER ACTION Tuesday night, the board listened to eight agency representatives present their budget requests. Those present were from the American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Wolverine Boy Scout Council, Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, Catholic Social Service, Irish Hills Girl Scout Council, Humane Society and the Scout Cabin maintenance.

The board will meet next week to work on the budget.

WET FEET — Stranded customers found nothing but water to cross during Friday night's thunderstorm. Lightning and high winds accompanied the downpour.

It Really Rained

Tecumseh experienced a heavy downpour Friday evening, the worst storm of the summer.

The heavy rain lashed the area off and on for nearly 90 minutes, temporarily flooding the downtown district. The drains could not handle the water fast enough and in some places water reached the axles of the cars.

The rain was accompanied with severe lightning for over a half of an hour.

High winds swept through the area downing several trees and many small branches.

Good-sized hailstones fell during the storm but no damage was reported.

Lightning knocked out several transformers in the area, and residents were without electricity from only a few minutes to over three hours. Power was restored in sections at a time, to locate the downed lines or damaged transformers.

Mr. Parker of Consamers Power Co. said it was raining so hard that men found it difficult to locate the damage, and the severe lightning made it dangerous for them to climb poles.

Among lines knocked down was one at the corner of Union and Pottawatamie and one on Blood Rd.

At the O'Neill residence on Bidwell St., the wind tipped a large antenna into a Chinese elm tree, close to high tension wires. A hoist will be needed to remove it.

The power was off only a short time at Herrick Memorial Hospital, as they switched to their auxiliary unit.

The police said there was no serious damage reported in the area from the storm and no accidents occured during that time.

Many local residents were also without phone service due to broken lines.

GREET BAGWELL — Mrs. Charles Howe and Mrs. Raymond Platt welcome Paul Bagwell to the Platt home in Tipton Thursday. With Mr. Bagwell is Charles Trickey, chairman of the Tecumseh Republican committee and the Bagwell committee.

Seek Votes for Primary

With the primary election now less than a week away, Tecumseh-area residents had an opportunity to meet many of the candidates last week.

Thursday, Paul Bagwell, Republican candidate for Governor, attended an afternoon gathering at the home of Mrs. Raymond Platt in Tipton.

The event was planned primarily for the ladies of the Tecumseh area including Clinton, Macon, Ridgeway, Raisin, Franklin, and Tecumseh townships.

Mr. Bagwell was on a tour through the county in his bid for the governor's seat at Lansing. He will be in the county again in August.

Also present were the two candidates for State Representative from this district: Rollo Conlin of Tipton and Royal Welch of Tecumseh.

Sixty ladies attended the affair planned by Mrs. Platt, a member of the State Central Committee.

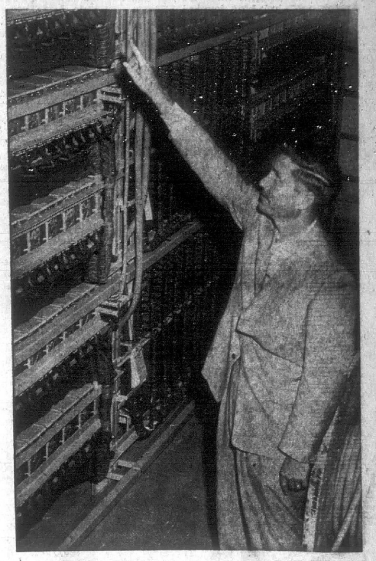
Chairs were placed throughout the home and on the porch and lawn. Coffee and cookies were served.

FRIDAY EVENING a meet-the-candidates events was held at Don's Grill from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

Present were nearly all of the candidates seeking county offices as well as Mr. Welch and Mr. Conlin.

Coffee and rolls were served as a number came in to meet the candidates.

Mrs. Charles Howe commented that the storm probably kept many interested citizens away.



D. L. CLARK POINTS OUT NEW DIALING EQUIPMENT

New Phone Office Opening Monday

The General Telephone Co. will open its new business office Monday at the corner of E. Chicago Blvd. and S. Oneida St.

D. L. Clark, Tecumseh district manager, said the move-in will take place this weekend.

The $160,400 building, constructed by Krieghoff Co. of Adrian, will house the business office, the dialing equipment and the power system.

The ground-breaking ceremonies took place last September for the one-story brick and concrete building. There is also a full basement, making a total area of 10,000 square feet.

Dialing equipment of $253,000 is now being installed in the back portion of the building.

It features automatic step-by-step dialing with selectors, connectors, and finders. Testing will begin soon on portions of the equipment.

A knock-out wall has been placed in the back of the building so that the system will be able to grow with the city.

Tecumseh residents will have access to nationwide long distance dialing through the Adrian office.

A two-letter, five-digit numbering plan is being employed, similiar to that now in operation in metropolitan centers. The dialing system will be ready for operation in November.

In the basement of the building is located the electrical power equipment for the system. Also situated there is an auxiliary system to be used in case of power failure.

School's Damage Over $1,500

The Board of Education met Monday night to discuss the recent vandalism at the Patterson School, the immediate need for operational funds and to open bids for the installation of folding doors on the Patterson School Stage.

The Board was given the names of the three juveniles, all eleven years of age, who through the efforts of the school administration and local police department have admitted stoning the windows at Patterson.

Final estimated damage of glass ruined at Patterson, including installation, is in excess of $1500.

The Superintendent was authorized to either collect from the parents of the boys involved, or instigate a civil suit to recover same.

This is the first instance of direct vandalism to any of the Tecumseh Schools in recent year.

Although the Board is covered by vandalism insurance, glass breakage is not included because of the excessive rates charged.

Previous glass breakage has been minor and when accidental, has been paid from operational funds. Other breakage has been paid by the parents of the pupils involved.

The Board warns that parents are responsible for acts of their children.

THE BOARD REVIEWED the budgets for 1959-60, and for 1960-61.

After careful consideration, the Board resolved to borrow $200,000 against the 1960-61 State Aid of approximately $500,000 guaranteed to the Tecumseh schools by the State of Michigan. This application must be approved by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The State Aid payments are behind $50,000 to the Tecumseh schools at the present time.

☆

NO BIDS were received from local contractors for the installation of folding doors on the Patterson School Stage.

All local contractors were given blue prints and specifications and an advertisement was run in the Tecumseh Herald asking bids from any interested contractors.

The P.T.A. had previously offered to donate in excess of one half the estimated cost of installing the doors.

The doors will enable the stage to be used as a classroom for movies, music classes, speech correction classes, etc., when the gym is in use for physical education classes.

The board authorized the Superintendent to contact the architects of the building for approximate costs and tabled the matter until a report is ready.

Free Tickets

Free tickets are available for youngsters at the Herald office for two bicycles to be given away free at the Lenawee County Fair, Tuesday, August 16.

The fair will start August 14 and continue through Saturday, August 20.

Mrs. Russell said, "On top of that, the garbage disposal isn't working and neither is the washer. Nothing works but me" but she was laughing.

Sharon Hackworth, Jon Smith Exchange Vows

Sharon Kaye Hackworth became the bride of Jon J. Smith Saturday evening at the Presbyterian Church when Dr. John Marvin performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mazie Hackworth and the late Marvin Hackworth and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Smith, all of Murray Drive.

White gladioli, blue daisies, cathedral candelabra and palms formed the background for the wedding. Clusters of huckleberry foliage and satin bows marked the family pews.

A prelude of organ music was presented by Eileen Thompson who also accompanied Tim Ostrander as he sang "Through the Years," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

☆

THE BRIDE approached the altar on the arm of a close friend, Albert Stone, wearing a floor length gown of sheer organza trimmed with Chantilly lace.

The bodice featured a Sabrina neckline with appliqued lace and iridescent sequins and pearls which complemented her crown styled tiara.

Also made of sequins and pearls, it held her fingertip veil of bridal illusion in place.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl drop earrings, the gift of the groom.

The maid of honor was Deloris Timm who wore a full ballerina length gown of powder blue nylon parchment sheer with a fitted bodice and cap sleeves.

Bridesmaids were Kathleen Daisher and Joyce Weatherman with Darlene Stone as junior bridesmaid and Brenda Gail Stone, the flower girl.

The bridesmaids each wore a gown of collilion blue fashioned identically to that of Miss Timm. The flower girl wore a bouffant gown of powder blue and lace trim. She carried a satin and nylon tulle basket filled with roses and daisies.

The bride's other attendants carried cascade arrangements of white daisies and Lestra Hibbard roses.

They wore matching head pieces, sealloped and edged with pearls and circular veils, and white gloves and pearl earrings which were gifts of the bride.

E. J. Strong, Jr. of Adrian was best man and the guests were seated by Ernest Stone and Douglas LeFevre.

Robert Smith was a junior usher and Joseph Strong was the ring bearer.

☆

A CAKE TOPPED with an open miniature Bible inscribed with portions of the marriage vows was featured at the reception in the Fellowship Center.

Those assisting at the reception were Jean Boydston, Eileen Thompson, Carol Bilby, Lee Angerer, Laura Hunt, Mrs. Thomas Jones, Karen Thomas, Mrs. William Genter and Velta Robin.

Following a short wedding trip through northern Michigan the couple will leave for Oklahoma City where they will make their home.

The bride is a graduate of Onsted High School and attended Siena Heights College last year. She will continue her education in Oklahoma.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and has served the past four years in the United States Navy. He will enter the University of Oklahoma August 1.

MRS. JON J. SMITH

John M. Surratt, Mrs. Edwin Goller and Charles E. Gorton have completed a one-year course in Customer Relations, taught by Dr. John H. Dawson of Adrian College. They are among the 19 Adrian Federal employees who completed the course.

Church Notes

+ Losers Treat The Winners

Members of the Senior Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church will hold a picnic Thursday at the point at Wamplers Lake to conclude a contest between two groups.

Bill Bishop is captain of the losers and the winning team has Anita Sebring as captain.

The winners are serving as hosts to the losers and will furnish the food.

The contest included attendance studying of the lesson, regularly bringing the Bible to classes and other participation.

+ Power Class Holds Family Night Saturday

A family night was observed at the monthly meeting of the Power Class of the Tecumseh Friends Church, Saturday evening, July 23.

Eighteen members and their families met at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wilson for an outdoor supper.

Outdoor games in the Wilson yard afforded recreation for the evening.

Norman Feller led a discussion on the subject "What Is a Christian?" for the devotional portion of the meeting.

General chairmen for the evening were Mrs. Richard Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

+ Reliable Class Meets at Lake

Nineteen members and guests of the Reliable Class of the Methodist Church met Thursday at the Kenton Hunt cottage on Round Lake with Mrs. Enna Whaley as hostess.

Following a potluck dinner, a business session was held when mystery sisters were revealed and new ones drawn for the coming year.

Mrs. Blanche Halberstadt read a letter from the Korean orphanage where the "adopted" child of the group is residing.

Worship was conducted by Mrs. Jennie Temple and a Bible quiz enjoyed.

+ Lutheran Night at Tiger Game

The fifth annual Lutheran Night at Briggs Stadium will take place Friday, August 19.

The Cleveland Indians will be the visiting team to oppose the Detroit Tigers.

Local members may contact Stanley Rentschler 594-R for ticket reservations until Aug. 15.

As in previous years the night will provide all Lutherans with an opportunity to pay tribute to the game of baseball, and specifically to the Tigers themselves.

Ten thousand seats, priced at $2.50 per ticket, have been secured for the game.

+ Protective Power Of Divine Love

An answer to problems of strife, jealousy, and hate will be set forth Sunday at all Christian churches.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Love" are several inspiring experiences of David including Samuel's account of the sparing of Saul's life (I Sam. 26.)

+ 'Kings Go Forth'

This Sunday's sermon at the Presbyterian Church, entitled "Kings Go Forth," is based on an incident from the Book of I Kings, which tells of Ahab's efforts to recapture the City of Ramoth in Gilead.

The city had formerly belonged to Isarel, and had been taken by Syria. Ahab wants it back. Before going into battle he consults the prophets. Their answers and the results of Ahab's efforts offer food for thought and show how God speaks through his word.

+ 33 Baptists Attend Picnic

Thirty-three attended the picnic of the Christian Workers of the First Baptist Church Friday evening at the Hayes State Park.

Swimming and the supper were enjoyed. The next meeting will be held September 23.

+ Lutheran Teacher Attends Convention

Myrtle Schafer of Tecumseh, a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Bridon, recently attended the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod Sunday school teachers convention in St. Louis.

More than 2,800 teachers from throughout the United States and Canada attended the three-day session.

It was the first general convention of its kind to be held by the Lutheran Church.

Once A Winner, Always A Winner

Eighty attended the 50th anniversary of the Winners Sunday School Class of the Raisin Presbyterian Church at Holloway Sunday.

A theme of the class over the years has been "Once a winner, always a winner."

Therefore a number of people who have attended the church school classes were invited back for the worship service, the dinner served by the church and the afternoon celebration.

It had been just fifty years ago to the day that the group organized. The teacher pointed to Ray W. Binns and said, "You're the president."

Mr. Binns conducted the afternoon activities as cards and letters were read from former ministers, church school superintendents and members who were unable to be present.

Mrs. Kenneth Kopke presented Mr. Binns who in turn asked for short speeches from former members including Probate Judge Kuney of Adrian, Merle Kerr of Detroit, John Calhoun, former superintendent and Mrs. Guy Pocklington, a former teacher.

Mrs. C. O. Bailey read the original constitution and piano music was presented by Mrs. Clyde Brown.

A memorial service was prepared for deceased members, including two charter members, Linden Hoagland and Marion Kopke Grandy.

Those attending came from Ithaca, Ann Arbor, Grand Blanc, Britton, Adrian, Ypsilanti, Muskegon Heights, Wyandotte, Palmyra, Clinton, Port Huron, Manitou Beach, Detroit, Stanton, Tecumseh and DuBois, Pa.

Among those attending the event were Mrs. Olive Barre Mary Bloomer and Winifr Mitchell who were weeke guests at the C. O. Bailey hom

Jaycee Player Fails to Touch Home Plate

An exciting extra-inning contest was played in the Cub League Wednesday between the Exchange and Jaycees with Exchange edging their opponants 4-3.

They scored their fourth run in the first half of the seventh inning.

With two out and the tying run on third base for the Jaycees in the last of the seventh, Dennis Lewis, Exchange catcher, let a pass ball get by him. Jim Green dashed home with what everyone thought to be the tying run.

But Dennis called for the ball and tagged Jim Green. Umpire Bob Koffron called him out for failing to touch home plate.

Jaycee manager, Stan Rentschler, protested the game, but under the Cub rules, a game may not be protested on an umpire's decision.

Randy Work pitched the first six innings for the winners and was relieved by Doug Wilcox. Sheldon Pease was the losing pitcher, relieving Ron Rentschler in the seventh.

Monday's games saw the Jaycees defeat Union 3-1. Dean Hebb struck out 12 batters as he pitched a two-hitter. Wayne Brooks got both hits for the Union team.

All three runs were scored in the third inning as five boys put hits together. Bradley Hatch doubled and four teammates followed with singles.

Hodges came from behind to score five runs in the sixth inning Tuesday to nip Kiwanis 7-6.

Kiwanis was leading six to two in the last inning. Three singles, two errors, and a passed ball enabled Hodges to score the winning tally.

All hits in the games were singles. John Goodman had two hits for the winners.

Bill Bartenslager was the winning hurler and Tim Heflin the loser.

The Rotary boys continued their winning ways Thursday with a victory over Kiwanis. Each team had four hits, but the winners scored 5 runs to Kiwanis' 3.

Randy Dotson fanned 11 batters to gain the win. His opponant, Gordon Gibson, struck out eight.

The final game of the week was a big scoring event with Hodges defeating Union 13-6.

Kirk Lucas pitched his team to victory and also had two doubles.

Chuck Randolph tripled, Pat Smith doubled and Fred Schwede singled for the only Union hits. Fred suffered the defeat as he struck out six opponants.

The Cub league enters its final play of the season this coming week. With only one game yet to play, the Rotary team seems to be holding a safe lead over the second place Jaycees.

All-Star Contest Saturday

This Saturday, at 1 p.m. the Cub League will hold an All-Star game at the Cub League Field on N. Maumee St.

The game will consist of nine innings instead of the usual six. This will enable the managers to play all the boys.

There will be free substitution and the rules we have used all season will govern the game.

The only rule we have written in is that no pitcher can pitch more than three innings and once a pitcher has been taken out, he may not pitch again. He may, however, return to the game in some other position.

RED TEAM

Managers: John Snyder, Kenny Pieh, John Reed, Bill Fetty, Glenn Work, and Bob Kennedy

BLUE TEAM

Managers: Rinehart Radant, Barney Goodman, Stan Rentschler, Gale Fisher, Ron Barrett, and Dick Witt.

Players: Jerry Hale, Kirk Lucas, Bill Bartenslager, Hal Warren, Dave Radant, Ron Rentchler, Jim Green, Bradley Hatch, Sheldon Pease, Mac Meyers, Fred Schwede, Chuck Randolph, Fred Kachur, Wayne Brooks, and Pat Smith.

American Legion Team Loses 4-2

Jack Wright pitched well as he made his first start of the season for the American Legion team, but they lost to Jackson 4-2.

He allowed only six singles against a good Jackson team.

Clarence Champanois and Mike Robison each had a two bagger for the losing team.

The Jackson first baseman had three singles in four trips at the plate.

San Davol was the winning hurler for Jackson.

Saturday's game against Monroe was postponed due to wet grounds.

Bill Schultz led the winning team with two hits.

In other Minor League action, the Yankees turned back the Braves 7-4. Jim Mitchell pitched his team to a victory over Dave Filber, the losing hurler. Gary Fisher had two hits and scored three times for the Yanks.

The Bears shut out the Tigers 14-0 as Jim Verhague struck out 10 batters. Jim Daltons scored three times for the winners.

WHAT'S COOKING?

GRECIAN SALAD

John Cavas, Kroger Store manager of 606 E. Murray Drive, is the cook for our column this week.

We are pleased to welcome the men of the city to this column as there are several of them who have proven their talents as excellent cooks.

Mr. Cavas is sharing his recipe for a Grecian salad with us. It is one with which he became familiar as a student in Tarpon Springs, Fla. where there is a Greek settlement.

Since his father came from Crete at the age of 15, owned a restaurant when he was 18 and then later an independent grocery, foods and their preparation were an intense interest in Mr. Cavas's life at an early age.

Mr. Cavas and his wife, Bonnie, and their two-year-old daughter, Cindy, came to Tecumseh from Toledo only last year in April.

Since Mr. Cavas has been selected to attend Michigan State University this fall under the auspices of the Kroger Company, the family will leave for the campus about August 8.

He will study administration, executive and other special courses to receive his masters degree.

☆

MR. CAVAS says that this salad, served with slices of feta cheese and tomatoes and garnished with large slices of Calamata olives, is truly a sight to behold as well as delicious to eat.

Here is the recipe to serve six or more:

Crisp head of lettuce, shredded fine
2 leaves endive
½ onion
1 sprig pascal celery, all chopped fine
1 sliver of mango, green pepper

Pour imported olive oil and vinegar over the salad, salt and pepper to taste and squeeze the juice of a fresh ½ lemon over the top of the bowl of salad. Toss thoroughly, preferably with the hands.

The secret to the lusciousness of this recipe is the olive oil says Mr. Cavas. It comes from Greece where they grow olives and is sold for about $7 or $8 per gallon in stores that sell imports.

The feta cheese he speaks of is made from goat's milk, is pure white and comes packed in brine at $1.50 per pound.

"Some people like to add Salonica peppers, anchovies or even radishes" says Mr. Cavas. "For a really unusual salad for a company meal, I'm sure your readers will enjoy this one."

On pharmacies and fiction

■ Seems the neighborhood pharmacist has become quite a literary character, popping up in books, short stories, movies—even as narrator in a classic American play. Perhaps it's because we're characteristic of neighborhood businessmen. Since you stop in often, our store is a friendly meeting place. Matter of fact, many of you are old friends with whom we talk "family" as often as "shop." We're proud of this part we play in community life.

Hawaiian Luau Highlights Summer Meeting

Seventeen members of the Tri-Town Extension Club enjoyed a typical Hawaiian luau at the Maar Lake cottage of Thomas Kampmullers recently.

Mrs. Richard Beasley was a guest.

Mrs. Richard Whelan was chairman of the committee for the arrangements for the event when all attending wore something Hawaiian.

Food was served from a paper table cloth spread on the floor centered with a tempting basket of fruit arranged with ferns, sea shells and flowers floating in water around candles.

Guests brought pillows to sit on and taped recordings of Hafaiian music were played as they ate.

Some arrived early and swam and sunned before the luau.

Its spacious storage area will allow you to save money, too, by buying in season and in quantity.

Through My Window

THE LITLE BIG HORNS AND YELLOWSTONE

Names can be lots of fun.

On this year's vacation for instance, one stretch of driving took us through Buffalo, then Gillette (where of course we made the usual bad puns about 'a sharp town', 'good place for gay blades' etc.) We crossed the Little Big Horn Mountains via Powder River Pass and coming down the western slopes, the road closely followed Ten Sleep Creek. See what I mean about names?

We enjoyed the Little Big Horns, a small isolated range of mountains which rise abruptly from the eastern Wyoming plains. They are lovely!

We saw them, on a beautifully bright and sunshiny day, their snow-topped peaks visible for miles and miles. When we finally got into the mountains, in addition to the gorgeous scenery, we were pleased, in fact I was thrilled, to see our first deer. A little later Mom caught sight of an antelope but neither Dad nor I were quite fast enough.

It was also in the Little Big Horns that the wild flower display started. Colorful blossoms were everywhere—the roadsides were all covered and every little field was literally carpeted. Many, like lupine, several varieties of sunflowers and daisies, we could identify but there were so many others which we just had to drive by and leave unnamed because we still had many places to go and much to see.

Yellowstone and bears are almost synonymous. Shortly after entering the Park we saw our first ones, a big black and her cub ambled down the road in front of us.

The really big bear thrill occurred the next morning. We had just left our nice accomodations in Canyon Village, Mom was pushing me down the walk when Dad, who had gone ahead to open the car, very quietly asked "Did you see over there?" A bear! Well, there Mother and I were practically looking face to face with what I'm sure was the biggest bear in the Rockies and Dad sat laughing at us from the safety of the car. The bear was pawing through trash cans and when finished he merely wandered away.

After he had gone, we measured and guess how close we had been to him—only about twenty short feet. What a way to start our first full day of sight-seeing at Yellowstone.

We thoroughly enjoyed this, the oldest of our national parks. The scenery was superb, especially the Lower Falls of the Yellowstone River and the Grand Canyon of Yellowstone. The geysers and hot-springs were every bit as weird and spectacular as we had imagined them. Old Faithful put on a fine display.

The wild life was most exciting. One day, in addition to our friend mentioned above, we counted 18 bears and this included a mother with three cubs. We also saw deer, elk and moose—quite good for not getting out of the car. Ravens and ospreys were the bird high-lights.

Everything in Yellowstone seemed to be done on a grand scale, even the weather. We had sunshine, severe thunder-storms, strong winds, several hail-storms and even an earth-quake. The quake was a small one and thankfully did no damage.

Time flies so fast on vacation and all too soon we had to be off and on our way again. Our route now headed north—

VOICE of THE HERALD

Vote August 2nd

Unfortunately, voters usually flock to the polls only when there is a controversial issue involved or at a general election.

Next Tuesday's election is just as important, and some quarters insist that primary elections are the most important of all.

Primaries are generally accepted as a method of picking the most qualified candidate from each party. In turn, these successful candidates face each other at the general election.

Primaries, practically assure the electorate of eventually choosing a qualified officer, whether he be in local, county or state government.

Tecumseh has four candidates on the ballot, and another residing just a few miles away.

We do not feel that a candidate should be supported simply because he lives in the next block, happens to be a member of an organization in which you are also a member, or any other similar circumstance.

Poor judgment would be exercised if a resident in another community voted against a local candidate simply because that candidate lived here and not in his town.

A candidate should be supported on the basis of his qualifications and experience, on his past record, or on the stand he takes in issues, if any.

If you feel that your neighbor is qualified and would make a good official, then we urge you to vote for him.

Regardless of who you vote for, we feel that all voters should turn out August 2 and fulfill their obligation, a privilege of an American citizen.

Mill on Wheels Now Available To Area Farmers

A new farm service that brings a complete feed processing plant right into customers' farmyards has been started in this area by Hayden Flour Mills.

In announcing the new operation, Mrs. Perry Hayden, owner, said that the new "mill on wheels" is expected to be a godsend to local farmers and feeders who want to utilize their own grains and roughages for feeding livestock and poultry.

One of the main advantages of the new service, is that it brings the mill to the farmer instead of the farmer having to take his grist to the mill.

The mobile unit was built by the Daffin Manufacturing Company of Lancaster, Pa. It consists of a complete feed mill that grinds all farm grown grains and roughages according to the farmer's specifications, mixes the ground material with feed concentrates, and blends in fresh liquid molasses to produce any desired formula. The truck-borne mill is driven from farm to farm on a regular route schedule.

The new mobile farm service saves feeders a tremendous amount of time, labor, and money, according to the equipment's owners. Increased emphasis is also placed on better nutrition, enabling farmers to get high production and greater profit from their meat, milk, and eggs.

Good Will Pickup Next Tuesday

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks to Tecumseh is scheduled for Tuesday, August 2.

Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pick-up, call the local Goodwill representative Mrs. Carl Burch, telephone number 868.

City Residents on West Brown

Mrs. Harry Creger of 517 N. Union St. informed us this week of a family of squirrels that live in the oak tree at the Darwin Creger residence on W. Brown St.

Her husband feeds them every morning from his hand before he goes to work. The mother squirrel has eaten from his hand for over a year, but the father has only done so for the past few weeks.

The mother squirrel has been in the area for three or four years and her present litter is composed of three little squirrels.

Mrs. Creger says the family plays in her yard during the day.

CHEVROLET

Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route

That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana. "With my previous truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty. . . . I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."

Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. Those facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.

◀ "I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Please, may I quote from the LONG & SHORT of July 14?

"The other night Cherie and I discussed who Nixon's running mate might be and finally settled on Henry Cabot Lodge."

It's comforting to know that the GOP brass is ready to go down the line with thinking.

But, I don't suppose my remark was the only reason the suave, yet down-to-earth, Mr. Lodge got the nod.

In his role as our chief delegate to the UN, Mr. Lodge has done a marvelous job. Vast responsibility is his in this position and Lodge has wielded it wisely. He can think on his feet, coming to a razor-sharp conclusion in moments.

Nixon and Lodge should cash the blue chips this November. Certainly, this writer hopes they will.

At the last moment, I passed up going to the GOP convention. It appeared as though everything was going to fall into place without too much excitement.

In an early-week report from Chicago, a Free Press writer noted that a fellow registering at a Chicago hotel had no reservation. He had to pay $30 a day.

I had made no lodging plans, figuring if I went, there would be something. After reading about that unfortunate fellow, all ideas of taking in convention faded.

Another factor envolved was the wonderful weather in the Great North. How could anyone leave such paradise? Certainly not me.

We had a cottage, which at one time was a boys camp run by Jim McDowell and David Dick of Tecumseh in the Forties. Giant in size, it has a wide porch which reaches around three sides. Just sitting on it, glancing out across the lake and enjoying the gentle breezes was worth the trip.

☆

Who is the "beatest" beatnik in Tecumseh?

That's whom merchants will be looking for come Sept. 2 and the city's third annual Sidewalk Carnival.

As a special feature of the day, there will be a contest to find Tecumseh's Beatest Beat. More details on the competition in a week or so — but be thinking about it.

Co-chairmen for the Sidewalk Carnival will be Bill Wright and Dick Hicks.

Rumor has it that merchants themselves will dress as beatniks for the event. This I've got to see.

☆

After a full century on this earth, "Grandma" Caroline Bruns muses, "I'm an old, old woman."

But not too ancient to enjoy several birthday parties at her residence in Tecumseh.

At the one Sunday, when folks from her German Lutheran Church in Manchester dropped in, "Grandma" sang her regular birthday solo for her friends.

Folks at The Herald would like to extend our personal greetings on your birthday, "Grandma."

Veteran Rural Mail Carrier Is Retired

By DOROTHY GRIGG

After 23 years in federal service — including 231,000 miles of travel over his rural mail route — Percy Bowen has retired.

On July 31, Mr. Bowen stopped driving his daily 55-mile circuit prepared to catch up on all the things he hasn't been able to get done.

Fishing is one of them.

Mr. Bowen said, "When you have a cottage with seven bedrooms and a house in town as well, you don't have too much time to wonder what to do next. I never step out the door, but what there is two hours work waiting for me."

☆

A PARTY IN his honor was held at the Jack Metcalf cottage at Devil's Lake Thursday evening by employees of the Tecumseh post office.

Boating and swimming were enjoyed and a gift was presented to the retiree. About 35 attended.

Tecumseh postmaster from 1941 to 1947, Mr. Bowen transferred to Route 2 previously carried by Ira Ashley.

At that time there were 167 stops on the route. It has increased to 290 at present.

At one time the route swelled to 340 stops, but the River Acres area has since been included on the mounted route.

Over the years, on the route, Mr. Bowen had only 12 days off because of illness. He had the flu once, jammed up his leg in a fall from a ladder and one time broke a rib in the bath tub.

During recovery from the latter injury he was able to drive the route and a helper placed the mail in the box.

☆

MANY OF HIS patrons have been lent assistance, such as driving the pigs or the cattle back into the pens when they got out.

One time he was able to calm a frightened feminine patron, who insisted that a man with a beard had been peeking in her kitchen window.

Mr. Bowen located the offender, which turned out to be a goat with long whiskers, pushed him into the rear of his car and took him back to his owner, who lived about two miles away.

Another time he helped a lady put out a grass fire that was sweeping fast toward her home.

Patrons have appreciated these kindnesses as was evidenced Saturday by a surprise birthday card shower arranged by Mrs. Elmer Wilt, Mrs. Wayne Blanchard, Mrs. Charles Gorton and Mrs. Michael Papp.

These ladies made known to all patrons along the route that Mr. Bowen was celebrating a birthday anniversary as well as retiring.

Flags were up all along the route as Mr. Bowen stopped to pick up the greetings and deliver the mail for the last time.

Mr. Bowen said it took all that evening for him to open and read the cards, many of them contained tokens of money.

☆

NOW HE IS ready to do some painting, repair work at the cottage take care of the boats and docks, do a bit of angling and make preparations for guests the Bowens always have at the lake.

Next winter he wont have to drive those roads, where every so often he got stuck in the mud several time so deep he had to climb out of his car window.

'Grandma' Bruns Celebrates Her 100th Birthday

Mrs. Caroline "Grandma" Bruns celebrated her 100th birthday Wednesday at the Parrett Nursing Home, where she lives.

She was born in a rural area north of Berlin, Germany in 1860 and came directly to Manchester, Mich. when she was 17 years old.

Her husband died when only 36 leaving her with two sons to raise. They and an adopted son all passed away and her father lived with her until 1922, when he passed away at the age of 90.

Mrs. Bruns is active and her mind is as alert as ever. She speaks both English and German fluently and can converse all day without repeating herself.

Mrs. Carl Gruber, a granddaughter, is her closest living relative.

Besides the Carl Grubers, her great grandsons, Jim Gruber and Joe Gruber were present for a celebration, as well as Joe's children who are her great great grandchildren.

Also on hand were her daughters-in-law, Martha Bruns and Mrs. Elmer Gates, and her husband; Henry Kemner and Mrs. Marie Geiski of Manchester.

Hey, Kids, Can You Design Flag for Community?

A proposal by Merle Hoag of the Kiwanis Club to run a contest for a city flag was approved by Council Monday night.

The contest will be open to school children and residents of the city with a prize to the winner. The contest will start this fall.

Youngsters will have an opportunity to design the flag for their community.

☆

AT THE SHORT meeting, council:

Purchased a 1956 dump truck for $1,375 from Tecumseh Equipment Company.

Authorized payment from the general fund for the property just west of city hall.

Appointed the Rev. Paul Brantingham of the Friends Church to the planning commission.

Discussed changing the city's group insurance.

Delayed action on Forest Abner's bid to install air conditioning at city hall.

Approved installation of a water main on Shady Lane from Murray Dr. to Adrian St.

Discussed transfer of a portion of Adams Park to the government for a post office building.

City manager Ed Nelson reported that William Kloote, curb and gutter contractor, asked that the city withhold payment to him until next year. The amount is approximately $14,000.

Alert Visitor Shops in City

An oddity of the July 15 Moonlight Sale was completed Monday when Gambles shipped a refrigerator-freezer combination to George Gardner of Staten Island, N.Y.

The New Yorker, visiting friends here, spotted the bargain during the big sale and bought it despite the shipment of more than 500 miles or more.

No Upsets in Primary; 932 Vote

There were no upsets or surprises in Tuesday's primary elections in Tecumseh as only 932 or 3,162 registered voters clicked machines.

Three local hopefuls were eliminated in attempts for state and county nominations on the Republican ticket.

Councilman Royal Welch, seeking to upset veteran Rollo Conlin for a state House of Representative spot, fell, 3,844 to 2,157.

Welch held a 63-33 edge in Britton, but lost in Tecumseh, 336-260.

George Kilbourn, after the GOP nomination for sheriff, ran behind Bob Stites, 4,394-1,427. In Tecumseh, the local chief held a 320-311 edge over Stites.

Terrence Wagner ran second to Leonard Warner in the Register of Deeds race, 3,125-1,276.

A total of 188 voted in Britton. Write-in ballots were cast, one each, for Blanch Ivan, Tom Judkin, Frieda Rowlands and Jay Ferman for delegates to GOP county convention.

'Hobbyville' Holds Opening Friday, Saturday

Bill Engle, an expert at flying model airplanes, has purchased the Hobby Shop here from Willis Kilbourn.

Being renamed "Hobbyville", it will open Friday under the new ownership.

While in the Air Force at Lackland Field in Texas, Mr. Engle was sent to three states to take part in model plane competition sponsored by the Academy of Model Areonautics.

Mr. Engle, an employee of Meyers Aircraft Co., will be assisted at Hobbyville by Fred Judson.

The shop will be open from 9 until 9 on both Friday and Saturday.

Still In Hospital

Howard Hunt is still a patient at the University Medical Center in Ann Arbor after suffering a head injury in an accident two weeks ago.

His room number is 5603 Fifth Floor West.

His condition is improving, but an operation is pending.

Cruise Features Free Floor Show

A fun trip on a fun ship is in store for Tecumseh Day cruisers aboard the sleek Aquarama, 520-foot ocean-going liner sailing between Detroit and Cleveland.

The one-day even is being sponsored by The Tecumseh Herald.

Thursday, Aug. 18 is the date to circle on your calendar if you want a carefree day to relax on a Great Lakes cruise.

The ship will leave from the foot of W. Grand Blvd. at 9:30 a.m. and return at 10:30 p.m. the same day, with a brief stop in Cleveland.

Entertainment aboard this largest fresh-water passenger vessel in the world is designed to please every possible taste from shuffle board to bingo, from dancing to sun-dozing.

Everything is free, except food and drinks.

The principal feature of any cruise on the Aquarama is the variety review presented in the main ballroom each evening.

Emceeing the show is popular Cleveland tenor Bill Boehm, who also serves as cruise director. Boehm, former director and star at Musicarnival as well as other theaters and night clubs throughout North America, also will be heard as soloist with the Cleveland Symphony later this summer.

During the review, Boehm shares the spotlight with several other outstanding performers including Mary Jane Griffin, a talented lyric soprano whose credits include appearances at Radio City Music Hall and with a number of light opera companies.

Their solos and duets are usually well-flavored with Sigmund Romberg, Jerome Kern, Victor Herbert, and, occasionally, a touch of Gilbert and Sullivan.

☆

A HIGHLIGHT of each Aquarama review is the marionette artistry of Roy Etherington, whose clever creations include a dancing skeleton, a balloon-blowing hipster, and a dainty ice skater as well as an assortment of other strange characters.

Although still in his twenties, Etherington has already earned a national reputation among puppeteers and is equally at home with the manionettes or with the hand puppets he uses at other hours in the children's theater.

Making her debut aboard the Aquarama this season is charming Mary Tudor, whose organ interludes are presented several times throughout a cruise day as well as during the review.

Miss Tudor is best known in the Tecumseh area as the former staff organist of radio station WJR. She has also played frequently in some of the Motor City's finest dining rooms. For several years she toured the country as pianist and vocalist with well-known orchestras.

☆

ACCOMPANYING the performers as well as playing most of the dance sets is Chuck Peterson's versatile dance band, also out of Detroit.

From Cleveland comes the Music Mates ,a rhythmic combo featuring Tony Anzalone, Tony Carmen and attractive Gayle Stafford.

This group holds forth on the popular open-air Sports Deck but frequently appears in the variety show as well as filling in for dancing in the main ballroom.

When all of this isn't going on, passengers are treated to free bingo games in the lounge, card games, Shuffleboard and deck games, motion pictures, television, and a variety of other diversions.

Tickets for the Aquarama cruise are now on sale at The Herald at $9.85 for adults. Children between five and 11 are half-fare. Those under five are free.

Day Camp Opens for Youth, Age 6

A special camping period for boys and girls who are six but will be seven by Dec. 31 has been opened for Tecumseh youngsters in the fourth period of the Adrian YMCA Day Camp.

Many requests for a camping experience for this age group led to this arrangement, according to Arnet J. Cole, youth work Secretary at the "Y".

There will be a pair of one-week sessions: Aug. 9-12 and Aug. 15-19.

Registrations for these may be made at the Adrian YMCA.

The "Y" bus will be in Tecumseh to pick up boys and girls during this period.

Openings are still available for boys and girls seven and up for the full two weeks starting Monday, Aug. 8 and concluding Friday, Aug. 19.

The bus pickup schedule will be the same as in earlier periods.

Special Busses Will Go to Ship

For those who do not care to drive to Detroit to board the Aquarama for the Tecumseh Day cruise, The Herald is chartering Short Ways busses. Round trip fare will be $2.90 a person. Reservations for bus seats must be made by Tuesday, Aug. 9 at The Herald.

Happy Birthday!

One-hundred years ago this week, in the vital statistics column of The Berlin (Germany) Zeitung, appeared an item in small type:

"Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Keul, a daughter."

With this, Caroline Keul Bruns entered a world, in which she would live and prosper to her 100th birthday and beyond.

A resident of Tecumseh for the past four years, Mrs. Bruns, is in fine health.

She loves music and so the picture here of her is especially treasured. It shows famed violinist David Rubinoff serenading "Grandma" when he was in Tecumseh two years ago for a concert.

Rubinoff always drops into schools and old folks homes during the free hours before his formal show and one stop he made here was at Parrett Nursing Home, where Mrs. Bruns lives.

As he spied "Grandma" and played her a special tune, The Herald camera snapped.

Tecumseh salutes its Centurion.

MANAGER TOM MAGILL EMPTIES SHEETS FROM THE HUGE WASHER

MRS. MACK HOLLAND AND MRS. IVY ENGLE SUPERVISE THE IRONING OF A SHEET

They Do Their Own Laundry

Washing 1200 pounds of laundry would be no easy chore for the average housewife but it is done with ease and speed at our local hospital.

Behind the scenes at Herrick Memorial Hospital is a crew of four who daily launder this gigantic load of linen.

Their workload includes 350 sheets, 75 pillowcases, 125 bath towels, 125 wash cloths and 100 gowns as well as surgery apparel and towels.

February 15, the hospital put into operation its own laundry under the management of Tom Magill.

Mr. Magill, of 307 N. Pearl St., has previously managed the laundry at the Saline Community Hospital as well as being employed at the U. of M. Hospital laundry.

Located in the basement of the hospital, the 30 by 50 room includes a washer holding 225 pounds of dry linen, a smaller 25-pound washer, a 30-inch extractor and a 40-pound tumbler dryer. Of special interest is the 110-inch ironer that presses over 100 sheets in an hour.

Mr. Magill said all linen is completely sterile. The bacteria are destroyed by a Quartenary Ammonium Compound.

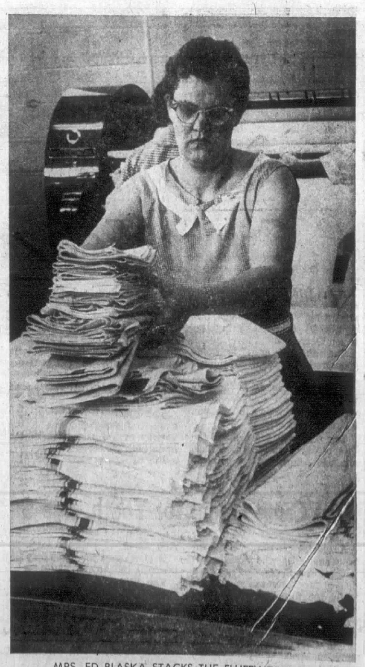
Orrie Gilbert, superintendent of the hospital, says there is evidence of a definite saving from the operation of the laundry.

However, he did not give any specific figures because of the short period the laundry has been in operation here. He did estimate that the local establishment is daily saving 15 cents per patient from the 85 cents charged by the commercial firms.

Working with Mr. Magill are Mrs. Ed Blaska, Mrs. Mack Holland and Mrs. I. V. Engle, all of Tecumseh.

Mrs. James Perrin is also employed part time as a seamstress at the laundry.

INTO THE MOUTH OF THE DRYER



MRS. ED BLASKA STACKS THE FLUFFY TOWELS

Gardening Is Their Speciality

SWEET POTATO SAM — Sam Preston and his wife, Minnie, work in their garden. They raise many sweet potatoes and have a large onion patch besides many other kinds of vegetables. Mrs. Preston also raises flowers.

Among the many local citizens who enjoy gardening are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Preston of 506½ E. Chicago Blvd.

Their vegetable and flower garden, over one-fourth of an acre large, is located behind their home.

Mr. Preston's speciality is sweet potatoes. He has raised them every year but one since he came to Michigan in 1935.

Mr. Preston raises just about any kind of vegetable you can name: tomatoes, sweet corn, beans, carrots, beets, peas and onions are only a few of the more common ones.

He sent an onion to this office and it measured four inches in diameter. He claims he has them even larger.

He also has a patch of strawberries and raspberries. Mr. Preston has raised peanuts, but he does not have any this year.

Mrs. Preston has a wide variety of flowers in the garden, including two 50-foot rows of gladiolus.

The garden is perfectly clean of weeds. The Prestons enjoy working together in the garden during the cooler hours of the evening.

Mr. Preston is a guard at the main gate of the Tecumseh Products. Here it is jokingly called "Sweet Potato Sam."

The Prestons have lived in Tecumseh for 11 years. Mr. Preston was raised on a farm and has always enjoyed gardening.

He plans to retire in 2½ years and would like to go to Florida. He owns three lots and has plans for a home there.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"What happened to the other one?" the voice on the phone questioned. "I had twins and only one baby's name was printed in the paper."

Mrs. Duane Billmeyer, 706 Ternes Rd., presented her husband with two baby girls last Tuesday.

One, Sheila Kaye, has reached the five-pound weight necessary for her to be released from the Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The other, Sheryl Gaye, is gaining.

Both little girls weighed a few ounces more than four pounds when born. At home are two big sisters, Teresa, seven years and Luana, six-years-old.

They are anxious to have the little ones come home because "now there is a baby for each of them to care for."

Apparently in the excitement of the arrival of twins, the name of only one was listed in our "new arrivals" column.

The Tecumseh Herald is happy to announce that the babies and their whole family are doing well.

Matt Dillon Performs at Scout Jamboree

BY RUSSELL BLANDEN

COLORADO SPRINGS — We all arrived here safely and are having lots of fun except for a few upset stomachs.

On the train we had good food and some good times. When we were 35 miles from Colorado Springs the brakeman said that 110,000 persons would move in from all over the United States.

We took a bus from Colorado Springs and arrived at our section about 2:30. We had to wait until 4:30 for our equipment. We sat most of the camp up that night and finished the next morning.

The Chuck Wagon dinner at the Flying W ranch was a disappointment. We were given a Sloppy Joe, string beans, shoestring potatoes, an ice cream bar and lemonade.

This food, or the excitement, made about 15 boys sick.

The entertainment was very good. It included songs and jokes.

The next day we took the tour of Cripple Creek, a gold-mining city. This took five hours. It was a very scenic trip, but there wasn't much at the town.

Friday was the big opening day here. We took part in activities during the day. When night came we had the opening ceremonies.

They were held in the area where the stage is as big as a football field. Matt Dillon and the two younger stars of the Donna Reed Show were there. After the ceremonies, thousands of dollars worth of fireworks were shot in the air.

Saturday we also took part in events. We went to camp fire at Section 35, the farthest section from ours.

This morning we went to church, but haven't done much more than that.

Is Inflation Here, Gone, Or Returning . . . . ?

Everyone can justify sympathy for themselves by the prices they must pay — without reference to what they receive. But the cost of medicine seldom entitles one to sympathy.

Many medicines have advanced less than 10% in the last twenty years. New medicines that save days or weeks in the hospital — or life itself — are of but moderate cost. Your prescription is today, in every way, the world's best bargain.

Oats Crop Rates as 'One of Best' at Hayden Mills

"Oats are an exceptionally good crop this year, the best in years" said Chet Baker at the Hayden Flour Mill.

Wheat, however, is about two weeks later than usual and has a high moisture content.

Mr. Baker estimates that about 95% of the crop has been combined. It, too, is of good quality.

The mill has not accepted wheat with moisture over 14 per cent.

Mrs. Perry Hayden said, "Due to the high moisture content, we have not been able to take in an awful lot of wheat. We do not have a dryer."

WHAT'S COOKING?

Silves Plated Roast

Mrs. Ed Nelson, the city manager's wife., is shown carefully watching and turning the silver-plated roast which she is preparing for guests on their lawn.

Mrs. Nelson is sharing her recipe for this family favorite with Herald readers of the cooking column this week.

She says that she enjoys cooking and baking for her family and friends, especially in the summer when the cooking can be done out-of-doors.

The Nelsons have one son, Robert, who lives in Toledo with his wife, Norma, and two children, Sara Ann and James.

Mrs. Nelson is a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Order of the Eastern Star and the Tecumseh Country Club.

HERE IS the recipe for Silver Plated Roast:

4 or 5 lbs. Round Bone Chuck Roast
Sauce (do not cook):
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
Black pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¾ cup ketchup
1½ tablespoon Sauce
1 tablespoon vinegar

Cover roast on both sides with salt, pepper and garlic powder. Double a large piece of foil. Cover roast on one side with sauce, place on foil, cover other side of roast with sauce.

Cut one or two stalks of celery and one or two carrots and cover the roast with the vegetables.

Wrap well in the foil, cook on grill three hours, turning every 15 to 20 minutes for even roasting.

Rotary Still Club To Beat

The Cub League moved into the final stages of regular play this week with Rotary still the team to beat.

Rain was a problem as two games were washed out, but Exchange was able to slip by Kiwanis, 15-9, then lose to the Union, 10-8.

Kiwanis was edged, 4-1 by the Jaycees.

Randy Work pitched Exchange to its win over Kiwanis in a game marked by errors.

Dick Johnson had two doubles and a single for the winners as Bob Donahoe stroked a double and a single in a losing cause.

Gorden Gibson struck out 10 in losing to the Jaycees, 4-1, as Dean Hebb threw a nifty four-hitter. He put down eight Kiwanians via the strikeout route. Jim Green led the attack for the winners with two singles.

Fred Schwede was the winning pitcher as Union out-scored Exchange, 10-8, as Randy Work and Doug Wilcox combined to hold Union to three hits in a losing effort.

A seven-run outburst by the Union in the second inning put the game on ice.

The Exchange made their move to tie it with six in the sixth, but it was too little and too late.

With just two games to play Rotary has just about clinched the title with a 9 and 2 record.

Summer Recreation

Last week's junior girls softball play saw Team 2 defeat Team 1 in a slugfest, 12-7.

Shelia O'Neil bested Sue Fuller in a wild game that saw Marilyn Dick and Linda Brown collect seven hits between them in a winning cause while Curth picked up three hits and Filter and Brazee each two for the losers.

The winning streak of the Team 2 was short lived, however, as it lost the second game to Team 3, by a 12-10 count.

Linda Staulter was the big gun for the winners as she blasted four hits in five trips. Lister and Purple each picked up two hits to aid the winning effort.

Sue Fuller with four hits and Jackie Filter with two made a bid to keep Team 2 in the game.

√

In the boys minor league play Tim Sisson's Bears were the winners of regular season play in the minors with a 6 win and 2 record.

John June's Tigers and Tom Barton's Pirates ended up tied for second with 4-4 records.

The teams are in a playoff for the title at the present time, which puts the first and third place teams against one another while the second and fourth place finishers battle it out.

The final action brings these two winners together in a best two out-of-three for the championship.

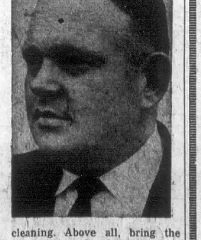
Milk and Cream Stains

By ROYAL WELCH



Milk and cream contain casein, they're alkaline, and they have an appreciable fat content. Mix 'em all together, spill or splash on a garment, and you wind up with an ornery stain.

Whether the garment is washable or dryeleanable, if the stain is milk or cream, take these simple precautions and avoid permanent discoloration.

Washable Garments. Rinse or sponge out with clear cool water only. Remember that heat will cook the stain, and then it's virtually impossible to remove. Do not allow the stain to dry out and stay untinsed or unwashed too long. Milk and cream stains "age"—and that means they can become permanently fixed right in the fibers of the fabric!

Dry Cleanable Garments. LEAVE COMPLETELY ALONE. Do not rub in any way. This will force the stain into the fabric and make it more difficult to remove. TELL US ABOUT THE STAIN. We can use special "spot-digesting" techniques prior to cleaning. Above all, bring the garment in to be cleaned as soon after staining as possible.

We can assure you that if you observe the simple precautions outlined above you'll insure much longer life to both the washable and dry-cleanable garments in your family's wardrobe.

And whether it's milk or cream —or something else — that has stained your garment, you're always assured of good spot removal and thorough cleaning when you BRING THEM TO Welch Cleaners.

100 Guests Attend 100th Anniversary for H. Naser Home

Open house was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Naser Sunday honoring their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Naser and five-month-old daughter, Karen.

They're visiting here for a few days from their home in San Diego.

Mrs. Alfred Naser, mother of Harold Naser, of Pittsburgh, Pa., is also visiting in the same home.

Sunday morning, little Karen Joanne was baptized at the First Presbyterian church by the Rev. Julian Gresham.

In the evening the Nasers entertained nearly 100 guests at the open house and also to observe the 100th anniversary of the building of their home at 307 N. Union St.

The home was started in 1860 and then boarded up the following year, during the Civil War, because men and materials were not available to finish it. It was completed after the war.

The invitations for the open house were unique. A sketch of the home, drawn by John Naser, was printed on the front and a parody on the song, "This Ole House" was on the inside.

The Tom Naser family will leave Thursday for St. Louis, Mo. where they will visit her people before returning to San Diego.

THESE ATTRACTIVE GALS WILL PERFORM AT THIS YEAR'S LENAWEE COUNTY FAIR

Lenawee County Will Get Less in Highway Fund

LANSING — Michigan's 83 counties and 510 incorporated cities and villages will feel the first financial effect of the 1960 census this month when they receive second quarter payments from the Michigan Highway Fund.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said 1960 census figures were used to apportion second quarter payments based on gasoline tax and license fee collections made during April, May and June.

Population is a major factor of a complicated formula used to determine distribution of Highway Fund money to counties and incorporated cities and villages.

"Based on the new preliminary census figures, many counties and larger cities received more money than they should have from the first quarter collections," Mackie said. "Others received less money than they were entitled to.

"Adjustments will be made in the checks mailed out early next month," Mackie said. "Further adjustments will be made when the Census Bureau announces the final population figures, probably late this fall."

Among counties that will have their first quarter payments adjusted downward is Lenawee to the amount of $2,960.

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK AND HOME

Without the slightest fear of exaggeration, I say that the most lovely, most beautiful, most gorgeous place we have ever seen is Glacier National Park.

Just picture tall mountains, their rocky jaggy peaks covered with snow, their sides, up to timber-line at least, draped with dark green pine forests and lapping gently at their bases sparkling and blue mountain lakes or sometimes fast running streams.

Picture all this beneath perfect June skies, incredibly blue with large puffy white clouds, and light the scene with a bright summer sun — this is how we found Glacier National Park.

This scenic gem is tucked into the northwestern corner of Montana. Although Glacier is our fourth largest national park it has few roads.

Route No. 2 follows the middle fork of the Flathead River and the famous Going-to-the-Sun Highway crosses the park from east to west, from St. Mary to West Glacier.

It was this 50 miles of highway which called us to Glacier. Built over a period of 13 years and at a cost of $3 million, it has often been called one of the most scenic drives in the world.

☆

IT HAS ALSO been described as having been laid out through a camera's view finder. Certainly it is a photographer's dream.

Every two feet, a perfect picture seems to present itself. We spent an entire day driving just one way on "Going-to-the-Sun" and felt we had not even begun to exhaust the picture possibilities.

It is, of course, Rocky Mountain driving all the way, thrilling but the road is good. At Logan Pass, the elevation is 6,664 feet, we could not fully appreciate what spectacular views are afforded here later in the season because on June 20 when we were there, the snowbanks were just too high.

Winter lingers so long in Glacier that the highway is not open until June 15, and, I can well imagine that after a severe season, it is quite a task to open it by then.

☆

WITH SO MUCH melting snow, there are waterfalls everywhere, and as a waterfall lover from way back I seemed to be continually exclaiming, "Oh my, look there!" "There's another one!" or just plain "Wow!"

And this illustrates one of the wonderful things about Glacier—although it is primarily a hiking park, with over a thousand miles of trails, still there is so much, so very, very much to be seen and enjoyed from the car.

In addition to the waterfalls we even saw several living glaciers.

The wildflowers were exciting too. We were probably most thrilled to see so much Indian Paint-brush, a red blossomed plant favoring the higher altitudes.

As in the other parks we visited, the roadsides and every little cleared area were literally carpeted, but alas, no time to study and identify.

☆

OUR LAST NIGHT in Glacier was spent in Apgar Village, a small cluster of motels and restaurants situated at the south end of Lake McDonald.

This, by the way, is a perfectly gorgeous lake, long, a deep deep blue and entirely surrounded by tall, when we were there, snow-capped mountains.

After a delicious trout dinner we went back to our motel, which did not over-look the lake, but was perched at the edge of a rather wide but shallow mountain stream.

We were tired, it had been a most thrilling day, not long mileage-wise, but every inch of the Going-to-the-Sun-Highway had been almost breathtaking.

After the folks had me comfortably situated in bed, Dad barricaded himself in a closet to check a film which we were afraid had jammed (fortunately it had not and was OK) and Mom sat down close to the window to enjoy the last bit of sun filtering through the trees and sparkling on the water.

☆

ALL OF A sudden, in a tone of almost shocked disbelief, she cried, "Oh, Harry, come here."

It seemed that what at a glance she had taken to be a big shaggy dog coming around the corner of the unit had, while her attention was elsewhere come much, much closer in fact, been a bear.

When she looked again, he was right outside the window, his nose practically pressed against the glass. A big black bear. By the time Dad could get out of the closet the window-peeker had ambled off.

The last they saw of him he was jogging across the nearby bridge, scattering the half-dozen or so fishermen who had been trying to catch "just one more."

But here I have spent so much time raving about Glacier that space has run out and so next week I shall bring you home via Route No. 2 and Big Mac.

Pick Safety Engineer

Safety on the farm is a family affair.

And it's encouraging to realize that many farm families have lessened their chances of having an accident by removing or reducing hazardous situations and practices, says John W. Comstock.

Even though many Lenawee County farm families enjoyed accident-free living last year, there's no guarantee that they can expect the same for this year.

Farm safety doesn't just happen, it must be planned and this requires the cooperation of the whole family.

One idea that has been suggested by Richard Pfister, agricultural engineering safety specialist at Michigan State University, is to elect one member of the family as safety engineer for the month.

The family safety engineer should be responsible for recognizing hazards and hazardous practices. He then should enlist the help of the entire family to find ways to remove or reduce these hazards.

If each family member takes his turn for a month, all will become safety conscious and accident-free, Pfister believes.

On the return trip they expect to visit Yellowstone Park.

Here Are Answers

In conjunction with its special survey of three diseases, the Tecumseh Community Health Study recently issued this series of questions and answers.

Q. What is tuberculosis?

A. It is an infection of humans by specific bacterium. Humans are infected usually by breathing in the bacterium from other humans who have the disease or (rarely in this country) by drinking infected milk from cows who have this disease.

Q. What is histoplasmosis?

A. It is an infection of humans by a specific fungus (mold) that grows in the soil. Humans are infected by breathing air containing the spores (seeds) of this fungus. So far as we know, this infection cannot be passed from person to person or from animals to humans.

Q. What are the skin tests?

A. A very small amount of chemical substance extracted from the specific germs is injected into the skin of the person being tested. Since no germs are in the material there is no risk of infection from these tests.

Q. What will happen?

A. For most individuals, nothing will happen (negative tests). For those who are going to have some reaction, redness will develop about the injection site beginning at 12-24 hours. Later, many of those will have a small area of swelling within the zone of redness.

Q. Will they make me sick?

A. It is very unlikely. Very small doses of the testing substance are being used. A few of those who have positive reactions (localized swelling) may have some tenderness or pain at the injection site. Cold, wet compresses will usually relieve the pain, which only lasts for a day or so at the most.

Q. Why is it necessary to have the tests looked at at a particular time?

A. To make the most of the information to be gained, it is part of the standard procedure to "read" the test not less than 48 hours, and not more than 72 hours after it is given.

Q. Why can't I simply report to you by phone?

A. An essential part of the test is the inspection of the result and a careful measure of the area of swelling. This is best done by someone carefully trained to do so.

Q. What if I have a positive reaction, what does it mean?

A. It means only that at some time in the past, you have had an infection by the specific germ and that the body has become sensitive to the protein substances of that germ.

Q. Does a positive test mean that I now the disease?

A. No, it does not indicate active disease. Results in disease. The presence of disease can be established only by careful medical examination including X-rays.

Q. What is the sweat test?

A. The tests time are for determining the amount of salt in the sweat under standard conditions. This is a recently developed test which we are doing in order to find out what it shows and what it means.

Some people have excessive salt in their sweat. Among these are people with the rare disease called cystic fibrosis. The results will make it possible for us to find out how frequently people of all ages have too much salt in their sweat, and how often this is related to an illness.

Q. How will I find out about the results of the tests?

A. These results, together with the other medical findings, will be reported in the usual way to your private physician after our own physicians have thoroughly reviewed all the information.

Noted Physicist Will Lecture at Siena Heights

Siena Heights College is sponsoring a Science Institute featuring Doctor Julius Sumner Miller as visiting lecturer, August 15-16.

The Institute will open following registration in Sacred Heart Hall, Monday, August 15, and will close Tuesday afternoon following a 4:00 o'clock lecture.

Dr. Miller is professor of physics at El Camino College, Calif., and author of "Demonstrations in Physics."

Noted for his classroom demonstrations of physics, he has presented a weekly C B S T V show "Why Is It So?" essentially an explanation of physics by experimentation and demonstration.

An intense, energetic teacher, Dr. Miller is lecturing at the University of Arizona, Tufts University, Michigan State, Siena Heights College and UCLA during the summer term.

One of his lectures at Siena will treat of the physics of toys.

Junior and high school teachers who are interested in attending the Institute should contact Sister Miriam Michael, O.P., of Siena Research Laboratories, for further information.

HOW TO PREVENT POISONING

1. Keep all drugs, poisonous articles and household products away from reach of children.
2. Do not store any non-edible products on shelves used for storing food.
3. Keep all poisonous substances in their original containers. Do not transfer them to unlabeled containers.
4. When medicines are discarded, destroy them. Do not throw them away where they might be reached by children or pets.
5. When giving flavored or brightly colored medicine to children, always refer to it as medicine — never as candy.
6. Do not take or give any medicine in the dark.
7. Always read the labels before taking any medicines or using any household products.

Before we dispense any prescription we check each ingredient at least three times. First, as we take it off the shelf, second, when we take the medicine out of the container and third, before we set the bottle down to use the contents. You should do the same before taking any medicine.

VOICE of THE HERALD

This Should Be Enjoyable

When the director of the Aquarama, the Great Lakes cruise ship which makes one-day junkets between Detroit and Cleveland, visited your publishers last spring to see if Tecumseh might like a "day" on the lakes, we said, "Certainly."

We readily agreed to sponsor the event, knowing many area folks would surely enjoy making a fresh water cruise.

Such a day would appear to be good, wholesome enjoyment for the entire family — and priced reasonably.

We've been telling in stories about what the Aquarama offers and this issue carries a story and picture concerning the free stage show, which is held as the vast ship glides across the Lakes.

We're going to charter Short Line busses to take folks, who don't want to drive, to Detroit and return them home.

For details call 476 or stop at The Herald.

Well - Organized Competition

It's going to be a real slam-bang battle, this Nixon vs Kennedy affair.

We're sure that before the voting takes place in November, America will have witnessed one of this nation's most firey presidential campaigns in its history.

Not to indicate this will be a no-holds-barred affair, we figure it for steady, well-organized competition between two men who respect one another and refuse to defile themselves with mud-slinging.

Both Kennedy and Nixon are razor-sharp. They're vigorous, willing to work. Both are former naval officers and they maintain the military credo of leadership of not asking anyone to do what they themselves wouldn't tackle.

Like the highly-trained football players they hit head-on and hard, but not dirty.

Those coming television debates should be delightful.

But, you know, even with all the enthusiasm that will be engendered by this TV series and the millions of words which appear in the papers each day, a lot of people will have little idea of what's going on.

A Free Press reporter questioned citizens about this week's Michigan election, asking if they were going to vote for Williams, who, of course, isn't even running.

Many said they would, others said they always voted against him. One woman responded, "You say there's going to be an election?" Thank goodness, several came right back at the writer's question to say Soapy wasn't on the ticket.

2,850 Smiling Faces

There were 2,850 smiling faces at Tecumseh Products Co. Tuesday as annual vacation checks were handed out.

Production at the plant will be closed from Aug. 8 to 26 as nearly all personnel take off for the coveted "two weeks with pay."

During that time many homes in Tecumseh will be deserted as Products folks scatter all over the mid-west — some to cottages, others on extended sight-seeing junkets and cruises.

Vacation time should be caution time.

Driving, swimming, boating, fishing, water skiing, are worlds of fun, but there should always be a "safety first" approach.

State police report that 49 boating and water accidents in a recent two and one-half week period added 16 deaths and 25 injured persons to the list of summer-time mishaps.

So a word of prudence is in order

Never swim alone, don't take silly chances by going too far from shore. Test the depth before diving.

While boating, always have life preservers on hand. If youngsters or pets are in the boat, make them wear preservers. Be firm in having them remain seated at all times.

A motor boat can be extremely dangerous —— it's not a thing to horse around with. If a skier is being pulled, make him don a preserver.

Coming and going in the old family car can be one of the tiring aspects of a vacation, making it all the more mandatory that the driver be alert and careful. Don't let yourself and your loved ones become statistics.

Have a safe vacation.

He'll Tell How To Run 75-Sow Production Plan

Rabin Pullin, Rensselaer, Indiana, hog producer, will headline the program for the 5th annual Swine Day at Michigan State University, East Lansing on Thursday, Aug. 11.

Pullin will tell the Swine Day visitors how he operates his 75-sow production program.

Another feature of the program will be a discussion of the newest methods of swine growing including a look ahead at the possibilities in artificial insemination for the industry by H. L. Self, professor of swine husbandry at Iowa Etate University, Ames.

The morning session opens at 10 a.m. All sessions will be held in the Anthony hall auditorium on the south campus.

Have You Purchased Tickets for Cruise? It's Next Thursday

Area residents, who enjoy the lure of the Lakes, are getting ready to make the Tecumseh Day cruise to Cleveland aboard the Aquarama on Thursday, Aug. 18.

With a blast of its whistle, the Aquarama will leave its Detroit dock at 9:30 a.m. from the foot of W. Grand Blvd., near the Ambassador Bridge. It will head down the Detroit River and through Lake Erie for Cleveland, arriving at about 3:40 p.m.

After a short stop, the luxury ship will return to Detroit, arriving about 10:30 p.m.

The 520 foot, nine-deck pleasure craft, is the finest and largest cruise ship of its kind on any body of fresh-water in the world.

Tickets are now on sale at The Herald.

☆

THE AQUARAMA, originally an ocean-going ship, was redesigned for day and evening cruises on the Great Lakes.

None of the space is devoted to staterooms except for quarters of the crew of 150. (Most of the crew are college juniors and seniors).

Instead, the upper five of the Aquarama's nine decks are devoted entirely to recreational and relaxing facilities.

A huge ballroom, spacious main lounge, sun decks with shuffleboard courts are open to all.

In addition, a full program of entertainment, is offered.

Guests will see scores of freighters flying foreign flags.

If you want to join your Tecumseh neighbors on this fun trip, get your tickets now, $9.85 for adults and half-fare for youngsters five through 11. Kids under five are free.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

We almost "closed down" Tecumseh Products Co. for an extra week during the annual plant vacation.

In an editorial last week, the vacation dates were listed for three weeks and they should have been just two.

The plant's production facilities will be down until Aug. 21, will get going again Aug. 22.

☆

Allan Seager's newest novel, "Death of Anger" will hit book stores in mid-September.

It's being published by McDowell, Obolensky of New York.

Which reminds me, I better get busy if I'm ever going to write the Great American Novel. Maybe next summer.

But to stop kidding a moment, Tecumseh can be proud to have as one of its residents Mr. Seager, a prominent figure in the world of letters.

☆

Fishing on Tramping Lake in Manitoba, Canada, more than 1,500 miles from here, was a fabulous experience for Bill Sage.

The walleyes were biting like mad and it almost required a production line hauling in and later refrigerating and packing the big fellows for shipping.

"We even threw a bunch back that reached from there . . . to there," Bill said as he measured out about 20 inches.

☆

An importer from Australia was in Tecumseh last week to visit the Meyers Aircraft's plant.

A Meyers 200 has been sold to a South American country and now, one of these days, one might be built for "Down Under."

Incidentally, did you know that Meyers is the only plane manufacturer in Michigan?

☆

MAKES A PERSON HAPPY DEPT. We always refer to Don Blesing as our retired Linotype operator.

Don had served The Herald for about 30 years when he officially retired two summers ago.

But he's just as much a member of the shop, it seems, as he was while on active duty.

Last week, it was vacation time for Lee Smith and so we invited Don to sit in, which he did, performing as capably as ever.

Deadline Set for Bus Tickets

Saturday noon is the deadline to make reservations for the bus ride for the Aquarama Cruise. Bus tickets will be $2.00. The bus will leave from the Herald office Aug. 18 at 8 a.m. and return immediately after the boat docks in Detroit at 10:30 p.m.

Auxiliary To Adopt Youngster

The VFW Auxiliary held its regular meeting at the Post Home last Wednesday with Mrs. Harold Meade presiding.

Mrs. George Downard reported that there will be a hospital party Sept. 21 at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The group is planning to adopt Anne Burnett from the National Home at Eaton Rapids. The Post has already adopted her brother.

Mrs. Warren Filter was elected treasurer and Mrs. Gaza Kish was elected to replace Mrs. Filter as trustee.

The Auxiliary voted to present a gift to "Grandma" Bruns in celebration of her 100th birthday.

Delegates and alternates to the VFW National Convention at Detroit were given their credentials.

Mrs. Harold Meade and Mrs. Harlan Boyes are the delegates and alternates are Mrs. James Felton and Mrs. George Downard.

The Auxiliary voted to sponsor the VFW Auxiliary bowling team.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Warren Filter.

Argentina Men Cook for Outing

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Calhoun and family enjoyed an outing on July 31 with friends from Argentina.

As a pleasant surprise to Mrs. Calhoun, the cooking was done by Francisco Benzi, assisted by Domingo Tierz.

They roasted different kinds of beef and pork, using wood and coal fire built in open pit.

A tossed salad was prepared by Alejandro Busso, assisted by his brother John. Fresh fruits were served as the main desert.

American dishes were served by Mrs. Lyle Calhoun of Palmyra and Mrs. Leslie Calhoun, including potato salad, cinnamon rolls made by Mrs. Lyle Calhoun, chocolate chip cookies, orangeade and lemonade.

The guests from Argentina have been in the Tecumseh area for about two weeks.

2 Church Classes Hold Gatherings

The Temple Dependable class of the Methodist Church will meet Aug. 17 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Vie Snedecor.

The Reliable class will meet Aug. 18 at the Methodist church at 6:30 p.m. A birthday party will follow the meeting.

Begin Work on Tipton's New Office

Construction work on the new General Telephone exchange building in Tipton is well underway, according to District Manager, D. W. Clark.

Scheduled for completion by September 1, the building will house dial phone switching equipment estimated to cost $30,000.

In addition, terminating facilities for long distance service will be installed. Specialists from Automatic Electric, manufacturers of the equipment, will begin work in early September with the "cut-over" to dial service scheduled late in the year.

"Tipton telephone users will have the most modern phone service available," said Mr. Clark.

Krieghoff-Lenawee County of Adrian is the general contractor.

They're Learning To Save Lives of Fellow Swimmers

By JULIA BOYCE

The life you save may be your own—or someone else's.

This is the lesson taught to the students enrolled in the Junior Red Cross Lifesaving class at the local pool.

The course is one of the many in the summer swimming program under the direction of Carl Hale.

Taught by Gregg Mason and Dave Hohenstein, the class of 15 has been learning such things as personal safety, in the water, self-rescue, rescue of others from shore, a boat, or in the water.

As shown here, the students have also learned the proper method to administer artificial respiration.

The class began July 18 and will end this week after four weeks of instruction.

☆

THE POOL offers swimming instruction for all ages. Beginning classes start for youngsters seven-years-old and continue upward through Senior Livesaving.

An adult swimming class will begin Monday, 5:15 to 6:15, and continue through Sept. 2. Persons may register at that time.

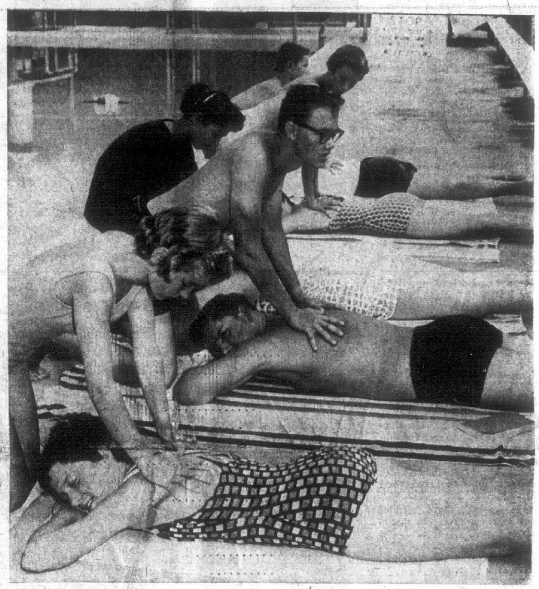
Two different sessions of classes have been offered since school closed in June. About 190 students were enrolled in each four-week session.

As well as offering lessons in the morning, the pool has been open in the afternoon and evening for free swim.

These warm days, the pool has constantly been occupied as 3,309 swam during June and 5,854 during July.

The instructors at the pool are Mary Seager, Susan Day, Gregg Mason and Dave Hohenstein.

Ted Todd and Jerry Woodward also serve as lifeguards.



THAT'S THE PROPER WAY — These students are learning how to administer artifical respiration. From the foreground are Sue Kotts and Suzie Hohenstein, John Mensing and Larry McClain, Karen Goller and Sharon Gillin, Ann Surratt and Dorothy Nettleman, Dean Hebb and Dexter Bailey. Others in the class are Doug Beasley, Kingsley Dunn, Sue Fuller, Sue Klappich and Carolyn Sebring.

Board Borrows $200,000 Sum for This Year

Passage of a resolution to borrow $200,000, acceptance of the Meadowridge Dairy milk bid, and purchase of a commercial washer, extractor and dryer high-lighted Monday night's school board meeting.

Board members signed the resolution to borrow $100,000 from the United Savings Bank and another $100,000 from a Detroit bank against state aid for the coming school year.

Although Meadowridge Dairy's bid was a fraction of a cent higher than the lowest bid, the board awarded the milk contract to the Tecumseh firm.

Meadowridge will furnish Coolers and ice cream cabinets free to the schools.

Supt. James McDowell reported that purchase of the laundry equipment would save the schools money. The three units, costing $4,500 were purchased from Troy Laundrite.

In other action, the board delayed opening fuel oil bids until the September meeting and rejected Wes Haeussler's estimate of $1,875 for folding doors at Patterson School.

The superintendent also reported that vandalism at Patterson was still under investigation and possibly more than three boys were involved.

'Untouchables' Is Name Chosen for Hobby Club

Tecumseh's newly-formed hobby club was given a name at its first meeting Friday.

The members choice: "The Untouchables."

They'll gather each Friday from 7 until 9 p.m. at Hobbyville with shop owner Bill Engle as advisor.

Young people interested in model building—whether it be cars, planes, boats or trains—are welcome.

Ex-Army General, Who Served With MacArther, Speaks

Lieut. General and Mrs. William K. Harrison will be visiting the Tecumseh Friends Church Wednesday through Sunday.

Throughout General Harrison's colorful military career he has been a keen observer and interpreter of events in the light of Bible prophecy.

He'll speak Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30. On Sunday he'll talk at both the 10 and 11 a.m. services.

General Harrison graduated from West Point and served his country in active duty until his retirement in 1957.

He served on General Douglas MacArthur's staff in Tokyo, was commander of Fort Dix, N. J. in 1950-'51.

He was senior delegate of U. S. Armistice Delegation responsible for signing the Korean Armistice of 1953; chief-of-staff of the Far East Command; commander-in-chief of the Caribbean forces from 1954 to 1957.

General Harrison's general topic will be: The relevance of Bible prohpecy to the church in our times.

Sunday he will be speaking on "The application of prophetic teaching to the Christian life."

"General Harrison's coming is in response to the request from the people of this area for an international authority to interpret the fast moving contemporary scene," states the Rev. Paul Brantingham, pastor. "The public is cordially invited to share in these services," he added.

State Police Seeking Qualified Young Men in Drive for Recruits

An opportunity to become a trooper in the Michigan State Police is again open to qualified young men, according to Sgt. Carl Anderson, commander of the Clinton post.

"Every young man should investigate this opportunity right now because it doesn't come very often," he emphasized. "The pay is good, the work interesting, there is job security and a liberal pension plan."

Complete information and application blanks can be obtained at any state police post or from the State Civil Service Commission.

Applications must be turned in or mailed to any post or the Civil Service Commission not later than Sept. 7. Applications postmarked up to midnight that day will be accepted.

Eligible are men 21 to 29 years of age, married or single, at least 5 feet 10 inches tall, in good health and of good character, and with a high school education or its equivalent.

Trooper pay begins at $4,656 and goes to a maximum of $6,744 plus longevity pay after six years. Promotion in rank brings substantial pay increases.

There are paid vacations, paid sick leave, a substantial allowance of $3 a day, and, in addition, uniforms and equipment are furnished.

Officers are eligible for pensions at half-pay after 25 years of service, with the same provision also for the widow in event of death of the retired officer.

The trooper pay scale begins when the recruit enters training.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

With a goodly number of youngsters from the city attending camp during August, no doubt many mothers have been amused by the lists made out by their offspring in preparation for the adventure.

This writer had an amusing mind's eye view of my 13-year-old at camp as I read his list.

It started with swim fins, sonic spook, jitterbug, bobber, hooks and ball.

Also included were 30 gums, a hand towel, two slippers and a Bible.

No mention of shirt or pants, no underwear, no jacket.

Now doesn't it make interesting viewing to think about this little man, gayly attending the study sessions with a Bible under his arm, dressed in swim fins and a hand towel accented with fish baits, passing out his 30 gums.

Well, guess that's why God made mothers, to take care of all these unimportant little details.

Phyllis Hite and Arlis Spivey Exchange Vows

Palms and lighted candelabra, faced with sprays of white gladioli, formed the background for the wedding of Phyllis Susanne Hite and Arlis Oscar Spivey Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Daniel Hite, 308 W. Kilbuck St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Spivey, 316 E. Logan St.

The gold altar vases were filled with white blossoms and the center aisle was lighted with single candelabra, with gladioli, greens and white satin bows marking the pews.

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party the ushers placed the white aisle runner.

The Rev. Julian Gresham performed the ceremony before 200 guests.

MRS. ARLIS SPIVEY

The bride wore a gown of white silk orgnaza over taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice, short sleeves and a rounded neckline banded with sequin dotted Alencon lace.

Medallions of the lace were scattered over the full chapel trained skirt. Her double illusion veil was held in place by a matching lace crown.

Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white fugi chrysanthemums and ivy.

☆

JOAN DEIS of Tipton was the maid-of-honor wearing a sheer white organza gown with turquoise cummerbund complimented at the back with handmade roses.

Her half-hat was trimmed with the same handmade roses. She wore mitts and satin pumps.

She carried a natural wicker bridal ring with clusters of turquoise frosted grapes centered with pink carnations and tiny white pompons.

Janet Martin and Cathy Cornell were the bridesmaids wearing gowns identical to that of Miss Deis.

They carried floral arrangement shaded to match the colors of their cummerbunds.

☆

JAMES W. HITE served as best man and the guests were seated by Peter Minor and Douglas Grady, Jr.

Lighted aqua candles, based with pink and white flowers, beautified the windows of the Fellowship Center for the reception immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was centered with silver candelabra filled with aqua candles encircled with pink carnations and white mums.

A bridal wreath of flowers encircled the five-tiered cake topped with white wedding bells, tulle and rosettes.

Pink taffeta and white net flounced the cake table accented with shaded aqua ribbons.

Mrs. Milan Hite and Mrs. Ralph Pletcher, grandmothers of the bride, poured beverages during the reception.

Judy Kempf and Judy Fielder had charge of the punch table, Jolair Knudson and Sandra Bortel, the bride's table and Kay McClure and Marcella Spivey opened the gifts.

☆

FOLLOWING A one-week trip to the Smokey Mountains, the newly-married couple will make their home at 111½ N. Maiden Lane.

New Long Distance Cables To Be Laid

Expansion of General Telephone long distsance facilities for Tecumseh, Clinton and Adrian is scheduled to get underway with a $228,000 buried cable project that will improve service between these communities, according to District Manager, D. W. Clark.

The program involves a new technique which permits a special cable plow to bury cables 41 inches below ground in one operation.

"While the original cost of construction is higher, the maintenance cost of buried cable is much lower since it is shielded from lightning, falling trees, hunters and squirrels," Mr. Clark said.

Two cables will be laid between Adrian and Tecumseh and one between Tecumseh and Clinton.

"General Telephone in 1960 will invest 18 million dollars to improve and expand phone service for its Michigan customers," Mr. Clark stated, "and these projects along with the new dial office in Tecumseh are part of the plan."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Tressler, 303 Chippewa St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Fero, 105 Maple St.

As she approached the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a white silk organza over taffeta gown, styled with a rounded neckline.

Re-embroidered alencon lace dotted with seed pearls on the bodice extended onto the front of the skirt.

A silk organza pouf and handmade roses accented the back of the skirt, which had a sweeping hemline.

Her crown headpiece of matching lace, trimmed with seed pearls, held a double illusion veil in place.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis edged with ivy.

Edward Handley and son, Thomas, were in Detroit Sunday for the double-header between Detroit and Boston at Briggs Stadium.

Dear Mr. Kennedy Dear Mr. Nixon

By ROYAL WELCH

Well, sir, you've each been nominated and your lifelong ambition is about to be realized. So, as a citizen, permit me to express a few sentiments. I hope you will bear them in mind if elected:

We don't want war. I don't believe the Russians or any other people want war either. Nuclear war is so horrible to contemplate, so complete in its annihilation and after effects, that it must be excluded as an item of policy.

Which leaves us where?

It leaves us at this point: We must be strong, so strong no one will want to attack us, for fear of his own annihilation.

But this is not enough. Since the people of this globe all want peace, we suggest that, having strengthened the nation's might, you lead it ably into avenues which will open doors of greater cooperation between the peoples of the world for their mutual benefit. A scientific discovery by one human being or nation can help all other human beings or nations. A work of art by one human being or nation can give pleasure and insight to all other human beings or nations. People who work together can live together.

Let us take the initiative in inaugurating a new International Decade. Let us lead the people of the world in conquering cancer, mental disease, old age, the hazards of space exploration. Let us explore harnessing the seas for food and power. Let us investigate climate control. Whatever the project, let us invite all nations to participate as each one can, and let that one who refuses, stand before the world as an enemy of mankind.

But let it be US who leads the way to peace.

Fair Opens Sunday

BETTY JOHNSON OF JACK PAAR SHOW SINGS AT FAIR

A star-studded program of entertainment is promised when the Lenawee County Fair opens for one full week, Aug. 14 to 20.

A 4-H Fair opener will be the Chicken Bar-B-Q on Sunday at the fairgrounds, served by the Project Mothers. Following this will be a devotional service and sermon at 3 p.m. sponsored by the Lenawee county Council of Churches.

Of special interest will be a display of 75 antique cars all day Sunday on the fairgrounds, sponsored by the Jackson Cascades chapter. A pony-pulling contest is a 6:30 p.m. event you'll want to stick around and see.

The Danny Fleenor Thrill show at 8 p.m. Monday demonstrates what imports in the compact car can do in racing and thrill events. Exhibits are open in all departments for fair-goers who arrive early.

Something new on the Midway this year, too—a new thrill ride which is operating for the first time at any county fair in Michigan. It is "The Wild Mouse," a ride invented in West Germany and imported to the U. S. A. Because it takes 10 skilled technicians to erect it, the ride has been shown previously only at the State Fair and at Bob-Lo.

Mac Mohr, secretary-manager of the Lenawee County Fair, tells use that the week-long Adrian event is earning a reputation for having some of the top talent in the nation available, and he wants to keep it that way.

Appearing Tuesday and Wednecday nights, for instance, are the famous dancing girls from the Manhattan 'Rockettes', who have been packing in the customers where they appeared exclusively before going on road tour.

Also, Tuesday is "kids" day at the fair, and all children get to ride the rides for 15 cents up to 5 p.m. Also two bicycles will be given away, and free tickets for this are available at the Blissfield Advance.

Other events are a tractor-pulling contest at 12 noon Wednesday and horse racing at 7:30 p.m. Matter of fact, five big days of racing, with more than $20,000 in purses, will be offered during the week at the Lenawee County Fair.

Betty Johnson, television and records star, whom many have seen on the Jack Paar Show, will be the headline entertainer Thursday and Friday.

She grew up in an evangelistic family, touring churches all over the country. When she struck out on her own, her talent shot her right to the top.

She can belt out a ballad in front of the grandstand as well as in front of TV.

The Junior Livestock Sale is a 1:30 p.m. event on Friday which always attracts a lot of attention.

This is the biggest sale of prize beef to be held anywhere in Michigan this year. The event will be in the new sales pavilion, with bidders from all the big hotels and restaurants, Mac hopes.

To wind up the week, Saturday night will be Jack Kochman's Thrill Show, billed as the "Hell Drivers."

There'll be something doing every minute at the Lenawee County Fair, secretary Mac Mohr promises, and if you can manage to come to Adrian during the week, you'll not be disappointed.

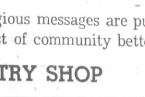
FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH !

SAFE...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Proverbs	18	10
Monday	Psalms	33	1-2
Tuesday	Proverbs	29	25-26
Wednesday	Luke	17	33
Thursday	John	14	1
Friday	John	15	7-8
Saturday	Ephesians	3	19-20



A desperate run . . . a frantic slide . . . the feel of the bag against your cleats . . . the belated tag of the shortstop's glove. Then a voice, clear, certain . . . final!

And though the cheers may be laced with hoots and screams of disapproval, you're safe. And nothing can change that fact!

Equally dramatic — and far more important — is the adventure that brings earnest men and women into the Church.

There is a point when we realize the inertia of half-believing. We plunge forward desperately, leaving behind yesterday's skepticism, seeking frantically the Truth that promises meaning and purpose for our life.

Then there's the thrilling moment — the dust of worldly confusion still all around us — when we know in our hearts we have found our faith. And always, above the strains of the organ, even above the clamor of a world unconvinced, there is a Voice, clear, certain . . . final — confirming our Faith.

Shoe Repair Shop Has Birthday

The Tecumseh Shoe Repair Shop, 148 E. Chicago Blvd. is celebrating a birthday.

It has been in business for the past 27 years this month.

William Lamson, who owns and operates the business with his wife, Margaret, learned the shoe repair work from his brother, Harlie.

Harlie Lamson opened the shop in 1930, coming here from St. Louis, Mo. bringing his brother with him.

William Lamson bought the business and moved it to the present location of Van's Pastry Shop.

In the early part of 1944 he went into the armed services and when discharged in late '45 he opened a shop in Adrian.

In 1949, he again came to Tecumseh and opened up in the same building where he has been since that time.

During 1935 through '37, when the two worked together and also employed some helpers they repaired shoes for the CCC camp.

A load of 500 to 700 pairs of shoes came from the camp each week and had to be ready before the next week's shipment came in.

This was really a production job and kept four and five men busy all the time.

The Lamsons have two daughters at home, Donna and Nancy.

Work at the shop includes dyeing and shining as well as the repair of shoes. Mrs. Lamson does all the patch work.

They also repair zippers in jackets, brief cases and tents and other work on leather and canvas goods.

This week they are making weight bags for Meyers Aircraft Co. to be used for testing.

Mr. Lamson does orthopedic work for doctors in Jackson, Ann Arbor, Manchester, Adrian and some in the state of Iowa. He also does bracings.

He has been in the business about 37 years altogether, starting when only 11-years-old.

Rotary Clinches Crown in Tecumseh Cub League

Rotary has clinched the Cub League championship.

The Jaycee nine was Rotarys closest opposition. The Jaycees tried all season to surpass Rotary, but never quite made it.

Only three games were played this week as the season ended.

The Jaycees shut out Hodges, 7-0, Monday as Sheldon Pease allowed only three hits and struck out 11.

His opponent on the mound, Kirk Lucas, fanned seven.

Eric Wilkins led the Jaycees with a double and a single. Bill Bartenslager got two of the three Hodges hits.

In Tuesday's game, Kiwanis scored a 9-2 win over the Union. Tim Heflin and Gordon Gibson worked on the mound for the winners. Fred Schwede and Stan Lewis pitched for the losing team.

Of the six hits collected by each team, 12 different players hit their way safely to base. All were singles, except a triple by the Union's Pat Smith.

In the final game, Exchange lost a close contest to Hodges 9-8.

Exchange jumped off to a six-run lead in the first and scored two more in the fourth. The Hodges boys scored in every inning but the second.

They tied it in the fifth and scored the winning run in the last inning.

Kim Rosacrans was relieved by Bill Bartenslager who was credited with the victory.

Tecumseh Scouts Were 20 Feet from President During Jamboree Visit

By RUSSEL BLANDEN
Special Herald Writer

After many months of planning, the Jamboree has taken place and eight Tecumseh Boy Scouts are home. This event will be remembered by us for the rest of our lives.

Perhaps the highlight of the Jamboree was the visit made by President Eisenhower. We were fortunate to have our camp at the end of the main drive.

Here, the president had to circle and this gave us a better chance to get a good look. Most of our troop was no more than 20 feet from Mr. Eisenhower.

Andrew Sawhill, of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, a nephew of Mrs. Joe Rohweder, came from his section to visit our troop.

We all "swapped" with him and in the afternoon he went with our troop to the Conservation area.

Among the things that Tecumseh Scouts got in trades were British Scout hats, patches and neckerchiefs from all over the United States, hari kari knives and a Canada Scout belt.

Tecumseh boys at the Jamboree were Bob Glenn, Bob Seitz, Tom, Mike and Howard Wilson, Jr., Tom Elliott and Dick Brown. Scoutmaster Howard Wilson, Sr. also took part.

☆

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, July 28, we packed all of our baggage. We expected a truck to come and pick it up sometime between two and four in the morning, however, the truck came in the afternoon, just as we had begun to pack.

We rushed around and soon had our campsite cleared of most everything.

Thursday evening, we went to the arena for the Jamboree closing ceremonies. Here there was a cake, celebrating the Boy Scouts fiftieth anniversary.

It was about 20 feet high and 40 feet in circumference, with 50 lighted candles.

At this program, Scouts from foreign countries and their flags were recognized. Each said "happy birthday" in his language.

Later we returned to our campsite and got ready for bed the best we could, with no tents or sleeping bags.

During the night the temperature was around 45 or 50 degrees.

At 2:30 a.m. we got up and built a fire and spent the rest of the night around it.

Friday morning we left the campsite at 8 o'clock to catch our train for home. When we arrived back in Toledo, at 8:15 p.m. Saturday we were tired, but glad we had attended the Boy Scout Jamboree.

May Clement of Adrian spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kopke.

MICHAEL C. BACHTAL

Airman Bachtal Is Being Sent to Colorado Base

LACKLAND AFB, Tex.—Airman Michael C. Bachtal, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Bachtal, 9540 Ford Hwy. has completed his initial course of Air Force basic military training here.

He has been selected to attend the technical training course for Armament Systems Maintenance at Lowry AFB, Colorado.

Airman Bachtal is a graduate of Britton-Macon High School.

Basic airmen at Lackland are selected for specialized training at technical schools on the basis of their interests and aptitudes. They are reassigned to the school after five weeks of basic training.

At the technical schools they are given additional military training along with the technical instructions.

Cattle Market Should Be Firm During September

There should be a firm tone in the cattle market in August and September, according to John Ferris, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

This should show up in the form of steady prices on fat cattle and about steady prices on cows and feeders.

Cattle prices have declined noticeably since winter and all cattle prices will likely resume a downward movement later in the fall, Ferris predicts.

Analyzing USDA reports, Ferris indicates that marketings of cattle off feed lots in the third quarter this year will be about the same or slightly higher than in the third quarter in 1959. Marketings of plainer cattle will continue above a year ago.

One factor should partly offset increased cattle marketings and give some support to cattle prices is hog prices. They are expected to average about $3 to $4 higher in the last half of this year as compared to year-earlier prices, Ferris believes.

There will be less advantage this year in waiting until late in the year to buy feeder cattle. Ferris advises cattle feeders to look around for some reasonable offers before fall.

The cheap gains furnished by fall pastures and benefits from getting cattle "acclimented" to a feeding program should more than offset reductions in feeder prices in late fall, he believes.

POTATOES GROW UP AS WELL AS DOWN — —Mrs. Foster Hardstey, 6843 Hendershot Rd., brought this oddity to The Herald office last Tuesday. Small hard green Cobbler potatoes are growing on the vine of this plant and a goodly number were beneath the ground where the good Lord meant them to grow. Maybe plants become confused as well as humans.

Says Follow' Wheat with Alfalfa'

Alfalfa seedings made this summer after wheat is cut can be successful, according to Leyton Nelson, Michigan State University farm crop specialist.

Farmers might be wise to consider such a move. Alfalfa acreage is below normal in Michigan because of heavy winter-killing last year and because of a small planting in oats this spring due to the wet weather.

Alfalfa can be seeded as soon as wheat is cut, the straw removed and the ground worked up with enough moisture available, Nelson indicates.

Summer seeding gives good weed control.

For farmers planning an August seeding, Nelson recommends good tillage for weed control. Farmers should have their soil tested and plan to use about eight pounds of alfalfa per acre.

For long-term stands, Vernal is the best variety due to its wilt resistance and winterhardiness.

Two to four pounds of brome grass should be included in the planting. The mixture should be band-seeded and the ground cultipacked both before and after seeding as a firm seed bed is very important in summer seeding, Nelson says.

About one bushel per acre of oats can be mixed in. Oats will protect the alfalfa from wind damage, Nelson points out, and it may be possible to pasture the oats yet this fall.

Since summer seeding is increasing in the state, farmers who plan to use it this year should tell their seed dealers now so they will have an ample supply of seed on hand, Nelson recommends.

In this exciting novel the author dramatizes a situation in which human frailty and mechanical limitations combine to create such a disaster.

A CANTICLE FOR LEIBOWITZ by Walter Miller — 'Man is an inspired patsy, who stumbles through history taking pratfall after cosmic pratfall, because he tied his own shoelaces together in Eden, can't get them untied, and refused to walk barefooted." — The author.

JOHNNY OSAGE by Janice Giles — The author is often and justly praised for the authenticity of her novels of the Kentucky frontier and her understanding of its people. But Kentucky is her adopted state. She was a child in Oklahoma. In this novel she returns to the land of her childhood and with the same scrupulous regard for historical fact delves into its past and opens the door upon the first white settlement in that land.

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

Birth of an Industry

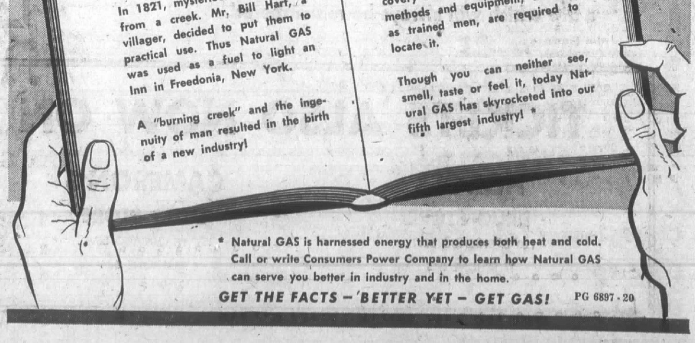
In 1821, mysterious flames burst from a creek. Mr. Bill Hart, a villager, decided to put them to practical use. Thus Natural GAS was used as a fuel to light an Inn in Freedonia, New York.

A "burning creek" and the ingenuity of man resulted in the birth of a new industry!

Versatile Giant

Today there is no accidental discovery of Natural GAS — scientific methods and equipment, as well as trained men, are required to locate it.

Though you can neither see, smell, taste or feel it, today Natural GAS has skyrocketed into our fifth largest industry! *



* Natural GAS is harnessed energy that produces both heat and cold. Call or write Consumers Power Company to learn how Natural GAS can serve you better in industry and in the home.

Through My Window

HOME VIA ROUTE NO. 2 AND BIG MAC

Vacation days go so fast and much, much too soon it was time for our station wagon to stop heading west and north — although we were reluctant, it was time to start back east.

Apgar Village and the motel which the night before had surprised Mom and Dad with the window-peeping bear, had one more thrill in store for us.

As we were packing to leave, a lovely little doe came out of the forest, across the river which ran directly in back of our room and cautiously went down to a small sandy beach for her morning drink.

Apparently she went back and passed the word that all was well, because soon there was another deer at the river's edge—only this time it was a handsome buck.

It was so hard to leave such things.

But the trip home proved to be most interesting.

AT WEST GLACIER, we hit Route No. 2 and what a road—across the width of Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula, it took us right into St. Ignace.

Most of the first days homeward trek closely parallelled the twisting and turning Middlefork of Flathead River, which is the southern boundary of Glacier National Park.

A beautiful drive with the Park on our left and the Flathead National Forest to the right.

At one of the scenic turn-outs there was a natural salt-lick which, according to the sign, was often visited by mountain goats. Imagine our good fortune—one was there when we stopped.

The Rocky Mountains rise abruptly from the western plains and the change from mountain driving to the straight rolling road of the prairie comes all of a sudden.

We enjoyed the open range country, it was so entirely different from anything we had known on our previous trip. Mile after mile after mile of unfenced country and when signs cautioned about cattle grazing at large, they meant it.

☆

BOTH GOING out and coming home we saw cow-boys moving big herds—this was thrilling, it was something we had read about and seen in the movies and on TV, but to have first hand experience—Wow.

We thoroughly enjoyed everything about this country. Even the sage brush had its charm. Often as far as the eye could see, the rolling hills and plains were covered with these low silverish-green bushes.

When it was warm enough to have the car windows open, there was a definite aroma, rather ungent and quite spicy. Some places we even saw the sage in bloom—a quite pretty blue flower.

However, the most exciting flower and the one which we had never even thought of seeing was the lovely and delicate bloom of the cactus.

The cactus was everywhere and we simply could not get over the soft, almost fragile blooms, pale yellow with shading of red, rose and green.

☆

SPEAKING OF flowers, I must hop back to Glacier for a moment.

Indian Paintbrush, which first thrilled us in Yellowstone, was ever so plentiful. We just never dared hope to see so much of it.

The bear-grass was just beginning its display and what a peculiar thing it is. Not a bit grass-like nor apparently is it especially attractive to bears; we wondered about the name.

It is rather coarse, with a tall stem shooting far above the leaves and supporting a long tapering head composed of tiny white flowers clustered together. Most spectacular.

☆

NOW THE weather, which in its own way was quite spectacular, really did us a favor.

Being many degrees cooler than usual made driving much easier and less tiring, and the record-breaking rainfall had kept everything green and lush.

From the snowy mountain peaks, to the still non-scorched prairies, to the interesting wheat growing sections, to the forested lakes of northern Michigan, everything was lovely.

In North Dakota, we were amazed at the number of wild ducks. Each and every little pothole—and there were so many—had its own duck population. How we wished to stop, but again, no time.

Into northern Michigan and what a sense of coming home. Ours is a lovely state and we need take a back seat to none.

Crossing the mighty Mac Bridge was one of the highlights of our trip.

We had seen it a month before it opened, but our first ride across was quite a thrill.

In fact, we were all so excited that we forgot to take pictures from the car as we drove across.

And now, it was straight down Route 27 and home.

After three weeks, some 4,500 miles and 11 states, it's good to be home. It was the best trip ever, one which we will remember for years and years, but you know, Tecumseh is a nice place to live.

VOICE of THE HERALD

We Oppose Federal Aid

What looks like a wonderful gift is a monster in disguise.

That's federal aid to education.

Congress is threshing out a bill this month and we hope the opponents of the grand idea, one more road to socialism, kill this bill.

How would aid to school from Washington be dangerous?

Well, the goverment never gives money without strings (unless perhaps to foreign nations, who seem to splash around happily with our cash.)

Here's a good example: the present vocational agriculture setup, in which the government pays one-fourth of the teacher salary.

The school board, in exchange for this aid gives up.

1. The right to tell the ag instructor what to teach and how many hours to teach it. The federal government does this.

2. The right to determine the number of students who may enroll in ag. Federal aid is dropped if the number drops below a minimum amount.

3. The right to use the ag teacher for other teaching chores.

What would it be if school got federal funds, which might touch the overall program?

Well, you ought to be able to figure that one. The government would then have its hands resting on everything. What little is left of the local citizen voice would probably be stilled forever.

Equally as tragic would be the fact that local taxpayers would not only be actually footing the bill on federal aid to Michigan schools, but also help to send money to other states where people refuse to help themselves.

So far, six Michigan Congressmen have said "No" to the bill. Included are George Meader, August Johansen, Clare Hoffman, Gerald Ford, Robert Griffin and Elford Cederberg.

Supporting the legislation are Thaddeus Machrowicz, Charles Chamberlain, James O'Hara, Victor Knox, John Bennett, Charles Driggs, Louis Rabout, John Dingell, John Lesinski, Mrs. Martha Griffiths and Williams Bromfield.

Both Michigan senators, Pat McNamara and Philip Hart, have favored the bill.

Why not drop one of them a line if you feel as we do.

They're Doing It Again

Magazine selling via telephone got started in town again last week.

It seems to be much the old story — almost every name in the phonebook is called and residents are told they'll get a couple of four-year subscriptions free, if they'll sign up for two others.

All this for 25c a week over a 24-month period.

Of course, this "something for nothing" really doesn't happen. You actually pay for all four magazines, which ever way you slice it.

The Toledo man, E. F. Dantuma, who is operating the office here says it might be a permanent operation, but we doubt it. He worked Adrian, Milan and Blissfield, signing up about 600 customers and promptly closed down there, except for one woman in Adrian.

He has hired six local ladies in Tecumseh to do the phoning from a rented office above the D&C Store.

Mr. Dantuma is operating legally here, that is he was given a permit to solicit for a $5 fee at city hall. He did not, however, get approval from the Chamber of Commerce.

The Herald has received several calls about this solicitation, one where two older women had said "yes" on the phone, then decided they didn't want to sign after all and they were frightened.

We assured the caller there was nothing to fear, merely to tell the man who would visit them to sign the contract that they did not want the magazines.

There's always his danger with high-pressure selling and one of the reasons we are continually skeptical of this type operation.

It might be well if city hall became more strict in issuance of selling permits.

Singers 'Having Wonderful Time'

The Michigan Corale is nearing completion of its South American tour and will return to Michigan August 15.

Dennis Bryan, senior and star athlete at Tecumseh High School, is a member of the group currently visiting our southern neighbors.

The group of 69 high school choristers from 38 cities in Michigan are on a six-weeks tour of seven Latin American countries. They arrived there July 1.

They are singing to capacity crowds everywhere and pleasing them with encore after encore.

They sang before 20,000 in Bogota, Columbia.

Programs have been presented in South American schools, music and opera centers, and on television, including the most popular TV show in South America.

☆

LEADING PERU newspapers followed the group's activities and reported:

"That the chorale members must have more than musical talent — scholarship, personality, leadership ability, etc.; and they represent 50,000 Michigan students."

"That many of them have earned part of their expense money for the trip."

"That the sole purpose of the Chorale concerts is to interpret North America and to create friendship and understanding."

"La Prensa" Peru newspaper, especially praised the quality of the music presented by the Chorale.

The program "is an excellent testimony of artistic education in the United States," wrote one fine-arts columnist. "It can serve as a stimulating example for modern education in Peru."

The Chorale's entirely serious program presented one Sunday evening included compositions by Bach and Beethoven, as well as several North American composers.

The folk music and numbers from Broadway musicals have been accepted enthusiastically.

The Chorale's director, Lester McCoy, has been highly acclaimed by the South American press as "one of the most outstanding directors in the middle west of the US."

☆

MEMBERS OF the Chorale have received gracious hospitality from the South American families with whom they have lived during the tour.

Chorale members told newspapermen that the feeling they had of arriving in a foreign country and not knowing who would be their "foster parents" for the week was a great experience they would never forget.

However, the crowd of "parents" at the airport quickly made them feel at home.

DENNIS BRYAN

Many families have come to Mrs. Rachel Anderson, director of the tour, to say that this is the first time they have entertained an American in their home and the first time that they have ever known an American teen-ager.

They claim they are much different from what they read about American teen-agers in the papers and how they are so sorry to have them leave.

As US citizens, these young people are excellent representatives who have given these people fine opinions of North American Youth.

☆

AT AN orphan home in Bogota, the Chorale sang for 650 children who receive their lunch through the CARE program.

The members were met by a school band of 10 members, norie over 12-years-old, who pleasantly surprised the group by playing the "Star Spangled Banner."

After the concert, the Chorale was given a return salute of gratitude by a group of seven young girls and their mandolins along with the sing-ng voices of the 650 homeless children.

Before leaving the "Amparodel Nino," in a spontaneous reaction, the Michigan Chorale collected some money which was turned over to the director of the home.

☆

THE CHORALE is part of the larger program known as Youth for Understanding, sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches and administered by the Ann Arbor — Washtenaw Council of Churches.

The program was begun nine years ago as a student-exchange plan between Michigan and Europe. Latin America is being included this year for the first time.

All arrangements for the Chorale members were made well in advance of their departure. Plans were completed through the cultural adjunct of the American embassies to secure private homes in which the students could live during their stay.

The Chorale will present a concert in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, Sept. 11. It will be a defray some of the extra expenses.

128 Are Killed on County Roads

Lenawee County, with an estimated registration of 35,337 motor vehicles, listed 128 deaths among the 8,159 fatalities suffered in Michigan during the past five years.

According to James M. Hare, chairman of the Michigan state safety commission, both rural and urban areas showed substantial increases in injuries and deaths last year.

Michigan State Police reports show that rural areas still account for seven out of 10 highway deaths, but show that injuries in city areas were up 14% last year to 9% for rural areas.

Crops Field Day Will Be Sept. 8

The Michigan State University Crops-Soils Field day, which highlights fall maturing crops this year, is to be Sept. 8 on the MSU campus at East Lansing.

Late research in crops and soils has top billing on the field day program. At stops on tours of research plots, scientists who are doing studies will point out some of the results and tell what these may mean to farmers.

Starting time for farm tours is 9:30 a.m. on the crops and soils research farm.

Study Plan for Dump — No Garbage

A new approach to the continuing city dump problem is being considered by council.

It would:

1. Prohibit garbage at the dump.

2. Put the city back in charge of the dump and eventually have city trucks pick up trash at all community residences.

This would be a long-range plan. Monday night, councilmen considered it in the form of a proposed ordinance offered by a special committee, which included Royal Welch, Merle Hoag, George McCombs, Ed Nelson and Cal Zorn.

Several councilmen said they would like time to study it thoroughly and the first reading was postponed until the next council session.

The city's contract with Herb Dillon, who has a franchise to care for the dump and run a trash and garbage pickup in the community, expires Oct. 1.

Council instructed City Manager Nelson to get bids from interested parties for a pickup of both garbage and trash, continuing the program "as is", and also on just the pick-up of either.

If the ordinance is approved, garbage would be prohibited from the dump beginning Oct. 1. It was pointed out that Tecumseh has one of the few dumps in Michigan which allows garbage.

Residents would then have several courses of action: subscribe to a straight garbage pickup, get a garbage disposal or take scrap food to a farm friends to feed the pigs.

An interesting paragraph in the proposed ordinance is that all new homes built in Tecumseh would have to be equipped with garbage disposal or incinerators. In older homes, installation will have to be made by Jan. 1, 1966.

☆

OUTSIDE SALES people "working" the town came under discussion as a result of the current magazine selling via telephone.

In order to sell in the area, solicitors must obtain a permit first from city hall. It costs $5.

City Manager Nelson asked councilmen if they wanted him to be more selective in issuing permits. The answer: yes.

Mr. Nelson stated that he now turns down most of the salesmen who venture into his office, many by merely mentioning the $5 fee.

☆

ANOTHER PROBLEM plaguing the city is the disabled bulldozer, which needs $1,972 worth of repair. The city bought it for $6,300 two years ago and has used it about 125 hours, mostly to maintain the dump.

Other uses have been to make land cuts for curb-and-gutter, sewers and bridge construction. However, it cannot move over city streets and must be transported on a trailer.

If the bulldozer is fixed, Mr. Nelson opinioned, it should be worth between $4,000 and $5,000.

Mr. Nelson was instructed to find how much the city could realize from the machine as its stands. If the dozer is sold, possibly something more useful, such as a swing loader, might be obtained.

☆

IN THE cash-paid-out department, council authorized the payments of $34,462.17 in general fund bills.

Included was $14,256, which goes to Eugene and Gabriella Kossey for property at 305 E. Chicago Blvd., which is immediately west of the city hall.

This land will probably be used for additional parking facilities in future years.

In the water operation and miscellaneous fund, $3,337.42 was paid out; in water and sewer special assessments, $15,066.79; and in sewage disposal sinking fund, $16,763.11.

☆

MONEY ALSO got attention in the construction cost of the new Maumee St. bridge, which will run about $700 over estimates in the present pier work, city engineer Cal Zorn said.

A storm sewer for the Russell Rd.-Mill Hwy. area was approved. It will be 15" in size, replacing the present 8"-inch line and going west to the bank of the River Raisin.

Mr. Nelson said that Russell Rd. will eventually extend eastward, through land owned by Bill Macke, from Mill to Roger Hwy. The new storm sewer will run along side of the proposed road.

☆

IN OTHER business Monday night:

1. A letter was read from the state highway commission, denying a request to pave over the New York Central tracks on S. Evans St., in the downtown area. Council asked Mr. Nelson to recheck on this matter.

2. A letter from the attorneys of Mrs. Paul Tressler, regarding a fall she suffered on a city sidewalk, was turned over to city attorney Jim Beardsley. Mrs. Tressler sustained a wrenched back, bruised knee and twisted ankle May 4 when she slipped in front of Marv's Market.

3. First reading of off-street parking ordinance was held. (It appears on pages 4 and 5 of this section.)

NEVER TOO OLD — John Calhoun, 90, was among the members of the Raisin Presbyterian Church who painted the church and manse in Holloway the past two Saturdays. Mr. Calhoun was found once during the day on top a 20-foot scaffold, but was quickly made to come down to steadier work on the ground floor. Mr. Calhoun has been active in the church for 70 years. Other pictures of the crew appear on page 2.

Morley Closes Gulf Station

Bud Morley closed the doors of his Gulf gasoline station on the corner of Evans and Logan Sts. Saturday evening.

Mr. Morley said there are no immediate plans to reopen the station at the present time.

The station was supplied by Camburn-McCord Oil Co. of Adrian, distributors of Gulf oil in Lenawee County.

Mr. Camburn said his company merely distributed Gulf products to the station and had nothing to do with the closing of the station.

Mr. Morley is negotiating to purchase another business in Tecumseh.

Melting Furnace Annual Re-Lining

Bruce Foundry will have its annual long-weekend so that the melting furnace can get its yearly re-line job.

Plant superintendent Jerry Larned and a five-man crew will begin Friday morning and should be finished Saturday night.

The 20-ton capacity furnace is a key piece of equipment in the local foundry. It stretches 40 feet, up through the center of the plant's roof.

Into it each work day go pig iron, cast iron scrap and coke to be simmered into hot liquid. Pouring from the furnace usually takes place from 1 until 3:30 p.m.

Each year, the furnace has to be re-finished inside, with eight-inch cupola blocks up the first four feet, topped with eight-inch fire bricks.

Products Purchases Ohio Firm

Tecumseh Products Co. has announced the purchase of all the outstanding stock of Ohio Semiconductors, Inc., Columbus, O. Announcement was made in a joint statement issued by R. W. Herrick, chairman of the board of Tecumseh and Dr. W. E. Bulman, president of Ohio Semiconductors.

Ohio Semiconductors, Inc. will operate as a division of Tecumseh Products.

It has been engaged in the challenging and rapidly advancing field of solid state electronics.

The company is a leading pioneer in the art of producing high-mobility compound semiconductors.

This company has been actively engaged for many years in the development of thermoelectric components and devices.

Mr. Herrick pointed out that the entire scientific and technical personnel, headed by Dr. Bulman, will continue in their present positions.

He pointed out that this is another phase in the diversification program that Tecumseh Products has been developing over a period of years.

Sidewalk Sale Will Be 'Beat'

Friday, Sept. 2 is the day to mark on your calendar — the day of the third annual Sidewalk Sale.

The gala event will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through 9 p.m. as merchants move their stock out along the sidewalks.

The downtown area will really look "beat" as the merchants and shoppers compete in their costumes for prizes as Tecumseh's "Beatest Beatnik." Gift certificates of $25, $15, and $10 will be awarded to the best dressed beatnik shoppers in town. Merchants will compete for a $10 and two $5 prizes.

The event, sponsored by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce, is being chairmaned this year by Don Hicks and Bill Wright.

Beach Brothers has already announced a special feature for the day. They will offer free rides for the kids in a sulky driven by a pony, in a power-driven cart and also an electric golf cart.

The Herald will sell glossy prints of pictures which appeared in the paper during 1959-'60 at 10c apiece.

Gay streamers will flutter throughout the area and music will be piped into the business district all day long as was done the past two years.

An Hawaiian theme was used last summer with leis and all the trimmings. A "Paris Cafe" was set up in front of Don's Grill and Les Proctor, dressed in a clown outfit, tried to guess shoppers' weight.

The first event, staged two two years ago, saw the merchants dressed in bizarre outfits and a special concert presented by the "10 Little Indians."

Many people have commented that such events give them an opportunity to meet many friends they have not seen in months.

The merchants have shown enthusiasm in the past for the event and this year looks like it will be another successful event.

He's Still Spry at 90

An open house will be held Sunday between 2 and 5 p.m. for John Calhoun at the home of his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Calhoun on Rogers Hwy.

Mr. Calhoun will be observing his 90th birthday.

Spending his entire life in the Holloway area, Mr. Calhoun is still active in community and farm activities.

Mr. Calhoun has helped his son with all of this year's farm work except the bailing of straw and hay. He has cultivated 165 acres of corn and beans, part of which belonged to his neighbors.

This work didn't prevent Mr. Calhoun from caring for his big, lovely garden and helping with the up-keep of the two farms.

Mr. Calhoun helped paint the Holloway manse and church. He has been a regular member of the church for the past 70 years.

Mr. Calhoun has never in his life been confined to a hospital and he is very thankful to the Good Lord for his excellent health which permits him to keep active in all phases of life.

The family requests the omission of gifts.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

This is just for men between 30 and 49.

There's a game called blooper ball, which, if you haven't already, you probably should look into.

One glance might convince you to return to your favorite chair and an evening watching television. I wouldn't blame you.

Then, again, seeing a group of maniacs, in your age group, prancing around the town's softball diamond looking like a bunch of high school sophomores, might prompt you to join the fun.

Again, we wouldn't condone you for pulling on your old sneakers and become part of the action. Several of us at The Herald have done this and we have the sprained backs to prove it.

Now, blooper ball is the old man's version of softball. It's all nicely trimmed down to make it easy on the combatants. The ball is mushy, about half again as big as a regular softball. One doesn't throw this thing; it's more like putting the shot.

There's no leading off base, no stealing, no sliding.

Still, they haven't come up with any substitute for taking off down the first base line on a dead run after hitting a dinky roller towards the third baseman.

Ask Harvey Creger, right fielder for the American Legion blooper crew, about that.

There's slow pitching in this zany game.

The ball must follow an arc, which rises at least above the height of the batter. In doing this, if a pitch isn't swung at and lands within a small chalked oblong that includes home plate, it's a strike. Outside the zone, it's a ball.

Crafty old blooper pitchers find that the higher they throw the ball, the harder it is to hit. The high offerings are also the most difficult to drop down onto home.

In essence, the ball appears to hang for a fleeting fraction of a second at hitting level. From the time the mushy sphere leaves the hurler's hand until it comes within striking range of the batter is often a considerable time—by normal pitching standards.

The man with the bat becomes impatient and fidgety. When he is able to swing, he does so with such force the result usually is a wild cut and the wrenching out of place of two or three vertebrae.

More often than not, if wood meets ball the "blow" is a lusty bounder which goes almost as far as the pitcher's box, or is a bilious popup which hardly disturbs the padding in the first baseman's glove as he casually extracts the ball from the air.

Carson House can give you the vivid details on the hitting phrase of the game.

The rule makers have slowed blooper ball as much as possible, but there still is a lot of running and many a throbbing muscle the day after battle.

In the blooper league here, one comes across some real diamond rarities.

For instance, performing as playing-manager of the Indian Acres agregation is the only left-handed shortstop in captivity. He's Duncan Lectka, who, while not playing blooper ball, is a school teacher and coach.

Dunc also runs the summer recreation program and tells us that the four-team bloop loop is going to have a post-season playoff—apparently the fellows complaining they want a few more chances to boost their sagging batting averages before snow flies.

Men will be boys, I guess.

Football Physicals

Physical exams for all football candidates will be given Monday, Aug. 22, at 10 a.m. at the high school under the auspices of local physicians.

All players are required to successfully pass the physical before participating in the fall football program.

Dunc Lectka, football coach, said this would be the only time physicals would be given and anyone not at the school Monday would have to arrange a physical at his own expense.

The gridders will begin practice Monday, Aug. 29 at 9 a.m.

Plane Fails in Take-Off

Ralph I. Westgate, 53, of 212 E. Kilbuck St., is improving at his home after the plane he was piloting crashed near Addison Friday.

Mr. Westgate was taking off from the Tri-County Airport two miles north of Addison on US-127. The engine failed after the plane had reached the altitude of about 150 feet. State police said the failure was probably due to caburetor trouble.

Three trees were clipped by the plane's wings as it neared the ground. The landing gear and the wings were damaged by the crash.

Mr. Westgate was flying a single engine 1946 Aeronica owned by the Tecumseh Flying Club.

He suffered a concussion and deep cuts on the head. He was taken to the Addison hospital where he was released 24 hours later.

Adding Over 100 New Employees

Clinton Engines Corp. is in the process of adding more than 100 new employees to its payroll.

But if you're looking for work, don't rush to Clinton.

All jobs are being filled from previous applications.

Nearly 50 newcomers have started work this month.

Laid-off men in the die cast department had previously been called back, explained H. I. Fowler, industrial relations manager.

The new jobs are a result of centering all two-cycle engine operations at the Clinton plant, work formerly handled in the firm's Iowa branch.

KATHY TRESSLER POSES WITH ONE OF THE BIKES TO BE GIVEN

Want To Win Bike?

Youngsters in the Tecumseh area are going to have the opportunity to earn new bicycles.

They're being given as premiums for selling new subscriptions to The Herald.

The bikes will be 26" in size, deluxe, either in girl's or boy's models. They're being obtained from Gamble's and Western Auto stores in Tecumseh.

This is not a contest. A bike will go to every youngster who qualifies by selling 15 new subscriptions.

The campaign, which is now open, continues for a limited time.

All boys and girls who would like to earn a bike should come to The Herald office, which is at 117 S. Evans St., across from the fire station.

The Earn-A-Bike circulation promotion has been worked successfully within the past two years by weekly newspapers all over the nation. In one instsance, 1,500 new subscribers for one paper were signed by zealous young salesmen.

There will be no age limits and each boy and girl taking part must have their mother's or dad's signature on a special "Parent's Permission" form, which they can obtain at The Herald.

Salesmen will be given ID forms, which introduce them to prospective customers and explain the campaign.

The effort has been given approval by the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

Parents who might have questions are invited to call 476 or 733.

Teacher Needed for Languages

Tecumseh High School is in search of a French and English teacher with an A.B. degree and a major in either field. Interested persons should contact N. L. Hart, high school principal. Mrs. Vaugh Rathbun, present teacher, resigned this week because her husband has been transfered to Indiana.

Window Shatters When Stone Is Hurled by Mower

Wouldn't you be surprised to sit in your home and suddenly hear the shatter of glass and see a window break for no apparent reason? This is what happened to Janet Bilby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby of 8464 N. Adrian Rd.

Here's what happened. Across the road from their farm, the county road commission was mowing the roadside with a rotary mower. The mower picked up a small stone and hurled it about 225 feet into the four by four foot window.

Through My Window

THE WELCOMING HOME COMMITTEE

Having heard so many tales about people coming home from vacations and finding that their bird feeder patrons had left them, we decided to at least try to avoid such a situation.

Ida kept our feeder full and it worked.

(Apparently the birds and squirrels didn't even know we were gone—more likely they didn't care whether we were here or not, just as long as the food remained plentiful.)

Our first day home, when Mom opened the drapes, what a sight. Busily enjoying breakfast were five young bluejays. Quite a trayful.

Beautifully marked, their feathers so new and vividly bright, the youngsters were still so young that their necks were quite scrawny looking and just the slightest hint of their top knots showed. What a welcoming home committee.

As well rehearsed and carefully instructed committeemen should, the jays kept us well entertained all day. As far as that goes, they still are our star daily performers.

It often seems that our west facing window picture is alive with the young jays. Three or four on the feeder at once is commonplace.

Occasionally five are there, but to have six, as we did that first morning, is indeed a rare treat.

☆

JUST AS WITH human babies, there is so much to this business of growing up for the young birds to learn.

Eating, for example—it's so easy when a fond parent pokes food into those always squawking redlined mouths, but when it's "shift for yourself", that's a different proposition.

Scratch feed can be picked up quite easily, but learning to crack corn and sunflower seeds is slow, hard work.

It takes some time to master the knack of holding the kernel or seed with feet, which sometimes seem a little large, and then bringing that black bill down with enough force in the exact spot to crack open those hard shells.

However, they practice with such intense concentration that soon their awkwardness vanishes.

It goes too soon to suit us because their learning period is great fun to watch.

Just the other day one of the youngsters, after having worked terribly hard at getting a sunflower seed held firmly against the railing on the feeder, pulled his head up, took aim, but instead of hitting the seed, overbalanced himself and fell off. Really he tried so hard that he just simply tipped over.

How embarrassing.

☆

ANOTHER TIME we watched a youngster whom we though was doing quite well. Time after time he twisted kernels or corn from the cob, took them (one at a time, of course) across the feeder and successfully cracked them open.

Suddenly something went wrong, the corn slipped out and fell to the ground. As he cocked his head way over and looked at the speck of yellow which was now in the grass—well, it is just hard to believe what a tragic soul-full looking blue jay we had.

His self-confidence was completely shattered and, were it possible, I am sure it would have been with tears in his eyes that he flew away. There was half an ear of corn left, but he was not about to try again.

☆

BUT THE funniest thing involved two blue jays, one eating sunflower seeds, the other corn. They were opening their snacks on the rail closet to the window and very politely facing us.

Although standing close together we thought they were not noticing or paying attention to what the other was doing until the corn eater, with a tightning fast movement, reached over and helped himself to the seed which his brother had just opened.

It was such a neat bit of thievery that the victimized bird didn't even get mad, he just looked shocked and surprised.

So it is that since being home we have had great fun with the young blue jays.

What's with the Mourning Doves?

THERE WAS MUCH TO DO AND MANY TO DO IT

They All Grabbed A Paint Brush

There's nothing like a do-it-yourself project, especially when it comes to a paint job. That's what the members of the Raisin Presbyterian Church are saying after undertaking the job of painting their church and manse the past two Saturdays. They estimate they have saved $500 on the church and $300 on the manse by painting themselves. Eighteen gallons of paint were used the first week to paint the church. Members worked from 7:30 to 5 the first Saturday and last week they were busy from 8-5. Wives of the crew prepared a man-sized meal the first week of chicken and the second of ham to fill the hungry painters. Three gals also worked with the paint brushes. Because they did not have equipment, the members hired the church steeple painted for about $50. Rev. Pelly is serving the church as pastor.

The painting crew included Gail Austin, Matthew Lunn, Jim Lunn, Max Minnick, Robert German, William German, E. R. Fairbanks, Robert DeGroot, Richard Galloway, Lyle Calhoun, John Calhoun, Elwyn Green, Leslie Calhoun, Lawrence Kopke, Kenneth Kopke, Roy Cadmus, Floyd Judson, Rev. William Pelly, Claude Walters, Rogers Richards, Donald Myers, Jill and Joyce Bennington and Mrs. Ethel Richards. 4. Mr. Nelson was authorized to start leveling work on off-street parking areas owned by Baldwin Hardware and Des Ermia Furniture behind these stores, as soon as legal work leasing land to the city is completed. A tree will be taken out, old fence and post removed and the ground leveled. Later, this area will be hard-topped.

5. Sewer and water lines were reported completed along Shady Lane.

6. Councilmen warned police chief George Kilbourn to crack down on motorists who drive up to the stop light at the main four corners in the left turn lanes, then proceed straight across.

7. Chief Kilbourn reported that since all traffic lights (other than at four corners) are in operation until 11 p.m., it has slowed down truck traffic and cut "drag racing."

8. The possibility of a cover for the city swimming pool, keeping it in use for nine months, was considered briefly. Mr. Nelson said school officials would staff physical education classes, but maintenance would fall to the city. The cost: $10,000. General agreement was the city couldn't afford this expense.

9. Next council meeting was set for Tuesday, Sept. 6, since the first Monday of the month falls on Labor Day.

An ordinance authorizing the establishment of an automobile parking system for the City of Tecumseh; authorizing the acquisition, construction and improvement of two new Municipal parking lots; authorizing the issue of self-liquidating revenue bonds to pay the cost thereof; providing for the retirement of said bonds from the revenues of said automobile parking system; creating a statutory lien on such revenues; and providing for other matters relative to said bonds. AND WHEREAS, the City has heretofore established on its public streets in said business area parking meters for the purpose of controlling, regulating and limiting the time for use of parking on said streets, which gives rise to the immediate necessity of supplementing said controlled street parking by providing additional publicly owned off-street parking facilities;

AND WHEREAS, the revenues and income derived from the street parking charges lawfully established in said areas and the revenues and income derived from the off-street parking lots now owned by the City are not specifically allocated or pledged, but should properly be used to apply on the cost of providing parking in said City on additional publicly owned off-street facilities in order to make effective the control and regulation of the entire problem of parking in the business area;

AND WHEREAS, to effectuate and properly regulate and control parking in said business area and provide the necessary facilities to make such regulation and control effective, it is necessary and expedient that automobile parking facilities owned and operated by the City of Tecumseh including specifically all street parking spaces where parking meters are now located or are hereafter located, the existing off-street parking lots now owned by the City, and the new municipal parking lots to be acquired, improved and constructed and any other parking facilities hereinafter acquired and, for the use of which facilities fees or charges are made, be combined into a single automobile parking system to be known as "CITY OF TECUMSEH AUTOMOBILE PARKING SYSTEM," in order to facilate the financing of the cost of acquiring, improving and constructing the new additional off-street parking lots, all of which are needed to effectuate the proper control and regulation of parking in said City;

Provided, However, that the statutory lien upon said revenues shall not be construed to give the holder or holders of any bonds or coupons authority to compel the sale of the said System.

If there be any default in the payment of the principal of or interest upon any of said bonds, any court having jurisdiction in any proper action may appoint a receiver to administer and operate said System on behalf of the City and under the direction of said court, and by and with approval of said court, to perform all of the duties of the officers or agencies of said City more particularly set forth herein and in Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

The holder or holders of any such bonds or any coupons therefrom shall have all other rights and remedies given by said Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, for the collection and enforcement of said bonds and the security therefor.

From moneys on hand on October 1, 1960, derived from on-street parking or the existing off-street lots, there shall be placed in the Operation and Maintenance Fund on October 1, 1960, a sum sufficient to meet operation and maintenance costs of the System for the month beginning October 1, 1960.

(B) BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND:

There shall next be established and maintained a separate depositary account designated as the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, which shall be used solely and only for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on the bonds hereby authorized. The moneys in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund shall be kept on hand with the bank or trust company where the principal and interest on the bonds herein authorized are currently payable.

Out of the revenues remaining in the Receiving Fund after provision has been made for expenses of operation and maintenance of the System, there shall be set aside in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund each month, commencing October 1, 1960, a sum not less than one-ninth (1/9th) of the interest becoming due on July 1, 1961, and commencing July 1, 1961, during the first six months of each operating year not less than one-sixth (1/6th) of the interest becoming due on the following January 1st, and each month during the last six months of each operating year not less than one-sixth (1/6th) of the interest becoming due on the following July 1st. Commencing July 1, 1961, there shall be set aside during each month in said Fund, in addition to the interest requirements, not less than one-twelfth (1/12th) of the total amount of principal maturing on the bonds herein authorized on July 1st of the next succeeding operating year. If there shall be any deficiency in the amount previously required to be set aside, then the amount of such deficiency shall be added to the current requirement.

There is hereby established in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund a separate account to be known as the Bond Reserve Account into which, after making provision for the Operation and Maintenance Fund and the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, as aforesaid, there shall be paid in equal monthly installments, commencing October 1, 1960, the sum of Three Hundred ($300.00) Dollars during each month until there is accumulated in said Bond Reserve Account the sum of Six Thousand Six Hundred ($6,600.00) Dollars. The money in said Bond Reserve Account shall be used solely for the payment of principal and interest on the bonds herein authorized to be issued as to which there would otherwise be default. If at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in the Bond Reserve Account for such payment, then the money so used shall be replaced from the net revenue first received thereafter which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for operation and maintenance, or for current principal and interest requirements: Provided, However, that such Bond Reserve Account shall not be regarded as moneys otherwise appropriated or pledged for the purpose of determining the sufficiency of funds available for redemption of callable bonds.

No further payments need to be made into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund after enough of the bonds have been retired so that the amount then held in said Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) is equal to the entire amount of principal and interest which will be payable at the time of maturity of all the bonds then remaining outstanding. In any case where moneys may be used instead to purchase bonds on the open market at the best price or prices obtainable, but not in excess of the then redemption price.

(C) REPLACEMENT FUND:

There shall next be established and maintained a separate depositary account known as the Replacement Fund, which shall be used solely for the purpose of making major repairs and replacements to the System and the facilities thereof. There shall be paid into said Fund, after making provision for the Operation and Maintenance Fund, the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and the Bond Reserve Account, the sum of Fifty ($50.00) Dollars, in equal monthly installments commencing January 1, 1962, until there is accumulated in said Replacement Fund the sum of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars. If at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in said Fund for such purpose, the moneys so used shall be replaced from the net revenues in the Receiving Fund which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for the Operation and Maintenance Fund, or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account), at such time as moneys in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) and the Replacement Fund are equal to the entire amount of principal and interest payable at maturity of all bonds then remaining outstanding, said moneys in the Replacement Fund shall be transferred into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and used for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on said bonds remaining outstanding.

(D) IMPROVEMENT FUND:

Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, there may be set aside in any month, after meeting the requirements for the foregoing funds for such month, in a fund to be designated Improvement Fund, such sum as the City Council may deem advisable, to be used for improvements, enlargements, extensions and repairs to the System.

(E) SURPLUS FUND:

Revenues remaining in said Receiving Fund at the end of any operating year after all periodical transfers have been made therefrom as above required, shall be deemed to be surplus and may be left in the Receiving Fund or may be transferred to a fund to be designated Surplus Fund. Moneys in said Surplus Fund from time to time may be transferred to one or more of the foregoing funds, or may be used for any purpose connected with the System; Provided, However, that if at any time there shall exist any default in making any periodical transfer to any of the above-mentioned funds, then such default shall be rectified so far as possible by the transfer of moneys from said Surplus Fund. If any such default shall exist as to more than one fund at any one time, then such transfers shall be made in the order in which such funds are listed above.

(F) MONEYS ON HAND ON OCTOBER 1 ,1960:

Moneys on hand on October 1, 1960, derived from charges for parking and not allocated for other use, shall be used for the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

First: A sum sufficient to meet operation and maintenance expenses for the month of October, 1960, shall be placed in the Operation and Maintenance Fund;

Second: The balance of said moneys so remaining shall be placed in the Receiving Fund.

Section 14. Said bonds shall be sold and the proceeds applied in accordance with the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Section 15. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be deposited in the United Savings Bank, Tecumseh, Michigan, a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and shall be used solely to pay the cost of acquiring and improving the said new municipal parking lots and the additional parking meters. Any unexpected balance of the proceeds of sale remaining may, in the discretion of the City Council and to the extent of fifteen (15%) per cent of the amount of the bonds hereinauthorized, be used for further improvements and extensions to the Automobile Parking System or the acquisition of additional facilities therefor; provided that, at the time of such expenditure, such use be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission. Any remaining balance after such expenditure, or in the event no such expenditure is made, the entire unexpended balance shall be paid into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and used for the redemption of callable bonds or for the purchase of bonds on the open market. Any proceeds of sale of said bonds may be invested in whole or in part in the manner provided in Section 24 of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Section 16. The City of Tecumseh covenants and agrees with the successive holders of the bonds and coupons that so long as any of the bonds remain outstanding and unpaid as to either principal or interest:

(a) The City will maintain the System in good repair and working order and will operate the same efficiently and will faithfully and punctually perform all duties with reference to the System required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Michigan, including the making and collection of sufficient rates for parking and the segregation and application of the revenues of the System in the manner provided in this Ordinance. The City will, from time to time, make all needful and proper repairs, replacements, additions and betterments in the equipment and facilities of the System, so that it may at all times be operated properly and advantageously, and whenever any parking meter or any other equipment or facility of the System shall have been worn out, destroyed or otherwise unfit for proper use, it shall be promptly replaced or repaired, so that the value and efficiency of the System shall at all times be fully maintained and its revenue unimpaired by reason thereof. The City will maintain and enforce parking regulations on its public streets and the municipal parking lots of the System and for that purpose will maintain, amend or adopt the necessary penal ordinance or ordinances to permit such enforcement.

(b) The City will maintain and keep proper books of record and account, separate from all other records and accounts, in which shall be made full and correct entries of all transactions relating to the System. Not later than three (3) months after the close of each operating year, the City Council will cause to be prepared, on forms furnished by the Municipal Finance Commission, if such forms be available, a statement in reasonable detail, sworn to by its chief accounting officer, setting forth the cash income and disbursements of the System during the operating year, and such other information as may be necessary to enable any taxpayer of the City, user of the service furnished, or any holder or owner of the bonds, or anyone acting in their behalf to be fully informed as to all matters pertaining to the financial operation of the System during such year. A certified copy of such statement shall be filed with the Municipal Finance Commission and such statement and books of record and account shall, at all reasonable times, be open to inspection by any taxpayer of the City, user of the service, or holder or holders of any bonds, or anyone acting in their behalf. A copy of such statement shall be sent to the manager of the syndicate or account purchasing the bonds. The City Council will also cause an annual audit of such books of record and account for the preceding operating year to be made by a recognized independent certified public accountant, and will require that the auditor furnish a copy of such audit to the manager of the syndicate or account purchasing the bonds.

(c) The City will maintain and carry sufficient public liability and property damage insurance covering the operation of its various parking lots and facilities to protect the System against substantial loss or damage.

(d) The City will not sell, lease or dispose of the System or any substantial part thereof until all of the bonds have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest. The City will maintain and operate the System and all its component parts, including parking meters and facilities and other equipment and facilities in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance until all of the bonds have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest, and will take no action in relation to such System which would unfavorably affect either the security of the bonds or the prompt payment of principal and interest thereon.

(e) The holders of the bonds from time to time shall be entitled to exercise all rights and powers that the provision is made in Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, including the right to apply for the appointment of a receiver for the System, in all respects as though said rights and powers were herein set out in full.

(f) The City agrees that during the time the bonds herein authorized are outstanding it will not reduce the number of on-street parking meters in said System below the number now installed, or to be installed, after purchase thereof from part of the proceeds of this bond issue, if such reduction would reduce the net revenues of the System below a sum equal to one hundred fifty (150%) per cent of the largest amount of principal and interest thereafter maturing in any fiscal year on all bonds then outstanding or authorized, which are payable from the net revenues of the System. Street parking meters will meter 177 parking spaces. Minor charges in the location of street meters may be made where necessary to facilate the flow of traffic if such changes will not materially reduce the gross revenues.

Section 17. The statutory lien on the revenues for which provision is made in Section 6 of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, is hereby recognized and created in favor of the holders of the bonds and the interest coupons pertaining thereto. Such lien shall continue in existence until the payment in full of principal of and interest on the bonds and may be enforced in the manner for which provision is made in Section 9 of Act 94, aforesaid.

Section 18. The City shall have the right to issue additional bonds payable from the net revenues of the System for the purpose of making other and additional improvements, enlargements and extensions to the System, which bonds when issued shall have equal standing with the bonds herein authorized. Provided, that no such additional bonds of equal standing shall be issued unless the average net revenues for the then last two (2) preceding operating years or the net revenues for the then last preceding operating year, whichever shall be the lower, shall be equal to at least one hundred fifty (150%) per cent of the largest amount of principal and interest thereafter maturing in any operating year on any bonds then outstanding payable from the revenues of the System, and on such additional bonds then being issued. No such additional bonds shall be issued if the City shall then be in default in making any payments to the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund.

Permission of the Municipal Finance Commisison (or such other Commission as shall have jurisdiction over the issuance of municipal bonds) to issue such additional bonds shall constitute a conclusive presumption of the existence of conditions permitting the issuance thereof.

Section 19. Said bonds shall be in substantially the following form:

Potatoes Need Proper Ventilation

Too much condensation in potato storage in winter usually usually means not enough ventilation or insulation.

Potatoes give off moisture, heat and some carbon dioxide in storage, says John W. Comstock, County Extension Agent. Storage temperatures around 25 to 40 degrees F. will slow down this process, but excess moisture still needs to be removed to provide the best storage atmosphere.

Al Rippen, food scientist at MSU, points out that potatoes need from 85 to 90 per cent relative humidity to prevent excessive shrinkage in storage, but without proper ventilation, the humidity might rise as high as 98 per cent and cause too much condensation.

Most of the trouble comes in midwinter when the operator shuts the storage up tight to prevent heat loss. Humidity of 98 per cent and resulting condensation moisture lower potato quality. Some ventilation is needed to get part of the wet air out of the storage room even in the coldest weather.

MSU agricultural engineers have devised a relatively simple system of electric switches and magnetic relays for automatic control of the ventilation problem during the potato holding period. This system can be set to provide any desired combination of temperature and humidity.

For full details, see your local county extension agent, or write directly to the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Herd Lists Will Aid Local Dairy Farmers

Lenawee county dairymen looking for replacements or additions to their herds may be able to save some time and travel by checking a list of available animals at the Lenawee County extension office.

Donald L. Murray, extension dairy specialist at MSU distributes the list each month to county extension offices, dairy herd improvement association supervisors and Michigan Artificial Breeders cooperative inseminators. It is based on information submitted by DHIA supervisors the previous month.

The list includes name and address of the herd owner, herd average production to the nearest 50 pounds, type of breeding, class of animals available, age of cows and whether or not the heifers are vaccinated.

As Michigan has excellent dairy herds, its the aim of the extension service is to help potential buyers locate their needs and herd owners with production records to market their surplus animals, according to Murray.

Tecumseh High Band Will March in Adrian Parade

The 95-piece Tecumseh High School Marching Band will meet for their first practice session Monday, Aug. 29, from 7-8:45 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

No instruments will be used at this session, but uniforms will be issued during the evening.

This week of practice before school begins is to prepare the band for the Labor Day Parade in Adrian and for the marching events of the football season to follow.

All members are more than urged to attend each practice.

New members of the band, will need a white shirt, long black tie, black socks and black shoes in addition to their issued uniforms.

DUNC AND ANN LECTKA MAKE IT LIKE FATHER — LIKE DAUGHTER ON THE COURTS

Lectka Is Still Champ

Duncan Lectka became a two-time tennis champion last week as he defeated Jim Whitecotton in straight sets, 6-1 and 6-0, in the Senior Men's City Tournament.

Mr. Whitecotton was a surprise finalist as he had to be persuaded to enter the tourney but upset the dopesters with his steady play. The lack of experience was a great factor in his loss to Lectka.

The senior men's doubles advanced in the second round as Lectka and Wraight defeated Dabe and Drummond, Montague and Prettyman defeated Whitecotton and Cook, and Gresham and Curtis defeated Tuckey and Woodward.

This portion of tourney play is expected to reach completion this week making way for the Tecumseh Men's Invitational Tournament beginning Monday, Aug. 22. Ira Montague is in charge of the event being sponsored by the recreation department.

The Jr. Girls Tournament was decided two weeks ago as Ann Lectka defeated Sue Fuller.

There was a good tournout for the tennis contests this summer as 18 were entered in the Sr. Men's Tournament, 16 in the Doubles Tournament, and eight in the Jr. Girls Tournament.

Mrs. Frank Rice won first prize at the bridge tables in the afternoon. Second prize went to Mrs. R. G. Anderson. Table prizes were awarded Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw and Mrs. L. M. Hubbard.

Culligan soft water helps clothes wear up to 33% longer!

Washing clothes in your hard water is murder to all fabrics. Here's why. Hard water curd gets into the fibers and dries, becoming brittle. Then the fibers break and clothes "wear out" faster. IN SOFT WATER NO CURD CAN FORM. Soft water washes clothes whiter, cleaner, faster, and they wear up to 33⅓ longer.

Try Culligan soft water for 2 weeks FREE!

Try it from your own faucets for all your laundry, dishes, bathing and cooking at no cost or obligation. Then, if you choose to become one of our regular customers, the cost is plus modest original installation cost.
AS LOW AS $3.25 PER MONTH

CHEVROLET

"These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck...but not our Chevy"

Few trucks are subjected to the body-wracking beatings that are part of a day's work for this Chevrolet Series 60 pulpwood hauler. It's owned by J. E. Fox, North Carolina logging contractor. As Bobby Fox, a partner in the business says, "Loaded with pulpwood, we drive over stumps and potholes you'd think would tear the truck to pieces. These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck, but not our Chevy. We can average an extra load a day . . . make $45 to $50 a day more with this Chevy than we can with the others."

In every weight class these Chevies are doing more work at less expense than trucks have ever done before. Drive one at your Chevrolet dealer's. It's an experience that could pay you big dividends.

◀ "That 6-cylinder engine really performs," says Bobby Fox. "It's got the lugging power we need in the woods and walks right along with a full load on the highway."

This week they are showing at the Lenawee County Fair and next week they will attend the conference in Iowa.

Following this show, they will return for the Michigan State Fair and from here will begin a Southern show circuit.

The best cattle on the farm are raised for breeders and the remaining raised or sold as steers. Breeding stock is sold primarily to other Hereford breeders. As much as $3000 might be paid for one good sire.

Mr. Guiles, who is in his second year as manager of Broadview Farms, says that it is only one of the specialized farms in the Tecumseh area.

Although Broadview's specialty is Hereford breeding, they also raise cash crops and about 600 hogs a year.

The farm is located on Pennington Rd. between Tecumseh and Macon.

Owner of the 978-acre farm is Richard Earhart of Ann Arbor. The land was formerly a part of the Henry Ford property and was purchased in 1948. There are six farm houses on the property.

Ready for the County Fair.

Final fair plans were made at the regular meeting of the Lanning Wolverines 4-H club last Tuesday.

Several members showed their finished entomology display cases at the meeting.

The members made final arrangements for the cookie sale which was held last Friday. Posters for the sale and for the Sunday Bar-B-Que at the fairgrounds were made following the formal meeting led by Tom Feight.

News items from newspapers and magazines about insects were clipped for use in their 4-H report blanks.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Feight. The September meeting time and place will be announced later.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Strive For Excellence

In Richard Nixon's acceptance speech before the Republican convention in Chicago last month, he said that keeping our nation free meant, among other things, "our students striving for excellence rather than adjusting to mediocrity."

The important thing is not who said it, but the realization by the nation's leaders that American students are not using their academic potential.

Most American students today are content to slide by with the least possible work for the highest possible reward. In fact, high grades are snubbed by students who would rather be a popular well-rounded individual without being an outstanding student.

Well-roundedness and adjustment have become ideals of the American culture and the "average" person the accepted standard.

What about the student who says, "I don't care as long as I get C's"? Our concern should not be so much with the grade as with the indifferent attitude. How far will the world progress with students who are willing to do only C-level work?

And what has happened to the student who would like to strive for excellence? Is he afraid he will be labeled a "brain" by his fellow classmates?

Higher education is growing more essential today, but many students are reluctant to strive for higher than the average. As a result, mediocrity has become the approved standard of the American student.

American students should not strive for excellence just to show that they can compete with the much-publicized Russian youth. They should want to learn for the sake of learning itself rather than any destinction or honor that they might attain.

The future of the world will not be decided by the mediocre student—or will it?

America needs outstanding youth who have knowledge and who are willing to seek for more knowledge—who realize that only by understanding the past and continually preparing themselves for the future can they help to make this nation safer for democracy.

Still Not For Us

Last week, in this section, we warned against the dangers of school districts accepting federal money through a newly proposed aid program.

We used the vocational agriculture setup as an example. In doing so, we intended no reflection on the way the program is conducted on the local level.

Paul Burns, Tecumseh ag teacher, hastened to point out inaccuracies in several statements.

1. We said the federal government pays 25% of the ag teacher's salary. This is wrong, it's actually 43%.

2. We said he is not allowed to instruct in other subjects. Ag instructors can teach other courses, he corrected, if they have the time and the board will pay for this.

Mr. Burns says he taught science his first three years in Tecumseh, until the ag program was built to a full-time operation. In the past seven years he has only handled ag.

3. We said the government tells him what he must teach. Paul states that, "so long as it is ag, the teacher and the school board has full control over what he teaches." Thus, local needs are more efficiently met.

We still feel the same towards this federal aid bill. In the long run it will touch every local pocketbook and in the trip from Tecumseh to Washington and back, a goodly percentage will probably dribble out along the wayside.

Four Selected to Attend GOP Convention

Four area men have been chosen delegates to the state GOP convention in Detroit Aug. 27.

Karl Schneider and Charles Trickey will attend the meeting as representatives of Tecumseh and Tecumseh Township. Leslie Calhoun and Mills Swick will represent Franklin, Ridgeway, Raisin, and Macon Townships.

Twenty delegates will attend the GOP gathering from Lenawee County.

MRS. CHESTER BEACH PREPARES PICNIC MEAL

What's Cookin'

Potato Salad

By JULIA BOYCE

Summer is not over yet, and there's still time to fix that cool dish of potato salad for the family.

Mrs. Chester Beach is our guest cook this week and is sharing with us her recipe for this delicious hot weather treat.

Her husband is the co-owner of Beach Brothers and they have two children, Karen (Mrs. Thomas Schultz), and a son, Jim, who plans to enter Kalamazoo College this fall.

They also have one granddaughter, 10 months old.

Mrs. Beach's hobbies include gardening, golfing, bowling, knitting and sewing.

She is a deacon of the First Presbyterian Church, a Past Matron of the Order of Eastern Star, a member of the Presbyterian Woman's Association and a member of the Hospital Auxiliary.

☆

HERE'S her recipe:

6 medium-sized potatoes
5 hard-boiled eggs
1 small onion
3 tsp. celery — dried
4 sweet pickles (don't chop too fine)

Cook potatoes in their jackets. Cool and peel.

Dice potatoes in uniform pieces. Add 3 eggs, onion, celery, and pickle.

Prepare the dressing as follows:

4 tbls. salad dressing
2 tsp. prepared mustard
3 tsp. sour cream
Salt and pepper

Add enough sweet pickle juice thinning to near the consistency of sour cream.

Add to potatoes and don't overmix.

Arrange remaining boiled eggs on top, petal fashion, and sprinkle with paprika.

Mrs. Beach adds that this dressing is also good on cabbage salad as well.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Don't Scream for Ice Cream

Doc Davis, the young dentist, moved into town only three months ago—but already he has a thriving business, especially with children.

I found the secret of his success when I stopped by Pop's Drugstore for a sandwich the other day. A small-fry walked in and handed a card to Pop.

Pop immediately went to the ice cream freezer. As he started scooping a cone, I asked him if I could see that card. It read: FOR GALLANTRY IN THE DENTIST'S CHAIR — ABOVE AND BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY — PLEASE PRESENT THE BEARER WITH A DOUBLE-SCOOP ICE CREAM CONE, ON ME. DOC DAVIS.

From where I sit, it's good when a man can deal with people through understanding. He's the sort of fellow who respects the preferences of others though they may differ from his own ... a tolerant man who offers his neighbor a glass of beer even though he, himself, may prefer lemonade. Take it from me, tolerance is the "painless" way to build a strong community.

Why The Big Smile?

That is easy! This young lady has just been reading a success story (her own) in the pages of her savings account book.

Months ago, the story started with her dream of a super-deluxe vacation trip. Fortunately, she didn't stop with dreaming, but took steps to make her dream come true.

First step was to open a savings account here. Then she set up and faithfully followed a program of every-pay-day saving. Her regular deposits plus compound interest now add up to "what it takes." In exactly the same way you can make your dream come true!

$65,000 Off-Street Parking Bonds OKed by Council

Tecumseh's downtown area is one step closer to 288 hard - topped, lighted, off - street parking places.

Council gave it official OK to a $65,000 bond issue for off-street parking at a special meeting Tuesday.

Bonds now can be sold, at less than 5% interest, in turn will be paid off from parking meter revenue over a period of approximately 15 years. No vote by citizens is necessary for such self - liquidating bond issues.

As soon as financing is arranged, work will begin on the off - street lots behind each of the main four downtown blocks probably next month.

Lots will be hard-topped, lighted, lined and directional signs spotted at strategic locations. All of the off-street lots will be metered.

Current revenue from parking meters is about $5,000 anually. This figure should triple when all 376 meters are in operation. This income, by law, must go to pay off the bonds and maintain city parking facilities.

Of the $65,000 needed for the project, $34,150 will go for several pieces of property in the Chicago-Ottawa - Logan - Evans block:

Mrs. Marjorie Verrier, 121 N. Ottawa St., home and land — $14,000.

Dr. C. N. Brodersen, garage and land (behind Brandt's Dime Store) — $6,300.

Charley Gilbert, two garages and land (behind Eggleston's Jewelry) — $3,700.

Ed Bixler Dance Studio 115 N. Ottawa St., land and building — $7,250. (Also, city to grant studio one year free rent.)

Mrs. Harry V. Tuckey, 119 N. Ottawa St., strip of land at back end of property. (Also, city will construct a low retaining wall on three sides of her land.)

Jiffy Mfg., N. Evans St., strip of land at rear of property — $1,700.

The city will also lease what are now parking lots owned and maintained by DesErmia Furniture and Baldwin's Hardware. The lots will be incorporated into the large city lot in that block.

An unofficial offer has been made to council to tear down all buildings on land the city is buying for $5 and all salvage rights.

Nothing has been done about this as yet.

TOM RIORDAN'S Long AND Short

Well, the big push is on.

Youthful salesmen are pounding the sidewalks, gravel roads and paths of this area in quest of a coveted prize—a brand new bicycle.

It's incidental to them, probably, what they have to sell to earn the bike.

Their product is this newspaper. Their goal is to sign 15 new subscribers.

When that total has been officially checked in at our office, the salesmen can claim his $49.95 bike.

First notice of the selling campaign was out late Wednesday afternoon as last week's paper went onto newstands around the area. Before dusk, a small army was ringing doorbells.

The rush really got going Thursday morning as youngster after youngster popped into the office to get authorization cards and receipt forms.

A shiny new model of the bike we're giving is on display here and the salesman, some as young as seven-years-old, trying to be all business, still stole covetted glances at the deluxe 26-incher.

Kids, of course, are the best sales people in the world—when they really have a goal to work for. The bike seems to fill the bill perfectly.

There have been a lot of cute things in conjunction with the campaign. One man called to see if the nine-year-old lad who sold him a subscription was authorized to sell.

Our office gals checked her records and said that he was.

"I was just wondering," the man said. "Because after he signed me up, he came back in 10 minutes and tried to sign me up again.

As you'll note, in a picture on this page, Ricky Hicks, an eight-year-old, earned the first bike—about 24 hours after the effort opened. You've never seen a more excited lad in your life as he stopped by Thursday afternoon to check in his 15 new subscriptions and take his bike.

His dad, Dick Hicks, who runs the D&C, was there too and his ear-to-ear grin was as wide as Rick's.

Dick did a little chauffering for Rickey as he moved around town in his all-out sales effort. The Hicks family car was being used by mother, so Dick borrowed one from his good friend, Skip Rex, who runs Western Auto.

We're getting bikes from both Western Auto and Gambles and it just happened the one we had in our office was a Hiawatha from Gambles.

Rickey was sitting on that one all the time his subscriptions were being checked in.

"May I ride it home?" he asked like a kid who knew Christmas was tomorrow.

When everything was finally official, I asked Rick to step over to my desk, extending my right hand, smiled and said, "Congratulations, you earned the first bike."

Nearly taking my hand with him, Rick spun around and leaped about "15 feet", onto the seat again and was gone.

His dad stood there beaming.

Later we had a real chuckle when Skip Rex stopped by.

"What a pal that Hicks is," he started, grinning as he spoke. "He uses my car to help his boy sell subscriptions and then he takes a bike from Gambles."

Everyone in the office howled.

We had another winner just at closing time Thursday and by Friday the kids were flooding in and out of the office, reporting sales and picking up additional blanks.

This is probably one of the best circulation campaigns going — certainly our youthful salesmen agree.

Jaycees Charcoal Broil Chicken

The Jaycees are planning to serve charcoal-broiled chicken on the sidewalk in cooperation with the sale September 2.

An executive board meeting was held Tuesday evening to complete the menu consisting of the chicken, cole slaw, potato chips, rolls, coffee, milk and cake.

The food will be served buffet style with tables for the diners set up on Ottawa St. next to Marv's market.

Record Milk Yield on Local Farm

Raynor Van Valkenburg of 7764 N. Adrian Road has two cows that gave a record amount of milk during the past year.

One, a three year old, gave 13,385 lbs. with 488 lbs. of butter fat.

The other classed as a mature cow gave 12,160 with 547 lbs. of butter fat.

School Opens September 6; 106 on Staff

By MARY SEAGER

Summer's almost over! School opens in less than two weeks — Sept. 6 — the day all children in the Tecumseh School District check in.

If the child attended school in Tecumseh last spring, he will already know his grade and school for this fall.

Parents of children new to the Tecumseh schools, who have not yet been enrolled, should see:

High school principal Neville Hart for grades 9-12.

Junior high principal David Dick for grades seven and eight.

Director of Elementary Education Earl Greene for kindergarten through sixth grade.

All of these men will be in their offices from Aug. 25.

☆

THE FACULTY of 106 includes 18 new members this year. They are:

Sally Baker — elementary.

Herbert Beck — junior high math.

Georgeann Finnegan — elementary.

Miles V. Cowdrey — elementary music.

Ronald Croll — high school English.

Ann DeCou — elementary.

Sally Jo Gibson — elementary.

Norma Howard — elementary.

Roger Koenke — junior high science.

Phyllis Kohr — elementary.

Mary Pat McCann — special education.

The faculty will have staff meetings on Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2.

To protect the school children's health, the staff is required to have complete physicals every other year and chest X-rays every year.

☆

EXTENSIVE remodeling has been done in the system during the summer.

All rooms in the high school building, which had not been painted since 1950, were re-decorated. The shop was also painted due to the fire this spring.

The State Fire Marshall required fire doors in many of the junior high rooms. Sixteen fire stop doors were added in rooms and openings onto the main corridors.

Sutton school was completely remodeled inside and out. It will be used for first grade and special education classes.

☆

BUS TRANSPORTATION will be the same as last year. Five buses were traded and five new ones purchased.

Further and more detailed information on bus schedules, opening times, enrollments and other pertinent items will be published in next week's paper.

'Back to School' Specials Shown in Beatnik Sale

Get out your costumes — the beatniks are moving into town.

Tecumseh's third annual Sidewalk Sale will feature a beatnik shopping area with your favorite merchants playing the role.

In fact, you might not be able to recognize them with those dark glasses on.

The event will take place next Friday, Sept. 2, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Don Murphy, Chamber Secretary, is chosing the anonymous judges for the contest.

There will be two judges for the merchants competing for the three gift certificates — a $10 and two $5 prizes. They will wander throughout the downtown area during the day looking for the "beatest" retailers.

You the shopper will have your chance too. Three gift certificates, $25, $15, and $10, will be awarded to the best costumed customers. Two judges will seek out these winners. Other details of this contest will be announced later.

The Sidewalk Sale will wind up the "Back to School" specials being offered this month by the local merchants. All new fall merchandise will be out for the shoppers.

This second special promotion of the summer is sponsored by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce.

They made a phone call home to tell his mother what time to meet their train in Ann Arbor.

After talking with his Mom, Billy said, "Grandma, you know, I'm not homesick, but I think I'm a little mothersick.

WHAT IS A PRESCRIPTION
It looks like an ordinary piece of paper with writing you can't read, to get medicines that seem expensive.
Actually, a prescription is a passport to better health. Physicians study about ten years to be able to write one. Pharmacists study about five years to learn how to compound them. Drug firms sometimes spend millions to perfect the drugs in them. The few dollars all this knowledge costs saves you sickness- time and sometimes your life.
YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Aquarama Cruise on Great Lakes Fun for Everyone

Everyone seems to have enjoyed their day on the Great Lakes last Thursday as they took part in the Tecumseh Community Day Cruise aboard the Aquarama.

Perfect weather was in order as the Tecumsehites, among some 1,700 passengers, made the trip to Cleveland and back.

The Tecumseh group was recognized during the day and the band added its salute with an Indian tune.

The day was spent doing just about anything — sunning, shuffleboard, dancing or just visiting. If you wanted to relax, you relaxed and if you wanted activities, there were many to chose from.

Highlights of the trip were the docking near the Municipal Stadium in Cleveland and the wonderful floor show in the evening.

Many found the ship even larger than they had anticipated. You can imagine the size, if by completely circling the nine decks, you can cover two miles.

Three of The Herald's crew made the trip, including Kim Dabe who, when not taking pictures, found time to meet the captain and have a personally-conducted tour of the ship. He was on the bridge, in the engine room — well, in fact, all over.

Everyone arrived home quite tired, but why not? They had been to Cleveland and back.

AT LEFT — Pasengers watch a steamer glide by as the big, ocean-going Aquarama makes its way across Lake Erie to the City of Cleveland. It was a fun trip on a fun ship, agreed Tecumseh residents who made the all-day cruise Thursday.

Clean Overcoats for Winter Season

By ROYAL WELCH

IF YOU DIDN'T HAVE YOUR OVERCOAT CLEANED LAST SPRING AND STORED DURING THE SUMMER IN A DUST-PROOF WRAPPING, YOU OUGHT TO HAVE IT CLEANED NOW.

First thing you know, there will be some cool weather and you'll start wearing it again.

And then you'll feel like you shouldn't let it go to the cleaners because you might have to do without it.

Well, there's a lot of "human nature" in this kind of behavior. But the fact is that a few of us buy overcoats yearly — overcoats being made to last . . . and last.

Bearing that fact in mind, remember that a garment which is cleaned often will outwear one that isn't, by a wide margin.

Your freshly cleaned overcoat will not only look better and feel better, it will wear better. Think of last year's grime still in the fabric, and all of last summer's dust added to that. And you'll get a good idea of how many "miles" or "hours" of reduced year it's threatened with.

And, if it's absolutely necessary that you have the overcoat back the same day — or in a few hours, we can arrange that too. We don't have "loaners" but ask for special service and we'll get it out as fast as human hands and (almost) super-human machines can do it.

So gather up last winter's duds, and any other clothes that need cleaning or spotting, put the bundle all together and BRING THEM TO

WELCH CLEANERS

Task Force Michigan

By TOM RIORDAN

Paul Bagwell is a man with definite ideas.

They all have to do with the day that he settles comfortably in the governor's chair — he hopes.

Candidate Bagwell was at the Lenawee County Fair Friday on an early campaign swing.

It offered an excellent opportunity for this writer to visit with the man who seeks to break a 10-year Democratic stranglehold on "that" chair.

There was a little evening repast at the 4-H building and as GOP hopeful Bagwell munched on a deviled ham sandwich the questions popped.

How can Mr. Bagwell get 100,000 new jobs for Michigan, as he hopes?

"First of all we would form a Task Force Michigan under direct control of the governor," he started.

It would be a small group, consisting of representatives from various key segments of Michigan life — industry, education, utilities.

The Task Force would make out-state junkets to such places as Schenectady, N.Y., to see top General Electric officials and find if more GE plants could be located in our state.

This, of course, would be a real hard-sell project.

An off-shoot of this would be the development of untapped potential industry within Michigan's boarders.

Here is a new twist, Mr. Bagwell explained, something on which he is still working out details.

Basically, it would encourage ideas and inventions by Michiganders. The results might be fashioned into bona fide products and eventually new manufacturing for the state.

Instead of pushing near-impossible roadblocks in the path of talent as it attempted to open new fields, the state would pave the way.

About a state income tax, do you favor it?

"I'm advocating that people vote for the 4% sales tax this fall."

He went on to elaborate that the additional one-cent-revenue per-dollar-spent in the state would bring in about $127 million next year, enough to erase past obligations, replenish the loses in the veteran's trust fund and get Michigan on its feet.

"As the general economy broadens, so would the tax base," he reasoned.

As to the income tax, it would be too costly to start, to operate — and come too late to pull the state from its current cash bind.

Mr. Bagwell predicted that if Michigan's legislature tarries in its obligations to the people, money conditions here will be even more critical than last year.

Campaigning seems to agree with the GOP candidate.

He looked trim and fit, seemed to enjoy every phase of his job. The day before he hit Lenawee County, he had been in the Midland-Bay City area.

"I worked the midnight shift at Chevrolet in Bay City," he grinned, "and established an all-time record — shook hands with 3,000."

The physical pace is grueling, probably would fag 99 out of 100 in a matter of days. But to Paul Bagwell, this is just the warm-up for a battle that will grow more intense in the weeks to come.

Republicans Meet

The Lenawee County Young Republicans Club will meet Thursday Aug. 25, at 8 p.m. in the Consumers Power Building, 2631 E. Maumee St., Adrian, Mich.

All interested young people between the ages of 18-35 are urged to attend.

Seventy-seven candidates turned out Monday morning for football physicals.

Coach Duncan Lectka hopes that 85 will be the final count for football hopefuls.

Practice will start Monday at 9 a.m.

For the first two days, sessions will be held three times daily at 9, 2, and 7.

This is aiming for the season's first game with Willow Run on Sept. 16.

The team will be bolstered by the return of 12 lettermen.

They are Bob Koffron, Jon Aho, Mike Green, Dennis Bryan, Dale Tuckey, Clarence Champanois, Tom Simmons, Ron Hathaway, Ray Sweet, Mike Robison, Larry Titley and Bob Fisher.

Bishop's Home Run Wins Blooper Game

Lonal Bishop played the role of hero Monday evening as his Indian Arces blooper ball team stopped Herrick Park, 7-5, in the opening round of the local league's playoff.

Bishop's tremendous home run over the left fielder's head in the eighth frame, with Dr. Bob Laidlaw aboard, broke a 5-5 tie.

Moments before Bishop had combined with Dr. Laidlaw to nip what might have been the winning run in Herrick Park's half of the seventh and sat the stage for the big blow.

Herrick Park's Preston Caswell opened the seventh with a single. Harold Brion also singled. There were two outs when Tom Brooks came through with a clutch blow to center field.

Caswell was off with the crack of the bat, rounded third and was pounding towards home. Dr. Laidlaw fielded the ball on the bounce and fired it to Bishop, who tagged out Caswell inches from the plate.

Ted Todd polled out four-for-four for the winners.

IN THE SECOND round, Tecumseh Acres disposed of the Eagles, 6-1, with John Snyder doing the big stickwork for the Acres.

In the third frame, Snyder lashed out a homer with two on for the game's key blow. He had three-for-three at the plate.

Bob Beevers and Bob Auten had two-for-three nights. Stu Costigan was the winning hurler.

For the losers, Gayle Fisher, Duane Creger and Poor all had two-for-three with the willow.

2 from City Win Prizes

Two Tecumseh residents scored in Pittsburgh Paint's recent $100,000 contest.

Bill Macbeth, 400 Outer Ct., won a Gruen watch.

Mrs. Robert Anderson, 606 W. Pottawatamie St., was awarded a bottle of My Sin perfume by Lanvin.

Contestants wrote why they liked Pittsburgh's Wallhide. Tecumseh winner got their entries from Baldwin's Hardware.

School Opens September 6

BRITTON — Superintendent Russ Spalding announces that opening of the Britton-Macon schools will be Sept. 2 with a teachers' conference at 9 a.m. and a bus drivers' meeting at 1:30 p.m.

Students will report Tuesday, Sept. 6 at 8:30 a.m. except for kindergarten.

Cafeteria lunch will begin Wednesday, Sept. 7 for all students and teachers.

School hours this year will be 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. with a 35-minute lunch hour for high school and a 60-minute lunch hour for elementary grades.

Parents of kindergarten children are asked to enroll any child not registered last May on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

The regular classes for kindergarten will start Wednesday, Sept. 7 in this order:

All kindergarten children living southeast of the Wabash railroad tracks will attend classes in the morning. Those living northwest of the Wabash railroad tracks will attend classes in the afternoon.

Exceptions to this rule will be town children.

Mothers are asked to put kindergarten children on the bus the first day of school rather than bringing them. "If you do bring your child, please leave him or her in the room with the teacher and do remain with them, they will adjust to the routine of school easier," states Mr. Spalding.

The bus routes will be approximately the same as last year with minor changes made in routing after school starts. "Your cooperation with the bus transportation will be greatly appreciated," states the superintendent.

The cafeteria will operate again this year for all students and staff.

"We expect all students that do not carry there lunches to eat at the school cafeteria," he said.

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

How Times Have Changed!

The year is 1859—men are drilling for GAS. They are digging with hand shovels. A white oak battering ram lays close by to pound down lengths of cast iron pipe. A six-horsepower, river-boat boiler powers the salt water bit that cuts through the earth—three feet a day — to the final and amazing depth of sixty-nine feet!

A hundred years later, hard teeth of a rotary drill rapidly grind through rock, clay and sand. A stream of water cools the bit while a chemical compound speeds the drill through the hardest rocks. A large pipe, then a small pipe, is lowered. Powerful bullets shoot perforations into the earth. From Nature's reservoir, "stored sunshine" * is released — sometimes from a depth of five miles!

* This "stored sunshine" is one of America's favorite fuels—seven out of ten homes built today use Natural GAS for heating. Call or write your Heating Equipment Dealer or Consumers Power Company for information about inexpensive, automatic Natural GAS heat.

These Youngsters Go All-Out at Fair

Lenawee County youth put on quite a display at the 1960 Fair last week.

Present were every imaginable type of 4-H project from livestock to flowers to handicraft to photography.

The 4-H method is to "learn by doing."

Among the 19 projects are handicraft, electrical, foods, clothing, livestock, conservation, dairy, junior leadership, home improvement, automotive, careers, tractor, crops, gardening, safety, entomology, child care, landscaping and money management.

The 4-H members range in age from 10 to 21 and each group has one or more adult leaders.

Many of the members carry more than one project at a time and work toward superior achievement in their projects.

But now that the Fair is over, the kids have gone back home to begin all over again.

An Adventure for Christ

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"GO YE, THEREFORE, INTO ALL THE WORLD AND PREACH THE GOSPEL" — Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Janousek and daughters, Susan on the left and Debbie on the right, are preparing to go to Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Janousek and two daughters, Debbie and Susan, of 505 Murray Dr. are leaving for Evanston, Ill. Sept. 6 on the first leg of their journey to Africa.

Since they made the decision to become missionaires last spring, great has been the anticipation by the four Janousek's.

Mrs. Janousek said Monday that the girls look forward with a great deal of enthusiasm to the new venture and have relinquished many things that they have held dear, even their pet cat, Soupy.

Soupy has been given to the Louis Richards family who "fuss and dote over him just like we did" said Mrs. J.

The Janouseks begin special classes at the Garrett Biblical Institute in Evanston for their mission work next month.

The courses will include anthropology, the study of Africa-Christian Education as it applies to group work, theology and the Bible.

While in Evanston this winter the Janouseks will make their home in a furnished apartment. They probably will leave for Africa next June.

Their temporary address will be 830 Washington St., Evanston, Ill.

Mr. Janousek contemplated going into the ministry when the couple were first married in 1946, six months after his discharge from the armed service. He decided that he could do more for humanity by working with boys.

As secretary and camp director for the YMCA, he spent eight and one-half years in Detroit, Bay City and Adrian.

Before teaching two years here in the Junior High School, he instructed two years and one-half at the Madison Agricultural School.

He will complete three years as deputy sheriff in charge of lake patrol in this area after Labor Day.

Mr. Janousek is a native of Grand Rapids. His wife, Charlotte, was born in Boyne City, attended Alanson schools and Central Michigan College for one year before taking nurses training at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids.

She has been employed here by Dr. Richard Dustin.

The whole family enjoys water sports and activities and good music.

One of the possessions they are so pleased about being able to take with them is a small portable field organ.

Mr. J. used to play one while he was with the military. It folds into a compact parcel and can be used indoors as well as out.

This week the family is spending at Deep Lake and next week Mrs. J. and the girls will vacation with her parents at Burt Lake.

On Sept. 6, Mr. Janousek will go to Burt Lake to take his family to Evanston to embark on their new adventure for Christ.

Social Security Observes Its 25th Anniversary

Last week marked the 25th Anniversary of the Social Security Act, thus celebrating a quarter-century of social change in America.

One of the major programs of the Social Security Act is unemployment insurance and the auxiliary services which the State Employment Service provides for workers, employers and the community.

In Michigan 66 offices are staffed full time and another 72 on a part-time basis to serve job seekers by helping them find employment, and by paying the eligible unemployment insurance during gaps between jobs.

The future holds many changes as Employment Security becomes more and more the watchword in a day of increasing population, increasing production, and more leisure time.

By 1970, the number of young people under 25 in the labor force will have increased by nearly 6.5 million—to a total of over 20 million.

Since payments to the temporarily unemployed in Michigan began in 1938, benefit checks have totaled over $1.7 billion. The Adrian office has paid $13 million in benefits since 1950 to Lenawee County unemployed.

WHAT'S WITH THE MOURNING DOVES?

What looks more peaceful than two fat and round doves sitting close together on fence, wire or tree limb and cooing to each other—or, early on a dewy spring morning, how nice to listen to the doves as they call to each other in their soothing, almost mournful way—or, on a sunny winter afternoon when one or two doves come to the feeder and after eating remain to sun-bathe, how very soft their lovely gray feathers seem, and how gentle of disposition they look.

Yes, mourning doves do seem to typify all that is quiet and peace-loving.

But it is not always so. On our feeders the mourning doves have for years carried on a running battle with the blue-jays. It's a rather one-sided affair and surprisingly enough, the blue-jays are the ones who give ground. With most other birds they are very courteous and kind to share the feeders—even the shy, timid cardinals do not hesitate to eat with them.

One exception is when those great nuisances of the feeding stations, the always present sparrows, start ganging up and crowding. Then the doves will do a little 'shooing away.'

But to get back to the mourning dove—blue-jay battles. The procedure usually goes something like this. Either a dove is quietly eating when zoom, in comes a blue jay or the jay is gobbling down food and a dove decides that it is dinner time and comes flying in. The birds look at each other, and why the jay doesn't leave right away because he must know that eventually he will back away, but I suppose it wouldn't be blue jay-like to give up too soon.

After the silent exchange of threatening looks comes the fun. The dove starts 'blowing up.' His head is pulled down and the bird actually seems to expand, get bigger, blow up. Each and every feather is ruffled out and in extreme cases, even the tail spreads out fan-like. By now the bird looks two or three times normal size.

Sometimes the blue jay watches this performance with an almost bewildered look. Seemingly he doesn't quite know what is happening but other times he just glares and looks as mad as the proverbial thunder-storm. Occasionally he loses his temper completely and screams and squawks —letting the whole neighborhood know his displeasure.

One day we laughed as one had his mouth open all ready to holler and then apparently lost his nerve.

There he stood, mouth gaping open but not a sound could be heard. However violent the blue-jay may become, the dove, very confident of the outcome, continues to blow up bigger and bigger and finally, the blue-jay leaves.

Although this blowing up bit is old, it's always fun to watch and lately the doves have shown us a new trick. As I suppose a threat mechanism or posture, they raise one wing.

We have noticed, especially, that when sparrows get too pesky and start picking the scratch too close to the dove's feeding area, suddenly up goes one of those big wings. And they are big and quite menacing looking too. The wing is actually unfolded and lifted straight up, not just stretched out to the side.

Last week an interesting thing occurred and to be truthful, I'm not sure we have interpreted it correctly. Two doves were in the yard, sitting close together and one of them kept lifting up first one wing and then the other. Up, up, up the right wing would go until it almost seemed the bird would tip over, then slowly down it came.

A few moment's rest and then the left wing started up.

This went on for some time and since the other dove showed no signs of fear, excitement or irritation, we have come to the conclusion that maybe what we saw was a parent instructing a youngster.

Perhaps it is merely our wish to add a little more pausibility to this schooling period, but it does seem that the bird, who was doing all the stretching, was smaller than the other and certainly the fact that he almost over-balanced himself could be youthful awkwardness, couldn't it?

So it is that altho' the doves seem peaceful, they aren't always, and although we thought we knew all their tricks, we didn't. The blowing up we understand, but wing raising — well, what's with the Doves?

Next week —
My Gracious, What's That?

VOICE of THE HERALD

A New World Opens

This is the world of the child — a big red bike, a cowboy gun, playmates, a splash in the pool, the game-winning home run, a nurse comforting her patient, the spaceman on his way to Mars.

But what is this childhood world like to the little boy who has been bedridden for two years, to the girl who knows the world only through the eyes of her fingers? What is it like to the child who has developed an inferior feeling because he cannot keep up with his classmates?

There is a comparatively new world opening up to these children. It is within the realm of the special education program with teachers for the physically handicapped, the homebound and the slow learner.

To the teacher, this must be a rewarding field, working to bring the school to the child, to introduce him to the world of sound or sight, to help him adjust to his home and school life.

The expansion of this special education program in Lenawee County schools is another example of the outstanding educational program for Tecumseh's youngsters.

This is a field with a big future. J.B.

Lenawee Expands Special Education

Lenawee County will hold a special education conference at the Michener School in Adrian Aug. 30 through Sept. 1.

Among the discussion topics at the five-day workshop are plans for the coming school year, the role of community agencies, child evaluation, diagnosis of the child and the role of the parents in the special education program.

Mrs. Donald Berkley, 716 Ternes Rd., has charge of the discussion program Friday morning. Mrs. Berkley is one of the eight speech correctionists in Lenawee County.

This growing special education program will employ a staff of 26 in the coming school year.

For the first time this year, three diagnostician, three visiting teachers and eight teachers of the mentally handicapped have been established as a part of the special education program.

Two more speech correctionists have been added, making the total of eight for the 1960-61 school year. Completing the "team" are two homebound teachers and two teachers of the physically handicapped.

☆

THE PROGRAM is supported by a special county levy passed a year ago.

It was expanded because there were many children within the county that need the kind of help that only a specially-trained teacher can give.

Elmer F. Morgan Jr. will serve the Tecumseh, Britton, Clinton, Deerfield and Blissfield districts as diagnostician.

Mr. Morgan comes from Dundee, where he was employed as diagnostician from 1957-1960. He is currently working on his doctor's degree at the University of Michigan.

The job of the diagnostician is to work with the children to locate their particular area of difficulty and suggest means of improvement. Included is the study of ability and mental ratings through various tests.

Other county diagnosticians are Mrs. Lee Henry and Mrs. Blanche Cogan.

☆

ANOTHER NEW phase of the special education program in the county is the visiting teachers, who help children with personal and social adjustment difficulties, both in school and at home.

By working with the individual instead of the groups, the child is aided in better understanding himself. The teachers also work with the parents in helping them to understand their children.

The county's three visiting teachers are Mrs. Nora Johnson, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelley and Robert Johnson.

Tecumseh District is one of eight in the county which have hired teachers for the mentally handicapped. The teacher here will be Mary Pat McCann, a Tecumseh graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

These children will be taught on an individual basis, according to the child's level of ability and comprehension. Special teaching material will be used.

Speech correction has been a part of the program in Lenawee County for a number of years. Last year, 853 students from ages five-through-18 were enrolled in the program.

Special classes are held for these children after they have been diagnosed as needing help in correcting a speech problem. The classes last year met at least twice a week for 30 minutes.

Again, the program is geared toward the individual's need, according to his specific problem.

The speech correction teachers in Lenawee this year will be Mrs. Don Berkeley, Mrs. Marilyn Wight, Mrs. Betty Jo Hancock, Sylvia Wendrow, Beverly Snyder, Margaret Romary, Mrs. Judith Vanzo and Mrs. Carole Lewandowski.

☆

PHYSICALLY handicapped children will be taught by Mrs. John Pobuda and Mrs. Sam Whitney, both of Tecumseh.

Braille lessons, language lessons, individual tutoring and other special instructional materials are used by the teacher in helping the child as well as working closely with his rehabilitation program.

Completing the special education program in Lenawee County are the two homebound teachers, Mrs. Ruth Williams and Mrs. Phyllis Abraham. For the homebound children, these teachers bring the school to the child.

They provide special aids, as well as the regular school work for the child who is unable to attend classes with other youngsters.

Last year, 68 students were served by two teachers.

The Lenawee County special education program is under the supervision of the county board of education.

SPEECH CORRECTION, 1958 — Joan Donovan, then a senior at the University of Michigan, helps Bonnie Howell as part of the Tecumseh speech correction program which has been in effect for several years. Other children are Kinda DeLine, Billy Filber, and Debbie Lavender.

Lenawee Men Lose Licenses

Four Lenawee County men lost their drivers' licenses during the months of June and July. They were:

Fred Burton, 126 W. South St., Adrian.

Ernest William Randall, 505 Adrian St., Tecumseh.

Harold Lloyd Sturtevant, 507 S. Pearl St., Tecumseh.

Fred Turpening Jr., 440 Church t., Adrian.

Police Increase Patrols

Labor Day weekend, the third worst holiday period for traffic deaths in Michigan, will find the State Police, aided by the National Guard, again operating increased patrols.

Seventeen were killed in 15 fatal accidents over the weekend a year ago. The average for the 78-hour period in the last seven years is one death every three hours and 40 minutes.

"Law enforcement officers will do all they can to prevent accidents in the heavy traffic of this last holiday weekend of the summer," Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said, "but it's every motorist's responsibility to keep out of trouble by driving carefully and defensively."

State Police patrols will be lengthened to 10 hours and pass days cancelled, with all available personnel being used on either desk or patrol duty from noon Friday, September 2, through midnight Monday, September 5.

Patrol emphasis will be on high accident and heavy traffic volume areas, shifting as changing conditions warrant.

There will be 104 National Guard members assisting the State Police on patrol or point control and another 96 will aid sheriff departments and one city police department.

Sisters Attend Spectroscopy Conference

Sister Miriam Michael, O.P., Ph. D., director of research laboratories and Sister M. Irma, O.P., Ph.D., instructor in the science department at Siena Heights College will be among the 100 spectroscopists from the United States and abroad to attend the Gordon Research Conference on INFRARED SPECTROSCOPY to be held in Meriden, New Hampshire, throughout the week of August 21.

Out-of-Town Bridge Winners

Mrs. Amelia Neely of Brooklyn and Mrs. Lillian King of Manitou Beach won the first and second prizes at the bridge tables last Wednesday at the Country Club.

Table prizes were won by Mrs. Henrietta Lindsley, Mrs. Orville Laidlaw and Mrs. Ed Boss.

Beatniks Take Over Our City

It's All in Fun – Feature of Merchant's Sidewalk Sale

If you've never seen a real-live Greenwich Village beatnik, this may be your opportunity.

The "Beat People" are slated to take over downtown Tecumseh all day Friday, as a feature of the city's third annual Sidewalk Sale.

There should be all sorts of "gone" costumes because being judged the "Beatest Beat in Tecumseh" can earn a $25 gift certificate for the cat.

For runners-up there will be $15 and $10 awards.

Merchants, who are putting on this affair, will show the army of beats they're welcome in town by dressing that way themselves.

"I'll probably feel like I'm out in left field without a glove on," moaned one, but brightened when told there'll also be $25 worth of prizes going to businessmen in costume.

Last year's Hawaiian-theme Sidewalk Carnival attracted thousands into the downtown area. Stores will again be opened from 9 to 9.

Those wishing to be included in the "Beatest Beat" contest should stop at The Herald booth, in front of Elmer Eberhardt's Insurance office, and be given a numbered card, which will be attached to their right sleeve.

Beats will then stroll down both sides of Chicago Blvd. in the business district, being viewed by judges who will remain anonymous. Judging will take place all day. Awards will be made at 8 p.m. from The Herald booth.

☆

A VARIETY of new features have been added to this year's affair. Here are several.

● Beach Bros. Distributors and Don's Fleet-Wing gas station are giving free rides to kids in a Go-Kart and trailer and also a pony cart from the corner of Chicago and Pearl.

● Kiwanis Club members will have a refreshment booth in front of the D&C store, also will sell Kids Day peanuts throughout the downtown area.

● The Jaycees are holding a giant charcoal broiled chicken barbecue dinner in the evening next to Helms Furniture on Ottawa St. There'll also be fish dinners.

TOM RIORDAN'S Long AND Short

This shaggy beard tickles.

But I guess I can hold off until Friday—Sidewalk Day—but then out comes the trusty electric razor.

Wonder what silly goof got the idea for this year's beatnik theme?

You would die if you knew of a certain gentle lady who is going to enter the "best-dressed beat" contest.

About the only hint I can give is that she's the rather sedate wife of a local professional man. He'll probably head west when she starts east in her get-up.

☆

Lindbergh, Rickenbacker Wrong-Way Corrigan, please move over, here comes a new sky master.

Walt Hochrein, 605 Stacey St., has soloed. The local owner of Porter Printing Co., a student of Dick Jacobs, took the big flight Thursday and he hasn't touched ground since.

☆

That language teacher shortage at THS was taken care of when French-English instructor Mrs. Vaughn Rathbun decided to stay in Tecumseh after all.

That's one less problem Neville Hart will have—and this is the era of difficulties, the first week of school.

☆

If for no other reason than the letter printed below, our Earn-A-Bike campaign is a success. It's from one of our winners.

Dear Editors,

Thank you for the nice bike. It was just what I wanted. Those other people were nice to help me earn it.

Your friend,
Tommy Smith

Tommy is the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Smith, 5542 Milwaukee Rd.

☆

That thud, thud, thud you hear from around the high school area comes from happy boys at play.

About 85 candidates are out for football and they're smashing one another with great regularity morning, afternoon and night.

Coach Duncan Leetka, one of the best high school mentors in the state, knows how to get a club ready. His early-year formula: work, work, work.

When you play for Dunc, one thing is sure, you're in top condition. This is the best guarantee against injury during a rugged season.

Next, you learn to block and tackle and to perform as a member of the team.

Has Dunc's theory paid off? Just ask any grid follower around these parts. In two short years, he has brought the Tecumseh Indians off the football floor and made them champions.

This takes knowledge of the game from stem to stern and back again. Ditto: handling young men.

When the year is over, question a youth who has played for Dunc and learn if it wasn't worth every minute of the effort.

Only one problem arises for the Indian mentor. Until the season is well underway, he has to do all the family grocery buying.

Mrs. Leetka gave up this chore years ago at the beginning of every fall. She used to meet too many mothers of players at the super markets and they'd moan how hard her husband worked their lads, so Dunc is the family food buyer for about three weeks

Tuesday Is 'The' Day

By MARY SEAGER

From the kindergarten to the senior high student, the most important thing about the first day of school is what time to go.

School opens Sept. 6 at 7:51 a.m. for the high and junior high scholars and 9 a.m. for elementary pupils.

High school students pay book fees of $6 and then will secure their class schedule cards from their advisers.

They should return Tuesday at 1 p.m. to the gymnasium for a general assembly and orientation period.

Regular classes will begin Wednesday Sept. 7 at 7:52 a.m.

Junior High School students are to report at the same time on Tuesday to the Junior High building. The seventh grade should go to the boys' gym on the 1st floor and the eighth grade to the girls' gym on the third floor.

Book fees of $6 will be collected and schedule cards handed out. Students may leave after getting their cards but have to return at 1:30 p.m. and go to their sixth hour class for orientation.

Regular classes will open Wednesday at the same time as the high school.

The high school and junior high will start at 7:52 a.m. an dismiss at 3:02 p.m. with an hour for lunch at noon. The elementary schools will start at 9:15 a.m. and dismiss at 4 p.m. with an hour and fifteen minutes for lunch.

Kindergarten has two groups of classes, morning and afternoon. Bus children will attend class in the morning.

The morning class runs from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m. and the afternoon class lasts from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Fourth, same, plus workbook —$6

Elementary students will remain in school as usual on the opening day.

Physical education fees for the high school students enrolled in physical education classes will be $1.50 for the year. All junior high school students will have to pay $.75 for physical education fees.

Hot lunch programs will begin on opening day and will operate in the same buildings as last year, the high school, Patterson, Tipton, and Ridgeway.

Eligibility for elementary children to stay at school for lunch will be governed by the same rules as last year. There will be no hot lunch program at Macon.

Class Members Hold Hayride

The Power Class of the Tecumseh Friends Church enjoyed a hayride for their monthly class party.

Twenty-two persons met at the Marvin Johnson farm for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hollis of Clinton and Mr. and Mrs. William Sheppard of Detroit, were guests for the evening.

After a ride in the country, the group roasted hot dogs over a bonfire. Marilyn Kilbourn had charge of the devotions.

Ron Johnson, Marjorie VanValkenburg, Lois Brugger, and Dick Logan were in charge of arrangements for the evening.

Drivers, Use More Care Now

Within a few days, as 1,680,000 Michigan children will again be heading off for school, traffic safety officials will again concentrate on reducing accidents among classroom-bound youngsters.

Children in the five-to-nine year age group have the greatest number of fatal accidents.

A five-year total of traffic fatalities show 164 deaths for children up to four years of age, 230 for five-to-nine age group, 88 for the 10-to14 year group, and 50 for the 15-19 age span.

"I would like to beg all drivers to take special care next month to especially watch out for youngsters headed for elementary schools," James Hare, state safety chairman said.

"They are not very traffic-wise and not particularly traffic-conscious. This is one area where we can cut fatalities if we set our mind to it."

Now Ghosts Are Dancing on Screen

Special colored eye-pieces will be given each patron who attends the Strand Theatre showing of "13 Ghosts" now through Saturday.

This is so that viewers can get an added bang out of the horror film.

Watching without the glasses, patrons will see a typical ghoulish movie. With them, they get an added thrill — a chance to watch the 13 ghosts cavorting about in the background.

What will Hollywood think of next?

Swimming Cards Are at the Pool

Carl Hale announced Tuesday that American Red Cross swimming cards are available for all students who passed courses at the pool.

These may be claimed any day until Monday, Sept. 5.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hassenzahl and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sayler, all of rural Tecumseh.

The bodice featured long tapering sleeves of the lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured to a Swedish crown of iridescent sequins.

She carried a lace covered Bible, gift of the groom, topped with white butterfly roses in cascade design.

She wore a matching headpiece of organza with a velvet dotted veil and carried aqua glamelias against a white lace fan.

Wanda Cramer and Viola Rau, both of Adrian, were the bridesmaids in gowns of peacock blue styled identical to that of the maid of honor.

They wore matching headpieces with veils and carried white lace fans enhanced with azalia glamelias.

Arnold Sayler served as his brother's best man and the guests were seated by the bride's brother, Charles Hassenzahl, and Gary McKenzie.

The parlors of the church were decorated in pink, blue and white for the reception for 250 guests registered by Donna McKenzie.

A five tiered cake encircled with foliage and nosegays of glamelias was cut with a knife decorated with a tiny cluster of roses and lillies of the valley.

Donna Thomas, Gary Service Exchange Vows

Donna Nell Thomas and Gary Eugene Service were united in marriage Saturday at the Clinton Congregational Church by the Rev. Paul E. McKenna, pastor of the church, assisted by Dr. Murray Hewgill of East Lansing.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dee Thomas, 519 Tecumseh Rd., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Service of Clinton-Macon Rd.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before a background of lighted cathedral candelabra and potted palms. White gladioli and Majestic chrysanthemums filled the altar vases and beauty vases in front of the chancel.

The pews were marked with white gladioli and satin bows against an Emerald foliage background. Two white aisle runners were used.

☆

THE BRIDE chose a floor-length gown of white silk organza over taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice of rose-patterened lace, cap sleeves and sabrina neckline.

Appliques of the lace pattern were scattered over the bouffant skirt, which swept into a chapel-length train.

Her fingertip-veil of silk illusion was attached to a Swedish crown of seed pearls, tulle and lace.

Her crescent bouquet of white Fugi chrysanthemums was centered with an orchid and accented with blue stephanotis and mist blue Pinnochio pompons.

Kathleen Dee Thomas, was her sister's maid-of-honor, wearing a dress of romance blue lace over light blue satin styled with fitted bodice, flared skirt and rounded neckline.

She wore a picture hat of romance blue with light blue streamers, short white gloves and blue satin slippers with matching hose.

MISS THOMAS carried a lacey, white basket of white Fugi mums, liatrus and lavendar Pinnochio pompons in a crescent design.

Ruth L. Klenen of Buffalo, N. Y., Jo Ann Yule of Detroit and Mrs. Louis Underwood were the bridesmaids.

Marilyn Service, sister of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid.

All bridal attendants were identically dressed as the maid-of-honor. Their single-strand pearl necklaces were gifts of the bride.

Laurie Jo Thomas of St. Louis, Mo. was the flower girl wearing a dress with hooped skirt of light blue organza and a tiny tiara of blue Pinnochio pompons in her hair.

She carried a miniature lace basket similar to those of the other attendants.

Master Jet Thomas also from St. Louis was the ring bearer wearing an Eton suit and carrying the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

Gary Underwood of Adrian served as best man and the ushers were Joseph Thomas of Clinton, John Thomas of St. Louis, brothers of the bride; Richard Service of Clinton, brother of the groom, and Karl Jacobs of Manchester.

☆

MRS. JOHN FOX presented nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Thomas Judge of Clinton who sang, "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Among those guests registered in the guest book by Mrs. Robert Burr and Susie Hoelzer was Mrs. Rose Service, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Colored lanterns lighted the garden setting at the Thomas home, where the reception was held against a background of woods, and an artificial lake enhanced with blooming flowers.

A table belonging to the bride's paternal great-great grandfather held the tiered wedding cake which was large enough to serve the more than four-hundred guests.

The table was skirted with bridal net and covered with a hand-crocheted cloth made by Mrs. Maude Bertrand of San Francisco, Calif., the bride's maternal grandmother who was unable to be present.

A huge marquee was used to shelter the guests as a hot and cold buffet supper was served. Music was provided by an orchestra throughout the dinner hour and later for outdoor dancing.

☆

WATER BALLET swimmers and entertainers, using the lake, provided a program for the guests.

"The Singing Strollers" moved among the guests and relatives singing request numbers.

A roving photographer, taking candid shots, also added to the pleasure of the guests. Mrs. E. J. Thomas, sister-in-law of the bride, was in charge of the photography program.

Following a wedding trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains of West Virginia the couple will make their home at the T-Bar Ranch in Monmoth, Iowa.

Both young people are graduates of Clinton High School. The bride attended Michigan State University and the groom has completed a short course in agriculture there.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Thomas home Thursday evening.

From Sunday until Tuesday the group stayed at the Sheraton-Lincoln hotel and toured the plants where they saw how insulin is made.

They also watched capsules and various kinds of pills being produced and learned how the company works with animals.

About 100 nurses from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, including two bus loads of student nurses from Cleveland, were on hand for the Tri-State Area Tour.

Carl Leighty of Adrian, representative for Eli Lilley in this area, made arrangements for the ladies.

Those attending besides Mrs. O'Neil were Mrs. Elwood Merx, Mrs. Margaret Spohr, Mrs. Lillian Diver, Mrs. Wanda Cavin, Mrs. Journey Stoner, Mrs. Burt Tate, Mrs. Jean Eagan, Mrs. Dorothy Haligus, Mrs. Ray Williams and Betty Blohm.

They dined on steaks, wore orchids and viewed movies of the various plant operations.

Wraight-Lectka Capture Doubles

Gene Wraight and Duncan Lectka teamed together to capture the city tennis doubles title last week.

They defeated the Rev. Julian Gresham and Jack Curtiss in the tournament finals, 3-6, 6-0, 6-1.

Lunch Program Required To Meet State Standards

Mrs. Charles O'Neill supervisor of the cafeteria, will again supply The Tecumseh Herald each week with the menu to be served in the various cafeterias in the public school system.

In the following paragraphs, she explains the hot lunch program for our readers.

In order to receive reimbursement from the state the lunches must meet these requirements;

2-oz. protein
¼ cup fruit and or
½ cup vegetable
2 tablespoons butter
¼ pt. milk

These are called type A lunches. Last year the cafeteria received a reimbursement of 6c a plate for each type A lunch served to students only.

It is expected that it will receive the same amount this year.

For each extra bottle of milk sold a 3c reimbursement was made.

"We hope to have more students participating in the school lunch program this year as they benefit nutritionally by being served a well-balanced meal," said Mrs. O'Neill.

Lunches in the elementary grades will be 30c. Junior and Senior High School students will pay 35c. These are the same prices as last year.

☆

MENUS FOR the first week of school are:

Boysville Opens Year Sept. 18

Boysville football coach Mike Gendzwill welcomed 35 candidates for his 1960 varsity this week.

The Fighting Knights will be aiming for a championship in the new River Raisin League.

Boysville joined the loop last spring and promptly captured titles in baseball and track.

The Knight's grid chances are good. Many of Coach Gendzill's teams of last fall, which had a 7-1 record are back.

Boysville opens at St. Mary's of Wayne Sunday, Sept. 18.

A complete roster and season schedule will appear in next week's Herald.

Mike Fero Among Contest Winners

Mike Fero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fero of 105 Maple St., was one of 10 contestants to receive two tickets to any 1960 ball game at Briggs Stadium in Detroit.

Mike's name was announced over the Mill Hopwood Sport Show on radio station CKLW last week.

He wrote a winning letter of suggestions on "What Should Be Done with the Tigers.

Mike thought that cutting salaries of "fat cats" might change the sagging attitude of Tiger players.

MRS. ELDEN LAWHEAD

Nuptial Vows Exchanged by Delores Ann Lidster and Elden Lawhead Friday

BRITTON—Delores Ann Lidster, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Veril Lidster of rural Britton, became the bride of Elden Charles Lawhead, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lawhead, 515 Russell Rd. Tecumseh, Friday evening in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. C. A. Bearinger of Lapeer.

He was assisted by the Rev. Fred Belleville, pastor of the Ridgeway Nazarene Church where the candlelight ceremony was held.

Peggy Jo Pocklington of Britton was the organist, and accompanied Mrs. Lee Spohr.

Tall floor baskets of white gladioli and Killian daisys against a background of palms and cathedral candelabra accented the altar.

Traditional white satin, bows and greens were placed on the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride approched the altar in a floor-length gown of lace and tulle over satin.

The all lace bodice was styled with long tapering sleeves which ended in points over the hands. The Sabrina neckline was studded with sequins and pearls.

☆

A PANEL of hand-clipped Chantilly lace flowing around the bouffant skirt of the gown was a feature of the skirt of tulle over satin.

The fingertip length veil of silk illusion fell from a lace chapel cap garlanded with small seed pearls and sequins.

The bride carried a bouquet of white Butterfly roses and lily of the valley arranged in cascade design. Florets of valley and fern were tied in the shower ribbons.

Mrs. Carl Wagner attended her sister as matron-of-honor. The bridesmaids were Jean Judkins of Phoenix, Arizona and Mrs. Merle Baker of Tecumseh, twin sister of the bridegroom.

BLOOP LOOP CHAMPS—Here's the River Acres crew which clinched the local blooper championship Sunday. Front row, from left, Byron Goodman, Bob Beavers and Kenneth Pieh. Second row, Roy Beasley, Curtiss Belcher, John Snyder and Jan Kachur. Back row, Manager Wally Whiting, Stu Costigan, Dick Witt and Ray Marsh. Absent when the picture was taken: Bob Auten.

They Topped Bloop Loop

A single to left by Bob Beavers brought in the winning run for the River Acres blooper ball team against Indian Acres Sunday afternoon in a championship-deciding tilt.

The 4-3 win was the second in a row for River Acres in a best-of-three series and gave it the 1960 blooper crown.

Last week, river Acres knocked out the Eagles, while Indian Acres was eliminating Herrick Park.

On Friday, River Acres slapped out a 17-0 victory over Indian Acres to open the series.

Sunday's battle was much different, close all the way.

The winners punched over two runs in the second inning, but Indian Acres came back in the third and tied the count when Dick Hicks hit a home run with one aboard.

In the fifth, Indian Acres went ahead as Ron Lectka tripled and Carl Hale singled him home.

A two-run explosion in the last of the seventh ruined the game for River Acres. Roy Beasley walked. Barney Goodman grounded out, advancing Beasley to second. Ken Pieh singled and Jan Kachur rolled out, leaving Beasley on third and Pieh on second. Curtiss Belcher was intentionally passed, to set up a possible force play at any base.

Ray Marsh drove a ball into left, bringing over Beasley to knot the score 3-3.

This set the stage for Beavers' game-winning blow to left.

Beavers turned in three-for-four in the game to lead the River Acres attack. Getting two blows each were Dick Witt, Ray Marsh, Stu Costigan and John Snyder.

Costigan was the winning hurler, allowing but four hits.

In the series opening game, Witt banged out four-for-four, Costigan, Snyder and Beasley all had three safe knocks. For the losers, Hicks contributed two singles.

In final games of the opening rounds, River Acres dropped the Eagles, 5-0, and Indian Acres eased past Herrick Park, 6-0.

Tecumseh Indian 11 Could Match '59

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh football fans can expect another top-flight team this fall, but whether it matches last year's undefeated record remains to be seen.

Coach Duncan Lectka greeted 87 hopefuls, Monday, including 12 lettermen. The turnout was the largest in the school's history.

Briefly, the Indians will be bigger and faster than the 1959 team, but with a little less experience, except in the backfield.

All backfield posts will boast lettermen — Mike Green, Jan Aho, Dale Tuckey, Clarence Champanois, Denny Bryan and Bob Koffron.

Tuckey, who presently rates the nod over sophomore Tim Sisson at quarterback, was understudy last year behind Steve Kruger.

Offensively, the Indians could match last year's performance. And, Coach Lectka predicts a stronger defensive backfield, believing that a year's experience has sharpened the backs.

Many of the backs, as well as most of the linemen, will go both ways on offensive and defense. The line could prove to be a problem, especially at end.

Most of the ends from last year were lost by graduation. Larry Tilley, letterman, is back to fill one spot. Other top prospects include Tim Whitney, Mike Tucker, Phil Radant and Danny Greene.

Lettermen at tackle include Bob Fisher and Mike Robison. Ron O'Neill, Jim Bashore, Roger Wittrup and Chuck Osburn are in the running for berths. One or two are expected to push the lettermen for starting positions.

Dune feels that he'll have two of the outstanding guards in the area in Tom Simmons and Ron Hathaway. Simmons combined last year with Jim Curth and Jim Neitling, June graduates, to give Tecumseh the toughest line in southeastern Michigan.

Hathaway played tackle last year, improved tremendously during the season, and is now expected to hold down a guard spot. Sophomore Jerry Forsyth is a bright newcomer.

Ray Sweet, behind Lee Britton last year, will go at center on the first eleven. Contenders are Mike Rohrer and Dave Blandeen.

Hathaway, Sweet and Del Poskarbiewicz, scrappy reserve full, back from the 1959 team, are being groomed for linebacking chores. If they come through, Lectka predicts a defensive unit as tough as last year.

Six linemen — Hathaway, O'Neil, Wittrup, Fisher, Bashore and Osburn — top the 200-pound mark. Husky backs include Aho and Koffron at 190, and Mike Green at 170, a good 15 pounds above last year's weight.

With a few breaks and no overconfidence, the Indians could have another exceptional season. Slow starters in previous years, the Indians first test comes on Sept. 16 at home against Willow Run.

Lectka, starting his third season at the helm, has lost just one game in two years. Only other blot are ties with Hudson and Bedford two years ago.

State Fair Will Open This Friday

The spectacular Michigan State Fair, the nation's oldest and one of the largest, will open its doors for the 111th time on Friday, and General manager Donald L. Swanson anticipates a record breaking attendance of 850,000.

The State Fair will have a ten-day run concluding on Sunday, September 11. Last year nearly 800,000 went through the gates, only some 25,000 less than the record breaking 821,656 in 1956.

The first day of the State Fair, Friday, September 2, for the first time has been designated Childrens' Day with all the pie eating contests and other events on the program including reduced prices for children on the Midway rides.

Wanted–Weed Killer To Use on Quack Grass

New weed-killing chemicals soon may have quack grass well under control, tests at Michigan State University indicate.

This is shown in corn plot experiments by William F. Meggitt, M.S.U. weed control researcher in the farm crops department.

In some of the plots, Meggitt has obtained nearly 100 per cent quack grass control.

Meggitt's aim is to find a combination that will effectively control quack grass in corn and still be cheap enough for farmers to afford.

Residual effects and ultimate kill of quack grass will not be known until the experiments have run for at least another year or more. Then, recommendations for usage may be made, he says.

Through My Window

MY GRACIOUS, WHAT'S THAT?

This was the question I asked several Sundays ago. Weather-wise it was one of our all-too-typical Sundays. Although starting out nice and bright, before breakfast was finished, the sky had become dark and over-cast.

Our plans to go for a ride were cancelled by the threat of rain and even getting out on the porch was impossible because the winds, which brought in the dark clouds, were chilly and raw.

Mom and I were enjoying a snack of tea and cookies and wondering just why so many Sundays had to be dark and dreary when I looked out our west facing window and saw — well, just what was it?

Something was in one of the small trees at this end of Doctor's creek-bank. I could not get a good look, because whatever it was, very impolitely stayed partially hidden.

A bit of brownish-gray fur and tree, was about all I could see.

For some minutes we watched and the mystery animal would just not come into view. He was obviously enjoying a tasty luncheon of tender young leaves.

Time after time we saw little branches being pulled down but oh, how maddening — the creature was so careful to keep the small tree-trunk between himself and us.

☆

FINALLY WE called Dad and then got our Christmas binoculars. Surely between the three of us and the glasses the mystery would be solved.

As if he had been waiting for a full audience the animal now came out of the leaves and in a slow cumbersome manner climbed half-way down the tree trunk and around to our side.

My but he was big — much, much larger than a squirrel. His color was definitely tannish-gray and when looking through the glasses we could not help but notice how coarse his fur was.

A fat, longish animal with a rather small head, he finally turned around and gave us a positive clue to his identity. A short, thin tail. A woodchuck!

How exciting — this was the first woodchuck we had ever seen around here.

Now that the guessing game was over and he was satisfied that he had teased us enough, down the tree he came and then on the ground, his actions were much more — well, maybe I shouldn't say typical.

MAYBE woodchucks are often given to climbing trees and it's just that we don't think of them that way.

(One thing, though, if they do climb often, they are certainly awkward and completely lack the speed and grace which most tree climbers have.)

But back to our boy on the ground. Once on terra firma, he sat down and was the perfect picture of a woodchuck.

How straight and erect he sat — so very, very cute.

In a liesurely manner his little front hand-paws picked, as near as we could tell, leaves and shoots from nearby bushes.

Bringing them to his mouth he tasted their goodness and then reached for more. Watching him through the glasses was wonderful — they brought him right up to us.

☆

AFTER EATING his fill, off into the bushes he ambled and our woodchuck watching for the day was over. It was great fun while it lasted and we are of course hoping that we will see him again.

So it is that the law of compensation does work and there is some truth in the old saying about there being no great loss without some small gain.

After all, had it not been a cold, wet day we would not have enjoyed the Sunday visit of the woodchuck.

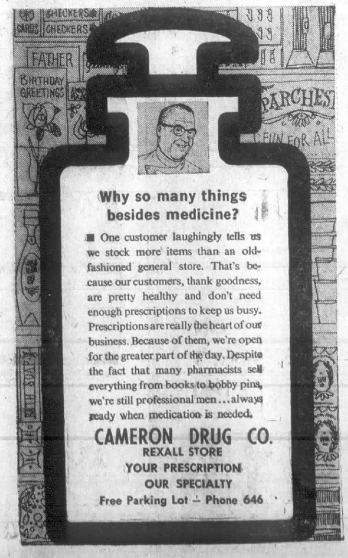
Library Begins New Policy

Due to the great demand for book renewals, and the increased amount of circulation of books and other library materials, the Tecumseh Public Library is introducing a new book-loan policy.

Beginning this week, all current fiction will be loaned out for a period of 14 days, with no renewals.

All other books and library materials will be loaned for a period of 28 days, with no renewals.

"We hope this new policy will be of benefit to our patrons," states Mrs. Julie Fosbender, librarian.



Why so many things besides medicine?

■ One customer laughingly tells us we stock more items than an old-fashioned general store. That's because our customers, thank goodness, are pretty healthy and don't need enough prescriptions to keep us busy. Prescriptions are really the heart of our business. Because of them, we're open for the greater part of the day. Despite the fact that many pharmacists sell everything from books to bobby pins, we're still professional men . . . always ready when medication is needed.

THEY BATTLE BLAZES IN CARS, SHED, HOUSES, OPEN FIELDS

We Can Be Proud of Them

Whether it's a home burning at 3 a.m. or a grass fire at high noon, we can always bank on our volunteer fire department. And that's a good feeling.

Like so many of our blessings, we tend to take Tecumseh's smoke eaters for granted.

At The Herald, we get constant reminders of the tremendous job the local volunteers do. Being located across the street from the fire house, whenever the siren rings, we can see first hand the lads in action.

They come from all directions . . . in cars, trucks, on foot at a dead run. The equipment is off and rolling in a matter of moments.

Besides their abilities to quell blazes, our firemen are also adept at first aid, with emphasis on reviving persons who have been overcome by gas or drowning.

Our department has at its disposal every piece of rescue equipment needed to serve our community, including a special vehicle for this emergency work.

We can certainly take pride in our fire department.

Could This End Long-Run City Production

For many years, Tecumseh councilmen have wrestled with a never ending problem—the city dump.

A new ordinance and resolution are in the offing, which could settle the question once and for all. It will touch almost every household within the city limits—and may seem extremely harsh for some.

Briefly, the new legislation would put the city back in charge of the dump. Garbage would be banned there. Commercial collection of both garbage (to be disposed of out of town) and trash would be arranged by the city.

The law would make it mandatory that every new home built within the city limits have either a garbage disposal or a smokeless incinerator.

Existing homes without either of these facilities would be required to get one or the other within the next five years.

The special committee, which worked out the new legislation over a period of three months, studied similar laws from cities all over Michigan. Tecumseh's closely follows the state-wide pattern.

Another important segment of the proposed law here is that citizens would be prohibited from burning garbage, except in smokeless incinerators. Of course, with no garbage at the local dump, there would no longer be the unpleasant fumes and smoke, which now waffs their way into town, especially towards Herrick Memorial Hospital.

When and if this legislation is adopted by council, strict regulations would be made regarding handling of refuse and garbage for pickup, including the size of receptacles in which the waste material can be put.

Since the city charter provides that breaking a local ordinance is automatically a misdemeanor any violations of the law could draw a $100 fine or 90 days in jail.

Council will be considering this legislation at its meeting Tuesday evening.

We feel such a move is a step in the right direction and its passage would likely ring down the curtain on the long-run production, "What Can We Do About the Dump?" TAR

WHEN THIS TIPTON-TO-TECUMSEH CABLE IS IN PLACE, 75 CONVERSATIONS CAN BE CARRIED ON AT THE SAME TIME

Seven Miles of Cable Put Down

The General Telephone Co. is laying seven miles of telephone cable between Adrian and Tecumseh.

Henkel & McCoy, Philadelphia contractors are following the railroad tracks to lay the toll cables.

There are two cables. One will run from Tecumseh to Clinton, one from Tipton to Tecumseh, and Britton to Tecumseh as part of the new dial system which will go into effect in Tecumseh in November.

There are 75 circuits per cable enabling 75 persons to make calls between the communities at the same time.

The cable is laid in a continuous process with a machine digging up the earth, one laying the cable in the ground, and a bulldozer to fill in behind them.

SURE, ADVERTISING PAYS—When the news went out that a lad or gal in town could earn a bike for selling 15 new subscriptions to The Herald, there was a real scramble. More than 80 salesmen and sales girls were on the road. Not the least of them was Scott Edwards, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Edwards, 500 Maiden Lane. Scott fashioned a large sign, which he carried about while campaigning for subscriptions. He spent part of one day in front of the A&P, causing a lot of attention. This younger generation is really sharp at this selling game.

They Said 'Thanks' for CARE Donations

Bertha LaPointe received two letters from a school in Guatamala where her donations to CARE were used.

She had them translated by Mrs. Leslie Calhoun, who suggested that they would be of interest to Herald readers.

Dear Madam:

May God give you a long life in return for your wonderful help. The teacher read your letter to us.

Thanks for the carpentry tools. Our school's desks are in very bad condition and now we will be able to repair them.

We are most grateful to you. My roommates join me in thanking you from the bottom of our hearts.

Dear Lady:

First of all I want to greet you very sincerely and I would also like to inform you about your generous gift donated through CARE.

Your donation has helped to supply the rural area of my country with very useful tools that will be put to use immediately; by instance, our school received all kinds of carpentry equipment.

My students and I would like to make this letter a testimonial of our gratitude.

A Fine Statement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Whitey's a Man With Both Feet on the Ground

Whitey Fisher and his missus got back from their first European vacation the other day. But before they left, Mrs. Fisher tells us, Whitey had some pretty strong feeling about their transportation—a new jet plane.

"Should go by boat," Whitey complained as they boarded the jet. When they were seated Whitey murmured, "I'll get air-sick on this thing for sure."

And a few minutes later, he added, "Course I'm all right now, but wait until we take off." Just then the pilot announced, "Folks, we're now cruising at an altitude of 26,000 feet!"

From where I sit, sometimes we all jump to conclusions without knowing the facts. For instance, some people are like that about my favorite beverage—beer. They insist that coffee or tea goes best at dinnertime, when actually it's a matter of choice. We ought to be tolerant—and know before we take off on our opinions.

Take Care with Corn

If you have visions of home-canned corn in your mind, you'd better have a pressure canner in your kitchen.

Roberta Hershey, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, says science ruled out open-kettle and hot water bath methods for corn long ago. They're not safe.

She explains that a boiling water bath will never reach a temperature high enough to destroy all food-spoilage bacteria that may be present in corn, a non-acid food.

It doesn't help to boil the kettle all day. The temperature goes so high and no higher. To hit the right height on the thermometer, you must use a pressure canner.

If you've canned corn the "old" way for years with no food loss, you're lucky. Some jars could have spoiled and blown up; some jars could have spoiled without giving a warning.

This unsuspected spoilage might be botulism poisoning. Though it seldom occurs, it hits hard. Cases of botulism poisonings are 60 per cent fatal.

Miss Hershey says you gamble when you can corn, or any other non-acid food, without a pressure canner.

ORDINANCE

ORDINANCE NO. 3.210

An ordinance authorizing the establishment of an automobile parking system for the City of Tecumseh; authorizing the acquisition, construction and improvement of two new Municipal parking lots; authorizing the issue of self-liquidating revenue bonds to pay the cost thereof; providing for the retirement of said bonds from the revenues of said automobile parking system; creating a statutory lien on such revenues; and providing for other matters relative to said bonds. The parking facilities and the revenues therefrom.

WHEREAS, the City of Tecumseh, by reason of congestion and lack of available parking space on its public streets, particularly in the business area, is in urgent need of providing additional readily accessible off-street parking facilities, in order to relieve such congestion in the interests of public safety, as well as the convenience of its citizens;

AND WHEREAS, the City has heretofore established on its public streets in said business area parking meters for the purpose of controlling, regulating and limiting the time for use of parking on said streets, which gives rise to the immediate necessity of supplementing said controlled street parking by providing additional publicly owned off-street parking facilities;

AND WHEREAS, the City now owns and operates certain off-street parking lots named and described as follows:

S. E. BLOCK

Lots No. 171, 172 and 174 Assessor's Plat No. 2 of Village of Tecumseh, providing space for the parking of sixty-seven motor vehicles.

N. W. BLOCK

Lots 7, 8, 10, 11 and Lot 15 EX S 28' BLOCK No. 6 Assessor's Plat of W. L. Hewitt's Addition to Village of Tecumseh, providing space for the parking of eighty-seven motor vehicles.

AND WHEREAS, the revenues and income derived from the street parking charges lawfully established in said areas and the revenues and income derived from the off-street parking lots now owned by the City are not specifically allocated or pledged, but should properly be used to apply on the cost of providing parking in said City on additional publicly owned off-street facilities in order to make effective the control and regulation of the entire problem of parking in the business area;

AND WHEREAS, to effectuate and properly regulate and control parking in said business area and provide the necessary facilities to make such regulation and control effective, it is necessary and expedient that automobile parking facilities owned and operated by the City of Tecumseh including specifically all street parking spaces where parking meters are now located or are hereafter located, the existing off-street parking lots now owned by the City, and the new municipal parking lots to be acquired, improved and constructed and any other parking facilities hereinafter acquired and, for the use of which facilities fees or charges are made, be combined into a single automobile parking system to be known as "CITY OF TECUMSEH AUTOMOBILE PARKING SYSTEM," in order to facilate the financing of the cost of acquiring, improving and constructing the new additional off-street parking lots, all of which are needed to effectuate the proper control and regulation of parking in said City;

AND WHEREAS, the properties upon which said two new municipal lots are to be established and constructed are described as follows:

N. E. BLOCK

Lots No. 120, 119 EX N 22', the E 40' of Lot 121, 122, 123, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 131 and 132 Assessor's Plat No. 2 of Village of Tecumseh.

S. W. BLOCK

Lot No. 16 and the N 40' of Lots 17 and 18, Block 7, Assessor's Plat of W. L. Hewitt's Addition to Village of Tecumseh.

AND WHEREAS, it is necessary to purchase eighty-eight (88) additional on-street parking meters, and two hundred eighty-eight (288) additional off-street parking meters for use in the off-street municipal parking lots.

AND WHEREAS, the total cost of acquiring said properties and the estimated cost of constructing and improving said properties into adequate parking facilities, including the cost of acquiring and installing necessary parking meters thereon, as well as the additional new off-street parking meters, plus contingencies, legal and financing expenses, has been determined by Calvin Zorn, City Engineer, to be Sixty-five Thousand ($65,000.00) Dollars;

AND WHEREAS, the parking fees and charges and income derived from said parking meters in said City and from the existing off-street lots have not been hypothecated or pledged for any purpose;

AND WHEREAS, the parking fees and income to be derived from the new municipal parking lots to be acquired and constructed have not been hypothecated or pledged for any purpose;

AND WHEREAS, all things necessary to the authorization and issuance of self-liquidating revenue bonds under the Constitution and laws of the State of Michigan, and particularly Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, have been done, and the City Council is now empowered and desires to authorize the issuance of said bonds;

THE CITY OF TECUMSEH ORDAINS:

Section 1. It is hereby determined and declared to be necessary for the public benefit and welfare of the City of Tecumseh, for the purpose of effectuating traffic control and public safety, to acquire, construct and improve the two new municipal parking lots as described in the preamble hereto as a supplement to the controlled and regulated street and off-street parking now in effect in said City, and to acquire the additional new parking meters as specified in the preamble hereto.

Section 2. From and after October 1, 1960, all streets parking facilities where parking fees or charges are collected through parking meters or other methods, the existing off-street lots, more particularly described in the preamble hereto, the new municipal parking lots herein authorized to be acquired, improved and constructed, and any other parking facilities, either on-street or off-street, hereinafter acquired, and for the use of which facilities, fees or charges are made, shall be maintained and operated by the City as one separate municipal system to be known as the City of Tecumseh Automobile Parking System and shall include all parking meters, buildings, facilities, equipment or accessories used or useful in connection therewith, heretofore acquired, acquired under the provisions of this Ordinance, or subsequently acquired for said System.

Section 3. The estimated cost of the acquisition, construction and improving of the new municipal parking lots, and the purchase of the additional new parking meters referred to in the preamble hereto, including contingencies, legal, engineering and financial expense, which estimate has been prepared by Calvin Zorn, City Engineer, and is in the amount of $65,000.00, is hereby approved and the City Council does hereby estimate the period of usefulness of said properties to be at least forty (40) years.

Section 4. To pay the cost of acquiring, constructing and improving said new parking lots and meters, and to pay financial engineering and legal, and other expenses and contingencies incident thereto, it is hereby determined that there be borrowed upon the credit of the income and revenues of the City of Tecumseh Automobile Parking System the sum of $65,000.00, and that, in evidence thereof, there be issued the negotiable revenue bonds of the City in the principal amount of $65,000.00 under and in accordance with the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Wherever the words "the System" are used in this Ordinance, they shall be understood to mean the complete City of Tecumseh Automobile Parking System, as described in Section 2 of this Ordinance.

Whatever the words "revenues" and "net revenues" are used in this Ordinance, they shall be understood to have the meaning as defined in Section 3 of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Section 5. Said bonds shall be designated "CITY OF TECUMSEH AUTOMOBILE PARKING SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS" and shall be, not general obligations of the City of Tecumseh, but revenue bonds, payable out of the net revenues of the System, after provisions have been made for payment of expenses of administration, operation and maintenance, and shall consist of sixty-five (65) bonds of $1,000.00 each, dated October 1, 1960, numbered in direct order of maturity from 1 to 65, inclusive, and payable serially as follows:

$2,000.00 July 1st of each year from 1963 to 1967, inclusive;

$4,000.00 July 1st of each year from 1968 to 1972, inclusive;

$5,000.00 July 1st of each year from 1973 to 1979, inclusive.

Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding five per cent (5%) per annum, payable on July 1, 1961, and semi-annually thereafter on January 1st and July 1st of each year, both principal and interest to be payable at a bank or trust company to be designated by the purchaser of the bonds.

Bonds of this issue numbered 1 to 26, both inclusive, maturing in the years 1963 to 1971, both inclusive, shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

Bonds numbered 27 to 65, both inclusive, maturing in the years 1972 to 1979, both inclusive, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the City, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after January 1, 1971, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium as follows:

$50.00 on each bond called for redemption in the year 1971;

$40.00 on each bond called for redemption in the year 1972;

$30.00 on each bond called for redemption in the year 1973;

$20.00 on each bond called for redemption in the year 1974;

$10.00 on each bond called for redemption in the year 1975;

$ 5.00 on each bond called for redemption in the year 1976.

No premium shall be paid on bonds called for redemption after July 1, 1976.

Thirty days' notice of redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notice of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of regular date called for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the City has money available for such redemption with the paying agent. Registered bonds, thirty days' notice shall be given by mail to the registered address. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after.

Said bonds may be registered in the manner and with the effect set forth on the face thereof, as hereinafter provided.

Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the City Clerk and shall have the corporate seal of the City affixed thereto and shall have interest coupons attached bearing the facsimile signatures of said Mayor and City Clerk, and said officials, by the execution of said bonds, shall adopt as and for their own proper signatures, the facsimile signatures on said coupons.

Section 6. Said bonds shall not be a general obligations or indebtedness of the City of Tecumseh, but shall be payable solely from the net revenues derived from the operation of the System, and to secure such payment there is hereby created a statutory first lien upon the whole of the net revenues of the System, to continue until the payment in full of the principal and interest on said bonds.

Section 7. The holders of said bonds or coupons representing in the aggregate not less than twenty (20%) per cent of the entire issue then outstanding may, upon the conditions hereinafter provided, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, protect and enforce the statutory lien upon the revenues of said System and may by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, enforce and compel performance of all duties of the officers or agencies of the City, including the fixing of sufficient rates, the collection of revenues, the proper segregation of the revenues of said System and the proper application thereof; Provided, However, that the statutory lien upon said revenues shall not be construed to give the holder or holders of any bonds or coupons authority to compel the sale of the said System.

If there be any default in the payment of the principal of or interest upon any of said bonds, any court having jurisdiction in any proper action may appoint a receiver to administer and operate said System on behalf of the City and under the direction of said court, and by and with approval of said court, to perform all of the duties of the officers or agencies of said City more particularly set forth herein and in Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

The holder or holders of any such bonds or any coupons therefrom shall have all other rights and remedies given by said Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, for the collection and enforcement of said bonds and the security therefor.

Section 8. The System shall be operated on the basis of an operating year commencing on July 1st and ending on June 30th.

Section 9. The City Manager shall have direct control of the acquisition, construction, alteration, management and operation of the System subject to general overall control by the City Council.

Section 10. The schedule of parking fees, rates and charges to be collected by means of the parking meters of the System located on public streets within the City, for the purpose of controlling and regulating parking thereon, are hereby established and fixed at the rates presently established in the City, to-wit: one ($.01) cent for twelve minutes; five ($.05) cents per hour.

The parking fees, rates and charges for all parking service furnished by the off-street municipal parking lots, including the two new lots, shall be at five ($.05) cents for two hours or a fraction thereof; ten (10c) cents for four hours, and twenty-five (25c) cents for all time over four hours.

The time limits for parking may be increased or decreased by action of the City Council; Provided, however, that no such action shall be taken which will materially lessen the income and revenues of the System.

The time limits for parking be increased or decreased by action of the City Council; Provided, however, that no such action shall be taken which will materially lessen the income and revenues of the System.

Section 11. No free parking, storage or other service shall be supplied by the System to any person, firm or corporation, public or private, or to any public agency or instrumentality, but all such service furnished shall be paid for in accordance with the foregoing schedule of rates or any revision thereof, in compliance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 12. The parking fees, rates and charges fixed for street parking to be collected through on-street parking meters and for parking in the off-street municipal parking lots are estimated to be sufficient to provide for the payment of the expenses of administration and operation, and such expenses for maintenance of the System as are necessary to preserve the same and all in compliance with facilities in good repair and working order; to provide for payment of the interest upon and principal of all bonds as and when the same become due and payable, and to provide for such other expenditures and funds for said System as are required by this Ordinance. Such parking rates, fees and charges shall be fixed and revised from time to time as may be necessary to produce these amounts. It is hereby convenanted and agreed at all times to fix, maintain and collect such parking fees, rates and charges for parking service furnished by the System as shall be sufficient to provide for the foregoing.

Section 13. From and after October 1. 1960, the revenues of the System are hereby ordered to be set aside, as collected, and deposited in United Savings Bank, Tecumseh, Michigan, a bank duly qualified to do business in Michigan in an account to be designated "AUTOMOBILE PARKING SYSTEM RECEIVING FUND" (herein after referred to as the "Receiving Fund"), and said revenues so deposited are pledged for the purpose of the following funds and shall be transferred from the Receiving Fund periodically and in the manner and at the times hereinafter specified:

(A) OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE FUND:

Out of the revenues in the Receiving Fund there shall first be set aside, monthly, into a separate depositary account disignated "Operation and Maintenance Fund," a sum sufficient to provide for the payment of the next month's current expenses of administration and operation of the System, and such current expenses of administration and operation of the System, and such current expenses for the maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve the same and all facilities thereof in good repair and working order; Not to exceed ten (10%) per cent of the gross annual revenues of the System may be allocated and used to pay costs of police enforcement of parking regulations, as part of the operation and maintenance expenses of the System. From moneys on hand on October 1, 1960, derived from on-street parking or the storing off-street lots, there shall be placed in the Operation and Maintenance Fund on October 1, 1960, a sum sufficient to meet operation and maintenance costs of the System for the month beginning October 1, 1960.

(B) BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND:

There shall next be established and maintained a separate depositary account designated as the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, which shall be used solely and only for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on the bonds hereby authorized. The moneys in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund shall be kept on hand with the bank or trust company where the principal and interest on the bonds herein authorized are currently payable.

Out of the revenues remaining in the Receiving Fund after provision has been made for expenses of operation and maintenance of the System, there shall be set aside in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund each month, commencing October 1, 1960, a sum not less than one-ninth (1/9th) of the interest becoming due on July 1, 1961, and commencing July 1, 1961, during the first six months of each operating year not less than one-sixth (1/6th) of the interest becoming due on the following January 1st, and each month during the last six months of each operating year not less than one-sixth (1/6th) of the interest becoming due on the following July 1st. Commencing July 1, 1961, there shall be set aside during each month in said Fund, in addition to the interest requirements, not less than one-twelfth (1/12th) of the total amount of principal maturing on the bonds herein authorized on July 1st of the next succeeding operating year. If there shall be any deficiency in the amount previously required to be set aside, then the amount of such deficiency shall be added to the current requirement.

There is hereby established in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund a separate account to be known as the Bond Reserve Account into which, after making provision for the Operation and Maintenance Fund and the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, as aforesaid, there shall be paid in equal monthly installments, commencing October 1, 1960, the sum of Three Hundred ($300.00) Dollars during each month until there is accumulated in said Bond Reserve Account the sum of Six Thousand Six Hundred ($6,000.00) Dollars. The money in said Bond Reserve Account shall be used solely for the payment of principal and interest on the bonds herein authorized to be issued as to which there would otherwise be default. If at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in the Bond Reserve Account for such payment, then the money so used shall be replaced from the net revenue first received thereafter which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for operation and maintenance, or for current principal and interest requirements; Provided, However, that such Bond Reserve Account shall not be regarded as moneys otherwise appropriated or pledged for the purpose of determining the sufficiency of funds available for redemption of callable bonds.

No further payments need to be made into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund after enough of the bonds have been retired so that the amount then held in said Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) is equal to the entire amount of principal and interest which will be payable at the time of maturity of all the bonds then remaining outstanding. In any case the moneys may be used instead to purchase bonds on the open market at the best price or prices obtainable, but not in excess of the then redemption price.

(C) REPLACEMENT FUND:

There shall next be established and maintained a separate depositary account known as the Replacement Fund, which shall be used solely for the purpose of making major repairs and replacements to the System and the facilities thereof. There shall be paid into said Fund, after making provision for the Operation and Maintenance Fund, the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and the Bond Reserve Account, the sum of Fifty ($50.00) Dollars, in equal monthly installments commencing January 1, 1962, until there is accumulated in said Replacement Fund the sum of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars. If at any time it shall be necessary to use moneys in said Fund for such purpose, the moneys so used shall be replaced from the net revenues in the Receiving Fund which are not required by this Ordinance to be used for the Operation and Maintenance Fund, or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account). At such time as moneys in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including the Bond Reserve Account) and the Replacement Fund are equal to the entire amount of principal and interest payable at maturity of all bonds then remaining outstanding, said moneys in the Replacement Fund shall be transferred into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and used for the purpose of paying the principal and interest on said bonds remaining outstanding.

(D) IMPROVEMENT FUND:

Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, there may be set aside in any month, after meeting the requirements for the foregoing funds for such month, in a fund to be designated Improvement Fund, such sum as the City Council may deem advisable, to be used for improvements, enlargements, extensions and repairs to the System.

(E) SURPLUS FUND:

Revenues remaining in said Receiving Fund at the end of any operating year after all periodical transfers have been made therefrom as above required, shall be deemed to be surplus and may be left in the Receiving Fund or may be transferred to a fund to be designated Surplus Fund. Moneys in said Surplus Fund from time to time may be transferred to one or more of the foregoing funds, or may be used for any purpose connected with the System; Provided, However, that if at any time there shall exist any default in making any periodical transfer to any of the above-mentioned funds, then such default shall be rectified so far as possible by the transfer of moneys from said Surplus Fund. If any such default shall exist as to more than one fund at any one time, then such transfers shall be made in the order in which such funds are listed above.

(F) MONEYS ON HAND ON OCTOBER 1, 1960:

Moneys on hand on October 1, 1960, derived from charges for parking and not allocated to other use, shall be used for the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

First: A sum sufficient to meet operation and maintenance expenses for the month of October, 1960, shall be placed in the Operation and Maintenance Fund;

Second: The balance of said moneys so remaining shall be placed in the Receiving Fund.

Section 14. Said bonds shall be sold and the proceeds applied in accordance with the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Section 15. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be deposited in the United Savings Bank, Tecumseh, Michigan, a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and shall be used solely to pay the cost of acquiring and improving the said new municipal parking lots and the additional parking meters. Any unexpected balance of the proceeds of sale remaining may, in the discretion of the City Council and to the extent of fifteen (15%) per cent of the amount of the bonds herein authorized, be used for further improvements and extensions to the Automobile Parking System, in the event no such expenditure is made, the entire unexpended balance shall be paid into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and used for the redemption of callable bonds or for the purchase of bonds on the open market. The proceeds of said bonds may be invested in whole or in part in the manner provided in Section 24 of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Section 16. The City of Tecumseh convenants and agrees with the successive holders of the bonds and coupons that so long as any of the bonds remain outstanding and unpaid as to either principal or interest:

(a) The City will maintain the System in good repair and working order and will operate the same efficiently and will faithfully and punctually perform all duties with reference to the System required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Michigan, including the making and collection of sufficient rates for parking and the segregation and application of the revenues of the System in the manner provided in this Ordinance. The City will, from time to time, make all needful and proper repairs, replacements, additions and betterments in the equipment and facilities of the System, so that it may at all time be operated properly and advantageously, and whenever any parking meter or any other equipment or facility of the System shall have been worn out, destroyed or otherwise unfit for proper use, it shall be promptly replaced or repaired, so that the value and efficiency of the System shall at all time be fully maintained and its revenue unimpaired by reason thereof. The City will maintain and enforce parking regulations on its public streets and the municipal parking lots of the System and for that purpose will maintain, amend or adopt the necessary penal ordinance or ordinances to permit such enforcement.

(b) The City will maintain and keep proper books of record and account, separate from all other records and accounts, in which shall be made full and correct entries of all transactions relating to the System. Not later than three (3) months after the close of each operating year, the City Council will cause to be prepared, on forms furnished by the Municipal Finance Commission if such forms be available, a statement in reasonable detail, sworn to by its chief accounting officer, showing the cash income and disbursements of the System during the operating year, and such other information as may be necessary to enable any taxpayer of the City, user of the service furnished, or any holder or owner of the bonds, or any one acting in their behalf to be fully informed as to all matters pertaining to the financial operation of the System during such year. A certified copy of such statement shall be filed with the Municipal Finance Commission and such statement and books of record and account shall, at all reasonable times, be open to inspection by any taxpayer of the City, user of the service, or holder or holders of any bonds, or anyone acting in their behalf. A copy of such statement shall be sent to the manager of the syndicate or account purchasing the bonds. The City Council will also cause an annual audit of such books of record and account for the preceding operating year to be made by a recognized independent certified public accountant, and will require that the auditor furnish a copy of such audit to the manager of the syndicate or account purchasing the bonds.

(c) The City will maintain and carry sufficient public liability and property damage insurance covering the operation of its various parking lots and facilities to protect the System against substantial loss or damage.

(d) The City will not sell, lease or dispose of the System or any substantial part thereof until all of the bonds have been paid in full, as to principal and interest. The City will maintain and operate the System and all its component parts, including parking meters, parking lots and other equipment and facilities in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance until all of the bonds have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest, and will take no action in relation to such System which would unfavorably affect either the security of the bonds or the prompt payment of principal and interest thereon.

(e) The holders of the bonds from time to time shall be entitled to exercise all rights and powers for which provision is made in Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, including the right to apply for the appointment of a receiver for the System, on all respects as though said rights and powers were herein set out in full.

(f) The City agrees that during the time the bonds herein authorized are outstanding it will not reduce the number of on-street parking meters in said System below the number now installed, or to be installed, after purchase thereof from part of the proceeds of this bond issue, if such reduction would reduce the net revenues of the System below a sum equal to one hundred fifty (150%) per cent of the largest amount of principal and interest thereafter maturing in any fiscal year on all bonds then outstanding or authorized, which are payable from the net revenues of the System. Street parking meters will meter 177 parking spaces. Minor changes in the location of street meters may be made where necessary to facilitate the flow of traffic if such changes will not materially reduce the gross revenues.

Section 17. The statutory lien on the revenues for which provision is made in Section 8 of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, is hereby recognized and created in favor of the holders of the bonds and the interest coupons pertaining thereto. Such lien shall continue in existence until the payment in full of principal of and interest on the bonds and may be enforced in the manner for which provision is made in Section 9 of Act 94, aforesaid.

Section 18. The City shall have the right to issue additional bonds payable from the net revenues of the System for the purpose of making other and additional improvements, enlargements and extensions to the System, which bonds when issued shall have equal standing with the bonds herein authorized; Provided, that no such additional bonds of equal standing shall be issued unless the average net revenues for the then last two (2) preceding operating years or the net revenues for the then last preceding operating year, whichever shall be the lower, shall be equal to at least one hundred fifty (150%) per cent of the largest amount of principal and interest thereafter maturing in any operating year on any bonds then outstanding payable from the revenues of the System, and on such additional bonds then being issued. No such additional bonds shall be issued if the City shall then be in default in making any payments to the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund.

Permission of the Municipal Finance Commission (or such other Commission as shall have jurisdiction over the issuance of municipal bonds) to issue such additional bonds, shall constitute a conclusive presumption of the existence of conditions permitting the issuance thereof.

Section 19. Said bonds shall be in substantially the following form:

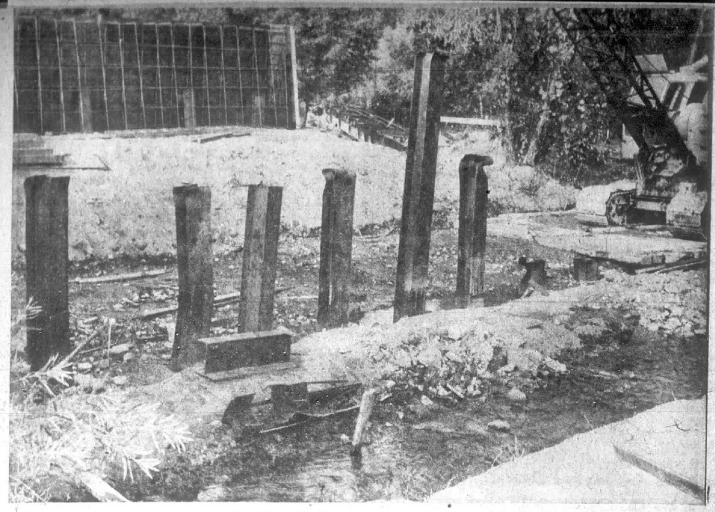
Slam Those Pilings!



THESE STEEL PILINGS ARE DRIVEN DEEP INTO THE EARTH, W ILL FORM THE FOUNDATION FOR NEW BRIDGE ABUTMENT

Sidewalk superintendents have found watching the construction of the new bridge on N. Maumee St. a fascinating past-time, especially while the crews have been driving the steel pilings.

Councilman Royal Welch is shown inspecting one of the 14 pilings which needed welded extensions.

Twenty-two of these pilings have been used. They are driven down 35 feet into the ground or until they hit solid earth.

If the piling has not reached solid ground when its length has run out, extensions are welded onto the top at a cost of $35 apiece.

This takes a half day to accomplish and it is tested by beating it with a 9-lb. sledge hammer.

The pilings are used to brace the cement abutments seen in the other picture. The new bridge will go across the top of the abutment six feet above the level of the old road.

South Union St. area is providing the fill for the sides.

The bridge will be open for pedestrians in time for school if the concrete beams arrive on schedule.

CLEAN TALK

Soap and Toothpaste Stains

By ROYAL WELCH

Here are a couple of commonly encountered stains!

Take SOAP, for instance. Soap's largely flat and alkali. This combination is very effective in getting out dirt. But every housewife knows it can cause difficulty if allowed to remain in the fabric.

If the garment is not thoroughly rinsed or if the soap is rubbed into the garment accidently (as might happen with a child), then the inevitable brown stain appears when heat is applied. Heat breaks down the fat and alkali in the soap, and the stain turns brown. See?

Naturally, we know that you won't mind if we translate it for you in terms of "dry cleanable" garments. It is infinitely better to leave the soap stain completely alone. Do not rub or try TO WASH IT OUT WITH WATER. Just tell us about it. We'll do the rest!

With a washable garment, rinsing thoroughly in clear, cool water will take care of the problem.

TOOTHPASTE. The principal ingredients in toothpaste and powders are sulfated fatty alcohol, sodium perborate, flavoring, and powdered chalk. And all toothpastes are alkaline.

Result is that toothpaste acts as a bleach. DO NOT RUB TOOTHPASTE STAINS. This will only force the stain more deeply into the fabric and cause the bleach to act faster! Better get it to us immediately.

Whatever the stain, you'll get it cleaned better when you BRING IT TO Welch Cleaners.

THE SNOWS OF DECEMBER by Daria Oliver — Turbulent, exciting 1825 Russia — fabled land of riches and crushing poverty, cosmopolitan cities and Siberian prison camps, romance and dark intrigue — comes vividly to life in this stirring historical romance.

THE WORLD OF JEROME KERN by David Ewen — Here are the stories behind the musicals of a glittering era: "Roberta," "Music in the Air," and of course, "Show Boat." Interlaced throughout the book are warm glimpses of a successful man who enjoyed living and lived well. It is copiously illustrated with nostalgic photographs.

BATON SINISTER by Carl Spinatelli — On a dark night in 1512 a gallant young nobleman is brutally stabbed in a dark alleyway in Genoa. Miles away, at a mountain hideout, his beloved is dying as she nurses their new-born son to life. This is the saga of Marco, who has violence as his heritage.

TWO WEEKS IN ANOTHER TOWN by Irwin Shaw — An American is suddenly called to Rome on an errand of friendship. Soon after his arrival he is the victim of a bizarre accident. Trifling in itself, the mishap begins a train of events which endanger his life and attack his reason.

A TIGRESS IN THE VILLAGE by Frank Swinnerton — The central character in this new novel is Mary Grace, a proud, beautiful woman. She is loyal and devoted to her weak-spirited husband, maternal and protective toward each of her three precocious children, spontaneous and warm toward the lovely orphan thrust suddenly into the Grace home. But with Tom Tamplin, her most constant friend, Mary's strength began to falter, and she is forced to make difficult and unpleasant decisions.

Fireman William LaCoe left August 12 for Long Beach, Calif. to report for duty aboard the Cruiser USS Helena.

A Tecumseh High School graduate, Fireman LaCoe joined the US Navy in April of 1959 and trained at San Diego.

He was stationed at Port Huenene in the boat division this past year.

He has been spending a 15 day transfer leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Buell, of Tipton.

College Can Help More Than Half of Our Youth

More than half the nation's college-age adults could profit from higher education, a University of Michigan educator suggests.

Prof. Algo Henderson, former president of Antioch College and now director of the U-M Center for the Study of Higher Education, says greatly expanded opportunities for education beyond high school are needed for three reasons:

1. To meet increased demand for trained manpower in all sectors of society,

2. To cope with the growing responsibilities of citizenship, and

3. To fulfill the democratic ideal that all individuals should achieve maximum personal development.

During the past half century, enrollments have risen from 238,000 to more than three million, but colleges "today are better equipped, have better faculties, do proportionately more research, and give graduate students better preparation for their careers and for living than ever before," Henderson asserts.

At present, approximately 36 per cent of the nation's college-age population takes some form of higher education. In 1957, the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School indicated as many as 49 per cent could benefit from two years study after high school.

Old Homes Won't Need Garbage Disposals

Although councilmen disagreed Monday night, the first reading of the controversial city dump ordinance was approved.

Stricken from the original ordinance was a section which called for installation of garbage disposals in all Tecumseh homes by 1966.

Councilman Royal Welch, a committee member who submitted recommendations to council, and George McCombs voted against deleting this section. Welch said that surveys show that many progressive cities enforced home disposal units.

Other councilmen said they had received complaints and pointed out that plumbing in many older homes would not handle disposals.

A minor ordinance change affected the disposition and handling of salvage by the caretaker.

(The complete ordinance is published in the council minutes in this issue).

DON PURKEY, AGENT AND DISTRIBUTOR for Mobil Oil Company, was low bidder and received the city's contract for gasoline and fuel.

Other bidders were Standard Oil, Gulf, Beacon and Cities Service.

☆

NELSON TOLD DR. DUSTIN, N. Union St. resident, that the city would blacktop that street by the latter part of September.

He also said Brown St., from the railroad tracks to Evans, would be blacktopped. N. Union will be blacktopped from Chicago Blvd. to the bridge.

☆

COUNCIL ACKNOWLEDGE A LETTER from the local Business and Professional Women's Club about keeping the downtown business district clean.

Nelson said the streets were swept three times a week.

Business people were urged to use the trash containers when they sweep off their sidewalk. It was pointed out that the city sweeper cleans out the gutters early in the morning, before cars line the curbs and before businesses open.

☆

PAYMENT OF THE BALANCE of $1,200 to Mrs. Harry Tuckey for two small lots in the northeast business block was approved, making it possible to construct a city parking lot there yet this year.

City manager Ed Nelson said several buildings could be removed, the area graded and possibly seal-coated this fall.

A two-block retaining wall around the remainder of Mrs. Tuckey's property also was approved. The wall will cost approximately $900.

BEATNIK WINNER MRS. BOB LAIDLAW IN PARADE

TOM RIORDAN'S Long & Short

Harvey Wilson might not have won the gala Hi Lo golf tournament over the weekend at Tecumseh Country Club, but he scored well anyway—for Wilson Motor Sales.

Gretta Porter, one-time Herald staffer and now a feature writer with the Rockford (Ill.) Star and Register-Republic (morning and afternoon dailies in that community of 150,000), was in town.

It was her first visit back to Tecumseh in almost a year and she particularly wanted to help cheer for her dad, Willis, in the golfing affair.

Willis did OK (see complete story with pictures on last page of this section).

Harvey was congratulating Willis when Gretta happened to mention she was "sort of" interested in a new Valiant. In short order, Valiant dealer Wilson was into his sales pitch.

Tuesday morning, Miss Porter and her weekend guest, Barbara Lesinski, a Rockford school teacher, were rolling along the highway back to Illinois in Gretta's shiny, new Valiant.

Watch for an interesting story about the new Inkster civic center, complete with pictures, in next week's Herald. Inkster's $614,000 facility may have some specific hints for Tecumseh.

How much choice beef do you think it takes to put on a church dinner?

Well, over at St. Elizabeth, parishioners have been staging such an affair each year for some time and figuring up the needed portions has become old hat.

To keep their 1,000 or so guests happy and well filled, more than 600 pounds of meat is necessary. And it's always "choice" since a contended customer is paramount when you want him back next year.

More than 100 folks will help at the dinner, filling jobs from greeting guests, waiting on table, peeling potatoes, making gravy to perking coffee, cooking vegetables and baking pies.

A duty roster, much like the military, lists every job, times they're to be performed. And like GI chores there're the KP slots—where there're the most stale jokes told and probably the greatest amount of fun at the whole dinner.

This year's dinner is slated for Sunday, Sept. 18, with serving from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. As usual, everyone is welcome.

Who ever heard of a farm tractor with power brakes? Or, for that matter, a seat which looks just like something out of an executive's office?

Well, that's part of the new John Deere line, which is being shown next week. There's as much secrecy surrounding this as the announcement of the new cars.

Fay Whelan and his son, Dick, made a jet trip to Dallas last week, along with about 5,000 other Deere dealers from all over the world. They went to see the new Deere and returned so excited, one would think the wheel had just been invented.

But that's tractor biz, I guess.

☆

We can't really chide Fay and Dick, though, because we're pretty keyed up ourselves. You see, the magic number is now 448.

That means 448 new subscribers turned in so far by our Earn-A-Bike sales force, which now numbers more than 100.

Total bicycles earned — 19, as we go to press Wednesday.

JAY HOLLIS STUDIES HIS TRUCK, WHICH WAS STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

3 Injured in Crash

Three Tecumseh young men escaped death when their small car collided with a truck and flipped over four times into a meadow next to the Tecumseh-Macon Rd. Tuesday night.

Those hospitalized include:

Charles Mueller, 18, of 511 W. Kilbuck St., lacerations about the head and face.

Troy Warren, 18, of 315 W. Logan St., internal, chest and neck injuries, fractured right arm.

Max Morden, 23, of Clinton-Macon Rd., chest injuries, lacerations of face and head.

The three were taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital by Collins-Corkery and Green-Dunn ambulances.

Warren was later transferred to University Medical Center in Ann Arbor.

State police have not as yet ascertained who was driving the compact as it was going east on Macon Rd.

Jay Hollis, 27, of 5950 Pennington Rd., was heading west in his half-ton truck. He told The Herald he was starting to turn off the road to the south when he spotted the car. He said he was stopped at the time of impact.

The auto struck at an angle and was flipped into the field, tossing out Warren and Morden as it spun over, witness said.

The truck's front was caved in and Hollis escaped injury.

Richard Didn't Make 1st Day-No Wonder!

Richard Graf, age nine, didn't make the opening day of school at Herrick Park where he'll be a fourth grader.

Instead, Dick was resting comfortably in a Jackson hospital bed after suffering a harrowing chain reaction of mishaps last week.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Graf, 505 Center Dr., he was visiting his grandparents in Jackson with his folks.

Following dinner, Richard went out to play in the back yard and here's what happened to him:

1. He fell from a tree, suffering a compound fracture in his left arm.

2. Rushed to the hospital, Richard underwent surgery.

3. The anesthetic nauseated him and he started to vomit, but instead inhaled particles of food into his lungs.

4. Dick's breathing stopped for four minutes before doctors could revive him.

5. He quit breathing again and a tracheotomy had to be performed.

Enrollment Totals 3,315

$1,450 Taken from Market Hiding Place

A deft-fingered theft lifted $1,450 from a desk in the East Side Market last week.

Owner Clayton Mikesell told police he normally never has this much money on hand.

But in anticipation of cashing Tecumseh Products Co. employee checks, he had the funds ready.

However, the Products was on vacation and he didn't need the cash. Instead of re-banking it, he decided to hold the cash until the next pay period.

The $1,450 was — he thought — safely tucked away. But apparently someone saw him hide the cash or was awfully lucky in stumbling into the right drawer.

Police are checking out several suspects.

Morley Buys Coscarelli Soda Bar

Larry Coscarelli has announced the sale of his Candy Kitchen to Bud Morley.

It will now be known as Bud's Grill.

Mr. Morley, who operated a Gulf gasoline station the past three and one-half years here, says that he'll be open more hours.

He plans to start at 8 a.m. and continue until 10:30 p.m. On weekends, closing hour will be midnight.

The interior is being repainted and a new French fryer ordered. When things are in order, a grand opening will be held, he adds.

Mr. Coscarelli's plans for the present are to assist his wife in the operation of her Rushia's Apparel shop.

Norma Jean Shaw Marries Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Daniel Wells are announcing the coming marriage of Norma Jean Shaw, daughter of Mrs. Wells and Raymond Shaw, to Pearl William Smith.

The open wedding will be held Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Morenci Baptist Church.

Friends and relatives are invited.

Beatnik Parade Highlights Annual Sidewalk Carnival

Friday's Sidewalk Sale was another gala event for Tecumseh shoppers and merchants alike.

Highlight of the third annual edition was the Parade of the Beatniks and awarding of prizes.

With Ron Lemerand, in beatnik garb, pounding a bass drum, more than 100 "Beat People" strutted down the sidewalks in the business district to be judged.

Top winner for the event was Mrs. Robert Laidlaw, who was given a $25 gift certificate by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the annual affair.

There were so many outstanding costumes, that the judges, Mrs. Lyle Grigg, Ray Sluyter, Dean Keeler and Mrs. Harold Pickard, split second and third prizes.

Tied for second: Christine Williams and Robert LaPrad, who each were given $7.50 certificates.

Tied for third: Mrs. James Barton and Laura Seager, who each received $5 certificates.

Honor mention went to Mrs. Gerald Potter, David Day and Mrs. Jan Kachur.

☆

IN THE division for store owners and sales people, George Ruhl of Easton's Friendly Service captured the top award.

Dick Hicks, D&C manager, took runner-up honors.

Mrs. Larry Coscarelli, owner of Rushia's Apparel, was third.

Tom Tressler of Hodges Drug Store and Jim Hite of Hite's Hardware, split fourth-place honors.

The Jaycees outdoor chicken and fish barbecue was a whooping success as 281 persons were served at tables along Ottawa St.

Every chicken was gone and only a small amount of fish and some tomatoes were left, reports Jerry Barton, who was chairman.

Folks from Beach Bros. Fleet-Wing distributors and Don's Service Station did a whirl-wind business at giving free rides to youngsters along Pearl St. on a Go-Kart with trailer, pony cart and golf cart.

More than 2,500 children had rides and between 3,000 and 4,000 suckers and balloons were given away by the Fleet-Wing personnel.

AT THE HERALD booth, over 300 pictures which appeared in issues of the past 12 months, were sold at 10c each.

Cash register tapes at most busines places on Sidewalk Day showed excellent totals. One storeman said he did 75% more business than during the Sidewalk Sale of 1959.

Summer clearance items and back-to-school merchandise moved steadily all day. One store was so busy, extra sales help had to be hired about noon.

Retail merchants are already looking forward to their next promotion — the free Aunt Jemima Pancake Supper, which will come in October.

Steal $500 Tools, Then Toss Away

The Tecumseh Products airport, located on Stone Hwy., was the scene of a break-in sometime Wednesday evening or Thursday morning. Entrance was gained through a hanger window on the north side.

Stolen were a number of tools valued in excess of $500 and some gasoline from the pump.

Tecumseh police discovered the tools scattered along the ditch of Grange Hwy., two miles west of the airport, while out on patrol, and returned them.

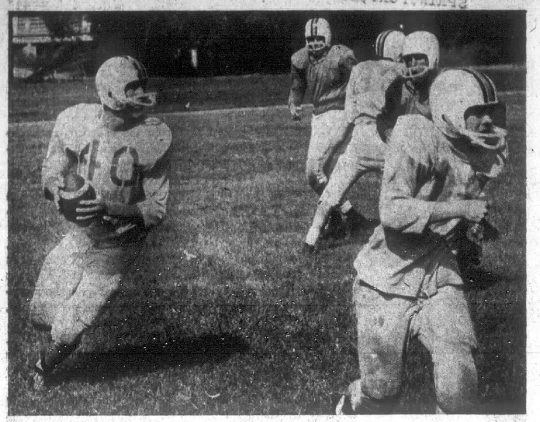
Coach Picks Captain, Names Koffron Quarterback



NEW QUARTERBACK—Robert Koffron (40) has been given the job of quarterbacking the Tecumseh High School 11 and has responded well Bob has one problem: his eyes. Last year he wore special glasses, but they steamed up and kept slipping off. The solution would be contact lenses, but the cost is about $200.

In just one short week, Tecumseh High School opens defense of its Huron League football championship.

The Indians entertain Willow Run, Friday, Sept. 16.

Coach Duncan Lectka made several significant moves last week:

1. He appointed Jon Aho, husky fullback, as team captain.
2. Named Bob Koffron as No. 1 quarterback.

Aho is popular with his mates and should make an excellent leader. This marks his third season as a regular.

Koffron got his job in an unusual manner, but he may turn into the year's surprise.

At Monday's full-scale scrimmage, Koffron, who has been the starting right half, was moved into the QB post when two of the squad's signal callers failed to appear.

What Coach Lectka saw of Koffron he liked and now had the burly youth running the club.

Koffron needs his passing polished and that's where assistant coach Vic Lawson comes in. A former star thrower himself, Lawson will work with the new QB.

Clarence Champanois has taken over the fullback position.

Originally, Mike Green had been figured for this role, but after two days of practice he complained of a bad back and has not worked out since.

Coach Lectka will give his gridders a stern test Saturday when he takes the squad to Marshall for a game of scrimmage.

Following Willow Run, comes Dundee, Ypsilanti Lincoln, Milan, Flat Rock, Airport, Blissfield, Grosse Ile and Adrian. Five games will be played at home.

CAPTAIN CAVORTS — Jon Aho, named football team captain last week, cavorted in bare feet during the scrimmage on Labor Day. Jon's new shoes were so stiff they bothered his feet, so he just kicked them off and kept playing.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Don Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Mobley, Mrs. Russell Mitzner and Mrs. Clare Martin.

Sharon and Diane Mitzner and Sharon Martin spent the three days in East Lansing.

"WE MADE IT, PEPPER"—Greg Smith has every right to be proud of his horse, "Pepper". Through his own perseverence, Greg brought the horse out of a serious illness this past winter and groomed her to win third in the state last week in the pleasure class for boys 15 and under. Greg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buss Smith of Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. Determined to make her well after the vet said he wouldn't give a dime for her, Greg slept with the horse

Tecumseh Cattle Are Among Those Tested by MSU

Approximately 20 Lenawee County cattle feeders attended the 39th Annual Cattle Feeders Day at Michigan State University.

Several significant reports were made on research projects affecting Lenawee County cattle feeders.

Hugh E. Henderson reported on three experiments run on the same herd of cattle.

In the first, to study shipping fever, 671 head of steers and heifers to be fed out by W. K. Brown of Tecumseh, were given various combinations of tranquilizers and antibiotics.

Some of the animals were treated at their origin in Wyoming, enroute to Michigan and after arrival.

None of 11 treatment methods tried proved satisfactory, Mr. Henderson said, and more work must be done before any treatments for shipping fever can be recommended.

In the second experiment, it was found that hay could be eliminated from a ration which contained a large amount of corn silage without any effect on the animals.

Mr. Henderson said that costs and availability should determine whether hay is fed.

He said the tests showed that hay can be effectively utilized and may prove to be an economical source of energy and protein on farms where it is necessary to grow hay in the crop rotation.

Mrs. O'Neill Is Newest Member of JC Auxiliary

Members like to get their ships airborne almost every day and on Sunday afternoon there's a king-size flight.

But, the group has been turned away from three spots by property owners.

This is a healthy activity—only with a little noise from the tiny gasoline engines. It shouldn't have to be abandoned, so how about a volunteer with that extra chunk of land?

CLEAN TALK

How To Clean Corduroy Properly

By ROYAL WELCH

The pretty ribbed effect of corduroy and its general velvet-like texture leave a question in the minds of many women as to what it's really made of.

Well, fact of the matter is that most corduroy is made of cotton. But because of the weave, design, the "pile" effect, color, and so on, ordinary cotton comes to look rather special.

Of course, a very small percentage of corduroy now on the market is made of other materials like rayon, acetate, etc., but most of it has been, is and shall probably continue to be, made of — cotton.

In terms of cleaning corduroy, therefore, you can't escape the fact that sooner or later during the life of the garment it will have to be "wet cleaned."

Ordinarily, corduroy can be dry cleaned successfully enough. If not too soiled, or if cleaned frequently, it may not require wet cleaning for a long time, indeed.

But should it become badly soiled, or if you wait too long between soiling and cleaning, that is the only way it can be thoroughly cleaned.

And wet cleaning may cause it to lose a bit of its original charm. This we can usually restore.

For a good cleaning job every time, whether it's corduroy or something else — bring it to WELCH CLEANERS.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Nature provides an abundance of thrills to those who happen to be in the right spot at the right time.

Taking what we hope will not be the last trip of the season through the several channels and lakes in the Irish Hills, where our family spends summer weekends, we were given a quiet and rewarding view which we had not experienced before.

As we rounded the bend from Kelly Lake into the channel, which leads under the bridge on Kilarney Road and into Meadow, dad said, "Look at the muskrat."

Guiding the boat gently toward the animal, he cut off his progress across the channel just long enough so that we might get a closer look at this little thing with the bushy tail.

It proved to be a squirrel swimming straight and steadily toward a hickory tree on the bank.

Now I didn't know a squirrel would dive right in and swim from 150 to 200 feet, did you?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Just a few lines once again to let you know how much we do enjoy reading The Herald.

The arrival of The Herald is one of the highlights of the week at our house.

I am really an early bird now as I am driving a milk truck for Pennupreme Dairies, Inc., and have to be at the Dairy by 5 a.m. every morning except Sunday.

We also have one other day off each week besides Sunday.

Friday, my day off this week, we are going to Ocean City, Maryland for the day. Our church's young people are having an outing and I am driving the bus down.

I am sending you a copy of the local weekly paper.

Sincerely,
Glenn and Lois Williams

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED
. . . ATTEND CHURCH!

where are they Going?

A familiar sight . . . men with briefcases daily throng airports all over the nation, winging their way from one place to another. But where, really, are they going?

In this busy age of appointments, rush hours, and summit meetings, we search for success, for more money, for a better future, for a variety of things. Yet, like so many mid-twentieth century Americans, the harder we seek the less we find.

We need a job, a purpose, a home, a family. But also, we need a church. We need to go into that church to reaffirm our faith both in God and in our fellow beings. Only then does our quest — and our ultimate destination — begin to make sense.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

+ Busy Schedule Resumes Sunday for Methodists

The Methodist Church of Tecumseh returns to its busy schedule this Sunday, Sept. 11.

Worship service will be at 10 a.m. when the Rev. Allen Wittrup, pastor, will speak on the subject "Are We Prisoners of the Unimportant?"

The Rev. Wittrup will point out areas of life where selfish concerns and small goals demand far too much time and energy in the presence of greater needs.

At 11:15 the Church School will convene. This is a return to one session of the church school, last year there were two sessions. Sufficient room is now available for just one session because of the purchase and use of a large house at 207 W. Chicago Blvd.

Work has been completed to convert the house into an educational building. Grades 4-9 will now meet in the new unit.

The Intermediate Youth Fellowship will meet at 5:30 and the Senior Youth Fellowship at 6. Plans will be made for the youth program during the year.

Mrs. Donald Bush is the new organist at the Methodist Church. She is well known in the Tecumseh area as a most competant organist.

Robert Mauch of Ann Arbor will be the choir director. He has had wide experience in directing church choirs and comes highly recommended. Choir rehearsals will be at 7:30 on Thursday evening beginning Sept. 8.

+ God's Promises

God's promises to mankind are being substantiated today through scientific understanding of Spirit. This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" which will be read this Sunday at all Christian Science churches.

+ Sometimes Rejected, Sometimes Accepted

One of the interesting aspects of Jesus' ministry was his relationship to the peoples of his day and country.

He is sometimes portrayed as being rejected by the peoples, and at other times, accepted by the peoples.

This Sunday's sermon at the Presbyterian Church, entitled "Jesus and the Crowd" will be concerned with the popularity of the Man from Nazareth and his reaction to it.

+ Gloria Dei Is Back on Schedule

Dr. Laszlo Gero, pastor of the Gloria Dei United Lutheran Church, announced services for the coming season.

On Sunday, the topic of the sermon will be "Who is My Neighbor?"

In the evening at 7, the Luther League will meet and hold an election of officers.

On Monday, at 8 p.m., the UCLW holds its meeting with devotions, program and refreshments.

On Tuesday, Sept. 13, the church council will meet at 7 p.m. Following this important meeting, the Men's Club will meet for the first time after the vacation.

The Confirmation Class has started and will continue each Sunday at 9 and 10:15 a.m.

+ Holy Name Group Receives Communion

Members of St. Elizabeth's Holy Name Society will receive Holy Communion in a body at Sunday's 8:30 a.m. Mass.

The group traditionally receives together the second Sunday of every month.

Dr. Robert Murray is Society president.

+ Homecoming Will Be Sunday at Holloway

Annual homecoming at the Raisin Presbyterian Church in Holloway will be Sunday.

A basket dinner will open the event at 12:30 noon, followed by a program which will include a guest speaker and sacred music.

The church was first organized following a meeting of a group of early settlers in 1835.

Because of the faithful folks who had a vital interest to continue the gospel ministry, church services go on.

The church school is held each Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. and the worship services at 10:30 a.m.

"All folks interested are cordially invited to attend local services regularly. Those who have had any affiliation with it in previous years are urged to attend this event," said the Rev. William A. Pelly, pastor of the church.

They will do just that on Saturday and Sunday, the dates of the Tenth Annual Old Car Festival.

Some 350 cars of yesteryear are expected to cavort about Greenfield Village the two days and do a good job of recapturing all the nostalgia of oldtime motoring.

Richard Harry Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cox is the Britton member. He graduated from Britton-Macon High School three years ago.

Awards are being made at the 33rd Annual National Convention of FFA in Kansas City, Missouri, October 12-14.

Presentation of the degrees will take plage in the Municipal Auditorium at Kansas City during the convention session on the afternoon of Oct. 12.

Each degree winner will receive a certificate and gold key from the FFA, plus a cash travel allowance.

Attainment of the American Farmer Degree is based on the Future Farmer's record in farming, leadership and scholarship.

The degree is limited to FFA members who have been out of high school at least one year and who are showing evidence of becoming successfully established in farming.

State Associations of FFA are limited to one American Farmer Degree candidate for each 1,000 members or major fraction thereof.

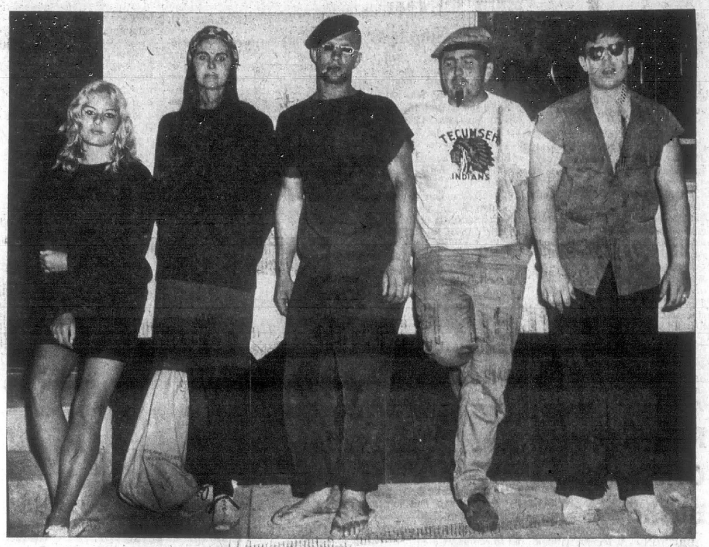
Talk About 'Beat People'

Billed as "the first — and probably last" beatnik parade in Tecumseh, the shaggy affair began at 3 p.m. Friday. Outside of Greenwich Village, there probably has never been such an odd assortment of "Beat People." The casual march was one of the high points of Tecumseh's annual Sidewalk Sale and did the natives love it. Starting from The Herald booth in front of Elmer Eberhardt's insurance office, the motley crew straggled, single file, east to Ottawa St., then across Chicago Blvd., as all traffic halted, west on the other side of the street to Woolworth's and back to the starting point. The parade even acquired a beatnik policeman, George Ruhl of Easton's, who strolled out into the boulevard and stopped cars so that the parade could continue its lazy pace uninterrupted.

PHOTOS BY HERALD



AMONG WINNERS in the "Beatest Beat of Tecumseh" contest were these zanzy characters. Standing from left: Laura Seager, tied for fourth prize, got $5 Mrs. Bob Laidlaw, winner of $25 top award George Ruhl, took "'cake" in sales division. Jim Hite, fourth-place tie for salesmen. Robert LaPrad, tied for second, won $7.50

ABOVE—Salespeople joined the fun and you'd never dream that this is the lovely Mrs. Max Smith, who sold at the outdoor sales counter at Bea Ring's Gift Shop. How can these gals do it?

RIGHT—Colorful banners floated above the sidewalks as warm sunshine bathed the area. This shot was taken from in front of Gambles, looking east past the Strand Theatre. As always, the carnival spirit prevailed and folks strolling about downtown had a world of fun.

BELOW—A prospective suit buyer checks the merchandise in front of Green's Men's and Boys' store. In the background, it's topcoats and the young man may be about ready to buy. Moms and dads brought along the children to make the day in Tecumseh a real family affair.

Following the Labor Day weekend, medical examination for the Tecumseh Community Health study were resumed.

This starts the final month of the current phase of the health program.

At the end of August, 8,433 persons had taken the medical exams at the special clinic in Herrick Memorial Hospital.

"All persons living in the study area who have not been included in the medical history and exams, please let the field office know if you wish to be included," states John Napier, who represents the University of Michigan school of public health.

"They may telephone 58 or 1016 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., he adds. "They may call 58 after 5 p.m. on weekdays or between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

"We are especially anxious to arrange for medical examinations for persons who have already given their medical histories to the interviewers," Mr. Napier concludes.

OH SIR, YOU'VE SHOT HER! By Benjamin Jacobsen — "Oh, Sir, you've shot her!" cried the maid when Father fired a blank cartridge and the parson's widow fainted on the doorstep. It was only Father's way of summoning his household to welcome visitors. Most of his brighter ideas misfired thus in this book of zany memoirs.

MARRIAGE EAST AND WEST By David Mace—All the social, emotional, and physical aspects of marriage are discussed in tracing the pattern of Asian life through childhood, mate selection, and bethrothal to marriage, parenthood and widowhood. In addition, the author reviews the history of such related social phenomena as polygamy, concubinage, child wives, and divorce. From firsthand material the author draws timely comparisons between the cultures of East and West, and illustrate how they are or ought to be, influenced by each other.

A ROMAN CATHOLIC IN THE WHITE HOUSE By James A. Pike — What would be the political consequences of a Roman Catholic were elected President or Vice-President? A candidate's religion is only one of the considerations a voter takes into account, but it is clear it is an important one. In this realistic and informed analysis Dr. Pike distinguishes between bigotry and legitimate concern.

DEMPSEY By Jack Dempsey—To millions there has never been a fighter like Jack Dempsey, and there never will be again. Everybody knows something about him: how he has been cheered and emulated, fleeced, hissed, looked up to by small boys and punched in the nose by perfect strangers: how he fought (literally) his way up from a nobody to an international hero. But in this book, you find out almost everything about this famous sports hero.

THE FEUD by Amelia Bean — Violent bloodshed in Arizona's Tonto Basin was not new seventy-five years ago — cattlemen there had fought the Apaches for the rich rangeland they settled on. But a lust for vengeance was to touch off the most violent feud yet known in Arizona's history.

■ Reading a doctor's prescription is not quite as hard as breaking a code. What appears to be scribbling is really medical shorthand that physicians use to tell us your needs. It can be read by pharmacists anywhere and lets us, here in your neighborhood, fill any prescription no matter which doctor writes it. Chances are we could fill a prescription from Afghanistan. No matter what it looks like to you, the important thing is that we can read it and serve your needs.

Through My Window

WONDERFULLY EXCITING, THRILLING BEAUTIFUL

The Corn-Dunkers will have to wait. We have been to Africa and I must tell you about it. Oh, of course, we didn't actually trek thousands of miles in person, but through the magic of movies we spent several hours touring the Belgian Congo.

It was wonderful, absolutely wonderful.

The film, "Masters of the Congo Jungle," was a Belgin picture and truly, I can't begin to convey the beauty of it to you.

Technically it was superb and anyone so inclined would undoubtedly rave about the excellent camera shots, the lenses and cameras which must have been used.

We were awed by the subject matter.

The movie's purpose, as stated in the prologue, was to record the jungles and bush country of the Congo, its people and its animals an how they all lived together.

With so much turmoil and unrest in Africa it is only a matter of time before this way of life passes. In fact, with Lumumba acting up, the changes have already started.

But there was nothing political about this film.

It opened with the ancient wrinkled story-teller explaining the life of his people and how it related to the Congo.

After a brief, but interesting and exceptionally well-presented description of how the topography of the country came to be as it is, we quickly moved on to the wild-life.

Incidentally, in this opening there were some shots looking down into a volcano which made shivers run up and down the spine.

☆

AS IT turned out, the shivers were running all the time—it was that thrilling.

The birds were spectacular—extreme close-ups brought them so close that we could almost reach out and touch them. The colors are vivid—bright, sparkling reds, yellows, blues, greens, blacks, whites and all the shades in between.

Sound effects were there, too—what a thrill to not only see the birds, but to hear them as well.

To see pictures and read is one thing but to see them thrown on a big screen in such wonderful detail is, in many ways, better than firsthand experience.

It is impossible to describe everything, but among that which we thrilled to was a beautiful eagle playfully driving away a host of shore birds and then harkening to his wife's cry, settle down to business and carry home a five-lb. fish for breakfast.

We also saw the crowned heron's courtship dance; golden weaverbirds and their fantastic nests; the odd pelicans on their nests and the funny sight of the ungainly pelican youngsters struggling to get food from their parent's big sagging pouches.

There were long-legged, long-billed storks waiting, during a drought, along the edge of a drying-up river for the catfish to die.

We even saw a red-eyed, evil-looking, night heron stalk and finally snatch a young bird from a poorly-guarded nest.

Perhaps the most exotic bird was the Great Horn Bill, who seals his mate into a hollowed-out tree nest and leaves just opening enough for her to receive the food which he brings. She stays in prison until the single egg hatches and the baby is old enough to leave.

The animal pictures were just as thrilling as the birds, and here I think the sound effects were even more effective.

A herd of elephants is always impressive, but, when you can hear them and see them too—wow!

The same was true of the hippos and the lions. Outside among the animal sequences was the story of the gorillas. Quite intelligent and extremely-wary of humans, they are most difficult to photograph.

THIS FILM, however, had wonderful close-ups of a family group feeding and most exciting, it even showed the big male, all 500 pounds of him, flying into a temper tantrum. Again, the sound track was tremendous.

Interwoven between the fine bird and animal shots were the natives. Their life and even more especially their beliefs were presented with respect and understanding. Their ancient dignity and pride was honored.

In every aspect, the film was outstanding and we enjoyed it so very, very much. Many thanks for the wonderful trip. And so it is that if next week we are out from under Africa's spell, let's talk about the Corn Dunkers.

He Flies Through the Turbulence and Peace of Space

By MARY SEAGER

The slide projector flashed and whirred as pictures of colorful sailplanes at the World Gliding Competition in Cologne, Germany, were shown by Jim Smith, Tecumseh architect.

"It is a sport which is aesthetically pleasing to me," he said. "The designs of all of these planes are mathematically pure and exact. When this is true, you'll usually find they are beautiful, too."

A white plane, with an unusual tail structure, occasioned the remarks, which show only part of the enjoyment that Mr. Smith derives from this sport.

The other pleasure is finding a way to fly through the turbulence and the peace of the space surrounding the earth by wits alone, unaided by throbbing, noisy engines.

Soaring makes one much more aware of the condition of the air, its upcurrent and its downcurrents, its wind and its waves. A sailplane pilot must not only be an expert pilot in the mechanical sense, but must also develop a sixth sense about weather conditions.

At all times, he strives to believe that the wings are extensions of his own arms and thus becomes a part of the plane itself. Using this feeling and various specialized instruments, he soars like a bird in the fountains of warm air, rising from the land.

These thermals hold the plane aloft in the undisturbed quiet of space and then as the lift dies, the plane swoops off to find another one.

All glider pilots feel that soaring is the purest form of human flight because, like the birds, the man must be at the mercy of the weather in his motorless craft.

Without a motor to tear its way through rough conditions, he can only rely on his arm intelligence and reactions to keep him aloft.

What kind of man enjoys the quiet air broken only by the soft rush of the wings?

Jim Smith has been flying for 20 years, in everything from Cubs to jet to seaplanes. This is unusual because he is only 37-years-old.

Born in Tecumseh, he graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1942.

After graduation, he got a Civil Service job with the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics in Yirginia. (This organization has now become the National Aeronautics and Space Association)

During the World War II, he was a Navy lieutenant, flying planes from aircraft carriers in the Atlantic.

In 1950, he graduated from the University of Michigan as an architect. He worked with Yamasaki (those beautiful Oriental buildings at Wayne State University) in Detroit and St. Louis where Yamasaki was designing the airport.

He also worked in Ann Arbor for a while before he took his state boards in 1954 and came back to Tecumseh.

His gliding began in 1956, accidentally, near Frankfort, Mich. He was taken for a ride in a sailplane by a friend. This led to lessons and he soon joined a group from Toledo which flys out of the Adrian airport.

Lo-150 is the designation of this German-built white sailplane which carried him to a world's record in flight to a goal and return.

Gliding, as a sport, satisfies both the architect and flyer in Jim Smith—the architect because the form is so pure and the flyer because the actuality is so difficult to achieve.

Dog Show To Be Sept. 16

The sleek show dog is often a runner-up to the homely, shaggy dog when it comes to a boy or girl choosing a pal from the canine world.

Some Tecumseh area shaggy dog with the different sized ears, the wrong number of spots, or the too-short legs will have a chance to become a blue ribbon winner during the week of Sept. 14.

Country Markets, Inc. in conjunction with Ken-L Ration dog food a division of the Quaker Oats Co., will sponsor a kids dog show here and at the chains other four stores.

The Tecumseh pet show will be held on Friday, Sept. 16, at 6:30 p.m. at the Country Market, Inc.

Merle Hoag, manager at Tecumseh, invites every youngster who owns a dog to enter the amateur contest. Prizes and free gifts are planned for each entrant.

Awards include gold and silver loving cups, ribbons, tee shirts, dog leashes, booklets.

Every dog, who brings his master, will receive a free can of Ken-L Ration dog food.

Categories to be judged have been selected by Country Markets and Ken-L Ration to give any dog, regardless of ancestry or breeding, a chance to win.

Classes include:
1—Best trick dog.
2—Dog with the most spots.
3—Dog with the longest tail.
4—Shaggiest dog.
5—Best groomed dog.

Joe Buesh, general manager of Country Markets, Inc., said "To further assure the event of being a howling success each store will select three winners from each categorie.

"Those winners will then compete against the winners from all five stores at the Saline Country Market on Saturday, Sept. 17, at 6:30 p.m."

Local civic officials will act as judges.

TOM RIORDAN'S Long AND Short

When politics began to brew at presidential election time, $100,000 can seem like peanuts. And common sense can be battered about like a soccer ball.

A lot of things can be badly bent in the process.

The $100,000 in this case was the bundle in the news a few weeks ago when the Kennedy Foundation volunteered this amount to furnish transportation to African students coming to America.

It got complicated when the Republican administration, through the State Department, unexpectedly said "Shucks, no, folks, let us foot the bill, not those Democratic rascals."

Caught in the bind was a highly-respected career diplomat from Tecumseh, Joseph Satterthwaite.

I quote from a recent issue of TIME magazine, which nicely capsules the story and shows how Mr. S. was made to look like an idiot — all because of a poltical seesaw.

"After months of turndowns, small hellos and evasions, the sponsors of the student airlift found themselves suddenly in the chips and in the news.

"All of the 250 students come from Kenya and other British areas in East Africa, and had been largely rounded up by Kenya Labor Leader Tom Mboya.

"A U.S. organization called the African American Students Foundation lined up scholarships for them at U.S. universities and colleges. The big need was transportation money.

"In December and again in January, the foundation asked the State Department for a $100,000 grant. The answer was a firm no from Career Diplomat Joseph C. Satterthwaite, chief of the State Department's African Desk.

"His reason was impeccable: the State Department freely helps students from independent new nations, but in colonial or trust territories, the department deals directly with the governing power; in short, State tries not to butt in too much in the British territory.

"A New York Negro named Frank Montero, president of the student foundation, wrote to Nixon, recalling his interest in Africa and asking for his help. Nixon turned Montero's request over to Satterthwaite, who promptly rejected it for the third time.

"Visiting the U.S. in July, Mboya wanted to meet both candidates. Nixon was busy in Chicago at the G.O.P. convention; Mboya sought out Jack Kennedy at his Hyannisport retreat. Concerned about the wavering U.S. Negro vote, Kennedy

Gridiron Drama Unfolds Friday

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Lectka's Amazing Coaching Record Goes on the Line

One of the finest football coaching records in Tecumseh High School history goes on the line Friday evening. Since Duncan Lectka's arrival here as best gridiron mentor two seasons ago, Tecumseh has lost but one game. Two were ties and the remaining 16 tilts Indian victories.

Reactions to chances for another brilliant year to match 1959's nine straight wins are mixed. Jim Lincoln delves fully into the subject in his grid story on page two. Appearing with it are pictures of each varsity squad member, his position and vital statistics, on pages two and three.

Thursday evening, the Indian coach will hold a clinic at 7 p.m. on the Recreation Field gridiron. It is free and open to all. Coach Lectka will introduce his squad and discuss this year's team. A guest official will report on rules.

WHAT FAN WILL FORGET — Coach Dunc Lectka is carried from the field moments after his Indians of 1959 capped an undefeated year by trouncing Adrian in the mud, 6-0. It was one of Tecumseh's finest hours, surely one of the school's best elevens. This picture won an award for The Herald in the annual Michigan Press Photographer's state contest.

Local Housewives Will Choose Color, Style of Dial Telephones

Tecumseh residents will see a great deal of General Telephone's mobile display unit, the TEL-e-VAN, in the next three weeks.

The long white trailer will be working its way up and down Tecumseh's residential streets to help customers select the style and color of their new dial telephones.

The community is scheduled to be converted to dial service Nov. 20.

District manager Dale Clark said the van will display a complete selection.

Representatives will call door-to-door to invite residents to tour the TEL-e-VAN. A receptionist in the mobile unit will help people with their selections.

A supply of phones will be carried in the van so customers can take the phone of their choice home.

The new phone will be installed a short time later by servicemen following the van.

Mr. Clark noted the door-to-door "calling" by the TEL-e-VAN was a new application of its use. From its launching at Muskegon in March it has served primarily at home shows and fairs.

Tecumseh Players Select Their First Stage Production

This community's little theatre group now has an official name, constitution and officers.

It also will produce a complete play, "Charley's Aunt," in late October.

Now known as the Tecumseh Players, members selected officers Sunday evening.

Among those named:

Dr. Robert Murray, president

Mrs. Gloria Jadwin, vice-president

Fred Pokorny, secretary-treasurer

Mrs. Richard Coak — publicity

Mrs. Richard Duffin — corresponding secretary

Appointed director of productions was Duane Furbush.

Tryouts for roles in "Charley's Aunt" are open to all persons in the community.

Auditions will be held Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. and again Sunday evening from 7 to 9:30 in the Sage Building, second floor.

Director Furbush will conduct the auditions.

Mrs. Coak will interview anyone interested in working on other phases of production, such as, lighting, sets, costumes, make-up and props, etc. either at the Sage Bldg. or by phoning 482.

All roles will be assigned by Sept. 21, and scripts handed out for study at that time.

Rehearsals start the first week of October and continue until the performance date, which has tentatively been set as Oct. 27.

There are 10 characters in the cast. Two men appearing around 50 years old, three who should be early in their 20's, and another who could be anywhere from 30 to 60.

The female roles need a woman 40-50ish, and three young ladies in late teens or early 20's. Acting experience is not necessary.

Attendance at rehearsals will be required only when the character appears in the particular act under rehearsal. Not everyone appears in all acts

Tipton Church Will Celebrate 100th Birthday

TIPTON—The year was 1860.

It was a black era in this nation's history as war between the north and south seemed inevitable.

But in Tipton, there was friendship and harmony.

This was the year two religious congregations, the Presbyterians and the Congregationalists, united and built the Tipton Community Church.

The union was so strong, that in 1863, a group of Baptists joined to further swell its ranks.

Finally, in 1929, a year of grim, dark days, members of a fourth faith, the Methodists, became a part of the Community Church congregation under the leadership of the Rev. William E. Grove.

This Sunday, the Tipton Community Church will celebrate its 100th anniversary as an united Christian body, dedicated to serve the needs of its people.

Program for the day has been outlined by chairman Marie Listman, starting with a potluck dinner in the church basement at 12:30 noon.

Following the dinner, there will be a service of special music and an address by Dr. Samuel N. Oliver, now district superintendent of the Congregational Church and a former minister in Tipton.

The Rev. Grove's memory will be honored when his widow places a bouquet of flowers upon the altar.

A brief presentation of church history will be given to conclude the program, leaving plenty of time for conversation among guests, many of whom will come from long distances.

Members of the congregation have worked hard on the 100th birthday party, painting the entire parsonage and the church kitchen in work bees.

The committees for celebration include Mr. and Mrs. Howard Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Swarts, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Dibble and Mrs. Grover Swarts, Mrs. Lyle Whelan, Mrs. Merrick Dibble and Mrs. Frank Crosby.

Norma Luce will register guests. The sale of the anniversary plates will be in charge of Mrs. Charles Driffill.

The dinner committee asks each family to bring a salad, a vegetable, buttered rolls and table service.

Present pastor of the Tipton Community Church is the Rev. Paul Fredericks.

Republicans Open Headquarters Here

Open house for new Tecumseh Republican party headquarters will be held this Friday night, 7 to 11, at the former telephone office next to Adrian Federal Savings and Loan building.

Highlighting the open house will be the honoring of Mrs. Charles Howe for her services to the party.

County and state candidates have been invited although none have yet confirmed their attendance.

Charles Tricky, Tecumseh party chairman, says young Republicans, even those below voting age, who are interested in working for the party are urged to attend.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served. Football fans at the Tecumseh-Willow Run game are urged to drop in after the game.

Boosters Open Drive

Tecumseh Booster Club will start its drive this week to raise money for completion of the new press box at the athletic field.

The building as it now stands represents about $4,000, and of this amount the club still owes $1,100.

Finishing the press coop, rest rooms, concession stand and equipment for the upstairs will cost about $800, leaving $2,000 still needed.

Although members plan to canvass the town, membership cards may be bought at Moore Lumber Co., Osburn Realty, and from Tom Corkery, John Surratt and Tim Neill.

Speaker Uses School Text To Illustrate

Mrs. Helen Sisson was the speaker at the Child Study No. 1 meeting held at the home of Mrs. Orrie Gilbert Monday evening.

She spoke on "Group Guidance," using the textbook from the seventh and eighth grade classes to illustrate and review the life adjustment course. Discussion followed.

Mrs. Al Merz presided and the roll call was answered with "A Song, a Story or a Dime."

Mrs. Carson House was program leader. Favors were provided by Mrs. LeRoy Titley and Mrs. Leslie Bennett.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Norman Bailey and Mrs. Gibbs Barber.

The next meeting, Oct. 10, will be husband's night when the speaker will be the warden of Jackson prison.

Vote To Donate for Migrant Work

Members of the ULCW of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church voted Monday to donate to the migrant ministry work and also to join in the UNICEF.

It was the group's regular meeting.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Curtis Wright. Mrs. Edna Wilcox presented an interesting program of slides of a trip to South America.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Don Buell and Mrs. Roy Willnow.

Lana Wright was elected president of the Luther League.

Dorothy Jean Nettleman was elected vice-president and Karen Robinson, secretary and treasurer.

A dance, with music furnished by Cal's Combo, will conclude the yearly Chamber event.

Although the retail division, with its regular program of sales promotions, is well known in and outside the organization, other less-publicized segments have also been busy. Summaries of their accomplishments will be made at the meeting.

Toy Bullet Cuts Off Breathing

A seven-year-old Tecumseh youth died Tuesday night when a toy bullet lodged in his throat and cut off his breathing.

Michael McKenna, one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. James McKenna, 1008 Red Mill Dr., was the victim of the freak mishap.

The youngster apparently swallowed a small plastic bullet while playing in his home just before supper time.

His parents rushed him to Herrick Memorial Hospital where a tracheotomy was performed by a local physician in the emergency room.

However, the foreign object had been drawn so deeply into his trachea, the doctor explained, it prevented breathing, even after the incision was made.

Usually, in this type accident such an operation will provide an entrance for air into the lungs below the object and above the lungs, but it was impossible in this case.

Michael was a second grade pupil at St. Elizabeth's Catholic School.

Funeral arrangements have been made by Collins-Corkery Funeral Home.

A Mass of the Angels will be said by the Rev. Fr. F. Thomas J. Collins in St. Elizabeth's Church Friday morning at 10:30, followed by burial in Lenawee Hills Cemetery.

Survivors include the youngster's parents, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth McKenna and maternal grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rundel, all of Detroit.

Also surviving are a sister, Karen, 11 and two brothers, James, 8 and Kevin, 4.

+ Freedom

How freedom from the bondage of sickness and sin can be gained through wholly spiritual means will be emphasized at Christian Science churches Sunday.

+ It's Far Too Easy To Discard a Life That Is Broken

Anyone can use a perfect cup, dish, or life, but whoever thinks of repairing the broken ones?

This will be the subject of the Rev. Allen Wittrup's sermon at the Tecumseh Methodist Church of Sunday, Sept. 18th, "God Loves Broken Things".

It is far too easy to discard a life, a hope, or dream because it has become scarred, chipped, or broken. The Christian community has a responsibility to reclaim, repair and remake lives that otherwise would be lost from usefulness.

The Church School will meet each Sunday morning at 11:15. The Intermediate Youth Fellowship will meet at 5:30 and the Senior Youth Fellowship at 6, also on Sunday.

Sunday afternoon, from 4 to 6 p.m., there will be a reception for the Rev. and Mrs. Wittrup and family in the social hall of the church. All members and friends of the church are invited to join in welcoming the pastor and family to the church.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 22, Dr. E. Stricker, district superintendent of the Ann Arbor District of the Methodist Church, will conduct the Sub-District Quarterly Conference at 8 p.m.

Dr. Stricker was appointed last June as superintendent. Churches from surrounding communities will be sending representatives to this Conference.

Richards Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Richard entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall and family of Flat Rock Sunday.

Other recent guests in the Richard home were her sisters, Mrs. Pearl Winter of Ft. Wayne and Mrs. Cleda Murray of Herrod, O. While here they visited the Greenfield Village at Dearborn.

offered to contribute part of the airlift expenses from his family's Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation (named after the brother killed in World War II) and to look around for other private funds to help the grounded students.

"Sargent Shriver, Kennedy's brother-in-law and managing director of the family foundation, found no uncommitted funds in other charitable foundations, in the end recommended that the Kennedy Foundation put up the entire $100,000, and provide unstipulated help for students during their stay in the U.S.

"When word of all this leaked out, the Nixon camp quickened its interest in the African airlift. Among U. S. Negroes, onetime baseball star Jackie Robinson is about the hottest Nixon supporter around. He called Nixon in Washington, and the vice president assigned James Shepley, his campaign research chief, to badger the State Department once more.

"Last week, half an hour before Montero met with Shiver in Washington to work out a final agreement, Shepley called with the glad tidings: the State Department had reversed itself and was ready to put up the $100,000 grant after all.

"Jubilant over the sudden outpouring funds, Montero accepted the Kennedy money, hopefully assumed that the State Department money would be available for the student program."

Paul Claudia spotted the item in last week's column about the Untouchables model plane club needing an acre or two of land to fly their ships.

He contacted club advisor Bill Engle of Hobbyville and offered three acres of ground he owns, just west of Evans St. near Del King's insurance office.

The Untouchables gratefully accepted and are now busy getting a tractor and mower to clean up the area.

☆

There was an item about football player Bob Koffron needing contact lenses and several parties stepped forward and said they'd be happy to foot the $200 cost.

However, it turned out that Bob's folks had investigated such eye pieces two years ago and found that their son couldn't wear them.

"We [illegible]e gotten them then," explained Mr. Koffron.

☆

Our family has a little dog, mostly beagle, named Honey.

Ever since the city's canine ordinance went into effect, we've had to chain her up and that just doesn't seem natural for such a lively pup.

After a family pow wow, we decided that Honey should be moved to a farm, where she could run and play. It was a hard decision, especially on the two kids.

Honey is one-year-old and loves children. If someone would like to offer her a rural home, please call 476 or 508.

To the Jim McKenna family, I would like to extend my sincere sympathies on the death of their small son, Mike.

Defensive Line Will Hold Key to Fate of 1960 Indian Eleven

By JIM LINCOLN

Since last fall when the Tecumseh Indians manhandled neighboring Adrian in the final game of the '59 season, local fans have pondered the future of the 1960 team.

Friday night at 7:30, these same fans will be on hand to watch the Indians battle Willow Run here in the 1960 opener.

Can Tecumseh roll to another undefeated season or even come close? Many doubt it, and many see trouble for the Indians here against Willow Run.

The Indians' nine-game winning streak could easily end here in the opener. A scrimmage last Friday night at Marshall left lots to be desired, especially with the defensive line.

Marshall backs poured through the Indian line, despite numerous changes in personnel and defenses. Emphasis on defense has been evident in practice this week.

If the line jells, and the boys there are big enough, the big, fast Tecumseh backfield can really move. Few Indian teams in the past and few high school teams anywhere can boast of the overall speed, size and experience of this year's backs.

Jon Aho, Mike Green, Bob Koffron and Denny Bryan will run with the best. Dale Tuckey will quarterback the club and is rated a good passer. He'll have help from Tim Sisson.

Green and Aho were top scorers last fall and both are sure starters. Koffron will run from right halfback as will Bryan.

Larry Titley and Mike Tucker are leading end prospects with Danny Greene and Eugene Brion in reserve. Green is considered the top pass receiver, but is only a sophomore.

Interior line posts have troubled the coaches since practice started. Tom Simmons and Ron Hathaway are certain starters and both were regular's on 1959's undefeated eleven.

Only other player who has nailed down a position is Ron Sweet at center. He may alternate, occasionally, moving to guard with Chuck Osburn snapping the ball.

Linemen who will also see action include Mike Robison, Bob Fisher, Kent Naugle, Tim Whitney, Phil Radant, Jerry Forsyth and Jim Simmons.

Several younger players are expected to improve before the season is too old and start pushing some of the regulars.

Clarence Champanois, highly regarded by the coaches, suffered a broken right wrist in the Marshall fray and may miss the opening game. He's been working out with a short cast despite the injury.

All games this year will start at 7:30 and all tickets at the gates will be $1. Students may purchase theirs in advance for 50c.

The band will present a half-time show.

+ Would You Change History If You Could, Is Question

Would you change history if you could? Most people would answer "yes" to that question, but would add, "but the chances are that I won't. People like me do not change history."

This raises the question, "What kind of people do change history?"

Sunday's sermon at the Presbyterian Church entitled "Can You Change History?" will be concerned with people and qualities that effect their times.

√

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Citizens all over Michigan are happy about the crowning of the Montague beauty, Nancy Anne Fleming, as Miss America. In Tecumseh, we have one especially thrilled resident.

John Snyder, 4066 Aebersold Rd., was born and lived in Montague until he became a sophomore in high school. That year he came to Tecumseh with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Snyder, 503 Nokomis St.

When he heard the results of the contest he called his good friend, Leonard Hunt, in Montague at 1 a.m. Sunday mroning.

"We're on the map, 35-23-35, I see things haven't changed since I left."

For 45 minutes the two talked about the hilarity in the streets of the little town, dancing, and church bells ringing, which Mr. Snyder could hear over the phone.

Mr. Hunt told John that Nancy is a fine, unaffected gal.

√

Among those attending open house at Eastern Michigan University Sunday with their entering students were Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Blanden, Mrs. LeRoy Titley, Mrs. Hayes Rickard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Vincze, Mr. and Mrs. William Wight and Mr. and Mrs. Aden Mead.

√

Mary Whitelock, who recently moved to the Carson Bayless home because of illness, is making a satisfactory recovery. She would be pleased to receive her friends there.

√

Mr. and Mrs. James Hartsell accompanied their youngest son, Larry, and Ray Howell of Macon to Jackson to enter the Business College Sunday.

Rita Crosby returned to Western Michigan University Thursday for her senior year. She is studying elementary education and will do her practice teaching in the Vine Street School in Kalamazoo. Rita recently returned from Camp Lenore, Mass. where she was a counselor with Ann Rebottaro.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Whelan have moved from 214 W. Kilbuck St. to 501 Outer Drive.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Nichols have moved from their new home on Shady Lane to their remodeled home on N. Division St.

√

Charles Hansen, son of Mrs. Robert Hansen, and Ivan Halberstadt, son of Mrs. Blanche Halberstadt, have enlisted in the Navy and are training at Great Lakes.

√

Mrs. Wilbur Boyce, Mrs. Margaret Kidman and Julia Boyce went to Delaware, O. last week where Julia entered Ohio Weselyan University for her junior year.

The engagement of Doris June Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nash of 4350 Macon Rd., to H. R. James Chandler Dahlke, USNTC, Great Lakes, Ill. is being announced by her parents. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dahlke.

THS Teacher Takes Part in Institute

EAST LANSING — John F. Pobuda of Tecumseh High School attended the Counseling and Guidance Institute at Michigan State University this summer.

The institute, one of 84 serving approximately 3,000 high school counselors, was conducted under a National Defense Education act grant.

The MSU institute, the largest to be held on any one campus, offered courses for advanced, experienced counselors as well as work for counselors with little formal training.

"Many educators believe the counseling and guidance institutes are the key to the whole National Defense Education act," says Dr. Walter F. Johnson, MSU professor of education and institute directors.

Sylvia Klught Enters School of Nursing

TODELO—Sylvia Carol Klught, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Klught, 308 E. Pottawatamie St., is one of the 95 freshmen entering the Mercy School of Nursing this fall.

Miss Klught, a graduate of Tecumseh High School, participated in the week of orientation which included an introduction to classes, a tour of Mercy Hospital, a tea to meet the faculty as well as a party given by the upperclassmen.

Regular class schedule began Monday.

In addition to the academic courses given at the Mercy Education Center and the clinical instruction given at the adjoining Mercy Hospital, students will attend Mary Manse College for Chemistry.

Each student also spends three months at St. Charles Hospital for psychiatric nursing and has a week's experience at the Toledo Day Nursery to observe the behavior of the well child.

The 40-year-old school has an enrollment of 240.

How to SAVE up to 24% on water heating costs!

When hard water is heated, a rock-like scale builds up inside pipes, heating coils and hot water tanks. This scale, inside a water heater, acts as insulation, requiring much more fuel to heat the water. No scale can form with Culligan soft water. Your pipes and drains keep open and trouble-free, and your water heating costs can be reduced as much as 24%.

Into Giant Ovens

About 550 pounds of choice rolled roasts of beef will be popped into the giant ovens of Van's Bakery at midnight Saturday.

Thus, begins the major cooking chore for St. Elizabeth's annual roast beef dinner.

The juicy meat will simmer along deliciously until Sunday morning, day of the event.

Then it will be carefully sliced and placed into electric roasters and relayed to the school.

The meal begins at 11 a.m. and continues until 7 p.m. in the St. Elizabeth gymnasium, which will have been transformed into a giant family dining room with flower-bedecked tables.

Joe Church, owner of Van's, each year loans the use of his ovens to cook the beef. This is about the only spot in town which can handle the job uniformly.

After the meat is out, hundreds of foil-wrapped potatoes are popped in for baking.

Working the midnight and early morning shifts will be Walt Mueller, Bob Wallace, Herb Bagby, Don Frolich, Ken Connair and Lawr Cote. They'll keep the ovens busy and transport the food to the dinner.

Meanwhile, back at the school, dozens of other details will be polished off as more than 100 parishioners go about the job of feeding nearly 1,000.

The public is invited to the annual dinner. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75c for children.

Proceeds from the event go into the operation of the parish's eight-grade school.

LOOKS DELICIOUS—Dr. Don Phelan, general chairman of this year's St. Elizabeth roast beef dinner, and his co-chairman, Mrs. Wes Haeussler, admire one of the rolled roasts which will be poped into the ovens at Van's Pastry to be cooked for Sunday's affair. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

FATHER BROWN OMNIBUS by G. K. Chesterton — In this new omnibus all the famous Father Brown dectective stories are for the first time collected in a single volume. A cycle of fifty that is worthy to rank with the canon of the celebrated Sherlock Holmes himself.

CARRINGTON by Michael Straight — The events of the Fetterman Massacre in northern Wyoming on December 21, 1866, provide the framework for the author's personal story of Carrington the man, whose whole life reaches its climax In the inevitable catastrophe. Harrassed by the Sioux, accused of cowardice by his officers, unsupported by his friends and even by his own wife, he none-the-less sees clearly what he must do.

LORD FANCY by Leslie T. White — This is a novel of eighteenth-century England, when all the sportsmen from the Prince of Wales down were caught up in the excitement of boxing — not only the fights and fighters, but also in the heavy wagering involved. At that time, none of the odds-makers knew of a young man named Darcy who had been secretly trained by an exchampion, but now rotting in an English prison. This is his exciting story.

THE INCREDIBLE CHARLIE CAREWE by Mary Astor — Charlie Carewe had everything — uncommonly good looks, charm, intelligence, wealth, women, social status — yet he was an abnormal psychopathic case. Many women loved him even with the knowledge that their love might end in tragedy.

ARE PRESCRIPTION PRICES HIGH?
With so many publicity seekers saying so, we don't blame you for wondering if this is true.

HOW DO WE PRICE PRESCRIPTIONS?
To the cost of ingredients, we add a charge for overhead, compounding time and a fair profit. Because we also supply you with other medicines and many healthaids, only part of the overhead expense of conducting a pharmacy is charged to the prescription department.

DR. PAUL OLSEN — Eminent Statistican, reported on April 11th, 1960 that after charging only the proportionate overhead expense of the prescription department, only about 8c of each prescription dollar's selling price remains as net profit, before taxes in the average pharmacy.

IS THAT TOO MUCH?
About 80c net for us on a $10, or 16c net on a $2 prescription, from which we pay our taxes and keep the rest. We're not complaining. We do enough total volume to satisfy us. But, don't you think pharmacists deserve much credit for keeping prices so low? You can help us to always keep them that low, if you also get your other medicines and health-aids from us.

School Proposal Renewable

In the November election, it will be necessary for Michigan voters to decide whether or not to renew the 1955 Constitutional amendment on school financing.

The amendment was a temporary measure, would run out in 1962.

However, to prevent interruptions in the financing, it is necessary to submit it at the November election.

The 1955 amendment did not eliminate or take away any of the rights or privileges of financing schools under the laws that existed prior to 1955.

It provided an alternate method that gave local school districts a choice of either financing school buildings by issuing bonds that are payable from limited taxes under the 15 mill amendment of 1932, or from unlimited taxes under the provision of the 1955.

The 1955 amendment accomplished three basic changes. It eliminated some of the Constitutional restriction on the amount of taxes that can be levied for the payment of school bonds thus enabling school districts to spread costs out over a greater period of time.

It guaranteed against an excessive tax burden on local property by establishing a State School Bond Loan Fund that provided tax relief for local school districts when debt requirements exceeded a tax rate of 13 mills.

It removed the 15% limit on debt for those school districts that chose to do their financing under the provision of the new law.

This proposed amendment gives the local citizens and their Board of Education a choice in the financing of school buildings.

CLEAN TALK

GRIME—destroyer of clothes

By ROYAL WELCH

Grime comes from two major sources. It's either dirt from the atmosphere which gets pressed or rubbed into garments. Or it's perspiration or skin oils, again pressed or rubbed into the garment. Or both—usually both, in fact.

There is, naturally, no preventive remedy. The atmosphere is never wholly clean. And we do perspire, and our skins exude oils. That's the human being for you, and that's all that can be said.

However, there is a treatment. And this is it.

NEVER PRESS ANY GARMENT THAT IS NOT CLEAN. Pressing or rubbing imbeds the grime more deeply, and causes it to penetrate the fibers of the fabric. The result is that the fabric in the garment will deteriorate more rapidly.

We therefore recommend that in addition to being sure the garment is clean before it's pressed, you CLEAN YOUR CLOTHES OFTEN. It has been demonstrated time and again by every test known, that a garment which is regularly cleaned outwears one that isn't, by a wide margin. In fact, a hundred cleanings cause less wear than one week of wearing while soiled. Which means your clothes look better longer when you clean them often.

So, for clean clothes, with all the grime removed

BRING THEM TO
Welch Cleaners.

Get-Well Lawn Party Opens Drive

TIPTON — Members of the North Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club held a "get-well lawn party" recently with cake and ice cream.

It started a benefit drive for little Susan Buell, who has been afflicted with malignant tumors for over a year and one-half.

President Danny Dewey presented honored guest Susan with a pink doll cake and five silver dollars on behalf of the club.

The cake was made and donated by Rose Service. Cheryl Aebersold and Carol Davenport made and served decorated cakes and Kay Creger served the ice cream.

Nine-year-old Susan, oldest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buell's five children, has had to spend most of her time at the University Medical Center in Ann Arbor.

Expense has been tremendous and the Buells do not have insurance to help.

The club will send Game and Party Books to the first 50 persons who send $1 to Susan.

Club members and their leaders, Mrs. Claude Creger and Harold Joseph, hope that many readers will send a greeting and donation to Susan at Tipton.

Thru My Window

THE CORN DUNKERS

With the greatest reluctance I must admit that the irksome black thieves, the grackles, do have their moments. Oh, the first few returnees early each spring are cause for much pleasure and excitement, but soon—all too soon—they wear out their welcome.

When their number increases until they have taken over everything then they are nuisances.

Of course, their raucous voices do nothing to endear them either —especially when they always seem to pick the early morning hours to camp beneath open bedroom windows and choke out their rasping serenades.

In the last month or so a change has taken place and although it is hard to admit, the gracks have been affording us marvelous entertainment.

First, I must hasten to say that they are not over-running everything. There are still plenty around, but no longer do we look out upon a window picture full of nothing but black.

☆

BUT BACK to the grackle fun —it cenfers around the bird-bath and the unintentional, but as it turned out, very fortunate placing of the corn tree. They are side by each and what a boon to the grackles.

They like corn, but we have often noticed that it is not too easy for them to eat. Those long bills look cruel enough, but length does not mean strength in fact, their bills are not at all good for eating corn.

(To be technically correct I suppose it is not the bills which are at fault, the strength of the muscles which open and close the jaws are probably more involved, but to all outward appearances, it is the grackle's bill which does not easily crack open the corn.)

The cardinals, with their short blunt bills, have no trouble at all, but the poor grackles work, work, work and then, as often as not, give up and drop the still uncracked corn.

☆

ACTUALLY, IT is quite a ridiculous sight to see such a big bird have so much trouble with such little tid-bits. But all this trouble is, at least for the smarter grackles, a thing of the past.

They have found that by soaking the corn, the outer shell softens enough so that eating becomes much, much easier. At first they would twist a kernel of corn free and then carry it down to be soaked.

Now however, with the corn-tree being so close to the bird-bath, they simply sit on the nearest ear, pull the kernels off and drop them into the water.

When a sizeable snack has been picked off and dropped, down to the rim of the bird-bath they hop.

Thrusting their long bills into the water they bring up a kernel, and if it is soft enough, proceed to eat it. If it is not soaked enough; they drop it again and pick up another. Smart, eh?

Sometimes, when the last kernel has not softened up enough or maybe they just picked an especially tough one, they will hold it in their bills and swish it back and forth a few times or even dunk it up and down.

THIS SOAKING in water is a quite common grackle trait — I suppose it is just a happenstance that they have not performed for us before.

One bird book even has a first-hand account of grackles taking whole slices of dried bread and soaking them until soft.

Wouldn't that be something to see—after all, a slice of bread would be quite a lot to make, even for birds as large as the black thieves.

So it is that although we never thought it would happen, this summer the grackles have afforded us much good looking. As corn dunkers they have been great fun.

24-Sow Program Good Investment

John W. Comstock, County Extension director, reports on Swine Feeders Day at Michigan State University.

Ed Miller, extension swine specialist at Michigan State University, urged farmers to consider expanding their opinions to a 24-sow herd program at the recent Swine Day program on the Michigan State University campus.

"Moving to this size operation would be a big improvement for the Michigan swine industry to make," Miller said. "Some people say that agricultural producers must get big but I believe that there will be a place for the farmer with 20 to 25 brood sows for years to come.

"However, if the producer is going to remain small and still compete, he must become efficient. It will be hard to drive a man out of the hog business who raises his own feed supply, markets eight to ten meat-type hogs per sow in five to five and one-half months and produces 100 pounds of pork on 400 pounds of feed or less."

Miller cited several reasons why he thinks the 24-sow herd will fit in well with Michigan conditions.

It would make the enterprise large enough to be an important part of the farm business.

Many Michigan farms produce enough grain to feed out this many hogs.

There are adequate buildings on most farms that can be remodeled to satisfy all or part of the housing requirements.

The enterprise is large enough to justify the use of a good boar, modern housing, and up-to-date labor saving equipment.

Farmers wanting a larger volume can add another set of 12 sows and farrow six times a year using the same facilities.

Blue Cross Opens

Any Michigan resident, regardless of age or condition of health, will be able to get Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage through the Non-Group plans now open for individual enrollment from Sept. 16-30.

CD Security Police Complete Aid Course

About 30 members of the Tecumseh Civil Defense Security Police have completed an advanced first aid course, given by Trooper Ervin Stoddard of the Clinton State Police Post.

The group has favorably impressed Commissioner Joseph Childs with outstanding work, especially in their diligence in attending classes each week for nearly six months.

He has said that they now should be able to meet any emergency in which they might be called upon to assist regular police officers.

They are the first security police to have been trained by state and city officers.

At present they are meeting Thursday evenings at the Clinton Post to take courses in investigation and other police fields.

The group has all necessary equipment, except uniforms, which they hope to acquire and which the State Police say are essential.

The city council has been approached concerning the project. No decision has been made yet.

The uniforms will cost about $25 per man or a total of $700.

Four squads of security police have been assigned to four sections of the city, divided at the four corners.

Civil Defense security police members are:

Boy Scouts Thrilled By Trip To Wisconsin

By BOB AUTEN

BRITTON—It was a large gathering that came to see the Boy Scouts off on their recent camping trip in late August.

It took a degree of planning to pack luggage for 23 people, tents, bedding, cooking equipment and personnel gear into four cars and one trailer, but the impossible was done and the caravan was on its way.

The first day ended with the group in Camp Harrison, Chicago, which is a forrest preserve only a few minutes from the rush of downtown Chicago.

During the day, we passed through parts of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Each boy had a sack lunch for dinner. Supper was prepared in camp for the group.

Our first night was rather restless and as always the ground the hardest.

Monday morning, we were at the Museum of Science and Industry as the door opened and we spent several hours there.

First a tour through the German submarine U505 and a film of the actual capture of the ship during World War II.

The museum also has a coal mine, complete with the elevator car to its depths, the complete operation and a demonstration of gas explosions in a mine.

There were so many exhibits that we could only walk to a portion of them and spend a moment at each, but the impression of the one of our greatest museums will stay with us for a long time.

As we left the museum, we saw Lake Michigan and walked along the shore line where thousands of people step from the heart of Chicago to spend a day swimming on these miles of shoreline.

Monday evening, we entered Wisconsin and spent the night at Lake Geneva. This was a State Park and arrangements had been made for every night camp.

For some reason, it seemed that it was an attraction for other campers to see our boys alight from the cars and pitch our 12 tents and have camp set up in about 15 to 20 minutes.

We spent Monday evening swimming in Lake Geneva.

Tuesday morning, we entered the Wisconsin Dells and were greeted by Roger Little Eagle, a Wennebago Indian.

We spent the day and night at his Indian Museum.

In the afternoon, we took the Upper Dells boat trip which takes three hours and is probably one of the most interesting and beautiful trips offered in this country.

Tuesday night, found us at the Wennebago Indian Dances.

This is surely the foremost of all Indian pageants and dancing, using the greatest talent from all parts of our country to perform.

After the show we had the opportunity to talk to many of the dancers, including Chief Ever-green Trees, Don Eagle and others.

This was particularly interesting to us and they encouraged us to learn more of their ways and their dances.

Bed time found the boys quite ready for sleep and a little bit at awe at the day behind them.

Wednesday we were on our way towards the Upper Peninsula and our first attraction was the Agate Falls, one of our larger water falls and beautiful scenic spots.

Night time found us at Boraga State Park and a swim in Lake Superior.

Thursday, we headed east across the Upper Peninsula and our first stop was at Marquette then Miners Falls and the Pictured Rocks.

Thursday night we were at Tahquamenon Falls.

At this spot, bears frequent the camps each night searching the garbage cans for food.

Some of the boys thought they would sleep in cars or the trees, but finally all were in their tents and asleep.

Suddenly we thought the bear had come and most of us was afraid he had a medium-size Scout on his mind instead of the garbage cans.

Finally the suspense was too great and when we checked it was George Forsyth, one of our drivers, snoring.

Friday we visited both the Upper and Lower Falls and the Soo Locks. A Scout official told us how the Locks operate and of the many different countries that now use this waterway.

He also told of the many Army and Air Force bases in this vicinity.

All that we had heard of our new bridge at the Straits is certainly true and we all felt that it was a beautiful sight.

Friday night, was spent in Traverse City and the day was ended with a swim in Lake Michigan.

Saturday and our last day of our trip.

These were many things we saw that all shall always remember an enjoy.

We realize it would not have been possible without the help of our Mother's Club and everyone who was so willing to contribute their efforts.

There are too many to name, but we all say thank you to every one of you.

Boy Scouts making the trip were: Carl Studnicka, Dennis Mastie, Tom Yarckow, Randy Fergus, Tom Smetka, Frank Forgacs, Keith Auten, Jerry Rhora, Steve Eldred, Clark Griffin, Bill Baker, Dick Sommers, Sidney Forsyth, Walter Anspach, Larry Henning, Terry Auten, Michael Jordan, Joe Hemphill and Carl Bowers.

Drivers included Mr. Forsyth, Dick Lutton, Allan Bowers and this writer.

CD Security Police Complete Aid Course

About 30 members of the Tecumseh Civil Defense Security Police have completed an advanced first aid course, given by Trooper Erv Stoddard of the Clinton State Police Post.

The group has favorably impressed Commissioner Joseph Childs with outstanding work, especially in their diligence in attending classes each week for nearly six months.

He has said that they now should be able to meet any emergency in which they might be called upon to assist regular police officers.

They are the first security police to have been trained by state and city officers.

At present they are meeting Thursday evenings at the Clinton Post to take courses in investigation and other police fields.

The group has all necessary equipment, except uniforms, which they hope to acquire and which the State Police say are essential.

The city council has been approached concerning the project. No decision has been made yet.

The uniforms will cost about $25 per man or a total of $700.

Four squads of security police have been assigned to four sections of the city, divided at the four corners.

Civil Defense security police members are:

Stephen R. Illeck — director
Ashley Chase
Clyde Cook
Darwin Creger
Richard Creswell
Clifford Curran
George Halberstadt
Richard Kahle
Willis Kilbourn
Richard Loughney
Robert Owsley
Stanley Rentschler

Thursday night we were at Tahquamenon Falls.

At this spot, bears frequent the camps each night searching the garbage cans for food.

Some of the boys thought they would sleep in cars or the trees, but finally all were in their tents and asleep.

Suddenly we thought the bear had come and most of us was afraid he had a medium-size Scout on his mind instead of the garbage cans.

Finally the suspense was too great and when we checked it was George Forsyth, one of our drivers, snoring.

Friday we visited both the Upper and Lower Falls and the Soo Locks. A Scout official told us how the Locks operate and of the many different countries that now use this waterway.

He also told of the many Army and Air Force bases in this vicinity.

All that we had heard of our new bridge at the Straits is certainly true and we all felt that it was a beautiful sight.

Friday night, was spent in Traverse City and the day was ended with a swim in Lake Michigan.

Saturday and our last day of our trip.

These were many things we saw that all shall always remember an enjoy.

We realize it would not have been possible without the help of our Mother's Club and everyone who was so willing to contribute their efforts.

There are too many to name, but we all say thank you to every one of you.

Boy Scouts making the trip were: Carl Studnicka, Dennis Mastic, Tom Yarckow, Randy Fergus, Tom Smetka, Frank Forgacs, Keith Auten, Jerry Rhora, Steve Eldred, Clark Griffin, Bill Baker, Dick Sommers, Sidney Forsyth, Walter Anspach, Larry Henning, Terry Auten, Michael Jordan, Joe Hemphill and Carl Bowers.

Drivers included Mr. Forsyth, Dick Lutton, Allan Bowers and this writer.

Cattle Are Increasing

Agricultural economists, Don Stark and John Ferris of the Michigan State Extension Service, discussed the projected prospects for the 1961 livestock enterprise for approximately 130 Lenawee County livestock producers at the Consumers' Power Building last week.

Supply-demands relationship for the immediate past with their effect on future prices for beef, swine and sheep enterprises were discussed.

Generally in the beef cattle picture, total cattle numbers on farms are increasing. This coupled with increased numbers of cattle being slaughtered indicates a general softening in fat cattle prices predicted for 1961, said Ferris.

However, he noted that the predicted fat cattle prices would not decline more than $2 per-hundred-weight below this year's average price.

When purchasing feeder cattle not only is price important, but weight, grade and health of the feeders must be considered.

Although feeder cattle prices have declined somewhat from last years level, it is a must as far as beef cattle feeders are concerned, that they re-evaluate their feeder procurement program, feeding and management program and ultimately, their marketing program.

As has been true in the past, as well as in the future, the efficient and economical beef producer will be the operator who realizes a net income over costs from the operation.

The 1961 slaughter hog prices are expected to be firm in the early part of the marketing year with the usual summer and fall declines. Stark predicted that Chicago prices would tend to fluctuate around the $15 — $16 per-hundred-weight level in 1961.

Fat lamb prices are not expected to differ much in 1961 from this year's prices, but a slight undertone of general price weakening in the latter months in '61 and early 1962 is expected.

The general theme of the Outlook meeting was expressed when it was stated that efficiency and good management in the total farm program provides the key to higher earnings.

Tecumseh Public Schools show a deficit of $61,725.68 in the General Fund. However, short term loans against anticipated local taxes for 1960 total $100,000 plus interest. The State of Michigan owes the Tecumseh Schools $50,946.82 in State Aid payments and $16,910.76 is owed the schools for special education, cafeteria help and Federal Aid not yet received so that the total deficit over the years accumulates to $93,866.10, an increase of some $892.38 over the deficit of last year. All of this deficit is due to the remodeling of the Central School into a Junior High, the additions of fire doors and partitions, fire alarm stations, and smoke alarms required by the State Fire Marshall at the Junior High, the equipping of the new elementary and secondary schools, additional furniture needed for the increased enrollments, and the development of the lawns and play areas at the new schools. The Board hopes to reduce this deficit through gifts, sale of obsolete school property, and the use of regular capital outlay funds.

The Board has again been able to provide maximum educational advantages for the community at one of the lowest operational tax rates in the county due to efficient control and the cooperation of the teachers and other personnel who have accepted exceptionally heavy loads during the year. Actually, the per capita cost for 1959-60 was 98c less than in 1958-59 and the cost per day per pupil was $1.75 per pupil or about 10c per hour per pupil.

The Board has paid the yearly principal and interest payments on the 1957 Bond Debt and has accumulated $197,794.44 towards retiring these bonds prior to redemption dates plus $32,575.00 interest due prior to the next tax levy for a total of $230,529.71.

The Board has recommended to the County Tax Allocation Board that $9.00 per thousand of state equalized evaluation be levied for operation for 1960-61 which is the same as last year and $6.32 per thousand of state equalized evaluation for Bond Debt, an increase of 12c per thousand because a decrease of approximately ½ million in the State equalized evaluation of the district made it necessary to increase the rate because it is mandatory to levy at least $214,500 per year for the 1957 Bond Debt. In a year that all other county schools are asking increased support for operation funds for the Schools the Board expects to provide the same exceptionally fine educational opportunities as in the past without an increase in taxes, but it does not expect to be able to reduce materially the deficit which has accumulated over the years. However, without increased state aid in the future, more local support will be necessary if the Tecumseh Schools are to continue to serve the community at the present high standards.
